"Remember, Jack, I always love like this," she sighed, as she nestled a little closer to him.

"Yes! Yes!" murmured he, absently. "So I've heard! So I've heard."—Ghost.

Football Squad Men Play Practice Game Saturday

Last Saturday afternoon at the fair grounds, Mulry's "Dizzies" and Benness "Unconscious" pigskin cohorts engaged in a contest. The "Dizzies" came out on the long end of the score 7-6 by scoring in the third period after a series of long line plunges.

Both teams were evenly matched and at no time of the contest did either side have a decided advantage. The boys displayed some flashy football and showed they had not forgotten what they had learned last fall. Several new men had a chance to show their wares and with a little more experience will prove valuable assets to Coach Thune's eleven.

A fair sized crowd witnessed the thrilling play of the members of both teams. They showed a brand of football that, after a few of the rough edges have been polished, should put Thief River Falls at the head of their opponents. "Beany" Bennes and "Dutch" Zeh starred for the "Unconscious" team and "Mike" Parenteau for the "Dizzies."

The Vamp

Black bobbed hair
Eyes like a Jap
Flat pug nose
Spread over her map.
Just learned to dance,
Thinks she's the cream.
She may be clever
But boy! she's green.

She Was Pondering the Question of the Hour

To bob or not to bob—that is the question!
Whether 'tis nobler to persist in suffering
From all the natural ills that hair is heir to,
Or to take arms against this sea of tresses
And in a jiffy cut them.
To bob—and end that modern camouflage
The boudoir cap, designed to cover up
Untidy "love locks" while we rush to get
A husband's breakfast. Think what joy
To run a comb through our bobbed hair and say,
"I'm ready, dear"—'twould be exhibit A.
To bob—to bob—and by a bob to end
The coiffure that was built of "puffs" and "rats;"
(Their popularity began to wane
When bobbed hair changed the shape and size of hats.)
And then the stacks of hairpins that we use
Each time to do our hair, and if by chance
We ride a horse or play a game of golf,
We scatter all our hairpins to the wind.
If only to be rid of pins that skid,
"Tis a consummation devoutly to be wished."
To bob—and wish we hadn't—there's the rub;
For who can tell how we will look.
When we have shuffled off this matted coil?
Why, hubby'd have an awful lot to say
If then to make our hair presentable
We'd see the beauty doctor every day.
(That beauty doctor from whose secret 'bourne'
None e'r return without another date,
To have a henna rinse or golden glint.)
And think of what we'd have to pay the maid
To stay with baby while we made our call!
'Twould never do! We'd have a "permanent wave,"
If we decide to bob our hair at all.
Thus fashion "does make cowards of us all
And makes us rather bear the ills we have Than fly to others that we know not of."

Chewing Gum Aids Digestion

Bleeding Chicle Tree

Everyone knows we are given to eating more than we actually need, but when the table is heaped with good food, "what's a feller to do?"

Things are so tempting, and so palatable! Why not enjoy them?

But many a heavy meal which is hugely enjoyed during the process of eating is far from enjoyable during the process of digestion!

Then it is that chewing gum comes to the rescue.

Dr. W. A. Evans, former commissioner of health in Chicago, says in his book, "How to Keep Well":

"To chew gum after a meal aids digestion. Most people do not chew their food long enough to mix saliva with it thoroughly. The chewing of gum adds some saliva to the stomach contents. It is of more service in stimulating the stomach muscle. It is especially serviceable in helping the stomach to empty its contents. If one has overeaten and the stomach is heavy something is gained by chewing gum for half an hour, beginning two hours after eating." And it also helps to keep the teeth clean.

Chicle, the base of chewing gum, is the milky juice which is secreted by the inner bark of a tropical tree known as the Achras Sapota.

Only during the rainy season are the trees "bled."

After being refined and sterilized, the chicle is mixed with sugar and flavoring and moulded into the familiar form which has become so popular.

"LET THE BUYER BEWARE" NO LONGER RULE OF TRADE

There is an old Latin adage which says "Caveat Emptor." Translated, it means, "Let the buyer beware."

It put the burden of seeing that one got his or her money's worth on the purchase. It warned the buyer to enter a store with his eyes wide open, to keep his fingers crossed and then trust to Providence that he did not lose his eye teeth in the bargain.

Advertising has put "Caveat Emptor" out of business.

Today merchants and manufacturers can't afford to risk the disappointment and disapproval of a dissatisfied customer. It is too easy for a customer to pick up a newspaper and find plenty of other places where real dollar value is given and where they practice the modern slogan, "We strive to serve."

The good will of the buying public is the goal of the modern seller. Without it, his business can not succeed.

Every time he advertises he puts his good name in the buyers' hands. His products have to make good or he is a failure. They must be as they are advertised.

That's why it pays to read the advertisements and to buy only advertised goods.

It's a good business policy.

POOR SOIL HURTS REALTORS' TRADE

Wheat Takes Mineral Matter but Sugar Beets Only Rain and Sunshine

"In 1920 the United States paid $900,000,000 for the wind and water over Cuba, just as if we didn't have any of our own," said Charles H. Allen, president of the Farmers Sugar Co., Defiance, Ohio, addressing Minnesota real estate dealers in their annual convention in Minneapolis some time ago. "Each year since our bill for Cuba's wind and water has run from $250,000,000 to $500,000,000."

This wind and water has been imported in the form of sugar, which American farmers could just as well raise themselves, Mr. Allen pointed out. Meanwhile, these same farmers, he declared, have been selling wheat, that contains so much mineral matter from the soil that the crop has been a loss, even at peak prices that more than covered production costs.

The speaker explained that sugar is chemically nothing but carbon from the carbon dioxide in the air and oxygen and hydrogen from the water that falls from the clouds. When the sugar is extracted from a beet, and the pulp placed back on the land through feeding to dairy cattle, no fertilizing element has been taken from the soil. Milk, butter, eggs, and bacon also take little fertilizing elements and should be sold instead of wheat.

Mr. Allen urged the Minnesota realtors to support efforts now being made by farm interests of the state to install more sugar factories. Raising sugar beets, he pointed out, will increase the value of the soil through bacterial action of the immense root systems, and thus create prosperity in the real estate business. He also urged support of such laws as will foster the production of food products that come from inexhaustible materials and not from the exhaustible mineral matters of the soil.

A number of towns and cities thruout the state and country are closing their doors to carnivals which usually frequent county fairs each year, most of them being considered of a questionable nature. It is also pointed out that a large amount of money is taken out of the community thru this channel for which the public gets practically nothing in return.

Contrary to general opinion, money does not count—we count it.

Son of Bemidji Mayor Nabbed For Speeding

Being the son of the mayor of the city did not help Ralph Moberg any when he was arrested on charges of speeding in Bemidji and arraigned in municipal court where he was given a choice of paying a fine of $25 or spending 30 days in jail, says the Bemidji Sentinel.

Sentence was suspended pending good behavior but the young man was cautioned by Judge J. F. Gibbons that he would be severely punished if caught again.

After sentence had been suspended the boy made a few remarks that did not please the judge or acting City Attorney Leon H. Brown with the result that he received a scathing lecture from the man on the bench supplemented by a number of unkind phrases from the prosecutor. When the jurists had exhausted a large supply of impromptu oratory, the judge announced that the sentence would stand as pronounced, but promised the young man if he landed in court again things would go hard on him.

Gasoline Prices Lowest

AFTER extensive analysis of government statistics, The Oil & Gas Journal, of March 20, 1924, says:

"Gasoline is and has been the lowest priced commodity generally used during the past eleven years, and its average cost during that period has been always lower than the average price of all commodities."

Taking 1913 price level as 100, the January, 1924, price level of all commodities is 151—while the price of gasoline is only 97.

Thus it is shown that in January, 1924, the dollar would actually buy more gasoline than it would in 1913.

The statement of the Oil & Gas Journal bears out the statements oft repeated by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) that the price of gasoline is low.

That the petroleum industry has been able to keep down the price of gasoline is an achievement worthy of note.

It demonstrates the efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and other similar institutions.

This result has been accomplished without in any way sacrificing quality of product, nor has it been accompanied by any decrease of service.

For example, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is constantly expanding its vast net-work of service stations, located, necessarily, on high-priced property in order to be accessible to the main arteries of travel. These stations are open for service, days, evenings, Sundays and holidays.

In addition, huge sums of money have been expended by this Company for other equipment—bulk storage depots, pumps, tank wagons, and other items necessary to render a complete and comprehensive service—yet with all these large expenditures the price level of gasoline in 1924 was lower than in 1913.

All of which is in support of the ideals animating the Management of this Company—a combination of high quality, best service, and low prices.

DAM IMPROVEMENTS STARTED BY R R. P. CO. AT RED L. FALLS

New Powerhouse with Two 300 k. w. Umbrella-type Generators to Be Constructed

As was announced in last week's issue of The Times the Red River Power company will employ a crew of about 75 men the greater part of the summer in constructing a new power house and improving the dam on the Red Lake river one mile northeast of Red Lake Falls.

It has been practically decided to erect the new powerhouse near the site of the old one, according to the Red Lake Falls Gazette. To do this it will be necessary to raise the dam about 2½ feet, and the company has accordingly secured the flowage rights as needed. The long flume leading from the dam to the powerhouse has been bulk-headed and will have to be almost entirely rebuilt. As soon as living quarters are provided for the workmen, construction will be started.

The new powerhouse will contain two umbrella-type turbine generators of 375 horsepower or 300 kilowatts each. These generators have already been ordered and are to be directly connected to the waterwheels, thus eliminating all belts, rope drives and shafts. The plant will have about four times the capacity of the present one and will furnish electricity to St. Hilaire and Grand Forks when in full operation.

An extensive camp equipped with electric lights, running water and other conveniences is now being prepared.

The cost of the improvement of the dam project and the new powerhouse has been estimated at about $250,000.

Ernest Johnson, son of M. M. Johnson, was injured Tuesday in a fall from the water tank near the Soo roundhouse. He was climbing a ladder and when about 40 feet above the ground, a rung broke. He was taken to the Swedenburg hospital for treatment. No bones were broken and an early recovery is anticipated.

C. A. Lindbergh Taken To Crookston Hospital

Charles A. Lindberg of Little Falls, gubernatorial candidate of the Farmer-Labor party, who is suffering from a tumor of the brain, was lodged in the St. Vincent hospital at Crookston last Thursday, following his arrival from Rochester where he had been undergoing treatment.

Mr. Lindbergh will stay at the Crookston hospital under the care of Dr. J. E. Norman. He was brought there to be closer to his sister, Mrs. George Christie of Red Lake Falls. In case his condition improves sufficiently he will be taken to the Christie home. However, reports are that the attending physician holds out little hope for his recovery. For the past several days he has been in a semi-conscious condition most of the time and has been fed thru a glass tube. He has even been unable to sign an affidavit withdrawing from the state primaries next month and it is expected that his name will appear on the ballots.

GRYGLA RESIDENTS HEAR BRAGE CHORUS

Male Chorus to Give Program at Greenbush Sat. Middle River and Holt Later

Grygla residents turned out en masse Saturday night when the Brage chorus of this city gave a program of solos and chorus numbers at that village. All of the members of the chorus were at their best and the audience showed their appreciation in attentive reception and hearty applause.

Among members of the chorus who partook in the event were Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, director and baritone soloist; first tenor, Dr. J. N. Nesse, M. Buoen, Bernhard Knudsen and Carl Angell; second tenor, B. Dan Bjorkman, S. R. Dahlen and Casper Dahl of Holt; first bass, L. H. Larson, C. C. Gulrud and Ed. Iverson; second bass, Dr. O. F. Mellby, H. O. Chommie, G. Halvorson and C. J. Opland and Mrs. O. F. Mellby, soprano.

The program consisted of chorus numbers interspersed by soprano solos by Mrs. Mellby, accompanied by Mr. Chommie at the piano; baritone solos by Dr. Vistaunet and tenor solos by Dr. Nesse. By their excellent performance they made a big hit with the Grygla people, who will be more than glad to hear them again when they can.

Mrs. P. L. Vistaunet, Hannah Jelle, Mrs. C. J. Opland and her sister, Miss Tillie Ose, accompanied the chorus. Mr. and Mrs. Ferdie Brown and Roy Brown of this city, who were visitors in Grygla over the week end also attended.

The chorus is booked to give a program at Greenbush Saturday evening, May 17, at Middle River Monday evening, May 26, and at Holt Saturday evening, the 31st. Arrangements are also being made for a program at Newfolden in the near future.

This fine chorus is a distinct credit to Thief River Falls. Few cities of this size have an organized male chorus while this city has, in "the Brage chorus, one that it can be proud of. Much credit is due to Dr. Vistaunet, who, in the capacity of director, has put a great amount of time and work into it, and also the members who have given of their best efforts.

"Spider" Yost Deserts Chisholm Aggregation

The following item of interest to local friends of "Spider" Yost, who was in charge of the Thief River Falls baseball team last season, appeared in yesterday's Grand Forks Herald:

"Spider" A. G. Yost, who recently signed as coach and field director of the Chisholm club in the Messaba Ore league, has deserted the team after pitching it to a 2 to 0 victory Saturday afternoon against Virginia. Yost went well, allowing the visitors one hit and striking out 17 men.

His desertion is charged to lonesomeness.

Welfare Boards in Regional Meeting in Crookston Today

County Attorney Theo. Quale is today in attendance at a regional conference of welfare boards from Kittson, Marshall, Polk, Norman, Red Lake and Pennington counties held in Crookston, in an effort to further their work in planning for the future of any child who is physically, morally or mentally defective or is the victim of an unsuitable home, as well as delinquencies. Members of the local board were unable to attend.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop, chairman of the local board and one of the leaders in child welfare work in this section, is unable to attend on account of illness. She has been ill with an infection of the head the past two-three weeks but is now recovering.

We could have stood the disappearance of the horses from the highway much easier if the horse sense had not disappeared with them.

DIVERSIFICATION AND CO-OP. MARKET URGED BY AGENTS

J. J. McCann Attends Conference of Agents from Entire Northwestern Minnesota

Livestock loans through the Agricultural Credit corporation's $1,000,000 fund for the grain raising area of the northwest and plans for coming years' activities were the chief topics considered at the conference of northwestern Minnesota county agents who met in Moorhead May 8 and 9. J. J. McCann, agent in this county, was among the 20 agents in attendance.

In this section the program to be followed this year is mainly one of increased diversification — increased and more efficient dairying, poultry, sheep and hog raising and alfalfa raising. A more intensified program of co-operative marketing of farm products was also advocated. Splendid progress along this line is reported from all parts of the state, the poultry marketing association being among the latest developments.

The matter of assisting farmers in securing livestock loans thru the credit corporation was taken up, it being pointed out that a permanent organization in the community where loans are to be made must be organized to look after the follow-up work.

Application blanks which were to arrive last week have been delayed and are expected to be in the hands of the local committee this week. More than 30 requests for loans for buying livestock have been received by Agent McCann.

About 70 Minnesota counties now employ a county agent and much progress is reported from every section.

INCREASE IN CORN ACREAGE THIS YEAR

Seeding Well Under Way With Corn, Flax, Barley and Buckwheat Being Put In

Altho delayed by rains and flurries of snow the past week, seeding is reported to be well under way in the vicinity of Thief River Falls. The wheat seeded during the first part of April is said to look very promising, as does also oats and grass crops. Little progress has been made in the actual growth of grains so far on account of the cool weather but it is said that it is beneficial insofar that a firm rooting is formed. Many declare the moisture has been exactly what was needed altho somewhat uncomfortable at times, especially when in the form of snow as was the case last Monday. A fall of several inches of snow was quite general thruout this section, but here the white covering was but light and lasted only a day.

Pastures have been getting into shape slowly this spring with little grass so far, but with prevailing warm weather and the moisture already in the ground, cattle in the community will soon be well supplied.

Corn will take another step forward this year in Pennington county in its effort to become one of the leading crops, with every indication that there will be at least a 15 per cent increase in the number of acres to be planted this year compared to 1923. Planting will start in earnest next week, according to J. J. McCann, county agent.

Rye seeded last fall is reported to be in very fine shape thruout this community, an excellent rooting being provided this spring. There are only a few reports of fields which are not showing up well so far and predictions are that a record breaking crop of rye will be raised this year. The acreage, however, is approximately 15 per cent below that of last year, according to a survey made by the county agent.

Flax, barley, potatoes and sugar beets are now being planted. There is an estimated increase of about 10 per cent in the flax acreage of the county, with a likely increase in barley. It is likely that about the same area of buckwheat will be seeded this year. Many farmers are seeding buckwheat to rid their fields of sow thistle and other weeds which are killed by a late crop.

Planting of potatoes, the acreage of which is expected to remain the same as last year, has been started. It is reported that about one half of the Pennington county sugar beet acreage will be planted by the end of the week, the condition of the soil being very favorable this season, it is stated by County Agent McCann, who is in charge of the Thief River Falls territory.

The special train carrying the allotment of about 100 Mexican field workers for this community which was expected to arrive here this week, was sent to Grand Forks instead, the workers to arrive here in smaller groups from various parts of the country. Most of them were located here last year. Some have already arrived altho the majority will wait until their assistance is necessary.

SOO LINE MEN SPEAK AT LUNCHEON TODAY

H. S. Funston, land commissioner of the Soo Line, and R. L. Aney, who is employed by the same railway in placing livestock on farms along the Wheat line, are scheduled to address the Commercial club at the regular luncheon today. Both men are thoroughly familiar with agricultural conditions thruout the northwest and will discuss matters of vital interest to farmers and business men of the community. The Soo railway is working out an extensive plan of increasing the supply of livestock, particularly in the strictly grain raising areas along its lines, and employs expert livestock and agricultural men to promote the movement.

COUNTY POLITICS QUIET THIS YEAR

No Filings For County Offices Recorded—Two Commissioners To Be Elected

So far no filings have been made for county offices in Pennington, according to T. P. Anderson, county auditor, with whom aspirants for offices in which the term of the present incumbents expire this year, must file on or before May 27. Wednesday of last week was the last day on which filings for state offices were accepted, county filings being open for 20 days more.

Terms which expire this year are those of clerk of court, Adolf Eklund, who has held that position for eight years and judge of probate, Lars Backe, who has served four years. It is understood that both the present incumbents will be candidates for reelection.

County commissioners whose terms expire this year are R. J. McGinn, city, of the second district, and J. S. Roy, St. Hilaire, of the fourth district. Both are expected to enter their names for reelection. According to present indications the election of county officials this year will be a quite affair unless something looms up later.

Two representatives to the state legislature will be selected in the 65th district and so far only two, R. O. Gordon of Rhoda, Farmer-Labor endorsee, and Marius Waldal, present incumbent, have filed with the secretary of state.

New Power Rates in City Become Effective at Once

The American Legion is planning on a fit celebration of Memorial Day this year, including the decoration of the graves of the departed soldiers. The county had agreed to defray part of the expenses thereof and the city council Tuesday night agreed to do their share when they were approached in the matter by Lawrence Hermanson and D. W. Robinson, representing the Legion.

The city has an opportunity to buy the lot just south of the auditorium for the sum of $600, this property being owned by the Hamm Realty Co., the offer being made in a communication to the council, but action was delayed thereon at this time.

The second reading of the proposed ordinance regulating the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors within the city, along the same lines as that of the state and federal statutes, failed to materialize, but the ordinance revising the light and power rates was given its third and final reading and will become effective at once. A resolution was also passed vacating the east end of East Second street.

The auditorium will again be used as a general polling place this year for the various elections, booths being installed in each corner thereof for each of the four wards.

Requests for various kinds of licenses again were numerous Tuesday night, there being one for a plumber's license from the Union Plumbing & Heating Co., one for a refreshment license from the Peoples Co-operative store, three for milk licenses from Kopp & Son, Olaf Thompson and A. A. Myrom, and one for a building permit from Chas. Alexander for the improvement of his confectionery store on LaBree Avenue north. All requests were duly granted.

The man in wrong is generally so pigheaded that he stays there.

GRIMM GROWERS OF STATE ADOPT CERTIFICATION RULES

Alfalfa Association Directors for Standard Seed—Favor Cleaning-Grading Plant

Rules and interpretations for certification of Grimm alfalfa seed were adopted by the directors of the Minnesota Grimm Alfalfa Growers association at their meeting in Morris April 28. The meeting was attended by T. J. Sumpter of Hazel, a director of the organization, which was organized recently thru the initiative of farm crop specialists of the university and interested growers.

Certified seed is the only grade approved by the association. To be certified, the seed must come from the fields coming from certified seed and shall trace back to Carver county, Minnesota. Grimm seed coming from outside of the state after Feburary 27, 1924 shall not be eligible in Minnesota. However, properly certified seed may be admitted and seed certified in Idaho, Montana and North Dakota as genuine Grimm is accepted by the directors. All seed brought in from otside the state before February 27, 1924, must pass through three winters before seed from these fields can be considered for certification.

The idea of the central cleaning and grading plant has been explained by President C. F. Kirk as follows: the central plant will clean, scarify and grade seed, the seed will be put up in sealed bags, with each grower's seed kept separate with his name, purity of seed and germination tests attached. The seed is to be tested by the laboratory at the University of Minnesota. Samples are to be sent in after the seed is cleaned and scarified at the central plant. The bags are to be marked with the stamp of the Minnesota Grimm Alfalfa Growers' association.

The directors will ask alfalfa growers to bind themselves to deliver seed to a proposed central cleaning plant, and appointed a committee headed by R. F. Crim of University Farm to prepare a form of contract. A second committee will investigate the matter of providing warehouse space and cleaning machinery for the handling of the 1924 seed crop.

Alfalfa growers in many districts have a keen appreciation of what a state organization, properly directed and engineered, can do in building up a strong alfalfa growing industry in this state.

HUNDREDS HEAR BACCALAUREATE SERMON SUNDAY

Impressive Sermon Delivered by Rev. E. H. Kreidt at Auditorium Services.

GRADUATES WEAR CAPS AND GOWNS

Story of Martha and Mary at Bethany Forms Basis of Inspiring Discourse.

Citizens of Thief River Falls and relatives and friends of the 1924 senior class of Lincoln high school from the surrounding community filled the large auditorium to capacity last Sunday evening to hear the baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. E. H. Kreidt of the St. John's Lutheran church. The service was entirely in the charge of Rev. Kreidt and was impressive in every detail.

A prelude was played by Mrs. Doris Halverson Pope, the graduates garbed in gray caps and gowns, and faculty members marching to their places while she played the processional. A beautiful vocal solo by Mrs. O. F. Mellby and a well rendered selection by the Woman's club chorus under the direction of Mrs. G. Halvorson, added greatly to the solemnity of the occasion, as did also the hymns sung by the audience, directed by Miss Maude L. Johnson.

The attention with which the audience listened to the sermon by Rev. Kreidt bespeaks his ability to perform at this important function of the graduating exercises.

Value of Knowledge

"You are taking a valuable equipment with you into the battle of life," declared the speaker in addressing the graduates. "Knowledge is power. That general knowledge which must form the groundwork in the equipment of the specialist is yours. You will learn to prize your childhood education as your most precious material possession. Keep it and enlarge it.

"There is one thing which our public school did not, and could not, give you. You need that more than anything else. The best life ends in failure without it.

Christ Essential

"The one thing needful is Jesus and His word, as we learn from His Gospel have first claim to our time and attention. We can get along

RED LAKE ROAD IS DISCUSSED BY CLUB

All but 16½ Miles of Direct Route to Narrows Has Already Been Completed.

Possibilities for the completion of the road from Thief River Falls to the narrows on Red Lake were discussed at the luncheon of the Commercial club last Thursday, some members urging that action be taken by the club in getting something done.

The present route by way of Thorhult is 72 miles long while when the proposed road is completed the distance to the narrows will be only 50 miles. So far a gravelled highway, the Elwell road, has been built from this city as far east as to the Pennington county boundary line, and on the other end 10½ miles has been constructed from the narrows westward to the ridge south from Thorhult on the Indian reservation. This stretch is being finished by Beltrami county this spring, leaving 16½ miles between these two pieces of road which has yet to be constructed before the route is completed. It is reported that the highway department is considering getting this project started as soon as possible. Highway officials are expected to visit this territory and look over the route some time in the near future to ascertain what can be done to the best advantage.

It was pointed out at the meeting last Thursday, as has been done repeatedly at various times, that the road to Red Lake would open up one of the finest tourist districts of the country and that a thoroughfare thru this city would naturally tap the entire Red River Valley and would draw tourists coming on the Winnipeg route.

Two years ago a group of local men, Daniel Shaw, Math Barzen, T. L. Melgaard and John Bratrud, then mayor, secured a five-year lease on a 163-acre tract of fine beach land along the lake at the point near the narrows, which it is expected will be made a playground for tourists, provided an organization is perfected to take over the lease.

The road matter and the question of the leased area will be further taken up at the club meeting today.

2-Teacher Normal Training Department Secured for Lincoln High School

Thief River Falls high school will have a two-teacher normal training department next term, definite arrangements already having been completed, according to school officials. The past year only one instructor, Miss Alice Stapleton, has been employed. To assist her in the department next year, Miss Loretta Kopriva has been engaged. She comes directly from the University of Minnesota but has had several years' experience in normal training instruction prior to her coming here. So far 30 high school graduates, all of them girls, have registered for enrollment in the department. This number is practically all that can be taken care of by the two instructors.

Service of Rural Carrier DeVeling is Recognized by Ass't Postmaster General

The following communition received by Mrs. Hilda C. DeVeling, widow of the late Earl DeVeling, carrier on rural route No. 3, from H. H. Bellany, fourth assistant postmaster general, speaks for itself:

"The splendid record of your late husband, Earl F. DeVeling, has just been brought to my personal attention.

"Since the date of his appointment as regular carrier, December 1, 1913, Mr. Develing rendered service in such a manner as to win the esteem and regard of both his patrons and his fellow workers. His record is one worthy of special commendation.

"Knowing that a man who was so faithful in the performance of his daily duty must have been an equally devoted husband, I beg to extend to you my heartful sympathy in your sorrow."

NEW CREAMERY WILL BE TOPIC AT BIG PICNIC

Stockholders to Have Outing on Sat., May 31, at Which Matter Will Be Aired.

PRODUCTION OF CREAM INCREASED 50 PER CENT

Present Plant No Longer Adequate to Requirements of Fast Growing Business.

Erection of a new creamery building in this city will be considered by stockholders of the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association at a meeting and picnic to be held by that organization at the tourist park, Lover's Lane, on Saturday, May 31, commencing at 11 a.m. In case the weather is unfavorable for an outdoor meeting, the city auditorium will be used. A notice of the meeting by Secretary Thos. H. Bjerke appears in another column of this issue.

Many matters of interest to the association will be taken up at this gathering, the principal one of which is the question of whether or not to build a new home for the growing organization this season. This proposition has been under consideration from time to time but heretofore it has been deemed best to postpone this improvement until conditions become more favorable. There is, however, an urgent demand by some stockholders to enlarge the plant at the present time, it being pointed out that the cream production by patrons of the creamery here has increased approximately 50 per cent each month this year over 1923. When the peak is reached in July, which last year was 76,000 pounds, it is expected that the present plant will not be able to take care of all the cream brought here.

All stockholders and friends of the creamery are urged to attend the meeting on the 31st, an outing to be enjoyed as well as the regular business session.

MC FARLAND TO SELL HERD OF PUREBRED HOLSTEINS JUNE 5

Fine Lot of 35 Animals, Including 18 Cows, to Be Placed on Auction Block.

One of the largest sales of purebred cattle in this section will take place June 5 when the entire Holstein herd owned by M. T. McFarland, local Ford dealer, will be sold at public auction. Desiring to devote his entire time to his other business interests is the reason given for Mr. McFarland's selling out. The sale will take place at the Pennington county fair grounds and will commence at 10 o'clock with W. J. LaBree as auctioneer and Joe Berg of Warren on pedigrees.

The McFarland herd to be sold at the sale consists of thirty-five head of Holsteins and includes some of the finest dairy cattle in the state. Among them are several A. R. O. cows, show ring winners and calf club winners, which have been cared for by expert herdsmen and are in excellent condition. The list of animals to be placed on the auction block includes 18 cows, 12 heifers and five sires. All of these are sons or daughters or bred to Lilac Hedge Zubrod Segis, a high record grandson of King Segis Pontiac Count, the world's greatest dairy sire.

A great deal of interest in the sale is being created throughout the state, and it is a certainty that the event will be largely attended. Purebred and high grade breeding stock is now in strong demand and this affords an excellent opportunity for dairymen to secure animals of the highest quality.

CITY BEAUTIFUL

Results of the intensive clean-up campaign which has been conducted in this city the past two weeks is apparent and very gratifying. A great interest was shown by the various boys' and girls' organizations and all that remains is the decision of the judges as to winners and awards of the prizes.

Committees have been appointed to award prizes in each of the four wards.

Appropriate banners have been printed and will be placed on the prize winning lots.

GUERNSEY MEN TO OFFER 100 HEAD AT SALE

Dairymen From All Parts of Red River Valley Expected Here For Annual Event.

EXCEPTIONAL LIST OF FINE ANIMALS

Goodridge Community Leads With 12 Members in Valley Breeders Association.

Arrangements are now being made for one of the most important events of its kind in the Red River valley—the fourth annual consignment sale of the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association, which will take place at the sales pavilion of the fair grounds here June 12. About 100 head of registered purebred and high grade Guernsey cows, heifers and sires will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder. Buyers from points thruout the valley and other sections of the state are expected to visit this city at that time.

The group of animals to be sold here on June 12 includes about ten registered bulls from six to 18 months old, of A. R. breeding, and eight or ten registered cows and heifers, particularly adapted for foundation stock, together with 80 grades, which are not less than 75 per cent pure Guernsey and sound, large and of good color and type. They are selected by a committee of three Guernsey breeders and are all from herds of association breeders, federal or state accredited, or tested just before the sale.

Pledged for Sale

Most of the cows will be fresh just prior to or after the sale. There will be a choice lot of open heifers and a number of heifer calves suitable for club work. All the animals are guaranteed to be exactly as presented by the owners and are pledged for absolute sale to the highest bidder.

Paul Engelstad, Stuart McLeod and H. C. Woolson, prominent Guernsey breeders of this county, are in charge of arrangements for the event. W. J. LaBree of this city and W. B. Bosworth will officiate as auctioneers.

Advertising material is now being sent out by the committee to dairymen thruout the state.

LOANS STARTED FOR BENEFIT OF MIXED FARMING

Soo Line Agricultural Agent Explains Proposed Plans of Livestock Fund.

NECESSITY OF MORE LIVESTOCK STRESSED

Application Blanks for Loans Are Received by Local Committee in Charge.

Details regarding the $1,000,000 livestock loan fund launched by the Agricultural Credit corporation were explained to members of the Commercial club at the luncheon last Thursday by R. L. Aney, livestock purchasing agent for the Soo line, who also stressed the importance of the diversification movement in this section. Mr. Aney is in close touch with the workings of the corporation of which President Jaffray of the Soo is at the head and enlightened those present at the luncheon regarding many things in connection with making the loans and the work of the local committee.

The plan for the functioning of the livestock loan department, according to agreement reached at a committee meeting at Fargo April 22, is to have local units of organization to be known as the community livestock loan committees and to have detail work in connection with the loans handled by these committees. As planned these committees are to be formed only in those communities in which loans are being sought.

Committee in Charge

A committee of this nature has been formed in Pennington county, with County Agent J. J. McCann representing the corporation; Math Barzen, representing the Commercial club of this city, Waldie Christensen, Hans Anton and Morgan Vaughan, farmers.

The Agricultural Credit Corporation has set aside of its funds one million dollars to be used for thoroughly testing out the demand from farmers in the territory for loans of this character, the practicability of the machinery proposed for making these loans and the efficiency of stimulating diversification through the medium of the loans proposed. It is proposed to begin activities at once in the "Spring Wheat Belt," which includes both sides of Red river, as well as some other sections.

The Corporation does not propose to deal directly with farmers, but to do so through "community live stock loan committees." Either owners or tenants who have not gone through bankruptcy will be eligible for a loan, as also will be juniors enrolled in live stock club work. Loans will be made only for the purchase of high grade or pure bred breeding live stock. The loan may be "called" in case of evident and proven neglect or mismanagement on the part of the borrower, on thirty days notice. The borrower must be without other credit facilities with which to finance the purchase or retention of the live stock applied for in his application. He must further submit evidence that suitable provision of winter and summer feed, water and shelter has been or will be provided. The borrower shall also have the endorsement of the community live stock loan committee that he is normally a sound moral risk, that he is at the present time or has in the past handled live stock successfully.

Application Blanks Arrive

Application blanks were received last week by the local committee and have been distributed to about 25 farmers who have called for loans. The corporation's livestock loan division started receiving loan applications this week, these to be taken care of in their order of receipt. The money will be forthcoming as soon as the application is fully approved. It is preferred that the stock be purchased locally, some of the stock here to be secured at the Guernsey sale to be held in June.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO SELL POPPIES WEDNESDAY MAY 28

Public Can Assist Disabled Veterans by Buying Poppies—1500 To Be Sold Here.

In order that Thief River Falls people in general may realize the significance of the occasion to the fullest extent and in order to assist disabled veterans and their families, the Legion Auxiliary of the Elmer J. Eklund post is making special plans for the sale of red paper poppies for Memorial Day wear. These poppies are manufactured by disabled veterans in hospitals and each bears the offical mark of the American Legion so that purchasers may know that they are the official flowers. The funds which the posts and units pay erans who make them, and the money for these poppies go to disabled vet collected from the public is devoted to welfare work among disabled veterans and their families.

The general sale of poppies in Thief River Falls will be conducted on Wednesday, May 28, two days preceding Memorial Day, and it is urged that all participate in this project. Ten cents or anything more than that is the price asked for each poppy. Members of the Auxiliary will be assisted by a number of young ladies in putting over the sale, the number to be sold here being the same as last year—1500. Mrs. C. M. Haug is chairman of the Auxiliary committee in charge, and she is making extensive plans for the occasion.

No Appropriation for P. O. Building in T. R. F. Expected This Session

The following communication from Congressman Knud Wefald regarding a federal post office building for Thief River Falls has been received by O. A. Naplin of this city.

"I am writing to let you know the status of the bill I introduced for a new post office building at Thief River Falls. I have made several inquiries regarding the bill and made another one the other day. The committee is considering a general bill to take care of post offices and other public buildings that are needed thruout the country, so nothing will be done with any private bills until this general bill has been worked out and considered by the committee. Not a single post office building bill for any town or city in the country has been considered by the committee because of this general bill that is being worked out and nothing will be done until the next session."

A. S. LIEBERMAN IS CLOSING OUT STOCK

Decides to Dispose of Entire Stock in Department Store. Quitting Business

As announced elsewhere in this issue of The Times one of the most gigantic sales ever held in Thief River Falls is now taking place at the Lieberman Department store, operated by Albert S. Lieberman, who has decided to sell out his entire stock of men's and ladies' clothing and furnishings. The sale which started yesterday is being attended by hundreds, the extraordinary values offered attracting prospective buyers from points at a considerable distance from Thief River Falls. Although the weather was very unfavorable on the opening day Mr. Lieberman reports heavy sales and with buyers coming in from all parts of the surrounding country the stock will move rapidly.

Mr. Lieberman is closing out his entire business, present conditions making it difficult to carry the load of such a large stock. Complete details of this immense quit-business event are fully explained on the four pages of advertising with which Mr. Lieberman launches the sale.

Districts 73 and 94 Stage Last Play Days of Season

There are still two play days scheduled to be held, the 23 and 29 of May in districts 73 and 94 respectively. Friday district 194 competes with district 73, on the Geske farm. A. H. The play day to be held at district No. 94 next week will include districts 180, 69, 99, and 106. Definite plans have not been made but this will also be one of the best play days of the season. According to reports from Superintendent O. R. Sande, it is not likely that there will be any county play day this year.

Another meeting of the Farmer-Labor Federation club of Thief River Falls will be held at the municipal court rooms in the city auditorium tomorrow, Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

TRIBUTE PAID NORWEGIAN DAY BY TWO LODGES

Sons and Daughters of Norway Invite Friends to Celebrate 17th Day of May.

BRAGE CHORUS SCORES BIG HIT WITH SONGS

Bratrud Points Out Significance of Day to Norwegian-Americans.

Norway's independence day, "Den Syttende Mai," was appropriately observed by an elaborate celebration sponsored by the Sons and Daughters of Norway lodges at their lodge quarters last Friday evening, the features of which were the selections by the Brage chorus and the address of the evening by John Bratrud, former mayor of the city. The hall was filled to capacity.

Bernhard Knudsen, president of the Snorre lodge, was in charge of the event and opened the program with a few remarks calling attention to the significance of the day. J. S. Arneson, present mayor of Thief River Falls, spoke in glowing terms of the meaning of this Norwegian day to those who had emigrated to this country and to their children as well. He brought out the fact that the men who met at Eidsvold on the 17th of May, 1814, and declared Norway free and independent from foreign rule were much like those who in 1776 laid the foundations of the American republic. The government that these men founded is in most essentials like that of the United States, a representative government based on a majority vote of the people. The speaker declared that Norwegians in this country, who were either born on the other side of the pond or whose ancestors came from the land of the Vikings, owe it to their forefathers and themselves to uphold the traditions and ideals of old Norway.

Heritage of Value.

"Our presence here is proof of our willingness to give the land of our fathers its just dues," declared Mr. Bratrud in his address. "We know that in our Norwegian heritage we have something worth maintaining. Its literature, music and culture in general is a spring that for ages will well forth for our use and enjoyment, a source that will allow us to partake of the world's best thought, the world's best achievements.

"I believe that the consideration of

After annexing 16 new members to the post the local buddies "hit the trail" for home.

1200 vs. 12

THE average individual, engrossed with his own affairs, may not appreciate that the number of automobiles increased 1200% between 1913 and 1923, while the average price of gasoline for the entire year 1923, increased but 12% over the year 1913.

While the production of crude oil during the period increased 300%, the output of gasoline increased 600%—a noteworthy achievement.

Without the processes originated and developed by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), this increased yield of gasoline could not have been obtained.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has led in the adoption of improved methods in all departments of refining and marketing petroleum.

This Company has fostered the adoption of every new method which could influence lower production and distribution costs. The benefits resulting from these improvements have been reflected to the consumer in better service and better products.

The motorist driving through the Middle West is able to buy gasoline made by this Company at convenient intervals on city streets and country roads.

He may encounter all sorts of food and lodging—all kinds of roads—but he will find Standard Oil Company (Indiana) gasoline everywhere and everywhere the same, and the price will be low.

To maintain such a satisfactory condition of affairs, the Management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has dealt wisely with labor—employed capital sensibly—and used invention intelligently.

In this way it has been able to assume a generous share of the great burden of meeting a 1200% increased demand for gasoline while charging only 12% more for its products in 1923 than in 1913.

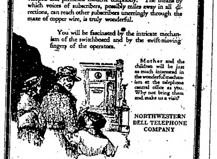
Bring the Family to See the Telephone Girls at Work
There are few more interesting sights than "behind the scenes" in a telephone central office.
You will marvel at the genius of the men who have developed and perfected modern telephony. The means by which voices of subscribers, possibly miles away in all directions, can reach other subscribers unerringly through the maze of copper wire, is truly wonderful.
You will be fascinated by the intricate mechanism of the switchboard and by the swift-moving fingers of the operators.



Mother and the children will be just as much interested in the wonderful mechanism at the telephone central office as you. Why not bring them and make us a visit?

Hide and Seek

ALL life is a game of hide and seek. The most valuable secrets of Nature are hidden. And man, to live, must seek and find them.

To build health and nourish the body it is necessary to choose those foods which contain the hidden, but essential elements that create energy and strength.

It has been found by health authorities that the food element, Dextrose, is essential for supplying warmth to the blood and vigor to the nerve and tissue cells. And it is the high percentage of Dextrose in Karo which makes it an especially important food for growing children. Every youngster delights in the delicious flavor of Karo, The Blue Label and Red Label Karo are equally nutritious.

ROAD CONTRACT IS AWARDED H. P. LUND

Middle River Concern Fails to Provide Bond for Contract on State Road No. 1

H. P. Lund, local contractor, was awarded the contract for the converting of four miles of high ditch grade to the standard 24-foot highway on state road No. 1, east of Hazel, at a special meeting of the county commissioners Tuesday. This action was taken upon failure of the Middle River contractors, Schenkey, Moen and Anderson, to file a bond within the designated 10 days following the letting of the job. The Middle River men entered the lowest bid, namely $7,520.45 for the entire project two weeks ago, the next bid in line being that of Mr. Lund in the aggerate sum of $9,338.63, which is at the rate of 20½ cents per yard for excavation. This is considered a reasonable price, altho the first low bid was for 22½ cents per yard.

Work will be started by Mr. Lund and his crew this week. The contract calls for completion by November 1, but it is likely that it will be finished much sooner.

The commissioners also ordered County Auditor Anderson to advertise for bids for the construction of two concrete culverts at Goodridge, notice of which is published elsewhere in this issue.

PLAY BALL!

A number of local baseball players announce a try-out for a city team at the fair grounds on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Nearby towns have alredy begun the selection of city teams and local fans have no desire to be in the background. Adverse weather has made it impossible to take any decisive steps thus far but it is time to get the material in line. With the return of local talent attending various schools in the state, Thief River Falls will have material for a team that will be a strong contender among district teams.

LOCAL CREAMERY IS DOING BIG BUSINESS

Increase of 70 Per Cent in Receipts of Butterfat Over Same Month Year Ago

Business at the Thief River Falls creamery during April this year increased 70 per cent over the corresponding month last year, according to Thos. H. [illegible] secretary of the local association, who reports that $16,045.77 was received by the patrons during that period. An average of $500 was paid out each day of the month including Sundays. This is an average price of 37 cents for sour cream and 40 cents for sweet cream. In spite of prices being 5 cents per pound lower now than a year ago, patrons were paid about $4,000 more during April this year than in 1923. Cream production during April is at its lowest ebb, especially so this year owing to the prevalent cold weather. May will also be low on account of poor pastureage.

Following is a list of patrons receiving checks of $100 or more during April:

Hans Anton	$209.92
Fuller & Anton	184.45
W. Christensen	155.40
Hardisty & Son	152.33
K. Ystesund	151.41
R. M. Johnson	149.52
L. A. Williams	133.72
Berg Bros.	132.41

Thos. Sanders	102.87
H. Koop	101.85
Albin Hanson	100.20
C. H. Toomey	99.71

The Goodridge creamery reports an increase of 150 per cent over last year for the month of April. Monthly patrons received about $1,500 compared to $160 last year.

Farmer-Labor Rally Near Clearbrook Last Sunday Addressed by Local Men

A number of Farmer-Laborites of this city motored to Clearbrook Sunday where they attended a big picnic and political rally, at which the principal speaker was Mrs. Susie Stageberg of Red Wing, candidate for the Farmer-Labor nomination for the office of secretary of state. Campaign issues and organization were discussed by many speakers, among whom were: O. A. Naplin of this city, candidate for associate justice of the supreme court nomination; Andrew Trovaton, chairman of the Pennington county Farmer-Labor committee; R. O. Gordon of Rhoda, legislative candidate from this district; Thos. Vollom of Erskine, gubernatorial candidate; J. C. Pratt of Crookston, candidate for re-election to the legislature in Polk county; and Carl Berg of Erskine, candidate for secretary of state.

Besides those who spoke, others from Thief River Falls who attended the gathering, were Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kinghorn and children, Mrs. Naplin and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Quist and children, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Halldin.

Bankers of Ninth District Favor McNary-Haugen Bill

L. A. Hermanson, cashier of the First and Peoples State bank, returned Saturday morning from Fergus Falls where he attended the 24th annual convention of the Ninth District Bankers' association Thursday. Mr. Hermanson was the only Pennington county banker in attendance, about 125 from the entire district being present.

Resolutions adopted indorsed the economical policy of President Coolidge; urged that the law be amended to prevent the organization of banks with less than $25,000 paid in capital, and indorsed the McNary-Haugen bill for the relief of agriculture.

Public Forum

Campaign Issues,

Editor of The Times:

Will you kindly permit me to call attention to a few of the great outstanding issues of this campaign through your paper? Regardless of whether we belong to the Farmer-Labor, the Republican or the Democratic parties, we all want to know where the candidates stand on the following questions:

1st. On the modification of the dry laws, and the restoration of light wines and beer. The wets are sending out their pledge cards right now, and are seeking to undermine the dry laws. We probably have wet candidates in all parties. Let us be careful and find out just where our candidates stand. Those of us who believe in and support the cause of prohibition want to know who we are voting for.

2nd. Economy and retrenchment in state and public affairs and expenditures. Let us know where our candidates stand on the everlasting salary graft. Even now public officials drawing salaries of three, four and up to five thousand dollars in salary, plus all expenses, are getting ready to ask for more salary next legislative session. Such things will have to stop.

3rd. Deposit Guarantee Laws, together with adequate bank inspection and regulation. The large number of bank failures in the state proves the need for this legislation. Where do our candidates for governor stand on this vital issue? We have a right to ask and know so that we may vote intelligently.

4th. Agricultural Relief Legislation. What plan or suggestion have our legislative and congressional candidates got to offer relief to the farmer? What we need and want is some plan that will provide genuine relief, and not a mere paper theory.

5th. World Peace and the World Court of Justice. The matter of peace and the prevention of war is one of the greatest and most important questions before mankind. Where do our candidates for congress stand? Are they for the world court? If not have they got something better to offer? The people of the world, and of our own country demand that some step be taken, and something done towards the prevention of war, and the preservation of peace.

These are not partisan political questions and should not be permitted to become so. They are some of the big, vital issues of the campaign. Men and women of all parties are interested in these questions. Let us, each in our own parties, pin our candidates down and find out where they stand. A man that asks for public office should have backbone enough to state where he stands on these questions, so that we may have a chance to select the man we want.

What My Neighbor Says

Is of Interest to Thief River Falls Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Thief River Falls resident.

Who could ask for a better example?

C. W. Leach, 217 Knight Ave., S. says: "My back bothered me so much with a dull, steady pain that I was in misery continually. When I got down, it was about all I could do to straighten again. When I stooped suddenly, I got sharp twinges that felt like knife-stabs. My kidneys did not act properly, either. Doan's Pills cured me of the backache and I have had no return of the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills — the same that Mr. Leach had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

"ADIEU"

The 1923-24 "Progress" staff has now become a thing of the past and the new staff has taken hold. We, of the old staff, are sorry that the time has come for us to bid goodbye and wish that our work could go on indefinitely, but since this is impossible, it is best that we relinquish our hold now before the ties become even more binding.

We have tried earnestly throughout the year to edit a paper that would do credit to Lincoln High School and if we have succeeded in any small degree, we will feel fully repaid for the hours of work that have been expended towards this end. At times our task has not been as easy as it might have been and again we have felt more than a little discouraged, but this all belongs to the past now and we will look back only on the pleasant things.

The individual members of the staff have done their best and, though all the work has been outside of the regular course of study and no particular credit is given for it, each one has faithfully done his part. Mr. Bye, as faculty adisor, has helped continually throughout the year and his services have proved invaluable. Too much credit cannot be given to the members of the "Times" staff for their much-needed advice in Jornalism, their good-natured acceptance of late material, and the courtesy they have shown us at all times We are very fortunate in being able to secure a page in the "Times" in which to publish all the school news and we hope that the present arrangement may be continued until the time comes when we can edit a separate school paper.

The new staff is without doubt a very capable one and it is without any qualms that we leave the destinies of the "Progress" in its hands. We leave them with the sincere wish that next year may be as pleasant a one for them as this year has been for us and that, profiting by our mistakes, they will equal and even surpass the standard set by this and previous staffs.

Advice

The worthy students of the Senior Class leave this to the lower classmen:

Never

Look at the clock when it isn't running, for you won't find out the time.

Bluff. The teachers recognize it—they used to do it themselves.

Run down the stairs. Miss Leavitt will catch you on the landing.

Will you find a brighter Senior Class? (In their estimation, at least.)

Senior Girl: "He's a man after my own heart."

Junior Girl: "I wish he were after mine."

THE NEW STAFF

The task of editing the last "Progress" of the present school year has been given to the new staff, which will edit the sheet for the years 1924-25. This staff is lacking in experience but in a little time we hope to be able to edit that kind of paper which will come up to the high standards of journalism produced by this year's force.

In order to make it easier for the staff and in order to have a better "Progress," we want the other students who are not directly connected with the paper to write articles for it.

It is true that the staff is supposed to edit the paper, but we are only human, therefore we may overlook something which another person will notice. That is why we want the co-operation of the entire student body.

Remember, fellow students, this paper is not the staff's alone. No, it is "The High School Progress." That is, it is the paper of each and every high school student.

DEAR PAPA

Skule being out nest Fri. and I being out of cash, I thot I would drop you a line. Abstively, papa, don't get it in your head that I am begging for money, but I would appreciate it very much if you vould drept me your signature on a check blank. I am absitively on the rocks, papa, and it makes me feel as cheap as a counterfeit nickel in a First National Bank.

Speaking of vimen papa, I am off that Rebbeca Diamond for life. She ain't in my class and besides she is absitively insulting. She told me yes*terday that I was a regular Mercury* and I thought she meant I was a speedy guy. I looked it up today and found that Mercury was the god of liars. I am done with her already and I am going to her place tonight and get back that ring I gave her. It cost me $1.25, F. O. B. Sears, Roebuck, Chicago, and she ain't goin' to get away with that ring. All my other girls gave it back.

Vell, papa, last Saturday I saw my first football game, and it was rotten. There vas twenty-two great big dubs had a prize fight all over a cheap little ball that didn't cost over three iron men. They didn't have no respect at all for the game. One grease haired dumbbell stepped all over the face of a little boy and viped on the boys sweater his shoes. Then about eighteen of those bushwacking roughnecks picked on the guy that had the ball. They stepped on his faces, kicked him until he fainted and let go ov the ball. Ven the game was ofer Mr. Pullman, some of those vulgar guys called him coach, vell Mr. Pullman counted up the number of the dead and wounded and gave the leather medal to the survivors.

Vell, papa, dis is all for once. Don't forget I am broke.

Your loving son,
Ikey.

Thomas Scanlan: (to Robert Erickson after pushing his car up a hill.) "How many horse power in this car?"

Robert: "Forty."

Tommy: "I guess thirty-nine of the horses must be dead."

Over three million people in the United States play golf and all three million have doubtless learned that patience is still a virtue.

Last School Dance Given Sat. at Sons of Norway

Last Saturday evening at the Sons of Norway hall, the students and faculty gathered for the last social event of the school year. As this was only the second all-school dance of the term, a good crowd turned out in spite of the bad weather and like other school activities, it proved a big success. For many of the students who are leaving, as well as members of, the faculty, it was the last time they will ever take part in any school entertainments of this sort.

Excellent music was furnished by Earl Erickson, John Hendry, and Alfred Dybvik.

The affair was ably chaperoned by Mrs. Louis Rayson and Mrs. Lucille Johnson, and Miss Maude L. Johnson acted as floor manager.

Model Grammar Lesson

Sentence under discussion: "We must love men ere they seem to us worthy of our love."—Shakespeare.

Mr. Bye: "Jessie, give construction of man."

Jessie: "I can't."

Lucille: (hand wildly waving in air) "I can! Snaps and snails and puppy dog tails."

Mr. Bye: "Case?"

Lucille: "All cases."

Mr. Bye: "Use?"

Lucille: "No use."

Mr. Bye: "Correct."

Pill: "Would you consider it improper if I should kiss your hand?"

Jill: "Not improper but decidedly out of place."

80 Per Cent of Faculty Will Return Next Year

Although the force of teachers for next year is not yet complete, the majority is now known. Eighty per cent of this year's teachers are going to come back. They are the following: Morris Bye, Lawrence Mickelson, Leonard Thune, Mildred Nelson, Doreen Finnegan, Mrs. Blanche Korstad, Minnie S. Leavitt, A. C. Matheson, Mildred Thompson, Maude L. Johnson, Clara Baumann, Mrs. Clara H. Herm, Clarence Pope, Monica Bambrick, and Alice Stapleton.

Harold C. Hand will be principal of the high school at Montlcello, Minn. Julia Herlickson will teach sewing in the Red Wing, Minn. high school; Lester Guss will attend the University of North Dakota; Miriam Simon is undecided as to where she will teach next year, and Eleanor Keyes will not teach next year.

Loretta Kopriva has been secured as assistant in the Teacher Training department, and Eva Mae Earl as instructor in Home Economics.

Three more teachers are needed to fill the vacancies, but as yet these are not definitely known.

Second Scrimmage Game Won Sat. by "Dizzies"

Last Saturday afternoon the football fans gathered at the fair grounds to see the second and last contest between the "Dizzies" and the "Unconscious." The "Dizzies" again came out on the long end of a 12-2 score. The "Unconscious" played the better game the first three quarters but the "Dizzies" managed to hold them when they were close to the goal line. The "Dizzies" put over their first touchdown just before the first half was over. During the last quarter "Mike" invented some new trick plays that completely "flabbergasted" the "Unconscious" and the "Dizzies" went down for their second touchdown.

The backfields of both teams showed improvement but the lines are rather weak as most of the linemen are inexperienced.

The line-up was:

"Dizzies"		"Unconscious"
Melgaard	L.E.	McCrum
Froseth	L.T.	Kolden
Barzen	L.G.	Booren
Davidson	C.	Kinghorn
Anderson and Coultier	R.G.	Ihle
Berg	R.T.	Mulry
Wengeler	R.E.	Langevin
Streeter	L.H.	Penney
Larson	R.H.	Zeh
Parenteau	Q.B.	Bjorkman
Holzknecht	F.B.	Bennes

"If a body sees a body,
Flunking in a quiz,
And a body helps a body,
Is it a teacher's biz?"

Freshman: "I want a girl that is easily pleased."

Sophomore: "Don't worry, that's the kind you'll get."

Teacher: "Define phenomenon, Bert."

Bert: "A changing."

Teacher: "Give an example."

Bert: "I studied my lesson today."

1924 "PROWLERS" DISTRIBUTED MON.

This Year's Annual is One of the Most Attractive Ever Published by Lincoln High School.

To the great joy of Lincoln High and Alumni, the 1924 "Prowler" was finished and ready for distribution on Monday morning. All the students who subscribed last fall can now get their "Prowlers" at the high school upon payment of the remainder of the money due. The alumni and other people who have previously subscribed will receive their copies as soon as the present rush at the high school is over.

The Seniors may well be proud of this year's "Prowler" for it is without doubt one of the most attractive books ever published in Lincoln High. It is a book of about one hundred pages, bound in a blue cover with the title in gold and black. The reading material is divided into six divisions or books, namely: Faculty, Classes, Organzations, Athletics, Society, and Humor. Not only is it replete with interesting pictures and written material but it shows evidences of much thought and hard work on the part of the staff.

The printing was done by The Times company of Thief River Falls and was entirely satisfactory in every particular; photographic work was done at the Salveson Studio and the engraving by the Minneapolis Bureau of Engraving.

Next Year's "Progress" Staff Announced Friday

Friday afternoon at 3:40, special assembly was held, Mr. Bye presiding.

He announced the Progress staff for next year, stating that this force was chosen by the English teachers. The last Progress sheet is being published by this staff in conjunction with the old one.

It was also announced that on Friday, May 23, a special assembly will be held at which the Senior banner will be presented to the present Junior Class and awards will be given to the athletes, debaters and declaimers.

The Boys' Glee club will sing a few songs which they are practising for the Teachers' convention which is to be held here next year.

Last Wednesday after school the morning cooking class had a picnic. Millicent Sweger in behalf of the class gave a short speech of thanks, and presented Miss Herlickson with a gift.

Mildred Griffin, who finished school the first semester, arrived Tuesday evening to be present at the Commencement Exercises. She is an honor student.

A number of girls are planning on hiking to Argyle after school is out.

The upper classmen returned to the days of their childhood last Friday and surprised many of the teachers with peanut showers. Among the favored ones were: Miss Monica Bambrick, Miss Eleanor Keyes, Miss Mildred Thompson, Lawrence Mickelson, and Lester Guss. It is not known whether the motive for these was to show appreciation and gratitude to the teachers or merely to get out of some class work. However, we have our suspicions.

The main line of conversation heard around the halls this week is, "Sign my 'Prowler,' won't you?"

Poultry Producers Hear About Marketing Ass'n

The poultry organization meeting held here last Wednesday evening under auspices of the Thief River Valley Co-op. Poultry Marketing association was very interesting but owing to deficient advertising drew only a small audience. Accompanying men was J. Gillespie, a traveling representative of the machinery and twine department of the Minnesota state prison at Stillwater, who occupied the floor for about an hour in a very impressive talk on prison conditions and the manufacture and distribution of prison machinery. Heretofore the prison department has been confied to three machines—mowers, rakes and binders, but following a legislature ruling at the last session, three additional machines, namely, side delivery rakes, cultivators and corn binders, will be made in the near future. Of course suitable patents must first be secured and taken under advisement, which may take some time, but the present plan was to have new rakes on the market by this summer. The other machines to follow as they can be realized. Mr. Gillespie paid special stress on the present prices of prison products and competitive lines, and also the fact that all prison machines and twin were of identical and in some cases superior quality than competitive machines, and that owing to the efficient system of the prevailing correction instutions in this state, this was made possible, and also it conattempt to secure any additional memtem now know to be existing, and is being copied in scores of cases. Following Mr. Gillespie's address, a short talk was given by Olaf Neset, President of the Pennington County Poultry association, who fully described the plans of the new Poultry and Egg Marketing association of the Thief River valley, which plans to buy co-operatively eggs and poultry to ship in carloads from that place, and thus secure a cash market for eggs as well as fowls. About 800 members had signed up on this contract, agreeing to sell all their products to this association for a period of three years, the majority of poultry men a large number of adjoining villages, which will have their individual stations, and a truck from the central point bringing in the eggs twice every week, and receiving payment on a similar basis as from the present operating co-operative creamery associations, which seem to be operating to general satisfaction. About thirty signatures were secured at the meeting and J. E. Thompson, who is community representative until a governing board is elected, will attempt to seuce any additional members. Plans to commence taking eggs by July 1st is under way and also to be able to take care of this fall's marketing of fowls. Much interest was shown by those present, and it is to be hopefl that this will fill a long felt need of this particular farmers' problem.

POULTRY DRIVE IS SUCCESS IN PENNINGTON CO.

Necessary Membership for New Poultry Marketing Unit is Now Assured

ABOUT 400 SIGNED UP AROUND T. R. FALLS

Drive by Commercial Club Members Brings Many Into Ranks Of Association

That the 1000 members necessary to assure a sufficient volume of business for the recently launched Thief River Valley Co-operative Poultry Marketing association, will be secured in the near future so that operations may be begun soon, is now a certainty judging by the progress made by organizers so far.

A large number of new members have been signed up throughout the district, the number of agreements signed in Pennington county and the Newfolden community in Marshall, having reached in the neighborhood of 500, or half of the estimated total for the whole area. About 40 are enrolled in the immediate vicinity of Thief River Falls where the quota was placed at 200.

A number of Commercial club members took part in a drive for membership in various sections of the county Tuesday, splendid success being reported by practically all the solicitors. P. Engelstad reports having signed up 25 members in Rocksbury township, E. M. Bennes, assisted by Waldie Christensen, 19 in Norden, and C. M. Carlson assisted by Bert Thorstad, 23 in another locality. The drive will be continued throughout the week, other volunteer solicitors preparing to go out later. This organization work is being done entirely gratis by persons interested in the success of the new movement.

A meeting to arouse interest in the proposition will be conducted at Goodridge next Thursday, May 29, with County Agent McCann and Mr. Neset as speakers.

without other things, but we cannot get along without these. Political economy, civics, music, literature, all the fine arts—these are wonderful gifts and attainments, but they are not essential. Christ is needful, essential to man's perfect well-being, for Christ is man's Savior from sin, death, and hell for righteousness, life and, heaven.

"In the Gospel Christ comes to man. In His word we drink at the very fountain of divine knowledge. There we behold the creation of the world and man by the almighty Word of God; man's fall into sin and subjected to the curse of eternal death; God's decree for fallen man's redemption through the atonement of his Son; the open door of heaven through faith in the Christ.

"In the Word we behold Christ, our Highpriest, offering the perfect sacrifice for the sins of the world. On Calvary's Cross Jesus offers Himself as the perfect atonement for man. His sacrifice is accepted, for God raises Him from the dead to the throne of glory in heaven, where He lives to intercede for our pardon and acceptance.

"In the Word we behold Christ our King, ruling the world in the interests of His followers; ruling in the hearts of men as the King of grace, drawing them by faith in Himself to the Father and eternal life.

"This Christ of the Gospel is the one thing needful, the good part. You need Him for you are made by God and for God. Christ is the only one that leads you to the Father. Believe in Him, and you have all that He is and has: Righteousness, life, and heaven. Other things are helpful; the Christ is needful.

"Martha's example shows how easily this one thing needful is lost sight of. She failed to put first things first; failed to estimate correctly the value of her service to Jesus and Jesus' service to her. She would count her service the one thing needful. The Savior corrects her mistaken view. We all need this correction and warning. We forget that the only way that leads to God is by Faith in the Christ. We are inclined to substitute our own works, our zeal and diligence in the Master's vineyard for faith in the redeeming work of Christ. Thus faith is lost, and with it all is lost.

"But what of those who neglect and forget the Christ and His Word for the things of this life? Do not let your earthly career blot out your vision of the heavenly; do not let your ambitions rob you of the one thing needful: To know and to cling to Christ.

"The one thing needful is not a hindrance, but an advantage in earthly life. Think of Abraham Lincoln, Luther, the many successful men and women in all walks of life, who have kept the good part. Christ lives to make good his promise, Matt. 6, 33.

"Better still you will have the comfort and joy of a loving, merciful Savior, who takes away your sins, gives you peace of God, and answers your confession: 'Be of good cheer, thy sins are forgiven thee.' And in eternity you shall enter with Jesus into the kingdom of glory to be forever with the Lord. 'That good part shall not be taken from you.'

"Let Mary of Bethany the believing pupil of Jesus be your constant example and ideal. Choose and keep the good part of Jesus and His word."

Tribute Paid Norwegian Day by 2 Lodges

all that is good and noble in Norwegian character will inevitably lead to the question—how to maintain and develop this character under our American conditions? I believe that when we allow our thoughts to dwell on all that is great and noble and brilliant in Norwegian history, culture and literature, in short, when we today recall and glory in our priceless Norwegian heritage, the thought must inevitably strike us, that we are confronting a clear and unmistakable duty which calls on us to maintain and perpetuate this, our Norwegian heritage in America.

"That which is strong and good in each of the various peoples composing the American people, will of course, assert itself in this great melting pot, and become a part of the new race, a characteristic of the American peoles of the future. And that which is weak and unassertive, will, with equal certainty, die and disappear.

It is thus our duty, both to Norway and to America, to assert our Norwegian nature and heritage. America desires it in order that she may make the most of the Norwegian blood that has been contributed to the great melting process. America wants the best that is in you, and you can give the best only by being true to your nature, true to the country from which you or your fathers sprang."

Brage Singers Please.

The selections by the Brage male chorus under the direction of Dr. P. L. Vistaunet were received with much enthusiasm, this organization being one of the best ever had in this city. "Naar Fjordene Blanner," and "Norrona og Konge Kvadet" were the most impressive renditions, while such songs as "Stinn," and "Kjaeringa med Staven" created much mirth and encores were called for and generously responded to. A reading, "Knee Deep in June," was given by G. Halorson. A drill was executed by members of the Daughters of Norway lodge.

Following the program, refreshments were served and a social time of dancing and cards enjoyed until a late hour.

REV SMITH RETIRES DUE TO ILL HEALTH

Aged Methodist Pastor Is Given Well Deserved Rest From Ministerial Duties.

Owing to ill health, Rev. J. B. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church in this city will retire from the pastorate, the last sermon of his service to be preached next Sunday, according to announcement.

In the Methodist Episcopal church there are three relationships which a pastor may bear to the conference. First effective, which as its name implies embraces all those who are fully capable of discharging the duties of the parsonage and are actually so engaged; second—supernumerary includes those who through physical disability are left without charge for a period not exceeding five years and who hope at the end of that period to re-enter the effective relationship; and third—superannuate, those who by reason of age, years of service or permanent disability have permanently retired from the active work while still retaining their membership in the annual conference.

Those who are eligible to superannuation are: First, those who have reached the age of 65; Second, those who have 40 years service to their credit; or third, those who are permanently disabled.

Mr. Smith has superannuated by the advice of his physician whose statement is that the work of the ministry could only be done with serious consequences. The matter of the future is in the hands of Dr. Craig who is at present at Springfield, Mass.

The cordial feeling between Rev. Smith and his church is evidenced by the tender of the parsonage as residence which was accepted in the spirit in which it was offered. He has served faithfully and is deserving of a rest. Announcement of pulpit supply will be made by the official board from time to time.

Another garage business has been added in this city, E. E. Aamodt having leased the C. M. Evenson building, first door west of the auditorium, and has opened a repair and storage business. He is also a dealer in used cars. The structure was built for garage purposes some years ago and was in operation until last year when the business was discontinued by W. C. Nichols & Son, who some time previously had purchased it from C. M. Evenson & Sons. Mr. Aamodt conducted the repair department of the Peoples Auto company until that concern closed out its branch here last fall, disposing of the property to the Pyramid Oil company.

Announcement of the S. M. Disher Yard

We spent four months interviewing painters and paint users and analyzing what twenty-one different paints were made of. We believe that if you did this before you bought paint you would do just what we did—buy St. Paul White Lead and Oil Paints.

As you know, every paint maker must put on the can what is used in the paint and we found cheap paints, but found they contained Silicates, Barium, Calcium, Silica, etc. (These you know are really only sand, ground stone, plaster of paris, etc.) and if you will take the trouble to look you will find them right on the cans of many paints.

We, also, found high priced nationally advertised paints and found some of them contained these same things—They cost little or nothing compared with White Lead and Zinc, and only make weight.

We had to decide between cheap paints, nationally advertised paints or pure paints at a reasonable price but not spending a cent for national advertising.

We decided on the PURE PAINTS NOT NATIONALLY ADVERTISED AND SELLING FOR A REASONABLE PRICE. We have put in a complete line of St. Paul White Lead and Oil Paint.

It is only a few steps further to go down to our Lumber Yard (The Yard by the Great Northern Depot) and I feel sure you will be well paid for taking these few steps—Come down and see what I have to offer you in either Paints, Lumber, Coal or Builders Hardware. I will enjoy showing you.

Nobody Who Cares One Snap of their Fingers About Their Own Money Can Afford to Miss This Event!

A DASHING, DAZZLING
CLOSE OUT SALE!
DUMPING IT OUT AT WHOLESALE PRICES
Bob McKee

COME AT OUR EXPENSE FREE!

Besides the unusually big bargains and unheard of specials that we will offer, we will pay your railroad fare within fifty miles upon a purchase of $25 or more, or if you motor in we will allow you 5 gallons of gasoline on a like purchase. Come at our expense, you are not to be disappointed.

A Broad Statement But Only Too True!

Give me credit for having sufficient sense to realize that the store that attempts to fool the public is simply making a jackass of itself. Consequently I have a message which I want you to read—a message condensed to hard, solid, honest facts. You may have attended a lot of so-called sales in the past by merchants who make a practise of fooling the public, but when I tell you that Lieberman's entire stock of Dry Goods, Shoes, Men's and Ladies' Furnishings and Wearing Apparel will be closed out to the bare walls at prices, in many cases less than cost, it should make the bargain blood tingle in your veins—because it is the truth.

If it was necessary to come out with some decoy sale reason to get your business—if it was compulsory to deceive you to get your patronage; if I can't come out truthfully, look you squarely in the face, tell you about the former prices and get your business on that foundation, I don't want your business.

REMEMBER—I feel the public is entitled to Service and Honest Facts and during this big closing out sale, the policy will be carried out to the letter. You can at any time within two days from the time of purchasing an article during this sale, return it and we will gladly exchange it for other merchandise or cheerfully refund your money—each and every transaction must be absolutely satisfactory in every way to the purchaser.

"Bob McKee" The Man in Charge.

STORE CLOSED

It's a gigantic task to re-arrange and re-mark every item in this big stock, but that's just what we will do. Therefore it is absolutely necessary to close the store all day Monday and Tuesday so we can have time to get the entire stock arranged for quick and heavy selling. There will be no exceptions to this rule—store will be locked tight from Saturday night 'till Wednesday morning at 9 a. m.

Selling Commences Wednesday, May 21st, 9 O'clock

What Would YOU DO?

If you were the owner of a business and had a large amount of money tied up in a stock of merchandise, half of which lies idle, not even earning common bank interest—would you remain in business?

There is no hesitancy on my part in placing my cards on the table face up, telling you the truth straight from the shoulder in the frank way I would tell my wife, brother, banker, lawyer or my creditors.

I am not broke—neither am I forced to close my door by creditors hounding me for money—I am not using any FALSE ALARM reasons or DECOY reasons to get your business. The plain simple UNADULTERATED TRUTH is this—The load is too big for me to carry under present conditions.

That is the reason I have decided to sell out my entire stock! Yes, Positively, Yes! QUIT BUSINESS FOR GOOD!

Everyone who is familiar with the merchandise situation realizes it would be next to impossible to get a buyer with sufficient cash to take over this business, so I have secured the services of Mr. McKee, a Merchandise Sales Specialist, a man who makes a practise of closing out stocks. He proposes to distribute this stock to the homes of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Marshall County and adjacent territory for one hundred miles.

The selling of this entire stock and fixtures is in his hands; he makes the prices as he sees fit, but I want you to know that every word in this advertisement, every price made by Mr. McKee, every sale is vouched for by me.

(Signed) ALBERT S. LIEBERMAN.

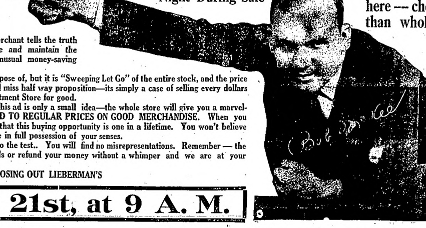
Without Public CONFIDENCE

Store Open Every Night During Sale

Merchants! you can buy here --- cheaper than wholesale



My Close Out Sale of Lieberman's Department Store would fail. If a merchant tells the truth —and he should never tell anything else to his customers—he will have and maintain the confidence of the public. What I am dictating here about this very unusual money-saving opportunity is a wizard and winner because "IT IS THE TRUTH."

This is not a sale of a few articles in the store which we desire to dispose of, but it is "Sweeping Let Go" of the entire stock, and the price attached to each article will speak louder than words. It's not a bit and miss half way proposition—its simply a case of selling every dollars worth of this stock, winding up, closing the doors of the Lieberman Department Store for good.

In this advertisement it is IMPOSSIBLE to quote every sale price—this ad is only a small idea—the whole store will give you a marvelous demonstration of the havoc this QUIT BUSINESS SALE HAS CAUSED TO REGULAR PRICES ON GOOD MERCHANDISE. When you stand face to face with the price tags you will immediately acknowledge that this buying opportunity is one in a lifetime. You won't believe your own eyes—you'll feel you must pinch yourself to prove that you are in full possession of your senses.

I want every critical purchaser of merchandise to come and put us to the test.. You will find no misrepresentations. Remember — the burden of responsibility is upon us. We will gladly exchange the goods or refund your money without a whimper and we are at your service 100 per cent.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

VOLUME 14 Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, Thursday, May 29, 1924 Number 1

INSPIRATIONAL ADDRESS GIVEN AT GRADUATION

Hon. J. F. T. O'Connor of Grand Forks Delivers Commencement Address Friday Eve.

58 SENIORS ARE GIVEN DIPLOMAS AT EXERCISES

Service and the Appreciation of Right Things in Life Stressed by Speaker

With the graduation of 58 members of the 1924 senior class and 15 post graduates receiving their teacher's certificates last Friday evening, the school activities for the term came to a close. The auditorium was packed to capacity by those who wished to witness the farewell exercises in honor of these young men and women who have completed another milestone in their life's journey.

Supt. I. T. Simley officiated as chairman and with a few brief remarks complimented the class upon its record, calling upon Esther Lunsetter, salutatorian, to bid those present welcome which was done in a splendid manner. Preceding the commencement address delivered by Hon. J. F. T. O'Connor of Grand Forks, two songs, "Morning" and "Silent Starlit Night", were beautifully sung by the Girls' Glee club under the able direction of Miss Maude L. Johnson.

The address by Mr. O'Connor was one of the most inspiring ever heard here and was particularly fitting to the occasion. The Grand Forks man is a fluent speaker and presents the subject in such a brilliant manner that it appeals to everyone. The hearty applause at the close of Mr. O'Connor's address clearly indicated how it was received by the immense audience.

Proper Appreciation of Life

Appreciation of the right things in life thru education was stressed by the speaker, who emphatically declared that the making of money or obtaining a high position in life must not be the sole aim of education. One's service to mankind is what determines whether or not a person is a success. Every individual is responsible for some service proportionate to his talent, and with present day conveniences and advanced methods our accomplishments can be made greater than ever before.

High tribute was paid to the pioneers of the country, particularly of this great northwest, who in the last 50 and in some instances in but 25 years have transformed the wild prairies into attractive and productive communities. Special mention was also made of the mother who is always the core of the family and usually the one to sacrifice the most.

The speaker complimented this city upon its splendid schools, which, he declared, provide a wonderful opportunity for the youth of the community.

The valedictory by Margaret Melgaard, who attained highest scholastic honors of the class, was exceptionally well delivered.

Musical Numbers Please

"Recessional" sung by the Senior octette composed of Liv Vistaunet, Gladys Kolden, Hazel Krause, Camille Warner, Orrin Storholm, John Sother, Math Barzen and Cleon Bottelson, was a pleasing number, as were also "Bells of the Sea" and "The Old Home Town" by the Boys' Glee club. The music furnished by the high school orchestra, to which the graduates marched in entering the auditorium, added greatly to the occasion. The graduates wore gray caps and gowns.

The class was presented by Morris Bye, high school principal, to E. O. Mogensen, president of the school board, who presented the diplomas, following a brief talk, Supt. Simley presenting the teacher's certificates. Scholarships by a number of colleges awarded to the boy and girl attaining the highest scholastic honors during their course were announced, Margaret Melgaard and Joseph Gavin being rewarded in this manner for their splendid record.

M'GINN OPPOSED BY NESS IN 2ND DIST.

Three File For County Board Job in 4th Dist.—P. Wold Files for Probate Judge

Filings for county offices closed Tuesday, with three of the four offices for election contested, Adolf Eklund, who has filed for re-election to the office of clerk of court, being unopposed. Quite a lively contest is expected.

Peter C. Wold, farmer at Highlanding and former commissioner for six years, has filed for judge of probate, to oppose Lars Backe, present incumbent of that office.

R. J. McGinn, president of the Farmers & Merchants State bank, county commissioner from the Second district the past 10 years, has filed for re-election and is opposed by Andrew Ness of this city, alderman from the fourth ward for four years.

In the fourth district for the past eight years served by J. S. Roy of St. Hilaire, there is a three-cornered fight, Mr. Roy being opposed for the nomination by Waldie Christensen and Gilbert Hovle, prominent farmers west of the city. Both have been residents of the county for many years and have taken an active part in affairs of the community.

Gets Large Cream Check

Patrons of St. Hilaire Co-operative creamery during April received $9,055.00, Arne Vik heading the list with a total of $270.78 for the month.

Mrs. Ed. Aubol, who has been ill the past four weeks, is again able to be up, and will soon be about as usual. For some time her condition was quite serious.

Discussion of High Line At Auditorium Tonight

The public in general is asked to attend the public meeting this evening in the auditorium to listen to a talk on high line service as proposed by the Minnesota Electric Distributing company of Minneapolis to the city council to safeguard it against a possible period of darkness in case of accident to the electric light plant or the dam. Every tax payer should make it a point to come to this meeting prepared not only to listen to the talk but to ask questions if they have them to ask.

H. H. Henley of Minneapolis will be present at the meeting and will try to enlighten the people as to the merits of such a service. The company has set a price for current which they believe is an attractive one and one that the city council cannot afford to pass up at this time, regardless of whether they buy an additional engine or the dam, or both.

HUGE INCREASE IN PRODUCTION OF CREAM HERE

Stockholders of Creamery Ass'n. to Consider Matter of Building Saturday

TOURIST PARK WILL BE SCENE OF PICNIC

Increase of 50 Per Cent in Production Makes Present Plant Inadequate

Stockholders of the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association will enjoy a picnic and a general business meeting at the tourist park, also known as Lovers' lane, on Saturday of this week, beginning at 11 a. m. at which it is hoped that all stockholders will be present and bring their families. While the latter will perhaps be principally interested in the picnic feature of the meeting, the stockholders will have matters of great importance to the association to consider at this time.

According to the notice sent out by Secretary Thos. H. Bjerke, the question of whether or not to erect a new creamery building this year will take up the main interest of stockholders, this proposition being also of much interest to the public in general. At the annual meeting last winter it was decided not to build this year owing to unfavorable conditions, but the tremendous increase of about 50 per cent of cream production over last year by patrons of the local creamery has caused a number of stockholders to believe that it is necessary to enlarge the plant at this time.

Working Under Handicap

The present plant of the association has for some time failed to meet the requirements of the rapidly developing business, according to those in charge. Buttermaking facilities are practically the same today as when the plant was manufacturing much less than its present output. To date the situation has been met by putting on the night force during the rush season, but it is declared that this method will no longer answer, as the cream brought here during the flush summer months will be beyond the capacity of the creamery.

Last year the creamery barely managed to get along in this manner and those who were in position to fully realize the handicap under which the management was then working, saw that further increases in the amount of butterfat produced in the neighborhood would make a larger and more modern plant necessary.

Everyone has been boosting the production of buttefat in this section for many years, particularly so in more recent years, while little has been done to improve or enlarge the manufacturing division of the industry.

Last year in July the plant was operating at capacity with an output of 76,000 pounds, creamery officials state, making it impossible to meet the demands with a likely increase of about 50 per cent.

In case the weather is unfavorable for an outdoor meeting the auditorium will be used. All stockholders and friends of the creamery are invited to attend this outing.

Goar Enters $15,000 Claim Against Village of Stephen

Among civil cases to be tried in the Marshall county district court this week is that of Elmer E. Goar of Stephen, who is bringing suit against the village for damages of $15,000, alleging damages to that extent thru injuries suffered by Mrs. Goar about two years ago by contact with an electric wire carrying a high voltage of electricity into the Goar home. Mrs. Goar in previous action was awarded a verdict of damages in the sum of $8,500. Mrs. Goar is a daughter of Mrs. Anna Wedmer, formerly of this city, and asister of Mrs. M. O. Bakken and was a patient at the Physicians hospital after her injury.

Hearing of the case was started yesterday, H. O. Chommie of this city, attorney for the plaintiff, leaving for Warren yesterday morning. Mr. Chommie also handled Mrs. Goar's case in which he was successful in getting a verdict.

Many Pennington Juniors Are Presented with Pigs

More than 25 purebred Poland China pigs have been distributed among Pennington county junior club workers by C. H. Fuller and Ralph Mayhew, prominent Mavie hog breeders. Most of them were delivered to those joining the pig club this year, last Saturday, but requests from youths desiring a pig are still being filled, with a possibility of getting about 50 in the club before the season is over.

GOODRIDGE HAS MANY BREEDERS OF GUERNSEYS

Arrangements for 4th Annual Sale Here June 12th Are Being Completed

MANY BUYERS FROM N. DAK. ARE COMING

Eastern Pennington County Community Leads in Valley Guernsey Association

Inspection of the 100 purebred and high grade Guernsey cattle consigned for the fourth annual sale of the Red River Valley Guernsey association in Thief River Falls on Thursday, June 12, has been completed and catalogs containing full information regarding each animal are being printed this week to be distributed among interested dairymen.

Inquiries are being received every day from every part of the state, North Dakota and other parts of the country, and every thing points to the greatest sale of cattle ever held in Northern Minnesota. Last year the sale was attended by about 500 buyers and spectators and this year many more are looked for. Word has been received from Minot, Grand Forks and Hillsboro, N. D., that a number of buyers from there will be on hand to secure some of the splendid animals which are consigned for absolute sale.

As has been announced previously about 100 animals have been consigned, including 10 young purebred sires, 10 purebred cows, 40 grade cows and about 40 grade heifers. It is of interest to note that practically one-half of this number comes from Pennington county herds, which are classed among the best in the state. This county truly merits the distinction of being the Guernsey center of Minnesota.

A carload of Guernseys will be shipped here for the sale from Roseau county, one from Clearwater county, and two carload lots from Polk county.

It is reported that 15 purebred Guernsey sires are in use in the Goodridge community, in the easter end of Pennington county, the offspring of which will further establish this section as a center for purebred Guernseys. More purebred sires have been secured by Goodridge farmers the past two years than any other community in the valley. Access to a purebred sire is necessary to become a member of the association.

INCORPORATE BODY TO TAKE OVER RED LAKE RESORT LEASE

Red Lake Summer Resort Ass'n. Formed by Local Men to Develop Great Tract

Incorporation of a non-profit organization to take over the government lease on the 163-acre tract at the narrows of Red Lake, was this week completed by a committee from the Commercial club, members of which were instructed at last week's meeting to go ahead and form a tentative unit at once. The new body is called the Red Lake Summer Resort association, with E. O. Mogensen, Math Barzen, F. H. Herrick, Geo. Wilson and F. J. Stebbins as incorporators, Mogensen being named president and Wilson secretary. The incorporators constitute the first board of directors.

This incorporation, when ready to function will take over the lease, at present held by Daniel Shaw, Math Barzen, T. L. Melgaard and John Bratrud. These men obtained a five-year lease two years ago, with a view of turning it over to a larger body of interested citizens for greater development of this wonderful resort. The new association aims to make it not only the playground for Thief River Falls and the Red River Valley, but the entire state.

In order to become a member of the association it is necessary to rent a lot, the entire grounds to be divided into suitable lots, according to present provisions. Rentals of not less than $10 and not to exceed $20 for a lot per year are proposed, the rates and other details to be definitely fixed as the association proceeds in organization. Lots at this ideal location could command a high price but it is the object of the association to popularize this resort and make it available for everyone.

Word was received yesterday by Mr. Mogensen from Henry Young, one of the bondsmen of the Middle River contractors who are constructing the stretch of road at the east end of the route, near the lake, that this road will be finished by July 4, thus completing a fairly good route by way of Thorhult, a drive of about three hours from this city. This will be reduced to a two-hour drive when the entire road is constructed, which has been assured.

Peoples Co-op. Store Is Planning Picnic June 8

Arrangements are now being made for a big picnic sponsored by the Co-operative Store association to take place at Squaw Point on Sunday, June 8. This is an annual event, to which everyone is cordially invited. Those who attend are requested to bring lunch baskets and enjoy the entire day outing at the popular grounds.

A number of prominent speakers will be secured for the occasion, the committee in charge assuring a worth-while program.

Those in charge of arrangements are O F. Halldin, A. Williamson, H. Halland, J. E. Nelson, C. Hellquist and Sig. Anderson.

EKLUND POST SIGNS UP 59 IN CAMPAIGN

Big Meeting Closes Lively Membership Contest Won by Dr. Haug's Team

A rousing meeting, "feed" and street parade last Thursday night marked the closing of the intensive membership campaign and contest in which the Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion added 59 buddies to its ranks in two weeks, most of them new members. It was the most successful drive ever conducted by the local post, and it was declared by Anton Yngve of Middle River, commander of the Ninth district who was present at the meeting, that "the Thief River Falls post is the one to put the Ninth district over the top."

At the meeting Thursday night, which was attended by nearly 160 ex-service men of Pennington county and the largest gathering of Legionaires recorded by the local post, it was announced that the team headed by Dr. C. M. Haug and Henry Eyde signed up 32 members in the Eklund post, new and renewals, while Dr. L. R. Twete and Wm. Crown heading the other group secured 27 members. This makes the total membership of the post more than 160. The contest was unusually close, the outcome being doubtful until the very last minute, as a number were signed by both teams right at the meeting. As a result of the outcome of the contest the aggregation headed by Twete and Crown had to foot the bill for the viands enjoyed during the early part of the evening, a splendid supper being served at 7:30.

Every Service Man Should Join

Following the supper selections by the popular Legion band under the direction of H. S. Snyder added much pep to the occasion. The meeting was called to order by Commander Oscar Smith who spoke of the splendid success realized by the drive and stated, "we will not stop until every service man in the entire community tributary to Thief River Falls is enrolled in the ranks of the Eklund post or shows some mighty good reason why he should not and I don't believe any eligible can do that."

Dist. Commander Speaks

Membership was stressed in a brief talk by District Commander Yngve, who spoke in high terms of the accomplishments of the Eklund post which he considered responsible for putting the Ninth district over the top. District Adjutant O. R. Sande asserted that the drive for more members and creating interest in Legion affairs would keep right on. Brief remarks were also made by County Auditor T. P. Anderson, who has done much work in connection with ex-service men. Dr. Bernard of the sanatorium, also spoke. Chaplain Rev. Chas. Gerlinger, who invited the post members to a special Memorial service Sunday, June 1, G. Howard Smith and Oscar Paulson, who spoke regarding plans for Memorial Day. Attention was called to the fact that it should be a day of observance, not celebration.

The parade thru the streets of the city headed by the band was taken part in by every Legionaire present and was the largest ever put on by the post. It was an imposing group of former service men.

List of New Members

New members added to the rolls of the Eklund post during the drive are: Thief River Falls—A. W. Dahl, W. R. French, Albert B. Almstedt, Ole C. Granum, Alfred M. RALPH SHELDON IS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Former Cashier of First & Peoples State Bank Killed Near St. Paul Sunday

CAR LEAVES HIGHWAY AND CATCHES ON FIRE

Accident Attributed to Broken Steering Knuckle—Two Others Die As Result

Ralph M. Sheldon, for three years a resident of Thief River Falls and cashier of the First and Peoples State bank, and who returned to Minneapolis in July last year, was instantly killed last Sunday when the car which he was driving rolled over a ten-foot enbankment and caught fire, three miles west of South St. Paul, on the Jefferson Highway. His companion in the car, John O. Berglin of Chester, Mont., aged 40, died in a St. Paul hospital from injuries and burns, and a farmer, Herman Abraham, aged 52, who went to the assistance of the accident victims, dropped dead from heart failure when he saw the wreck.

Steering Knuckle Breaks

Mr. Sheldon and Mr. Berglin were returning from Owatonna where they had gone on a business trip Saturday. They had reached a curve in the highway when the accident occurred, about 5:30 p. m. Mr. Berglin told police, before he lost consciousness, that the steering knuckle of the car seemed to have broken, and that Mr. Sheldon applied the brakes in an attempt to bring the car under control. It swerved to the edge of the pavement, he said, and then toppled over the embankment, pinning them both under.

A young farmer boy who saw the accident from a nearby pasture where he was herding cattle, told police the machine rolled down the bank and immediately burst into flames. He ran home and told his father, but when they returned to the wreck they were unable to do anything on account of the fire. They called neighbors and firemen were summoned by telephone.

Pinned Under

The rescuers succeeded in getting Mr. Berglin out, but Mr. Sheldon's body was not recovered until the flames had been extinguished. He had suffered fractures of the skull, both legs and arms.

Ralph M. Sheldon, who was 30 years old at the time of death, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sheldon, 1808 Knox avenue south, Minneapolis. His father, who was president of the First and Peoples State bank of this city until last year, is prominent in Minneapolis banking. He was once president of the Civic & Commerce association. Mr. Sheldon attended West high school, Shattuck Military academy and Princeton university, the latter of which he attended until the close of his sophomore year when he became assistant cashier of the National Farmers bank at Owatonna and later cashier at the First and Peoples State bank here. He was a director of the institution at the time of his death. He entered business with his father as assistant cashier of the Sheldon Brothers company last year.

Surviving Mr. Sheldon are his parents, his wife and two children, Thomas, six, and Hugh, three years old.

Funeral services were held in Minneapolis yesterday.

TABERT CASE FILM TO BE SHOWN HERE

"The Whipping Boss" Will Be Presented Memorial Day Under Legion Auspices

Based upon the sensational Tabert case, the facts of which were recited at great length in the daily papers, "The Whipping Boss", heralded as "the most unusual photoplay ever produced", is arousing public opinion thruout the United States against barbarous penal systems.

"The Whipping Boss" will be exhibited for the first time in Thief River Falls at the Lyceum theatre tomorrow, Memorial Day, under the auspices of the Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion. Two matinees, beginning at 1:30 p. m. and two evening performances have been scheduled so as to give everyone an opportunity to see this great film. A vaudeville act by local talent and special orchestra music will be added features at the showing of this picture.

It will be recalled that the American Legion played an important part in the investigation into Tabert's death. The Legion Post at Langdon, N. D., co-operating with the Commercial Club of that city, collected funds for the investigation and prosecution.

Forty-seven days after The American Legion and other organizations began investigation, the convict leasing system was abolished in Florida. The lash was forbidden by law; the sheriff was arrested, and the judge who sentenced Tabert was ousted.

Lightning strikes and several telephone lines are out.

Rain begins to fall and freeze on the wires, a heavy wind rises, and mile after mile of sleet-weighted telephone wires are torn down.

Or, perhaps just a few drops of water leak through some tiny hole on a telephone cable and several wires are short circuited and made useless.

When disaster or damage is reported, our every resource is centered on the restoration of service at the earliest possible moment.

SANATORIUM HEADS PLAN SUMMER MEET IN THIEF R. FALLS

State Association of Directors and Commission Members to Convene July 17

Among conventions to be held in Thief River Falls this year is the summer gathering of the Minnesota Sanatorium association, which will be held in this city July 17, according to announcement by Dr. O. F. Mellby, president of the Oakland Park Sanatorium commission, and Dr. B. E. Bernard, medical director and superintendent of the local institution, who are in charge of preparations.

The Commercial club last Thursday voted to extend an invitation to the association to come to this city, the invitation being accepted immediately by the committee in charge, of which Dr. M. G. Milan, formerly head of the sanatorium here, is chairman. Members of the Commercial club will assist in making the necessary arrangements for the event.

The meeting will be attended by superintendents and medical directors of sanatoriums and their wives, thruout the state and also members of the various commissions in charge of these institutions. Approximately 50 persons including some nurses, are expected to attend.

Matters chiefly pertaining to tuberculosis and its treatment will be discussed, as will also problems of financing and supervision of the 13 state and county institutions in Minnesota. Each sanatorium is controlled by a commission of from 5 to 20 members. Oakland Park, maintained by four counties, is governed by a body of nine men.

Thief River Falls will entertain the tuberculosis specialists this year for the first time. Last summer the association met in Wadena. The winter meeting is usually held in the twin cities.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN TO 99 GRADUATES FROM EIGHTH GRADE FRI.

Largest Class in History Completes Grade Course—26 Finish at Midseason

Diplomas, representing the completion of eight years of school work as prescribed by the state department, were awarded to 99 pupils of the public schools of this city Friday forenoon at the city auditorium. Together with the 26 pupils who received diplomas at the end of the first semester, a total of 125, this is the largest class to graduate from the eighth grade in this city. The girls led the boys in numbers by 17, there being 41 boys and 58 girls.

"Italia," sung by the class under the direction of Miss Maude L. Johnson was the opening number of the program. A fitting and well delivered address of welcome was given by Harriet Fuller. Mrs. L. G. Larsen gave the principal address. After a few remarks concerning their completion of the eighth grade work, Mrs. Larsen took up the various stages of development which the child goes thru in reaching manhood or womanhood. Inheritance of tendencies and talents from ancesters, the home and early school environment develops the child more or less without his or her own will or effort, she explained. However, on completion of the grammar school, the boy or girl has acquired the general fundamentals which are merely a foundation for future work. "You are builders," she said, "and you have received the knowledge necessary for a foundation on which to construct your future. What you are to make of yourselves from now on rests largely with yourselves." In conclusion Mrs. Larsen quoted the last verse of "The Chambered Nautilus" and dwelt briefly on the application to their problems. In commenting on their diplomas, she stated that with these they receive various degrees, honor, and power. However, they must be backed by character, for that is the true fundamental in sound success.

Other numbers of the program including the recitation of the class poem by Elaine Korstad, songs by the class octette, a talk by Harold Will, My regard for Central, and the farewell by Chester Myrum were very well executed and well received by the audience. Miss Lyda Batten, eighth grade instructor and principal of the Central school, made the presentation of the class and I. T. Simley, superintendent of the city schools, presented the diplomas.

9-Year Old Stops Runaway

Donald Carlson, nine year old son of Carl E. Carlson, was the hero in a runaway Saturday when the delivery team of Tessum and Company became frightened while standing near the Great Northern train and subsequently disregarded all bonds of duty and propriety and made an attempt at a get-away. The driver and young Carlson were standing on the wagon and when the team started, the driver fell off while Donald fell to his feet, but remained in the wagon. With the team going at full pace, he crawled to the front of the wagon, and loosened the reins, and by the time the horses had reached the Lincoln school building, succeeded in bringing them to a halt. Donald's presence of mind averted what might have been a serious accident.

Brage Chorus to Holt

Brage Male Chorus, under the direction of Dr. P. L. Vistaunet and accompanied by Mrs. O. F. Mellby, soprano soloist, was very well received at Goodridge Saturday and Middle River Monday evenings, appearing at those places in concerts. They will fill their fifth out-of-town engagement Saturday evening when they give a program of chorus and solo numbers at Holt. The chorus has met with much success this spring, which is but an indication of the thoro practise of the past winter months and the ability of its members.

Meetings are held by the association four-five times during the year. All the creameries in the district are cooperative concerns.

School district No. 73 staged a fine closing program at the Albert Gesko Grove Friday. Prof. A. H. Larson of the Crookston Agricultural college and Rev. E. H. Kreidt of this city gave inspirational and instructive talks and community singing and games occupied the entire day.

A play-day contest was to have been held between that district and District 194, but only a few of the latter district appeared. The gathering included the families of most of those in the district and a fine spirit of cooperation was manifested. The entire forenoon was spent at games and at noon an elaborate picnic dinner was partaken of. The early afternoon was spent in community singing, led by Prof. Larson and the talks by the two men above mentioned and at four o'clock hot and cold refreshments were served.

Rev. Sweger and Family Are Tendered Farewell

The church parlors of the Trinity Lutheran church May 21 was the scene of one of the most elaborate social events of the season when about 300 members of the congregation gathered en masse and tendered Rev. T. E. Sweger, pastor of that church, and family a farewell reception.

Rev. Sweger leaves this week for the coast to resume duties with the work of the budget but his family will be located in this city. Rev. and Mrs. Sweger, in their comparatively short stay in this city, have made many close friends among members of the congregation who regret to see them leave. However, as the spirit of the farewell reception last evening indicated, they sincerely thank him for the work he has done here and wish him well in his new work.

In tribute to Rev. Sweger and his family talks were made by John J. Weeks, J. J. Aga, Dr. O. F. Mellby, Lars Backe, Gynther Tessum, Miss Emily Fossum, Morris Bye, Mrs. H. S. Dahlen, and Mrs. Bernhard Knudsen, who are officers of various organizations within the church and by Rev. E. H. Kriedt and I. T. Simley. The tenor of the thots expressed by the various speakers showed plainly the appreciation of what Rev. Sweger has done for the church and the active part his family has taken in the work. In his response Rev. Sweger stated that strenuous as it has been, he has enjoyed his work in Trinity congregation. Vocal solos were given by Mrs. O. F. Mellby and Miss Dora Holmes and music by the Sunday School orchestra. Those who participated in the event presented Rev. Sweger with a purse of money as a token of esteem.

Salvation Army War Worker To Speak at Four Meetings

Arrangements have been completed for the visit in Thief River Falls next week, June 3, 4, 5 and 6, of Envoy E. Pauline Swartz, world traveler, missionary and lecturer working in the interests of the Salvation Army.

Envoy Swartz will speak at the Salvation Army hall, 317 Main avenue north, the four nights at 7:30 p. m. She will speak to the Commercial club at the regular noon luncheon June 5.

Although Envoy Swartz has traveled around the world extensively s, reading the gospel of Salvationism her efforts have not cost The Army any money. She is officially a soldier at No. 1 Corps, Chicago, and has sufficient income in her own name to carry on her work.

During her travels she has been as far north as the Arctic Circle, as far south as Wellington, New Zealand and Valparaiso, South America, and has made a study of social conditions in a majority of the far-Eastern countries. She is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College, spent six years in evangelistic work in Japan, and served with the Salvation Army forces with the American troops in France.

A general invitation to the public to attend the meetings has been issued by Captain R. Youngberg, Salvation Army corps officer in Thief River Falls.

Fades Into Insignificance When Compared To This Immense Saturday Night Riot!!

Woman Faints!
Baby and Go-Cart Crushed in Rush

A well dressed young mother swooned to the floor, when her babe and go-cart were crushed in the tremendous rush at the opening of the sale, luckily all escaped serious injury, except the baby carriage which was completely smashed into small fragments. This disaster could have been avoided had the lady left the carriage outside the store.

We are going to ask all mothers who bring their young kiddies to co-operate with us Saturday night during this Gigantic After Supper Sale and leave the baby carriages, go-carts, bicycles, velocipedes, kiddy kars, etc., in safe distance from the front of the store.

We will not be responsible for broken baby carriages, go-carts, etc., during this immense Saturday night performance. If you come by baby carriage, velocipede or bicycle please park them in safe distance from the front of the store to avoid a smashup.

An affair of great moment planned to eclipse any previous boosting, bargain giving celebration. Much expected happenings foretold will materialize on Third Street commencing Saturday night, May 31st, 7 p. m.

A Startling Unique and Novel Method to give you a community arouser which will combine both business and pleasure

I have arranged the most clever, the most impelling, the most commanding After Supper program for Saturday Evening, commencing promptly at 7 o'clock ever published in this fair city of Thief River Falls. Every event is a masterpiece, and offers the prudent people of this vicinity a chance to throw away the cares of every day toil—where you can rest both body and mind by amusing yourself with entertainments free and at the same time purchase goods of every kind—your vital needs at prices way below the normal wholesale market. It will more than pay you for the time you spend in this effort. It's to be a place where old friends meet—old families unite—lodge brothers get together, making it a three-hour holiday, a gala day for the old folks and a round of pleasure for the young folks and children.

Fire Completely Destroys Two St. Hilaire Farm Homes

Two farm homes near St. Hilaire were destroyed by fire last week. As was stated in last week's issue of The Times the Geo. Breitsprecher home, two miles southeast of the village, was consumed by flames Sunday, May 18, all but a few pieces of furniture and other articles on the first floor, being destroyed. The insurance carried was by no means sufficient to cover the loss, it is reported.

The second fire occurred Wednesday morning when the home of Will Hartje, one mile southwest of St. Hilaire, burned to the ground, the fire supposed to have originated from an overheated stove. Only a few pieces of furniture were saved, and the loss was only partially covered with insurance. Three yeas ago a fine bungalow and two yeas ago a new barn was wrecked in a windstorm, Mr. Hartje suffering heavy losses in both cases, as well as the last one.

A solo number by Elra Porter was received by the audience with great appreciation and applause was greeted with an encore.

In the absence of Morris Bye, president, Rev. T. E. Sweger presided. This is the last occasion on which the society enjoys his presence, as he leaves today to take up his work with the budget.

Miss Gladys Kolden tendered her resignation from the duties of secretary and Harold Nelson was elected. After the business session refreshments were served by the Mesdames J. N. Nesse, Ed. City Will Help Maintain Instructor For Juvenile Band Here Next Year

No action was taken by the council Tuesday night on the bids for an additional engine at the electric light plant, the matter being again laid over until the next regular meeting of the council, June 10. Neither was there any action regarding the purchase of the dam, although the option granted two weeks ago by Mr. Schreiter expired Tuesday night. However, it is understood that on account of the absence of Mr. Brumund the option was extended conditionally.

Free use of the auditorium for Sunday, June 1, by the International Bible students was unanimously granted as was also the similar use for the building by "Ringeriks-lag," a Norwegian organization, for Thursday, June 5.

Careful compilation of figures by the street committee as to the cost of operation of a tractor to do street dragging and grading, both from a rented machine and from a city owned machine, led alderman Oscar Paulson to move that the city clerk be authorized to advertise for bids for a tractor, said bids to be opened at the June 27 meeting. It was shown that based on figures covering a period of 80 hours that the city could save in three months time the total cost of such a tractor over the cost of renting one.

The city will contribute $25 a month beginning with the next school year toward the cost of a teacher in the public schools, it being understood that he is to give from two to three evenings a week to instructing a juvenile band in addition to his regular school duties, thus insuring the boys band so successfully conducted the past winter of continuing in existence. Supt. I. T. Simley has been caring for the band this past winter but the school board is able to secure a teacher who can do this next year at the rate of compensation named above.

In conformity with other public offices thruout the country, and the local court house and banks, the city clerk's hours were changed, so that on Saturdays during June, July, August and September the clerk or his assistant will be on hand from 8 a. m. until noon. On other days the office hours will be from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m., with the office open during the noon hour, beginning next week. For some time past the office was closed at noon and was kept open until 6 p. m., but it is believed the new arrangement will be more satisfactory to all concerned.

'RINGERIKS-STEVNE' HERE JUNE 4 AND 5

Illustrated Lecture at Auditorium and Banquet are Features Of Convention

"Ringerikings-Laget," composed of Norwegians, themselves or their ancestors born in Ringerike, a certain locality of Norway, will meet in annual convention in Thief River Falls next week, June 4 and 5, according to the local committee now busy with making the necessary arrangements

Sessions will be held at the Sons of Norway hall where entertaining programs consisting of talks, singing, music and other features are to be given. It is expected that about 200 delegates from various parts of Minnesota, the Dakotas and other states will gather in this city at that time, according to those in charge. Quite a number of the "lag's" members reside in this city and vicinity. An invitation to meet in Thief River Falls was sent to Hans Heen of Adams, N. D., president of the organization, by the Snorre lodge of the Sons of Norway. Mr. Heen is expected to arrive in the city next Tuesday to complete arrangements for the program and entertainment.

To Show Norwegian Scenes

Among the features of the "stevne" is announced the illustrated lecture and showing of Norwegian, Danish and Swedish scenes on the screen by Rev. Frederick Ring of Chicago, who has traveled thru the Scandinavian countries, taking a large number of pictures as he visited various places of special interest. According to present plans these pictures will be shown at the auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8:30, and it is expected that a large number of Scandinavians will attend this session besides Ringerikings.

On Wednesday evening, the Ladies Aid of the Trinity Lutheran church will serve a banquet supper including various favorite "Norsk" dishes at the church basement.

Among local people in charge of arrangements for the convention are Andrew Ness, Rasmus Oen, C. C. Gulrud, Alfred Flattum, Christ Granum and Hans Pederson, assisted by other Ringerikings.

T. H. No. 33 to be Improved

The Minnesota state highway department has announced that the 4½ miles immediately east of Warren on Trunk Highway No. 33 will be graded and graveled by the department this season. Completion of this stretch will give a continuous graveled road from Thief River Falls to Warren and from Warren to the Kittson county line. Efforts have been been made for several years to get this particular piece of road built up to state standards but without success.

PAY-AS-YOU-GO IS ADVOCATED BY LAWSON IN TALK HERE

Farmer-Labor Candidate For Governor Addresses Voters On Vital Questions

Second on the list of FarmerLabor gubernatorial candidates to appear in Thief River Falls in the present campaign was Victor Lawson, editor of the Willmar Tribune, who spoke at the court rooms of the court house Monday afternoon. Altho at an unfavorable time of the day the court room was practically filled with townspeople and farmers interested in hearing Mr. Lawson present his views on various questions of vital importance in the campaign. Lawson does not claim to be a polished speaker but is direct in his statements, speaking straight from the shoulder.

Lawson, who during the past 30 years has edited the Willmar Tribune, a progressive paper, declared that during that time he had continually fought the battle of the common people against the special privileged interests. He declared himself for a new deal in state affairs thru the new movement.

"A pay-as-you-go policy must be adopted for all local and state activities which are not self-sustaining utilities," he continued. "Every office holder whose service is not of vital importance to the good of the state should be eliminated and the policy of encouraging local expenditures by promises of state aid should be halted.

"Those who are responsible for present conditions are investigating themselves. If we leave it to them, how long will it take before they become agreed among themselves who are to leave their berths?

"A beginning should be made at once for state-owned water power plants which would make available electric light, power and heat to smaller municipalities and to the farmers of the state at cost.

"The co-operative system of production and marketing among Minnesota farmers and producers must be promoted and safeguarded from such interests within and without that would destroy them. Government ownership of transportation facilities is essentially necessary.

"Let the farmers thruout the state close up their ranks in effective organization for political action. Coupled with the labor forces, they need fear no one".

Home of Night Patrolman E. L. Krogstad Destroyed By Fire Friday Forenoon

Fire, thought to have started from a defective or overheated chimney, completely destroyed the home of E. L. Krogstad, night patrolman, at 523 State avenue north, Friday forenoon. The fire was first noticed by Mrs. Krogstad who heard the crackling of the flames upstairs at about 9:30.

Mr. Krogstad called the fire department from the telephone in his home immediately but while waiting for completion of the call, the heat from the flames became so intense he had to leave. However, the operator completed the call and the fire department arrived shortly. The flames had then advanced so far as to make control of them impossible. No clothing or furniture was saved. Insurance of $1,000 was carried on the house, and $500 on the contents, which, however, does not cover the total loss, according to Mr. Krogstad.

Mr. and Mrs. Krogstad and five children are at present residing at 806 Bridge street east. Plans for rebuilding have not been announced.

This is the third house to be destroyed by fire here this spring.

Concordia Band Coming

Among musical treats to be given residents of the community this season will be the concert by the Concordia College band of Moorhead, at the city auditorium Saturday evening, June 7. The organization, which is composed of 30 members and is under the direction of Prof. Herman Monson, is making a tour of various cities in this section and is said to give splendid programs.

Zeh Improving

Emil Zeh, who was stricken with paralysis last week, is reported to be improving more rapidly than was anticipated. He can now move his leg slightly and is in good spirits.

City Council Considers Many Routine Matters at Regular Session Tuesday

Considerable routine business occupied the attention of the city council for over an hour Tuesday night before adjournment was taken, the earliest since the new aldermen took their office the first of the year. When the roll was called only H. A. Brumund was absent, he being in the cities on business matters.

One matter that was given more than passing consideration Tuesday night was that of the request of Dr. J. T. Bowers to remove a house from the far west end of First street to his property on LaBree avenue and Fifth street. Chairman Martin Evenson, a resident nearby, was not in favor of bringing in a building of this nature into one of the best residential districts, and rather than take any action without giving the other property owners an opportunity to object the other aldermen decided to postpone action thereon. Alderman Porter sought to have a hearing on it at a special meeting tonight, but this did not meet with a second, but a motion to lay it over until June 10 by Alderman Fossum was duly seconded and carried.

Another permit to move a building was asked for by Chas. Schwartz, 416 Knight avenue north, who wished to move a building from State avenue to his property, this request meeting with favor.

Three firemen representing the city will go to Mankato to attend the state firemen's convention June 10 and 11 to receive instruction in fire fighting tactics as has been customery for several years past. A resolution was unanimously adopted increasing the funds of the department for the month of June in the sum of $200 which will cover the necessary expenses of the trip. Incidentally, the local delegates will seek to bring the state convention to this city next year.

Jos. Dostal has been appointed special park policeman by the park board for the summer at a salary of $65 and this was confirmed by the council when requested by the board Tuesday night, in a communication signed by Math Barzen.

Emil Johnson and C. C. Gulrud were granted milk dealers licenses by the council on recommendation of dairy inspector Dr. Twete.

A request by H. M. Evanstad to put a porch on a residence on lots 19 and 20, block 13, original townsite at a cost of approximately $80 was duly granted.

Announcement of the S. M. Disher Yard

We spent four months interviewing painters and paint users and analyzing what twenty-one different paints were made of, We believe that if you did this before you bought paint you would do just what we did—buy St. Paul White Lead and Oil Paints.

As you know, every paint maker must put on the can what is used in the paint and we found cheap paints, but found they contained Silicates, Barium, Calcium, Silica, etc. (These you know are really only sand, ground stone, plaster of paris, etc.) and if you will take the trouble to look you will find them right on the cans of many paints.

We, also, found high priced nationally advertised paints and found some of them contained these same things—They cost little or nothing compared with White Lead and Zinc, and only make weight.

We had to decide between cheap paints, nationally advertised paints or pure paints at a reasonable price but not spending a cent for national advertising.

We decided on the PURE PAINTS NOT NATIONALLY ADVERTISED AND SELLING FOR A REASONABLE PRICE. We have put in a complete line of St. Paul White Lead and Oil Paint.

It is only a few steps further to go down to our Lumber Yard (The Yard by the Great Northern Depot) and I feel sure you will be well paid for taking these few steps—Come down and see what I have to offer you in either Paints, Lumber, Coal or Builders Hardware. I will enjoy showing you.

GUERNSEY SALE IN THIS CITY ON NEXT THURSDAY

Many Dairymen From Distant Points Interested in Great Sale of 100 Animals.

RED LETTER DAY FOR ENTIRE R. R. VALLEY

Pennington County Breeders Consign Large Number of High Quality Animals.

Buyers from all parts of this state and points in North Dakota will be at the Pennington county fair grounds in this city next Thursday, June 12, to attend the fifth annual consignment sale put on by the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association. One hundred purebred and high grade Guernsey cattle have been consigned for absolute sale to the highest bidder.

Catalogs are now being sent out by the committee in charge in reply to the many inquiries regarding the sale. Interest is running high and it gives every promise of being the greatest sale of dairy cattle ever held in Northern Minnesota.

A Big Event

The sale is scheduled to begin promptly at 11 a.m. and will take place in the livestock pavilion. W. J. LaBree and W. B. Bosworth, the latter of Ada, will officiate as auctioneers and Loinard Houske of Halstad on pedigrees. Plans are being made to secure the aid of the Commercial club to furnish cars to take visitors from the stations to the fair grounds and render other accommodations to out-of-town people who come here for the event. It is also likely that band music will be furnished on the grounds. In fact, everything points towards a red-letter day in Thief River Falls and for the entire community as a whole. Last year the sale was attended by approximately 500 buyers and others interested in livestock, while this year a crowd double that number is expected. Indications are that farmers in the immediate vicinity of this city will attend in larger numbers than ever before.

Of the 100, consigned by members of the association, all inspected by the sales committee and tuberculin tested, 10 are young purebred sires, 10 purebred cows, 40 grade cows and 40 grade heifers. Nearly one half of the animals are from Pennington county herds, which speaks well for local dairymen. Five purebred cows have been consigned by H. C. Woolson and one by Paul Engelstad. Purebred sires have been entered by Paul Engelstad, H. C. Woolson, F. B. Conklin and Stuart McLeod, prominent Pennington dairymen.

Next Thursday will be an interesting and profitable day for those interested in dairying and better livestock for the Red River valley.

Business sessions were held at the Sons of Norway hall yesterday and in the evening a banquet was served by the Ladies aid of the Trinity Lutheran church in the church parlors, which was well attended. Last night Ringerikings and others interested attended an illustrated lecture on Norway, Sweden and Denmark by Rev. Frederick Ring of Chicago, which proved of immense interest.

This afternoon it is planned to make an automobile tour thru the surrounding community to entertain the many visitors who come here to meet old friends and freshen memories of the "old country."

FUNERAL RITES FOR W. B. FULLER HELD SATURDAY

Prominent Citizen and War Veteran Buried with Full Military Ceremony

HUNDREDS PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO FRIEND

Took Part in Spanish-American War Two Years—Secretary Hanson & Barzen Co.

Business places in Thief River Falls were closed for one hour Saturday afternoon in tribute to W. B. Fuller, for 32 years a highly respected and esteemed citizen of this city, whose funeral of a strictly military nature took place that afternoon. It was one of the most impressive funerals ever held here and the auditorium was filled with the many friends who wished to pay their last respects to the departed citizen.

Mr. Fuller passed away Tuesday, May 28, at Shaunavon, Sask., Canada, where he had gone May 10 in hopes to restore his health, having been seriously ill the past four months. He underwent an operation on February 14. Acute endocarditis was the immediate cause of his death, bronchial trouble also contributing. When a relapse was noted shortly before his death Mrs. Fuller and the three daughters, Theresa, Harriet and Marjorie Anne, were summoned and were at his bedside at the time of his passing. He was taken to Shaunavon by his nurse, Miss Leona Borque, a sister of Mrs. Fuller.

Teacher in Early Days

William Berri Fuller was born August 31, 1866, at Jeanville, Freeborn county, Minnesota, and lived there until in 1892 when he came to this city. He was one of the pioneer teachers of this community. After teaching for a while he was employed in the offices of the J. and P. Meehan Lumber company here until in 1898 when he enlisted with the well known 13th Minnesota regiment of volunteers in Company K., serving through the Spanish-American War and the Filipino Insurrection. He took part in the battle of Manila August 13, 1898, and was given honorable discharge following provost guard duty in the Philippines from Aug. 20, 1898, to March 19, 1899, during which time he took part in many engagements. He was awarded two medals for honest and faithful service.

Upon returning from war Mr. Fuller entered into business partnership with the Hanson & Barzen Milling

Others besides the speakers mentioned have been invited to address the gathering but so far definite acceptance has not been received. Verdict of $4,500 Given Elmer Goar in Claim Suit

Elmer E. Goar of Stephen, was allowed consequential damages of $4,500 by a jury in Marshall county district court Thursday evening after a two-day hearing of the case in which Mr. Goar brought suit against the village of Stephen for $15,000, alleging damages to that extent through injuries suffered by Mrs. Goar two years ago by contact with an electric wire. H. O. Chommie of this city and Julius J. Olson of Warren successfully established the claims of the plaintiff, although the verdict was in a smaller sum than the claim, while W. E. Roe of Crookston and B. B. Brett of Stephen represented the village. The claim was allowed on the grounds of hospital expenses and loss of services. Mr. Chommie spent Wednesday and Thursday in Warren.

ALL CITIZENS PAY HONOR TO SOLDIER DEAD

Business of All Kinds Suspended in This City on Friday as Mark of Respect.

LEGION PRESENTS FINE PROGRAM AT AUDITORIUM

Glowing Tribute to Nation's Defenders by H. O. Chommie —Cemeteries Visited.

Citizens of Thief River Falls and vicinity paid fitting tribute to its war heroes Friday with impressive Memorial exercises at the auditorium, where H. O. Chommie delivered the principal address, followed by the usual parade to the cemeteries and decoration of the graves. The exercises were given under the auspices of the Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion, which now has on its rolls practically every ex-service man in the county, and were well arranged by the committees in charge and officers of the post.

Business places which could conveniently do so suspended activities during the entire day in observance of the occasion.

Patriotic selections by the Legion orchestra under the direction of H. S. Snyder opened the exercises at the auditorium, at which Mayor J. S. Arneson presided. The singing of "My Savior" and "Requiem" by the popular Brage male chorus directed by Dr. P. L. Vistaunet added greatly to the solemnity of the occasion. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. Chas. Gerlinger, chaplain of the Eklund post.

The memorial address was delivered by Attorney H. O. Chommie and was without a question one of the finest orations ever heard in this city on a similar occasion. The speaker paid a glowing tribute to the soldiers who have responded to the call of the republic in times of danger and the spirit of the people behind them when it came to a test of their patriotism.

Attention was called to the various conflicts in which the nation has been engaged and the debt that we owe those who served before us, those serving in the time of peace being deserving of credit as well as those who defended the country in time of war.

"The past has left much work for us to do," the speaker declared. "Grave problems are before the present generation to be solved for the betterment of humanity. Some means of eliminating war must be devised. National as well as individual selfishness must yield their places to a more tolerant and intelligent understanding among the people of the earth in order the horrors of war may be banished. In the midst of plenty we have poverty.

"The mental cobwebs of racial and religious intolerance and prejudice must be brushed away. Many a good movement is stranded on hatred and prejudice.

"Altho this country is established on the principle that all men are created equal and we enjoy political democracy, we have industrial autocracy, a remedy for which must be worked out."

It was pointed out by Mr. Chommie that there is at the present time a splendid opportunity for service and that the world has by no means reached home base on the diamond of advancement.

An appeal for better understanding and feeling of fellowship and tolerance among all people, locally and nationally was made by Mayor Arneson.

The exercises were attended by J. S. Fuller and John Kivel, aged Civil War veterans of this city.

At the close of the auditorium exercises a parade headed by the Legion post, the boy scouts, girls scouts and fire department, was formed, the cemeteries visited and the graves of departed soldiers decorated. The usual salute was fired and taps sounded. The graves of all ex-service men in the county were decorated by the Legion post.

EIDE RE-ELECTED TO WHEAT GROWER BOARD YESTERDAY

Noon Luncheon Attended by 50 Enthusiastic Boosters of Organized Marketing

The second annual election of the board of directors of the Minnesota Wheat growers was held at the commercial club rooms yesterday. Delegates, members and other interested parties from all parts of the state were present at an enthusiastic and spirited session at the noon luncheon and manifested a keen appreciation for the work of the association. John B. Connor presided at the meeting.

The directors elected for the eight districts in their numerical order were J. A. Sorum of Holt; Jorgen Eide, Thief River Falls; Dan Surprenant, East Grand Forks; W. B. Bosworth, Ada; H. Hasse, Nashua; R. H. Harris, Norcross; Charles Bruer, Morris; Edward Hagen, Milan. The ninth director will be appointed by the Minnesota public examiner. All of those elected were present except Mr. Hasse.

Talks were made by Mayor J. S. Arneson, Dr. H. W. Froehlich, president of the Commercial club, W. J. Brown, president of the American Wheat Growers Associated, all the directors of the board and a few others. Arthur Nelson of St. Peter gave an enthusiastic talk in which he stated that in his locality local grain buyers advanced wheat price two cents per bushel over their regular market prices when the Wheat Growers solicitors began work there. Mr. Brown stated that on an average Minnesota farmers were paid five cents more per bushel for wheat thru the efforts of the organization. The enthusiasm of all the delegates present and the reports of the district meetings are more than gratifying. A member of the former board of directors proposed a rising vote of thanks to W. H. Frederick, thru whose untiring efforts as secretary and field director the association has grown to such large proportions in so short a time.

The meeting of the board of directors for the election of officers and employment of a secretary will be held at the Civic and Commerce rooms at St. Paul July 19.

Stockholders of Co-operative Association Decide to Build Fine Home Soon

DIMENSIONS OF BRICK STRUCTURE 72x72 FEET

Construction Work to be Started As Soon as Contracts Are Let July 1.

Thief River Falls, the center of one of Minnesota's leading dairy communities, will soon have a new creamery which will rank with the largest and best in the state. Stockholders of the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association at a special meeting and picnic in the city last Saturday voted to erect a new building in which to house the steadily increasing business of the association. Contracts for the construction of the new brick structure are to be let on July 1, and it is planned to start work as soon as possible with the expectation of completing it some time in December.

Bonds to Be Issued

The new plant will be located on the site now occupied by the secretary's office, directly across the street from the present creamery. The building with outside dimensions of 72 by 72 feet, will be of brick construction throughout and will cost approximately $35,000 when completed. Bonds to the amount of $25,000 will be issued by the association, the balance to be taken from the fund already set aside for building purposes. Plans have already been accepted and everything is in readiness to start construction as soon as the contract is let.

Salesrooms, business offices and the principal equipment for making and handling the products of the creamery will occupy the first floor of the new two-story building with full basement. Three churns and seven large vats of the most modern and efficient type are to be installed. The boiler room, refrigerator room and fuel storage room will take up the basement, while the second story will not be finished at this time. Only the part to be used for a milk room will be completed now, the remainder to be built to accommodate a cheese factory when such addition to the plant is warranted. It is very likely that this will be done in the near future.

Progressive Move

The matter of enlarging the creamery plant here has been under consideration for some time, the present quarters being inadequate to meet the demand. The increase in cream production during the past year has been particularly marked, taxing the plant to its capacity. Although there were some at the meeting Saturday opposed to building at this time, it goes without saying that friends of the association are pleased to see this move denoting the progressive spirit of its members.

A large crowd enjoyed the day at the picnic grounds Saturday, splendid interest being shown.

Farmer-Laborites of this county were urged to send the full quota of delegates to the Third Party convention in St. Paul June 17 by the county committee of the Farmer-Labor party in session at the court rooms Monday. Andrew Trovaton, county chairman, presided. Twelve townships, two wards of the city and the village of St. Hilaire were represented at the meeting.

The following have been named and have been given the necessary credentials by 25 farmers of the county to represent the Pennington unit at the convention: T. K. Rynestad, W. H. Quist, Andrew Trovaton and Fred Lorentson, Thief River Falls; Peter Wold, Highlanding; A. H. Lockrem, Thief River Falls, Elev Aakre, Erie. The railroad brotherhoods may also send a delegate each. They expect to make the trip by car.

The call for the June 17th convention was ratified at the state convention of the Farmer-Labor party on March 14.

The Minnesota Daily Star and the Minnesota Leader were criticized by the committee men for their agitation against attendance at the St. Paul third party convention. It was pointed out that the communistic element which is feared by some would control the convention, would be overpowered providing every section is represented.

Gasoline By the Pound

In order that the general public may visualize gasoline prices in true perspective, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is endeavoring, in its advertising, to draw just comparisons with other staple and essential products.

At today's prices, if gasoline were sold by the pound, the price at service stations would be about 3½c per pound.

Compare this with sugar at 10c a pound; bread or milk at 8c per pound; butter at 45c and cheese at 60c per pound, and it is apparent at once that gasoline prices are low—especially so when the service rendered by gasoline is considered.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) states, that with few exceptions, no other manufactured necessity is sold at as low a price as gasoline.

This low price is maintained despite the hazards attending the production of gasoline, and the vast amount of capital required to provide distribution facilities adequate to supply you with gasoline, when and where you want it.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), through intensified organization and unceasing initiative, has been a potent factor in the maintenance of low gasoline prices.

This Company endeavors to symbolize that American spirit of dynamic leadership, which combines business initiative with scientific skill for service to the thirty million people of the Middle West. This comprehensive service enables the man in modest circumstances to operate his automobile at a fuel cost which he easily can afford.

Don't Go When the Signal Is "Stop"

CHILDREN cannot continue spending great energy in their play if that energy is not being replaced by energizing foods. And when parents stop to consider this fact they must become thoughtful about choosing foods which contain energizing food elements. One such element, Dextrose, is essential. It stores up energy and rugged health in all the body's blood and tissue cells.

It is also interesting to know that Karo, America's most popular and most delicious syrup, contains a large percentage of body-building Dextrose. And this, of course, explains why children thrive on Karo. Blue Label and Red Label Karo, by the way, are equally nutritious.

THE GUERNSEY SALE

The most important sale of purebred and high grade cattle to be held in northwestern Minnesota this year will take place at the Pennington county fair grounds in this city next Thursday when 100 of the best obtainable animals in the Guernsey breed will be sold.

Buyers from all over this section of the country and many from distant points in Minnesota and North Dakota will gather here at that time and it is more than likely that a considerable number of these exceptional cattle will go to help build up dairy herds in some other locality. This is a fact to be deeply regretted as Pennington county and immediate neighbors need this class of stock as badly as anyone.

Pennington county dairymen are making an enviable record and are rapidly establishing this community as one of the leading in the industry. It is significant that this county has more accredited Guernsey herds than any other county in the state of Minnesota.

Dairymen in sections remote from this locality come here to secure foundation stock or to enlarge their herds, knowing that the cattle obtainable here are of the finest in the country, coming from dams and sires of national repute.

Many farmers who would like very much to make a start at herd improvement, keep away from these consignment sales for the reason that they expect the prices of foundation stock to reach a level far beyond their means. Such is not always the case. Very often just the animal wanted can be secured at figures and terms that make it easy for the purchaser. He cannot, of course, buy an animal selling at a phenomenal price, but he can make a start towards owning stock of high quality if he will take advantage of the opportunity offered. Starting on a small scale many have come to the front ranks of successful dairymen, having realized the advantage of producing the best.

The annual sales of the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association held in this city the last four years have proven events of great interest, with indications of doubled attendance this year.

Nearly one half of the total number of animals offered at the sale are from Pennington county herds. It is too bad that many of them are leaving the county, however, being eagerly snapped up by men who know a good thing when they see it. It is to be hoped that this year a larger percentage will remain right here.

It looks as though Congress will accomplish little if anything in the way of getting some relief for the farmers of the Northwest during this session. A great deal of agitation has been brought forth in favor of various measures but after weeks of debating, investigating and hearing, have been turned down.

The relief measure which undoubtedly received the most general and hearty support of Northwest farmers was the McNary-Haugen bill, which the lower house rejected this week by a vote of 224 to 154.

What will be the reaction if the national legislative body fails to provide any relief to agriculture at this time?

Thief River Falls is now looking spick and span, to a large extent due to the intensive clean-up campaign sponsored by the Commercial club. Let's keep it clean and attractive.

Vacationists, remember this: While the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world, the hand that rocks the boat says goodbye to it.

That Thief River Falls is the trade center for a large territory was clearly demonstrated last Saturday when the city was filled with busy shoppers from points at a radius of more than 50 miles. This was to a large extent due to the efforts of one merchant, Mr. A. S. Lieberman, who put on a gigantic sale event in closing out his department store to which he invited the entire community by extensive advertising in The Times and distribution of other advertising material throughout the country surrounding this city. Hundreds of people crowded the streets in the evening when the special event was scheduled to take place and a large number came from the surrounding country.

Does it pay to advertise? This phenomenal result was made possible entirely thru honest advertising backed by real values, proving that the people in this community have confidence in the advertising appearing in The Times. People who realize the value of the dollar, carefully read every advertisement to find out what is being offered by the merchants of the city.

The crowd that packed the streets and jammed the Lieberman store last Saturday night and the steady patronage every day during this sale, forcibly demonstrates the value of advertising through the columns of this paper and what can be done through well directed efforts.

If one merchant's advertising can bring hundreds of shoppers to Thief River Falls, what would be the result if the united efforts of all the merchants on a great sales campaign?

Farmers of this community have cut down the wheat acreage a great deal this year, the unfavorable weather during part of the season being somewhat responsible. However, there is little if any regret for this action because the reduction will be made up many times by the increase in area devoted to corn, alfalfa and other forage crops essential to dairying. This section is primarily adapted for dairying and the sooner farmers here come to that realization the better. Diversification is the cry of the day throughout the northwest and nowhere is this program of farming methods more practicable than here—with alfalfa, corn and clovers growing in abundance. Never before has as much grass seed been seeded in this county and indications point towards a record corn acreage.

"Crop prospects in this section this season are the best in years," declared County Agent J. J. McCann to a Times representative the other day in speaking of present indications. "The cool weather, although it has retarded the growth of certain small grains and grasses, has given splendid opportunity for stooling, which is very essential in bringing about a good crop. The warm weather which set in last week gave an impetus to all plant life and pastures which have been rather scantily provided with grass this spring, are coming forth in good shape. Seldom have grain crops looked more healthy than they do this year, according to reports throughout the valley.

One kind of a slacker is the person who fails to vote on election day. Too often he is the fellow who raises the loudest howl because the outcome isn't right.

Someone at the Commercial club luncheon last week suggested that various townships in the county compete in both exhibits at the Pennington fair this year. Not a bad idea to arouse some real interest.

BURNS or scalds of small area, cover first with wet baking soda. When dry, take this off. Dress with Vicks, gently. Do not rub in. Bandage lightly.

THOMAS VOLLOM

In filing as a candidate for the nomination for governor on the Farmer-Labor ticket Thomas Vollom of Erskine makes the following statement:

"I am filing because of the urgent request from so many of our people over the state and because I see it my duty to file.

"Upon becoming a candidate for this high position I take my stand squarely on the State Farmer-Labor Platform adopted at the Saint Cloud convention on the 14th of March.

"If nominated and elected I pledge every ounce of my energy to the making of Minnesota as a better place for common people to live in.

"I hold that our first duty to our fellowmen is that of service and that the right understanding of the position as governor is that of a servant to all his constituents. If nominated and elected I pledge myself to a full measure of service to the people of Minnesota.

"I am a firm believer of co-operation. I have had fourteen years of experience in co-operative ventures. If nominated and elected I shall inject as much of the true co-operative spirit into the administration of the affairs of the state as I possibly can."

A sugar company of Colorado Springs, Colo., the third largest in the United States, is securing data as to the possibilities for beet culture in the Red River Valley with a view of establishing a number of factories throughout the section. Farmers here would increase their beet acreage manifold if manufacturing plants were provided.

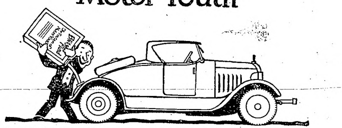
Blitzen Fluid

"The Fountain of Motor Youth"



BLITZEN FLUID—added to your gas—increases mileage of gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon

Prevents carbon deposits—Keeps motor clean at all times—Keeps valves and plugs clean—Retains compression—Makes starting easy—Prevents motor knocks—Prevents motor heating—Increases power of car at all times—Keeps motor new.

BLITZEN FLUID in spite of its cleaning and tonic effect is so produced by chemists that it contains absolutely nothing that will injure the most sensitive motor.

BLITZEN FLUID is produced to put and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in repair bills sufficiently to largely reduce gasoline cost.

BLITZEN FLUID used in a clean motor forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

BLITZEN FLUID softens carbon deposits in old engines and expels same thru exhaust, thereby retaining all the pep and newness originally intended.

NINETY PERCENT of motor troubles are due to carbon deposits in cylinder heads of motor, fouling spark plugs and unseating valves, making it impossible to get full power of the engine. Motor builders have been trying for many years to overcome this handicap in engineering but it has fallen to the good fortune of our chemists to solve this problem.

BY ADDING 2 OUNCES OF BLITZEN FLUID TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS the motoring public can relieve itself of manifold unpleasant motor troubles and enjoy the extra power and quietness which a clean well preserved motor is anxious to give you.

In your community BLITZEN FLUID, "The Fountain of Motor Youth" is sold by

No "IFS or BUTS"—It's Ordered Sold

It's a godsend. A lifesaver. Consider the full import of what has happened. Mr. Lieberman is giving up business. He has ordered me to sell out his entire stock and fixtures even if they bring nothing more than a small rate on the dollar. Nothing will change our attitude. Nothing in the way of a loss will feaze us now. I realize the farmers and folks in general are not rolling in wealth these days. They have faced much loss and sacrifice and have produced their crops at the lowest cost in years. We, too, are game. We will take what loss is entailed in the forced realization of this business, pay our trade and other obligations in full and go out of business—and be square with the world. With these conditions existing is it not obvious that it is to your advantage to share in this unusual opportunity—where your good money will bring such welcome and much needed savings—just as sure and as safe as if you were putting money in the bank. We strongly advise quick action before it is too late!

Many Pay Real Estate Taxes Before June 1st

Taxpayers of the county crowded the court house Saturday to pay up the first half of their real estate taxes which became due June 1. County Treasurer John Gullingsrud reports heavy receipts for the day, a large amount coming in by mail. The court house was closed on Memorial day, which accounted for the rush on Saturday.

G A. FALLNESS, FOOT SPECIALIST, LEAVES

Will Open Bath and Massage Parlors in Hibbing—In T. R. F. Past Seven Years.

G. A. Fallness, who for the past seven years has conducted the Bath and Massage parlors in the Citizens State bank building and the last two years specialized in the treatment of foot troubles, has left Thief River Falls to open a practice in Hibbing. The police was obliging and he paid the fine and was released.

Active in Organizations

F., Elks and the North Dakota and Northern Minnesota Millers club. He was First Lieutenant of Co. L, Third regiment, Minnesota National guards, and captain of the home guard of this city during the World war. He was active in the Democratic party here.

Masonic rites were held at Shaunavon before the body was sent to this city, the lodge forming an escort to the station. Upon the arrival of the remains to this city Friday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Fuller and Miss Borque, a company of war veterans formed a military guard to accompany the caisson to the home on Markley avenue. Watch was made by a group of Masons, Elks and Odd Fellows until noon Saturday, when the body lay in state at the auditorium under military guard until three o'clock.

Mr. Fuller's wish for funeral with full military honors was carried out, the Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion being in charge. Rev. Chas. Gerlinger, chaplain of the post, offered the prayers at the auditorium, and Rev. B. M. Weakland read the military services at the Catholic cemetery, where interment was made in Mrs. Fuller's family lot. Beautiful and profuse floral offerings were made by various organizations, firms and individuals.

Many Attend Last Rites

The line of march to the cemetery was led by the firing squad, followed by the caisson, pall bearers, members of the Eklund post, veterans of the 13th Minnesota regiment, representatives of the home guard, family, Masons, Elks, I. O. O. F., firemen and host of friends. Representatives were here from the Crookston, Warren and Red Lake Falls Legion posts and Adj. Grout from the A. R. Patterson post of Minneapolis. Joe Holmes, W. H. Frederick and Hans Solberg of Mahnomen, veterans of the 13th Minnesota, were honorary pall bearers.

Mr. Fuller always took an active part in civic affairs of the community and will be greatly missed. He was one of the leaders in getting the armory erected in this city. A large circle of friends extend their sympathy to the bereaved family.

BUSY CAMPAIGN NEARING CLOSE; BALLOT MONDAY

Lengthy Primary Ballot Will Be Voted on June 16. Many Candidates Not Known

FARMER-LABOR BALLOT LONGEST WITH 36 NAMES

Gubernatorial Race Promises To Be Lively One. Only One Contest in County

VOTING HOURS

For the primary election on Monday, June 16, the polls in the city of Thief River Falls, at the auditorium, will be open from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. All other places in the county from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Absent voter's ballots may be secured upon application at the office of County Auditor T. P. Anderson. Voters who expect to be absent on election day are urged to attend to this at once.

Monday is primary election day and the numerous candidates and their supporters are making a last attempt to bring their qualifications before the voters, while the latter are in most instances in a state of bewilderment as to who they shall cast their ballot for.

The fate of 71 candidates for state or county offices will be decided June 16. This does not include all who have filed for office, for in many instances, such as the Democratic candidates for state offices and candidates for certain county offices, there is no opposition at the primaries and the names will not appear on the ballots until at the general election in November.

The complete ballots were printed in The Times, official paper of the county, last week. The Farmer-Labor ballot leads with 36 names, the Republican coming second with 17. Fifteen names are listed on the nonparty ballot for supreme court justices, while only three candidates for county offices appear on that ballot.

The popular offices of the Farmer-Labor ticket are apparently those of governor with seven entries, and railroad and warehouse commissioner with eight candidates for the nomination.

A few of the candidates have appeared before the voters in the campaign the past few weeks and many are known to the public thru former service and affiliations, but there are, however, quite a number seeking nomination about whom little or nothing is known by the majority of voters. It would be difficult to predict the winners at this time altho there are some leaders who stand out more prominently than others in the race. That it will be a lively contest is a certainty and all voters are urged to exercise their duty as citizens by going to the polls Monday.

The Democratic party has no state ticket before the voters in the primaries due to the fact that there was a contest for only one office, governor, and Michael Lambrecht in the interest of party harmony and to save the enormous expense of printing an extra ballot, withdrew his name.

In the Republican race for the gubernatorial nomination it is predicted that Jacobson, Christianson and Johnson will be the three high men while on the Farmer-Labor ballot it is likely that Olson, Lawson, Davis and Royster will be strong contenders. Much interest is indicated, particularly in the ninth district, in the candidacy of Thomas Vollom of Erskine.

Of particular interest to voters in this county is the candidacy of Oscar A. Naplin of Thief River Falls, who is one of the seven seeking the nomination for associate justice of the supreme court. Mr. Naplin, who formerly served this district in the state legislature as a Farmer-Laborite, has the endorsement of a number of units within that body, including the Pennington county organization.

No legislative candidates in this district appear on the ballot, the only candidates being Marius Waldal of Plummer, R. O. Gordon of Rhoda and W. E. Day of Bagley.

There is only one commissioner district in the county where there is a contest, that being in the fourth district where J. S. Roy, present member of the county board, Waldie Christensen and Gilbert Haavi have filed, two of whom will be chosen in the primary. All three are capable men, active in the affairs of the community and it would be impossible to predict the outcome of the race. There is no contest in the third district where R. J. McGinn and Andrew Ness are seeking the place now held by the former. Adolf Eklund, clerk of court, filed for re-election and is without opposition, while Lars Backe is opposed for the office of judge of probate by Peter Wold.

Neset To Speak at Series of Meetings in Roseau Co.

Olaf Neset, president of the recently launched Thief River Valley Co-operative Poultry Marketing association, addressed a gathering of interested poultry producers at Oklee last night in behalf of the association. Much interest was evidenced and indications point to a large membership in that community.

Next week Mr. Neset will speak at a series of meetings in Roseau county. Reports from that section are to the effect that a large membership will be signed up in that locality. Agreements are being signed up every day, according to officials. One solicitor secured 15 members in one day in the vicinity of Newfolden, where a great deal of poultry is being raised. All were paid up memberships, indicating their faith in the movement.

Tow[illegible]icials Will Meet To Consider Noxious Weeds

The state agricultural department has called a meeting to be held in Thief River Falls next Tuesday, June 17, of Pennington county township board members, members of the county board of commissioners and others, to give attention to the matter of weed control.

Call has been issued for the meeting by C. P. Bull, special agent for the department, and announcement made that as the county commissioners have not as yet appointed local weed inspectors, the chairman of the town boards are called upon to concern themselves in accordance with section 7 of the state weed laws.

The meeting is to be held at the court house, commencing at 10 a. m., and will be in charge of D. A. Hammerbeck, as representative of the state department. Farmers of the community, or others interested, are invited to attend and to bring samples of noxious weeds for identification.

Banks Reopening Rapidly

The sixth bank to be reopened in North Dakota thru the assistance of the $10,000,000 agricultural credit corporation, was the First State bank of Hastings, which resumed business Saturday. The bank closed last fall because of frozen assets and lowered reserve. The credit corporation aided in the reorganization and loaned money direct to the stockholders.

PROGRESSIVES ADDRESS MANY AT BIG PICNIC

Farmer-Labor Candidates Discuss Political Issues at Co-op. Store Gathering

THOS. VOLLOM STRESSES VALUE OF CO-OPERATION

Pike, Stageberg, Anderson and Royster Urge Careful Selection of Candidates

In spite of the adverse and threatening weather Sunday, large numbers of boosters for co-operative economic measures and political progressives gathered at Squaw Point Sunday and enjoyed a picnic dinner, staged by the Peoples' Co-operative store of this city, as their third annual event. Estimates place the number in attendance at about four or five hundred. The participants brought their own dinners and the Co-operative store furnished the coffee and cream.

A number of candidates for state offices under the endorsement of the Farmer-Labor party were present. Paul Harris presided at a series of talks made by the various candidates, beginning at two o'clock. The speakers included Mrs. Susie Stageberg of Red Wing, candidate for secretary of state; W. W. Royster, candidate for governor, F. A. Pike for chief justice of the state supreme court; Juls Anderson for lieutenant governor and Thomas Vollom, also candidate for governor.

Pike Opens Series

F. A. Pike, candidate for the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court with the endorsement of Farmer-Labor organizations, opened the series of talks with a brief but comprehensive concensus of, not only the importance, but necessity of having dependable men in that office. As a concrete and specific example of the fact, he cited the passage of the industrial laws of North Dakota. He did not attempt to go into detail about the laws, though he did state, in passing, that whether or not the laws were well received, they had served a valuable purpose and, in time yet to come, would stand out as a beacon light of modern and progressive legislation, but he explained that without a court of unprejudiced and broad minded justices it would

CHRISTIANSON URGES ECONOMY IN GOVERNMENT

Candidate for Governor Speaks to Three Audiences in This City Thursday

REORGANIZATION OF STATE DEPTS. URGED

Public Expenditures Must Be Curbed to Lower Burden. Favors Budget

Theodore Christianson, publisher of the Dawson Sentinel and one of the leading contenders for the gubernatorial nomination on the Republican ticket, spoke to three audiences in Thief River Falls Thursday. He first addressed the Commercial club at the regular noon luncheon, following which he spoke briefly at a street gathering and then appeared before the "Ringeriks Lag" in session at the Sons of Norway hall.

Insisting that the first step toward tax reduction and the curbing of public expenditures is the arousing of strong public opinion, Mr. Christianson in his talk at the Commercial club outlined several methods whereby the cost of government could be materially reduced without any loss in efficiency. These included reorganization of the state departments on a business like basis, a budget system; adoption of the Indiana plan which permits appeals to be made to the state tax commission to block unwarranted expenditures; establishment of sinking funds by each generation to discharge its bonded obligations and the exercise of the strictest possible economy in all public affairs.

The tendency towards increased governmental costs has prevailed more in the local governments than in the state government, according to Mr. Christianson, and he cited figures to show that out of $131,000,000 taxes in Minnesota, $36,000,000 goes to the state in direct and indirect taxes, and the rest is expended by the cities, villages, townships, counties and school districts. One of the outstanding reasons for the increase in expenditures, he said, is the constant clamor for more government, more regulation and more elaborate public improvements. The functions of the government have been increased at a rapid rate.

"We have heard much about the menace of Socialism in this country during the last few years," he said. "Personally, I have too much faith in the judgment of the American people to believe that they will ever voluntarily impose upon themselves a system of communism. If Socialism ever comes in this country it will come as a result of the confiscation of property thru taxation and public indebtedness."

With 92 separate and distinct departments, boards and commissions forming the network of the state government, Mr. Christianson was positive therein lies an opportunity to bring about consolidations which will effect economy and lead to more business like methods.

"Reorganization programs have been put thru in other states of the Union," the speaker declared. "I believe that in order to make such a movement effective it must be backed by public opinion and must have the whole-hearted support of the legislature and governor elected upon the issue.

"Such a reorganization involves the creation of an effective budget system."

To prevent the pyramiding of public indebtedness Mr. Christianson urged the enactment of legislation which would require each generation to discharge its own obligations. Provide by law that no bond issue should be binding unless it carried with it a definite tax levy running over the period of bonds which would, at the expiration of that period, create a sinking fund sufficient to discharge the bonds. Unless some such step is taken, indebtedness will continue to pile upon indebtedness and there will be left to our posterity the alternative of repudiation or confiscation. He pointed out that the bonded indebtedness of Minnesota is $270,000,000, of which $22,000,000 is soldiers' bonus money.

In his talk to the street gathering Mr. Christianson brought out the fact that the farmer's purchasing dollar has decreased to nearly one-half in value and that this must be remedied to relieve agriculture in its present condition. He also pointed out that he was author of the Rural Credits law and to a large degree responsible for its enactment, thus reducing the interest rate paid by farmers of the state. Mr. Christianson was forced to close after having made but a few remarks on account of rain but before continuing his tour to Bemidji, where he spoke in the evening, he addressed the Ringeriks Lag.

Glowing tribute was paid to the Norse forefathers, Mr. Christianson emphasizing the place the Nordic race has taken in history as a mother of civilization and declaring it a race which has not only created but also preserved it. He also showed the importance of confining immigration to this country to the national and racial strains that settle and build up the nation.

Mr. Christianson is a forceful and fluent speaker and presents his subject in a comprehensive and clear manner. While in the city he met with many friends and acquaintances.

Legion Post to Help Ex-service Men With Bonus

Elmer J. Eklund Post of the American Legion will handle local applications for national soldiers' bonus as provided in the bonus bill recently passed by congress over the president's veto. Application blanks and instructions will be sent out to each member of the post as soon as they are received by officials.

Officers of the war department have made it plain that there is no immediate necessity for speed in returning the applications. No cash payments will be made before March 1, 1925, and no loans can be made on policies for more than two years. However, the Legion posts throughout the country and in some instances the Red Cross are helping ex-service men get the blanks properly filled out. The local post has about 170 members but there are a few more buddies in the county who are not enrolled as yet.

COUNTY DAIRYMEN RETAIN PUREBREDS

Large Percentage of Holstein Herd Purchased by Local Breeders

Realizing the value of purebred cattle, local dairymen purchased nearly all of the animals offered at the dispersal sale of the M. T. McFarland herd last Thursday. Many buyers from all parts of the northwest were present but few animals were taken out of the vicinity of Thief River Falls. All of the 35 animals offered, with the exception of one herd sire, were sold. The highest price received was $320 and the average was satisfactory.

Following is a list of the buyers and the number of animals secured by each: Albert Johnson, one; Dr. J. T. Bowers, two; B. J. Price, one; J. M. PLAY BALL

It looks as though Thief River Falls will have a baseball team this season after all. A number of fans got together last week to discuss the matter and made plans for a tentative organization of home talent players who will clash with teams in this section during the summer months. Players such as LaBree, Howe, McGinn, Anderson, Herron, Berg, Lane, Olson, Peterson, Nelson and Parenteau will make a bid for a strong aggregation. Local business men and others will be asked to help in securing some necessary equipment. Derby Anderson heads the present organization until a permanent manager is selected. Efforts are being made to arrange a game with Oklee here Sunday.

ENTERTAINERS OF HIGH ORDER WILL BE SEEN AT FAIR

Troupe of Brilliant Comedians Secured for Feature at 1924 Exhibition.

Lester, Bell & Griffin, accomplished comedians, will be seen at the Pennington county fair this year in their comic clown capers and laugh compelling surprises. Their makeup is of the most original and grotesque character and they wear the most ludicrous costumes imaginable.

They are an innovation in the 1924 list of outdoor attractions and give a most convulsing performance of buffoonery. They present a little circus by themselves as their exhibition embraces rough acrobatic bumps and falls, idiotic capers, grotesque gambols and frenzied rivalry in knockabout feats and seemingly impossible dare devil stunts, bringing out wholesome gales of laughter.

Their comedy interruptions are not only convulsingly clever, but totally unexpected, and they are certain to take the audience by surprise. They will appear at both the afternoon and night shows.

The speed with which, Lester, Bell & Griffin, comedy acrobats work, and the rapidity with which they pass from one trick to another makes this trio of funmakers supreme in the outdoor amusement world, especially when one considers all the knockabout comedians that appear at the fairs, celebrations and expositions.

All three members of the act participate in every trick of their routine, which includes head springs over tables, one foot pitch over tables, round off with flip flaps, back standing twisters, clever tumbling, long neck dives over tables and chairs, and much comedy business provided by unusual feats on tables and chairs. Their finish is fast and furious and provocative of much clean fun and entertainment.

Lester, Bell & Griffin have spent many years with the leading circuses and are post-graduates of clown alley, so when they appear here at the Pennington county fair, they are certain of duplicating the success, that has greeted their efforts in other cities throughout the continent.

Gopher and Crow Bounties In Pennington Total $490

War is being waged against gophers and crows in Pennington county judging by the amount of bounties paid out already this season. Since May 15 up to last Saturday County Auditor T. P. Anderson issued warrants to the amount of $490.50 to township chairmen and individuals. In addition there are also some townships who have not made reports as yet. One township chairman received $64 for bounties in that unit.

A bounty of 10 cents is paid for crows, five cents for pocket gophers and three cents for common and gray gophers. The feet of the crow and tail of the gopher must be presented for payment of bounty.

Boy Scouts Plan Outing To Union Lake Next Week

Members of the third troop of the Boy Scouts under leadership of Rev. Chas. Gerlinger expect to leave next Monday by car for Union lake to spend a week or ten days camping on the grounds owned by W. J. Brown of this city. There are 22 boys in the troop and nearly all of them expect to make the trip.

Mr. Brown has offered the use of his grounds and cottage to any organization of the city who may wish to use it for outing and camping purposes.

Barn Burns at Goodridge Killing Several Animals

Two cows, two hogs and calf owned by Chas. Stephenson of Goodridge were burned to death when his new barn was completely destroyed by fire recently. The origin of the fire, which for a while endangered a portion of the village, is not definitely known but it is thought to have been caused by boys smoking in the building or sparks from a nearby bonfire. There was no insurance on the building.

Working on State Road

Work on the state road east of Hazel, joining with the Oklee road, is progressing rapidly, reshaping of four miles of high ditch grade having been completed. The work is being done by H. P. Lund, local contractor, and a crew of workmen.

Airplane Lands Here

Quite a number of the citizentry were aroused Monday noon when an airplane was seen hovering over the city, landing on Noper's farm west of the city. Many hurried to the scene of landing, perhaps thinking that the plane came from "across the line" and was supplied with "forbidden fruit juice," but found that it was Vernon L. Roberts and Scotti Bermood of Crookston who made a brief stop here on their return from points in the counties to the north of here, having made arrangements to perform at various fair exhibitions during the summer and fall. They stated to a Times representative that they are lined up for practically the entire season. A number of passengers were taken up during their stay here.

MANY DAIRYMEN IN CITY

Today is a red-letter day for dairymen in Pennington county and the entire Red River Valley, this being the date of the fifth annual Guernsey consignment sale. The event started at 10 o'clock this morning at the fair grounds with buyers from all parts of the state and North Dakota in attendance, indicating the most successful sale ever conducted by the Guernsey Breeders' association. One hundred purebred and high grade animals are placed under the auction hammer today.

Instead of the regular meeting of the Commercial club today it was decided that club members should visit the sale during the noon hour, the program including an address by Supt. C. G. Selvig of Crookston.

Tremendous Growth Since First Class of Two Completed Course in 1904

MANY POST GRADUATES TAKE NORMAL TRAINING

Nearly 100 Seniors and 32 Post Graduates Enroll in H. S. For Next Term

High school education is popular in this community, it is indicated by records showing the number of graduates each year since the first graduation from Lincoln high in Thief River Falls in 1904. During its 21 years of existence a total of 885 young men and women have been graduated, the first class containing but two members with the high mark of 80 reached in 1920—a period of only 16 years. In addition to the 856 regular alumni, 32 have completed a year of post-graduate work in the normal departments during the past three years. This makes an average of more than 40 each year.

A record of graduates of the school shows quite a wide fluctuation from year to year, although the number has been gradually increasing since the first class of two, Mrs. Gaston Ward, nee Emma Backe, and Melvin Evenson, were graduated 21 years ago. The figures are as follows:

Present indications point towards a record breaking enrollment in the senior class of the high school next year. Already 96 seniors and 32 post graduates have enrolled for entrance this fall. Some of these, of course, will drop out but it is expected that students from out of town will make up for that number. It is specially interesting to note that out of the 99 eighth grade graduates in this city, 95 have registered in the high school.

A total of 370 students have registered in high school for the com-

CONCORDIA COLLEGE BAND WELL RECEIVED

Concert Given Here Saturday Evening is Musical Treat Of Season

Concordia College Concert Band of Moorhead, appearing at the city auditorium Saturday evening under the auspices of the Trinity Lutheran Young Peoples society, gave one of the finest band concert programs which local music enthusiasts have had the pleasure of hearing. The number of classical, semi-classical and popular selections met with hearty approval on the part of the audience and encores were the rule of the evening. The band showed fine balance and precise and distinct attack. The ensemble, particularly that of the bass, was commendable. The band, one of the best that has appeared in this city, created very favorable impressions. The pieces "Katinka," "The Whistler and His Dog," and the "Estellita," were received with pronounced applause by the audience.

The director, H. W. Monson, who has had charge of Concordia College band organizations for a number of years, deserves much credit for the high standard which he has set for this band and the manner in which the players have achieved and attained this standard. All of the participants are students at the college and none are imported professionals.

Rev. O. J. Lutnes of the college faculty gave a brief talk which was well received by the audience.

Much credit is also due to the Young Peoples Society of the Trinity church, which sponsored the appearance of this band and thereby provided this fine musical treat.

CONKLIN'S LADY BRUCE RANKS AMONG GREATEST PRODUCERS IN 4-YEAR OLD GUERNSEY CLASS

Produces 777 Pounds Butterfat In One Year Under Ordinary Farm Conditions

MORE THAN 15,000 LBS. MILK SOLD FOR $750.00

First Animal Bought at First Guernsey Sale Here by F. B. Conklin for $260.00

Pennington county can now boast of having one of the highest producing Guernsey cows in the world. She is Lady Bruce of Clovercrest, four-year old, owned by F. B. Conklin residing near Thief River Falls, who just completed an official test in which she produced 777 pounds butterfat in one year, carrying a calf practically full time. During the testing period which closed May 2[illegible] Lady Bruce produced more than 15,000 pounds of milk which netted Mr. Conklin the neat sum of $750.

If Lady Bruce, who is in class [illegible] in the Guernsey breed, had carried a calf the full time of her test, she would have been placed in the double C class in which the world's record is 785 pounds butterfat. The second high producer has a record of 78[illegible] pounds while the third produced 76[illegible] pounds, placing the Conklin cow third in the list of world's champions, providing she had met with the complete requirements of that classification. In the class in which she is necessarily placed because of this technicality, the 10th highest producer in the world has a record of 800 pounds.

It is coincident that Lady Bruce was the first animal sold at the first Guernsey dispersal sale four years ago. She was purchased as a yearling from L. Jenson of Clearbrook, the price paid at the sale being $260. Her breeding is excellent and she even at an early date gave every promise of becoming a great cow, but is doubtful if either buyer or seller figured on her making such record as she has since hung up. Last year she completed her first official test in the three-year old class with a record of 712 pounds butterfat, the best record made by any Guernsey in her class in the state. She produced over 13,000 pounds of milk during the year prior to the last test period.

It is pointed out by Leonard Houske of Halstad, secretary of the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association and dairy expert, that few cows of the breed are able to make two consecutive official test with such pheonomenal results. Usually they are given a rest following the completion of an official record but Lady Bruce continued her high production for two full years, carrying a calf while the test was being made. Although most highproducing cows are milked four times each day during the test period, the Conklin cow was milked only three times.

Lady Bruce produced as much butterfat as five ordinary cows, the production of the average cow being 15[illegible] pounds.

No attempt at forced feeding was made at any time during her test, according to Mr. Conklin. The regular farm ration with a little bran and other concentrates was fed. The fact that the record was made under very ordinary farm conditions with ordinary good feed and care, makes her showing all the more remarkable. She is an animal of which Mr. Conklin can feel justly proud.

Mr. Conklin started his Guernsey herd on a small scale about six years ago and now has about 20 purebred females, several of which are showing splendid records.

Cif's Pearl, four-year old, a cow of Mr. Conklin's own breeding and a real Pennington county product, finished an official test on May 20 with a production record of 630 pounds butterfat. She is one of the leading cows in the state, being awarded first prize when two years old at the Minnesota state fair. She is an animal which combines show qualities and production.

Another high producer, Cif, is expected to complete a test Sept. 15 with between 550 and 600 pounds to her credit at the age of 11 years. She is in the AA class and is carrying a calf the full time.

These showings are significant at this time when 100 purebred and high grade Guernseys are placed on dispersal sale here and should add considerable interest to the event.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop Unable to Attend G. O. P. Convention

Mrs. Emma Harwood of Roosevelt, alternate delegate from the Ninth Minnesota district to the national Republican convention in Cleveland Tuesday, was a brief caller in Thief River Falls on her way to the convention city. While in the city she visited with Mrs. J. M. Bishop, the other alternate from this district, who was unable to attend the convention on account of not having fully recovered from a recent illness. Mrs. Bishop is one of the leaders among the Republican women in the state and has been an active worker for years past.

The two delegates from this district were N. F. Field of Fergus Falls and Dr. N. M. Watson of Red Lake Falls.

The selections to be played on this occasion are particularily pretty and no doubt will be a feature of the recital season. Another recital of interest to be given in the near future is one in which Mrs. Erickson present Miss Violet Rhodegaard, 12 year old student, assisted by Miss Harriet Hellquist, student in piano, and Henry Arneson, violinist. Miss Rhodegaard has been doing remarkable work on the piano for her age and local music enthusiasts will have an opportunity to hear her at the high school auditorium, Thursday, June 26, at 8 o'clock. Friday evening, June 20, Mrs. Erickson presents fifteen of her younger students in recital which will also be given at the high school auditorium. These little folks have been doing splendid work and deserve much credit.

Nelson-Iverson

Miss Mary Nelson, daughter of Mrs. Thora Nelson of Silverton, four miles east of this city, and Elling Iverson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Iver Vestven of this city, were married at the Zion Lutheran parsonage Sunday noon. Rev. George Larson performed the ceremony in the presence of Miss Borget Iverson, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid and Norval Nelson, brother of the bride, as groomsman. The bride wore a beautiful white crepe de chine gown trimmed in silver lace and carried a boquet of Ophelia roses, and the bridesmaid was clad in a pretty orchid dress.

Miss Nelson has made this county her home since childhood. She attended the local high school and the past year has been employed at the J. C Penney store in this city. Mr. Iverson was born in Norway but the past twenty years has made his home with his parents in this city. He is affiliated with the Northern Woodwork shops here, being a stockholder in that company.

Mr. and Mrs. Iverson will make their future home in this city and will be at home at 405 St. Paul avenue south after June 15.

Directly after the ceremony the bridal couple and attendants left for the home of the bride where a wedding dinner was served and Mr. and Mrs Iverson left for points in North Dakota on a honeymoon trip, visiting with relatives of the bride. Many friends of both the contracting parties join in extending their best wishes for happiness in the future.

Mrs. Erickson Presents Pupils

Mrs. Thelma Holm Erickson, instructor in piano, presented a group of her advanced students in recital at the high school auditorium Monday evening. In spite of the inclement weather a large audience was present and received the pupils with much enthusiasm. The manner in which each number was given clearly indicates talent on the part of the students and thoroughness in training by their instructor. The heavier numbers were not devoid of theme interpretation and the tone shading was excellent. Each pupil played her selection equally well. The last number, a duet by Mrs. Erickson and Irene Hanson, was worthy of special mention and was received with more than hearty applause from the audience.

Helen Weeks United in Marriage to R. O. Storvick at Trinity Today

An elaborate and pretty wedding will take place this afternoon at four o'clock at the Trinity Lutheran church when Miss Helen Grace Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Weeks, and Roy O. Storvick, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Storvick of Albert Lea, are joined in holy wedlock. The Reverends Earl R. Weeks of Kerkhoven and Milton Weeks of Webster, Wis., both of whom are brothers of the bride, will solemnize the ceremony in the presence of relatives and close friends.

The church auditorium has been beautifully decorated for the occasion. White satin streamers and smilax chain the pews and the altar is banked with ferns. Promptly at four o'clock the bridal procession will march down the white carpeted aisle, to the strains of the wedding march played by Rev. Norvald Mankestad of Norge, Virginia. Mr. Weeks will give his daughter in marriage to Mr. Storvick.

The bride will be attended by Miss Josie Weeks, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; Miss Pearl Weeks, sister of the bride, Miss Clara Storvick, sister of the groom; and the Misses Mary Von Prichard and Dorothy Bottelson as bridesmaids. Sever Knutson of Albert Lea will attend the groom. Roy Miller, Phillip Larson, Harold Aga, and Stanton Dahlen will act as ushers.

The flower girls are Marion Sponheim, niece of the bride; and Joyce Storvick, sister of the groom. The double ring ceremony will be used and Doris Weeks, niece of the bride, will bear the rings on a white satin cushion. Ronald Sponheim will take the role of page.

The bride's costume is a gown of brides' satin combined with rose point lace and orange blossoms. An illusion veil, also combined with rose point lace and orange blossoms, will be worn and the bride will carry a shower boquet of lillies of the valley and white bride's roses. The bride's maid of honor will be gowned in a crepe chiffon dress and carry a colonial bouquet of ophelia roses. The bride's maids will be dressed in green georgette crepe gowns and will carry colonial bouquets of pink sweet peas and will wear headbands of pink rosebuds and leaves. The flower girls and ring bearer will be costumed in white organdie.

A reception will be held for the bridal couple by the parents of the bride at their home at 322 second street west this afternoon at five o'clock. The home has been decorated for the occasion in a color scheme of green and pink. A white arch, bedecked with smilax, has been improvised, under which the bride and groom will receive congratulations. At dinner, Rev. Milton Weeks will act as toastmaster. Invitations have been extended to about 80 friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Storvick will leave this evening by car on their honeymoon to points south and east, visiting at Washington, D. C., Buffalo, Ithaca, and points in Virginia. They will be at home at Ames, Iowa, after August first.

Do Gasoline Prices Fluctuate?

THE average man, paying for staple commodities by the month, fails to consider the wide fluctuation in prices, while noting quickly the smallest change in the price of gasoline, which he buys at frequent intervals and for which he pays cash.

Bureau of Labor, and Department of Commerce, statistics indicate that gasoline prices fluctuate less than the price of most staple commodities.

In 1922, the price of eggs fluctuated 125 points; potatoes 210 points; sugar 51 points, as against only 25 points in the price of gasoline.

In 1923, the price of eggs fluctuated 110 points; potatoes 114 points; sugar 59 points, milk 49 points, as against 47 points for gasoline.

The reason for the wide fluctuation in the price of gasoline during 1923 was the opening of new fields, which flooded the market with crude oil rich in gasoline.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) bases its price for gasoline fundamentally on the varying price of crude, which in turn is regulated by supply and demand.

To equalize supply with demand, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has erected and maintains storage depots of tremendous capacity. It has located these depots at strategic points throughout its territory. These huge tanks are filled to capacity, in the off-season, to supply the insistent demand during the season of heavy motoring and agricultural activities.

This Company has systematically passed on to consumers, in the way of price reductions, the benefits derived from improved methods of refining petroleum. It has blazed the trail in originating improved technique, improved equipment and more efficient processes of refining and distribution, thereby aiding the industry to keep abreast of continually expanding needs for petroleum products.

The service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) tends to hold gasoline prices down—and to modify fluctuation by increasing the supply in proportion to demand—and by equalizing distribution, so as to bring gasoline prices into seasonal and sectional harmony.

Minneapolis reporters by questioning persons which they chanced to meet on the streets and in business places have discovered that very few are familiar with the ballot in the coming primary election Tuesday. More than half of those asked were unable to name any of the candidates for governor and senator, some could name three or four, and none could give the full list, according to reports. It was discovered that Tom Gibbons and Babe Ruth are better known to the average voter than any of the political candidates who are seeking positions in the administrative and legislative machinery of our state and nation. Mary Pickford and Norma Talmadge are better known in Minneapolis than Theodore Christianson or O. P. B. Jacobson.

It is pointed out that there is far more knowledge about political matters in the country than there is in the cities but even at that it is doubtful if there are very many in this community who can name all the candidates for governor.

Some people mean well, but never do well. Their lives are paved with good intentions never carried out. They are always intending to do something that never gets done.

Instead of taking a just pride in accomplishment, they are continually humiliated by the inadequacy of their excuses.

They do not even drift with the tide of humanity, but unresistingly are switched into the eddies of life.

For them there is a beginning and an end, but nothing in between.

They have neither true friends nor bitter enemies, because they do nothing to inspire either friendship nor enmity.

They are nameless because no one takes the trouble to name them.

Buck up—and start something.

Maine potatoes are selling at $3.20 to $3.25 per sack of 100 pounds in Baltimore and Washington, according to market reports in the Baltimore Sun. It is said that the co-operative marketing exchange which is now in full operation in that state, is responsible for the increased price for its product. What was done in Maine last season will be done in Minnesota this year, with more than 50 per cent of the entire potato crop signed up in the various county associations combined in the state exchange.

Business men of the twin cities who recently made individual investigations of the operations of the Maine exchange report that they found results far beyond their anticipation. Returns from the 1923 crop were increased by a large percentage.

If corn can be grown as successfully in this section of the state as in the acknowledged corn belt of the country, then why not more hogs on Pennington county farms? Alfalfa fields will also help place more pigs on the farm and should be an essential part of the general diversification program carried out in this community.

Local hog raisers who are sponsoring a pig club for boys and girls in Pennington county are furthering a worthy project by getting the young folks interested in this phase of livestock farming. The club workers will undoubtedly benefit individually and at the same time the hog industry is considerably encouraged.

In farmer's co-operative organizations for business purposes the farmers get closer together, learn to know their neighbors more intimately, become less suspicious of each other, exchange ideas and ideals, acquire a broader knowledge of political and domestic economy, says the Grand Rapids Herald-Review in pointing out the results obtained. Organization of common interests, when honestly and intelligently directed, is one of the essentials of modern civilization.

With fourteen candidates for governor, seven for lieutenant governor, six for the United States senate and a multitude for the various other state offices, Minnesota should get its quota of political talk this spring. Some of the aspirants to office are making whirlwind campaigns thruout the state but should a person hear every candidate before the primaries, now less than a week hence, he would be kept pretty busy during the time that is left.

That the raising of sugar beets is fast becoming an important industry in Minnesota is evidenced by the fact that this year there are 24,000 acres in the state. What we need now is manufacturing facilities. Sugar interests are looking over the territory and it is altogether likely that Thief River Falls will have a refining plant within a reasonable length of time.

"Municipal economy and a restraining hand laid upon the insanely speeding 'improvement' craze will solve the tax problem," says Gunnar Bjornson, editor of the Minnesota Mascot. He continues, "'Improvements' that burden the living and harness the unborn are too high a price to pay for the privilege to be 'up with the times.'"

There are two ways in which the man of the house beats it these days, says the Glenwood Herald. Before he goes to work in the morning the housewife asks hubby to beat the rug. If she keeps watching him he very likely beats, and if she isn't looking he beats it.

We are not in the paint business but it seems to us that some buildings in this city should be greatly improved in appearance by applying a coat of coloring. It helps to preserve the material too.

Someone with a great deal of forethought fears that a time may come when political candidates will want adjusted compensation for the time they spent in trying to get elected.

"Do unto other motorists as you would have them do unto you, when you find them stuck on the highway," says an automobile road book.

"Further increases in our already oppressive tax burdens will spell disaster to the agricultural and industrial interests of the state," declared J. G. Armson, member of the Minnesota Tax commission, at a recent meeting of the Morrison County Taxpayers' association held at Little Falls. The organization is attracting statewide attention for its attention to tax problems, several other counties of the state following Morrison's example.

"Up to the present time," Mr. Armson said, "it has been difficult to interest the general public in the taxation question, the average citizens showing but little interest in the subject aside from grumbling when receiving the tax statement and finding an increase in it. If this organization can arouse an intelligent interest in the things that make taxes necessary—public expenditures—it will be doing a real service to the community and the state."

Mr. Armson gave two outstanding causes for the rapid increase in taxes in recent years, namely the expanding functions of government and the increased cost of doing business. We not only demand things but we demand better things and every such demand means an increase in taxes.

In Mr. Armson's opinion the present depressed condition of the agricultural interests is not so much due to low prices of agricultural products as to the high prices of things the farmer must purchase, the spread being too great. He said that the prices of agricultural products today compare favorably with pre-war prices, but not their exchange value, and he said he believed the farmer entitled to as much consideration as has already been extended to manufacturers and labor through tariff and immigration restrictions.

Convinced that highway advertising signs detract from the natural beauty of the great routes of travel of the Pacific coast, the Standard Oil company of California has decided that it will erect no more such signs and that it will immediately remove all its billboards of such nature, about 2,200, now standing. Hereafter the company will confine itself to the use of commercial locations. To emphasize the conclusion to tear down the signs along the highways, the announcement of the decision was made in paid advertisements in 600 newspapers.

The state highway department has removed more than half a million signs from Minnesota highways, in a campaign in which newspapers, railroads, housewives and civic organizations have united. A state law provides for a 66-foot right of way unmarred by signs, applying to the seven-thousand-mile state road system.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company announces it will revoke all permits for billboards along the road right of way encircling Lake Calhoun, one of Minneapolis' beauty spots.

According to the Minneapolis Journal "it is to be hoped that these examples will lead to further orders restoring scenic beauties now ruined by roadside hoardings. Owners of vacant property along the main traveled roads may well cooperate in banning the billboards to which they have given asylum at small rentals. They have thus become accomplices in the garish crimes against the eye that are so freely committed in city and country."

In discussing editorially the culture of sugar beets in Minnesota and possibilities for more factories to meet present demands, the Glenwood Herald comments on the success made by Pennington county growers and calls attention to the fact that beginning in 1918 with four acres the Thief River Falls territory reached an acreage of 2200 in 1923, when 318 carloads of beets were shipped out.

Only a limited acreage was obtained in this locality this season but it is hoped that next year when the East Grand Forks factory is established the facilities will be adequate to take care of all the acreage available.

Thief River Falls should be on the watchout for any possibility to secure the establishment of a factory here in the near future. As has been pointed out from time to time this is a logical location for such a plant and that it is coming is a certainty, the sooner the better.

"The automobile should be one of civilization's great blessings. It is in great danger of becoming a curse, through the fault of the very persons who might gain most by its proper use," opines an exchange in reference to speeding.

Queer how a fellow will spade for a couple hours to get a few fishing worms and then complain if his wife asks him to beat the front room rug.

People who complain that they never get what's coming to them should be careful or they might.

Boys who mow lawns generally cut a big figure when they grow up.

Cheer up! It looks like a bumper crop for 1924.

Minnesota's Last Homestead Lands.

The Northwest Angle, that point of Minnesota that sticks up north from the international boundary, in Lake of the Woods, is being settled this spring. It consists mainly of timber land, principally cedar, spruce and tamarack, and some of the quarters have considerable value in timber. Soldiers with more than nineteen months of service can prove up with seven months' residence. Those who have no military service must put in three years before they can prove up. Filings are made at the U. S. Land Office at Crookston.

Tom Skye, well known Indian baseball player of Bemidji, who has appeared on the local diamond a number of times, will spend 60 days in the Beltrami county jail for beating his wife. He admitted having been drinking.

BEWARE!

Beware of "bell-ringers" who peddle from house to house, merchandise that may be questionable. Every purchase that is made from other than legitimate merchants can be construed as a slap at the children of the community. Their education is provided for with money raised by taxation. The same may be said of our parks, fire and police protection and the other facilities that are provided from taxation funds paid by business men and all property owners. Out of town peddlers do not pay taxes in Thief River Falls and therefore are not entitled to local patronage. Moreover products bought from Thief River Falls merchants are just as good and often times better from a quality and value standpoint. The guarantee of these merchants protects patrons from possible flaws and defects, where the peddler is not concerned along these lines.

Many Try For $50 Prize in Junior Pig Club Work

Much interest is being shown by boys and girls of the county in the pig club work sponsored by H. C. Fuller and Ralph Mayhew, prominent Mavie Poland China breeders.

The pigs are to be cared for by members during the summer season and entered in a dispersal sale at the fair grounds here on Oct. 10, each member to receive one-half of the net price obtained at the sale. The boy or girl whose pig brings the highest price at the sale will be awarded a cash prize of $50.00. If the animal dies during the season the loss is assumed by the distributors of the pigs.

All the pigs to be used are pure-bred Poland Chinas, sired by the famous Dakota Model, which Mr. Fuller purchased from the Resthaven Farm at Troy, Ohio. He is said to be an exceptional animal and unusually large for his age, being 37 inches tall.

Highway Engineer Resigns

Holger E. Palmer, Red Lake county highway engineer for the past four years, has resigned his position in order to accept a promotion tendered him by the state highway department as resident engineer on one of the big construction jobs in Sibley county in southern Minnesota. Upon completion of this job he expects to resume his course in civil engineering begun several years ago at the Minnesota university. Upon Mr. Palmer's recommendation the county board selected as his successor R. W. Tollefson, assistant engineer of Marshall county.

Bemidji Attorney Passes.

Elmer E. McDonald, Bemidji attorney, former member of the Minnesota legislature and vice president of the state bar association, dropped dead at his summer home on Lake Bemidji. Mr. McDonald was known to a number of local persons having appeared in court sessions here.

Skarnings in City

Mr. and Mrs. Thorstein Skarning, the former the well known accordion virtuoso, were visitors in Thief River Falls Saturday afternoon on their annual concert tour which they will complete in about two weeks. They came here from Grygla where they furnished a program of music at the wedding of Miss A. Henriette Haraldson and Charles M. Knutson Wednesday night and left this city for Greenbush to visit with friends on their way to points in South Dakota where they will give a few concerts before going to Wisconsin where they will spend the summer months at a lake home. While here the Skarnings visited with Dreng Bjornaraa of the Times staff. They expect to book Thief River Falls on their tour next fall.

Personal Income Tax Reduced 25 Per Cent

The tax on personal incomes for the year ended December 31, 1923, has been reduced 25 per cent by recent action of congress, the following explanation being given by Collector D. M. Willcuts:

"If at the time you filed your federal personal income return you paid only one-fourth of the amount of tax reported, you must pay on or before June fifteenth, one-half of the amount paid by you when you filed your personal return. The main point to be borne in mind is that one-half of the tax due from you this year must have been paid on or before June fifteenth. If at the time you filed your personal return you paid one-half of the amount of tax reported, no payment will be due until September fifteenth. If at the time you filed your personal return you paid three-fourths of the amount of tax reported, no further payment will be due."

Bonus Aid Planned

Legionnaires throughout Minnesota will receive blanks for making application for the Federal compensation through their posts, to which they will be distributed by the Adjutant General's office the moment they come from the printing press, the addresses of the 509 American Legion posts of Minnesota having been forwarded to Washington May 15th by State Adjutant Stafford King, in response to a request from the government. When these blanks and instructions arrive probably within ten days, every Legion post will aid former service men of the world war to properly set forth their claims for adjusted compensation. In the meantime, the government requests that buddies refrain from writting direct to Washington for the blanks and instructions desired, as this will only result in delaying service.

Warren Gets Coach.

Earl Butte of Fargo, graduate of the North Dakota Agricultural college where he was awarded nine letters in athletics, has been secured as coach at the Warren high school. He succeeds Harold Heggstrom who goes to New Ulm. Announcement was made last week that Mr. Heggstrom was united in marriage to Miss Florence Lundgren of Warren last January.

Girls Leading

If high school grades are true measures of brain power then the old idea that men are more intelligent than women was surely given a knockout blow this year in Northwestern North Dakota and Northwestern Minnesota high school graduating classes, says the Grand Forks Herald in last Sunday's issue in which appeared the pictures of 18 valedictorians of this section, including Margaret Melgaard of Thief River Falls. Among the 18 honor students whose pictures were shown only one boy had been able "to make the grade." Margaret Melgaard, 17, completed her course with a final average of A and was a leader in the various activities of her class. In addition to her regular school duties she was editor of the High School Progress the past year.

Exam Papers Sent In

The examination papers written in the schools of the county, with the exception of the high schools, were sent to the state department of education last week by County Superintendent O. R. Sande. They will be corrected there by a corps of assistants during this month and the returns will be received here about July 1. Announcement of the eighth grade graduates in the rural schools of the county will be made as soon as the results are known at the superintendent's office.

Facts About Dr. Fritsche

Candidate for Governor, Dr. L. A. Fritsche was born in 1862 in New Ulm, Minn. Some of the founders of this famous little city were grandfather and father of Dr. Fritsche. During the Sioux massacre the Fritsche family were among the sturdy defenders of that city.

About a year ago Dr. Fritsche was a candidate for U. S. senator against Magnus Johnson and in a brief and clean campaign almost secured the nomination. After his defeat by Magnus the doctor at once contributed most generously to Johnson's campaign fund, made public a statement urging all his friends to support his late opponent and took the stump for Mr. Johnson.

It was during the year 1917 that the Non-Partisan League without any cause whatever and under the color of 100% patriotism was persecuted and their meetings broken up. Dr. Fritsche, mayor of New Ulm, presiding over a mass meeting held at that place to petition the president to use his efforts towards peace, was called on the carpet by the Minnesota Public Safety commission (of evil odor) and for the crime of his now famous statement: "While I am Mayor there will be free speech in New Ulm." Mr. Burnquist, then governor of Minnesota, removed him from office. What was the result of this raw deal? The citizens of New Ulm re-elected the doctor for mayor which office he held for 5 consecutive terms and in the election for Senator Dr. Fritsche received 30,000 more votes than did the governor who had removed him from office. For his manly stand for free speech the Nonpartisan League elected Mr. Fritsche honorary member.

Dr. Fritsche represents the highest type of American citizenship and if elected governor, Minnesota will have at its helm a man of intelligence, energy and fearless integrity.

Northern Minnesota's Opportunity for Governor

Clearbrook, Minn., June 11, 1924.

To the Editor:—The voters of the 9th district have a great opportunity. They have the opportunity of selecting a home man for the position of governor on the Farmer-Labor balot.

There has been a great deal of propaganda trying to make it appear that Thomas Vollom would have but slim chances of nomination. This is only propaganda as the nomination is not cinched for any candidate as yet and a lot of things can happen in the few days that are left before the primaries.

Northern Minnesota has never had a Governor and it would be a treat to have the first Farmer-Labor Governor come from the district that was first to send a Farmer-Labor Congressman to Washington.

DEFEAT OF RELIEF MEASURE IS SCORED

Fight for McNary-Haugen Bill Will Be Continued With Hope for Enactment

"With the defeat in the present Congress of the Mc-Nary-Haugen bill, farmers throughout the country will never be satisfied with anything but its principles," said President J. F. Reed of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation in a recent interview.

Failure to pass the McNary-Haugen bill is, in the opinion of the Farm Bureau federation, nothing short of plain discrimination against agriculture. Said Mr. Reed: "The principles of the McNary-Haugen bill must be enacted into law or else the manufacturing and transportation interests and labor must relinquish the hold they have on agriculture as a result of laws enacted by congress. The important things to remember is that congress has seen fit not to accord agriculture the same rights and privileges accorded other groups.

"The Farm Bureau will continue the fight through both the national and state organizations, and does not intend to stop with this apparent defeat. No one who has given any thot at all to the economic conditions now governing agriculture, has to be told that it is not on an equal footing with other industries. It is generally conceded at Washington that the Farm Bureau has been reasonable in its demands upon congress and that it has not concerned itself with interests outside the agricultural field.

"The McNary-Haugen bill was opposed by grain, milling and banking interests in the East through one of the most powerful lobbies ever organized. The opposition was heavily financed by big business."

It is reported that the Export League of Minnesota will resume the fight for future enactment of a bill similar to the McNary-Haugen measure. Supt. C. G. Selvig of Crookston is one of the active workers in behalf of the movement.

A meeting will be held in St. Paul July 16-18 to formulate a policy with respect to legislation affecting agriculture.

Pennington County Girl Writes About California

That Pennington county residents while away from the county appreciate the home news as appearing every week in The Times is evidenced by the following communication from Gene Sannes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jorgen H. Sannes, residing near this city, who left recently for San Francisco, where she is attending a state teachers' college. The past winter she taught a rural school north of Thief River Falls.

Letters are received constantly from Times readers who have formerly resided in this city or community but are now located elsewhere, commending this newspaper upon its thoroughness in recording everything of interest taking place in the community.

Following is Miss Sannes' letter to The Times, which contains much interesting information regarding California and San Francisco:

The last issue of the "Times" has just been received and I wish to tell you how very much I appreciate it, especially now being far away. However, I hope to see some more news from Thief River Valley. It takes nearly a week for The Times to reach me but it is as welcome and interesting as a "home" letter when it does arrive.

It is now over a month since I came to San Francisco and I am getting accustomed to its wonderful climate, sunshine and wealth of flowers. The sudden transition from the snow drifts of St. Paul to the garden-like appearance of this place in such a short space of time was almost beyond belief.

I traveled on the Rock Island and Southern Pacific route and from what I saw the landscape was somewhat similar to Minnesota until we came to Oklahoma and New Mexico. We passed thru hundreds of miles of desert and dusty desert towns, the scenery would have become monotonous but for the novelty of seeing something new.

From El Paso we traveled the Southern Pacific route along the Mexican border thru New Mexico and Arizona. Although it was only six o'clock in the morning many of the travelers besides myself got up early in the morning to see Yuma. To me it was worth the early rising, to see the Colorado River, the rows of palm trees and lilac bushes along the streets, besides seeing palm trees for the first time. I had a glimpse of the mighty Sierra Nevada Range. To one who has always lived in a level country the mountains are a glorious and impressive sight, some so tall their tops were enveloped in clouds while the base appeared to be only a short distance away from us.

I wished very much to see the Imperial Valley near the Mexican border where the desert has been made to bloom like a garden thru irrigation. We saw only a part of the valley in the distance.

The trip thru the orange and fruit country is fascinating and you realize this is the land of sunshine and beauty. Before arriving in Los Angeles we had the opportunity to see the picturesque and beautiful adobe San Gabriel Mission, which is a reminder of the early padres. Oakland is perhaps more beautiful than San Francisco, its buildings appear newer and brighter, and it is a rapidly growing shipping and manufacturing center. I have been told by several Oakland people, that while San Francisco always will be the financial center, Oakland is the city with a "future", judging by the large number of new buildings, new factories, plans for spending millions on harbor improvement, the local patriotism and loyalty of the Oakland people, to say nothing of its location, it seems very probable.

The first Sunday I was here my friends and I went to the Golden Gate Park. When one recalls that this place originally and not so long ago was a sandy desert it is a marvel to see it now. It covers 1013 acres and extends four miles inland from the ocean, it is so wonderful and beautiful it is very difficult to describe, there are thousands of varieties of trees, plants and flowers. Seventeen miles of paved highway, and the large number of pedestrians and cars continually coming and going shows that the San Franciscans love this park and like to be there. One remarkable thing to me was I never saw a single "keep off the grass" sign. As we entered from the ocean side I first noticed the old hulk of the vessel "Gjoa" which Roald Amundson has presented to the municipality. It was the first vessel to pass thru the Northwest passage, which Amundson with a crew of six men accomplished in 1908.

On the edge of Lloyd Lake stands the Marble Architave "Pillars of the Past." This was familiar to me from the many pictures I had seen of it, however, I had never heard its story until I came here. It is supposed to be a part of a large and beautiful house and when the quake occurred all of the building was broken up except this white gleaming marble front.

We had lunch at the Japanese tea garden, a tiny bit of transplanted Japan. The pagoda like structure, odd stunted cherry trees and shrubs and not the least the waiters who are dressed in flowery oriental costumes are reminders of pictures of Japan.

Nearby is the large museum, music stand and new aquarium. The museum is a marvel, it would take weeks to see everything in it; art, sculpture, natural history and almost every branch of art and industry can be seen represented. I recall especially a number of Egyptian mummies 1500 B. C., rare Japanese pottery, an arm chair supposed to have been used by Napoleon in his throne room, and several pieces of real Greek statuary. It is impossible to begin to describe even a small part of it. Anyone visiting San Francisco ought not to let pass an opportunity to go to the museum and spend some time there. The aquarium has been built lately and in it you see fish from the size of a tiny minnow to the huge skeleton of a whale.

Besides buildings and places for grown-ups there is a large playground for children equipped with every kind of apparatus to make it pleasant and enjoyable to the thousands of children that go there.

Another place of great interest is the ocean drive along the beach. We motored thru Presidio, the military reservation guarding the Golden gate. At its extreme end is the Golden Gate and seeing it for the first time it is a sight one will never forget. The seemingly endless, mighty Pacific extending westward as far as the eye can see seemed more like a beautiful picture to me than reality. I like to see the huge greenish-blue waves come rolling in. At the Cliff House there are steep rocks and the waves dash up against and break, splashing all over the hundreds of seals that bask and play in the sunshine on the bare Seal Rocks.

Chinatown, north of Market street, is a place to gratify a lover of the quaint, picturesque and unusual. A great many of the older women and smaller children wear the Chinese costume consisting of a plain black, or in some instances, still gray brocaded silk box coat, long trousers and flat, padded slippers. In the shops are truly rare and beautiful curios, Chinaware, tapestries, hammered bronze, hand-made jewelry and Chinese ware of all descriptions.

At the foot of Market street is Mount Davidson where every San Franciscan is supposed to go before sunrise Easter morning. The tall hilltop from which one can see the surrounding country, Oakland, the Pacific, Alameda and Sausolito presented a rare sight Easter morning; thousands of people crowded up along the hillside and at the very top a great illuminated cross. I have never heard or seen such an impressive and unusual Easter service before in my life.

The San Francisco State Teachers' college which I am attending cannot compare with the Minnesota institutions I have attended. This old building, I am told, stood since before the quake and appears to be made up of a number of smaller buildings to meet the needs following the quake when confusion and shortage of buildings were so common.

There are between 800 and 900 students most of them from San Francisco and nearby California towns but besides that representatives from nearly every state in the union—a number of girls from Hawaii, Philippine Islands and Alaska. Not only are there whites but several Japanese students.

Next week all the students are required to attend "Guild" at Berkeley in the open-air Greek theatre. "Guild" is similar to but more elaborate than our graduation exercises. Every student must be dressed in a long, white guild gown, the Senior gown is the same as the Juniors wear with the exception of a yellow band over the shoulder.

On the whole I think California is wonderful and delightful or at least the part where I am with its ideal climate without the extremes of heat and cold; its wealth of flowers and plant life. I am told we are having fall weather now, winter or the coldest month, comes in June and July while we may expect September and October the spring months to be warmest; January the summer month is most pleasant of all. To me this arrangement seems so contrary to all good weather rules.

The hoof and mouth disease and resulting ban has depressed and threatened California trade and industry. From newspaper reports I see several counties and Mexico have raised the ban and the outlook appears considerably brighter in the "San Francisco Examiner's" Sunday issue.

Modern White Way Completed

All of the 74 street light posts of the city are now topped with a single light instead of five as heretofore, the modern white way being completed by the light department last week. The new single lights present a very attractive appearance and as they are highly illuminating, light up the city as brilliantly as the other system. The new system takes less electricity in operation and requires less attention, it is pointed out by the department. The light posts will also be repainted.

About 25 members of the 1924 class, all girls, have enrolled in the normal training department of Lincoln high for next year. This is an unusually large number of post graduates and speaks well for the interest that is taken in this division of school work. Two instructors have been engaged for the coming term, a total of more than 30 having announced their intentions of taking up teachers' training.

Local Exchange Manager Explains Phone System

Following is the second of a series of articles prepared specially for The Times by G. A. Russell, manager of the N. W. Bell Telephone company's exchange in Thief River Falls:

In a previous issue of this paper a general discription of the telephone switchboard was made, and the method of handling calls by the operators was described, however, no mention was made of the other plant and equipment involved in handling a telephone conversation.

The telephone itself or the subscriber's station as it is called is an important unit in the telephone system. This instrument is located at the subscriber's premises and is practically all he sees of the telephone plant. A telephone instrument consists primarily of five parts, which are the receiver, transmitter, induction coil, condenser and receiver hook switch. A pair of wires are run from the instrument to the protector or lightening arrester which is also located at the subscriber's premises and the purpose of which is protection from lightening as the name emplies. Here the circuit is run thru fuses and carbon blocks and connects to the drop wire which comes in from the outside. The drop wire is that section of the circuit between the protector and the cable terminal and consists of No. 17 gage copper wire covered with a weather proof insulation.

The cable plant which comprises a great portion of our plant investment is one of the things that has made telephone service on a large scale possible. These lead covered cables are of various sizes ranging from ten pairs of wires to 2400 pairs.

A cable containing 200 wires is not as large as a man's wrist and it takes the place of a pole line with twenty cross arms full of wires.

The lead covered cables which runs thru the alleys in Thief River Falls are made up of small copper wires covered with paper and twisted together in pairs the whole being encased in a lead sheath. Each pair of these wires leads to a telephone. Engineers when planning a telephone exchange, make a study of the locations of prospective subscribers and building developments, and arrange to terminate the wires in these cables at convenient locations. The wires terminate in cable terminals or cans which are located on the poles. The drop wire is attached at this point and leads directly into your house. The plan of a cable plant is like a tree in structure. Starting at the central office the main trunk emerges, and it branches and rebranches until it sends its feelers into every section of the city.

The main trunk of the entire cable plant comes into the central office, underground, and is fanned out in pairs on connecting blocks. From the lugs of these blocks the circuit is carried thru pumper wire and thru the main office protector blocks to the switchboard.

To operate a telephone system requires a certain amount of electrical energy, which is provided by storage batteries. There are twenty-two large storage batteries in the local exchange which feed current out to every telephone in the city. These batteries are divided into two groups of eleven cells each. This is necessary so that when one group is discharging, the other group can be charged. The charging of the batteries is accomplished by stepping down the city current from 220 volts to 24 volts thru a bank of lamps, and sending the current into the cells.

There is much miscellaneous equipment of various functions in a telephone circuit, which cannot be mentioned here, on account of its complexity, yet a slight flaw in the operation of any part will effect the whole. Careful inspections and constant watching is necessary to keep telephone trouble at a minimum.

Radio on the Farm

The radio, while generally regarded as belonging more to urban than to rural life has become popular in the country. The department of agriculture recently completed a survey showing that 145,000 farm families are now equipped with radio receiving sets. Based upon an estimate of five persons to a family, this would mean that there are now 750,000 rural radio fans capable of tuning in and hearing the various programs put on at broadcasting stations.

The radio may work as a greater influence than the telephone, good roads, electricity or the motor car in keeping people on the farm, for these conveniences, in many cases, only increased the hunger for things urban.

It Pays to Advertise

Mr. William Wrigley, Jr., the chewing gum king of Chicago, in explaining the rapid growth of his company, said it was all due to advertising.

"But," interrupted one of his friends traveling with him to the Pacific coast, "you have already built up a remarkable business. Why not save some of this advertising money and run along on momentum for a while?"

"Well," Mr. Wrigley said, "we have had a fine, fast trip west from Chicago so far. How much progress do you think we would make if they took off the engine?"

SPUD WAREHOUSING WILL BE DISCUSSED

Conference at Crookston June 16 is One of Eight Meetings Next Week

Eight warehousing conferences in widely scattered sections of the state will be held next week under auspices of the Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange, it was announced today.

One will be held at Crookston on Monday, June 16 to which growers generally and especially persons interested in potato warehouses in this vicinity have been invited.

The meetings will begin promptly at 10 a. m. and will continue all day.

It will be the purpose of these meetings to explain, in detail, the plan of the Exchange for taking over shipping point storage facilities. Personal letters have been written to more than 1000 persons owning or interested in country warehouses and, according to the St. Paul office, acceptances have been received from more than 50 per cent.

Present at the meeting will be representatives of the Central Exchange, including Ralph M. Barker of Carrolton, Ky., one of the best known warehouse authorities in the United States. Mr. Barker is director of the Warehousing Department of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, and is directly responsible for the success of that organization's warehouse program. Starting without a cent in cash or credit and with only the contracts of its members, the Burley association has been able to take over or build warehouses worth more than $7,000,000. These warehouses are being paid for on the amortization plan, small deductions from the tobacco as it passes through the houses being made to meet the obligations as they fall due.

The Burley association's method of financing its warehouse program is identical to that which will be used by the Potato Growers. It was for this reason that executive officers of the Exchange invited Mr. Barker to spend a fort-night in Minnesota, so they may have the benefit of his varied experience.

The Exchange has a plan under which it will take over, on a lease-subject-to-purchase basis, needed warehouse facilities. It is especially desired that negotiations with farmer-owned organizations be completed as quickly as possible. In addition to farmer-owned houses, administrative officers are in touch with the owners of many line houses, scores of which have been offered for lease or sale, on nominal terms.

The approaching series of meetings will take up only the loading point storage phase of the warehouse program. At the same time, negotiations are being conducted to obtain ample terminal space.

It is the purpose of the Exchange to make use of as much of the existing shipping storage facilities as possible, though it will be in position to build houses, where satisfactory arrangements can not be made.

1924 State Automobile Tax Rate Average Under $16.50

Thief River Falls automobile owners continue under the new 1924 rates to pay less taxes on their cars than under the old personal property law. Official figures to May 15, from the state motor vehicle registration department this week indicate a 1924 tax average of less than $16.50, although arrears and penalties bring the general average to $16.99. Before the state highway plan was effected, motor vehicles were taxed as personal property at more than $17 average and to that was added the state license fee.

Light low-priced passenger cars, taking the uniform $12 minimum tax of the "A" plate class, show a general average this year of $12.40, the extra 40 cents representing delinquent taxes and penalties. Applying the same arrears and penalties ratio, brings the $20.51 general average on medium and higher-priced cars of the "B" plate class to less than $20 and the total registration average to less than $16.50 for 1924.

Busses and trucks for public hire are paying increased taxes under the new schedules, the rate now being 10 per cent of the value of the vehicle. An average of $509.17 was collected on 292 busses and of $115.82 on 300 freight trucks, of the respective "C" and "Y" plate classes.

Private trucks in the "T" class taking the $15 minimum truck tax numbered 20,692 and averaged $15.82, the extra 82 cents coming from arrears and penalties. Those in the "X" class paying more than the $15 minimum numbered 10,769 and averaged $40.38.

Dealers' license totalled 1,621 with an average yield of $15.15 from sales of "D" plates. There were 1,071 trailers registered under "Z" plates at an average of $4.45. Motorcycles averaged $4.23 on 2,703 listings.

The Minnesota motor vehicle tax average of less than $16.50 this year is comparable to that of $20.35 for all the states. It is the only tax assessed on motor vehicles here; and the revenue is used entirely for the improvement and maintenance of state trunk highways—"Babcock roads."

1924 Wool Pool to Center at Wabasha

The 1924 Wool Pool, under direction of the Minnesota Co-operative Wool Marketing association will center at Wabasha, officers of the organization having made a contract under the terms of which facilities of the Wabasha Wool Warehouse become available to members. R. E. Jones of Wabasha is sales manager.

The association will have but one sales agency this year, instead of two, as was used in 1923. The Wabasha agency is prepared to pay cash advances up to 70 per cent of the market value of the wool upon receipt at the warehouse.

The association is making a special effort this year to improve the quality of Minnesota wool.

Pennington county farmers last year sold wool to the amount of about $20,000 thru the association, according to a report from County Agent McCann. The farm census gives 3,216 as the number of sheep sheared in the county in 1923. It is expected that this number will be increased considerably this season.

No local unit is maintained by wool growers in the county, the producers shipping direct to Wabasha.

have been impossible to pass the laws. When the laws had passed the state supreme court and went to the supreme court of the United States, that court favored the bill only on the strength that if the people wanted the laws and the lower court had found them valuable, passing them was the expedient thing to do.

Again, he emphasized the fact that a court composed of nine justices passed its decision on a vote of 5 and 4 very often. That each judge might be of equal ability in deciding as to the constitutionality of a bill, yet their decisions conflicted. The manner in which a judge interprets the law is the deciding factor and soundness of moral purpose is of the utmost importance in this respect. Mr. Pike also mentioned O. A. Naplin, local candidate for associate justice of Supreme Court, who was unable to be present, and favored him as a man in whom people might well place great faith.

Anderson a Pioneer

Jula Anderson of Crookston, candidate for lieutenant governor, took the platform as one of the "old timers" in progressive moves. His first vote was cast for Eugene V. Debs, he stated, and ever since he had been active in progressive phases of politics. For several years he edited and managed a Farmer-Labor publication at Medelia and stated that he had been connected with many of the earlier political ventures of the labor movement. As one of five on the Farmer-Labor ballot, he asked only that the voter select the man whom they believed could and would serve them best. He is now editor of the Polk County Leader.

Vollom Stresses Co-operation

Co-operation, both economically and legislatively, as the remedy for the situation prevailing at present, was the keynote of the speech by Vollom one of seven candidates for governor on the Farmer-Labor ballot. Mr. Vollom has been connected with various co-operative ventures and with his executive ability has proven co-operative management a success. Mr. Vollom cited two kinds of co-operation. That in which all co-operate to help a clique and special interest and the "live and let live" kind in which individuals co-operate with one another for the betterment of their own interests.

He stated that more co-operation used in the actual conductance of the affairs of the government, as well as in business or political movements, would result in a more unified administration of affairs and distribution of funds and economical expenditure of the public's money. He also said that he didn't believe any one man was big enough to handle the affairs of the people by following only his own judgment or inclination; that to be able to dispatch the duties of an executive of the state, a man must necessarily be intimately acquainted with the needs and demands of all the classes and then have the backbone to do what the people put him there to do.

Mr. Vollom touched briefly on the present increase in taxation. He expressed the opinion that with the large number of recent bond issues and the possibility of more coming up in the near future, that the people were handicapping themselves with a burden that could be eliminated, and that it was about time for the people to stop and catch up with their expenditures. "Local taxes are largely what you yourselves make them," he continued, "and if you want good schools and paved streets that is a matter for you to decide, and you will have to pay for them, but state taxes are not so easily controlled by the actual taxpayer. There is waste and extravagance and oftimes poor judgment in the distribution of the public's money and the people need to place men, in whom they have confidence, in the offices which control these expenditures. Minnesota," he stated, "is bonded to the extent of $125 per capita, over $500 to the average family."

Mrs. Stageberg Gives Fine Talk

Mrs. Susie Stageberg, candidate on the Farmer-Labor ballot for secretary of state, gave an interesting talk on various phases of government administration in the past that indicate a lack of respect for the public by the controlling interests and parties. She stressed the importance of selecting candidates who show a genuine desire to serve the people to their own best interests and who will not use the power of office to exploit an innocent public who have placed the officials in their respective positions with all sincerity of their intentions to carry out plans and designs that will make for the best and most efficient government. She cited a large number of instances that would tend to prove that legislation in the past has been efficient only when and where certain influential classes were the immediate benefactors. Sane economy, a distribution of the public's money in the most efficient manner and the passage of such laws and measures that would make for the relief of the working classes were in her opinion of vital importance for the welfare of the country.

Royster Alleges Graft

W. W. Royster, another candidate for the governorship on the Farmer-Labor ticket, dwelt at length of the various means of exploitation of the public that has been perpetrated by distinctly class legislation during past years. The huge margin of "Excess Profit" exacted out of the pockets of the producing classes were laid bare by Mr. Royster indicating that the American public is paying an unjust tribute to an almost maliciously organized trust system that is powerful enough to manipulate affairs to suit their own convenience.

Mr. Royster is a railroad engineer and in passing stated that the recent strike was in reality a victory for the common classes. "The railroads suffered so great a loss in the recent strike," he said, "that the officials will not soon again take a chance on refusing a just demand by organized labor." He attacked the federal reserve in stating that the passage of this "infamous act" was the indirect but sole cause of putting six million workers out of employment. He cited at length the tributes the public pays to the cotton trust, the lumber and steel trusts, the sugar trusts, the coal trusts and quoted statistics to prove that if these various commodities, all absolute essentials to everyday life, were handled in a legitimate manner, the public would be spared millions of dollars yearly on each commodity and manufacturers would still have liberal and substantial remuneration for its necessary service.

Following these addresses, H. O. Berve of Germantown, former member of the state legislature, and Andrew Trovaton of this city, gave brief talks on the selection of the proper men to represent them at state offices. "Choose the man you think will serve you best at the primaries and vote for your progressive candidates in the general election next fall," was the keynote of their addresses.

Crookston Assn. Favors Good Graveled Highways Instead of a Paved Road

A resolution has been adopted by the Crookston Association favoring a number of graveled state highways to the Canadian border, according to the Crookston Times. This action was taken following a report that the state highway department is considering the adoption of a program contemplating extension of a paved highway to the northern boundary near Emerson, Manitoba.

After declaring the subject has been discussed from the standpoint of public policy as well as the best interest of the state and of the various communities in this section, the resolution declares:

"That the Crookston Association of Public Affairs go on record as favoring and recommending a policy that, instead of one paved road or highway, a number of Babcock graveled surface roads be favored, at least for the northern one hundred and fifty (or thereabout) miles to afford a more general distribution of the improvements afforded for traffic purposes by the construction and maintenance of highways under the excellent plans to the present followed by the State Highway Commission. This would include such a highway through Red Lake Falls, St. Hilaire, Thief River Falls, Holt, Middle River, Strathcona, Greenbush, Badger, Roseau, Warroad and further on; another extending from Strathcona, northwesterly, via Karlstad; another through Crookston, Euclid, Angus, Warren, Argyle, Stephen, Donaldson, Kennedy, Hallock, Northcote, Humboldt and St. Vincent to Emerson; another east and west, the Duluth-East Grand Forks highway, and others farther north; southward, the Erskine, Mahnomen, Detroit highway. One is needed through Fertile, Gary, Twin Valley, Ulen and Hitterdahl. The highway running thru Beltrami to Ada should be completed through Borup and Felton to Glyndon and perhaps to Barnesville. The so-called River Road from Hendrum north through Halstad, Shelly, Nielsville, Climax and Eldred should be incorporated. We believe that this net work of first class graveled highways would prove satisfactory for some years to come and enable more communities with their proportion of the state's population to derive the especial benefits recognized in the state constructed and maintained system."

Make Use of Want Ads

The little want ads appearing in the Times weekly may seem small and insignificant, but they are sure "getters." As a rule the first thing after reading the local news columns the reader turns to the Want Ad column to see what is offered. Every week there is something new. If you, who read this have something that you would like to dispose of, just jot it down and bring it in or mail it together with the amount of one cent per word, or if less than twenty-five words, 25c. Anything lost, found, strayed, taken up, wanted or for sale, try the want ads. Their value is not an experiment but a proven fact. Your next door neighbor may have just the thing you want.

FORMER T. R. FALLS RESIDENTS PICNIC

James Helle Elected to Succeed Lee Ihle as Head of Twin City-T. R. F. Club

More than 60 former Thief River Falls residents took part in the annual picnic and meeting of the Twin City-Thief River Falls club at Como park, Minneapolis, Sunday, and reports are to the effect that a splendid time was enjoyed in spite of the rather inclement weather. Mayor J. S. Arneson of this city who was scheduled to speak, was unable to attend. James Prichard spoke on possibilities of the club and discussed things which its members might do for their home town.

Election of officers resulted as follows: James Helle, president; Dennis McGinn, vice president; Miss Effie Hamry, secretary; Carl Lindquist, treasurer. The retiring officers are Lee Ihle, president; Florence Ahlberg, vice president; Roy Barzen, secretary; Miss Ann Patterson, treasurer.

A great deal of interest has been created in this activity among former Thief Riverites in the past year of its existence, to a large extent due to the untiring efforts of the live-wire officers. This city watches with interest the doings of its former residents who are still bound by ties of friendship or acquaintance to their home town and remembered it getting together occasionally.

Farr Quits Soft Drink Business; Here 33 Years

J. F. Farr, for 33 years a resident of Thief River Falls, announces this week that he is closing out his business interests here as soon as possible with intentions to move to Bonners Ferry, Idaho, where his wife is now staying with their daughter, Mrs. J. A. Jacoby. The past eight years Mr. Farr has conducted a soft drink parlor on the corner of First street and LaBree avenue, three months ago taken over by Wm. Lucy who operated until June 1, when he quit business to take up duties as chief cook at the Hotel Brumund. Mr. Farr this week announces his fixtures in the place for sale.

Mr. Farr served on the police force for 16 years, 14 as captain. He is a charter member of the fire department of the city, being named captain under Chief Mussey when the department was organized in 1904. In the early days he was employed by the Winton Lumber company as engineer for seven years.

Melgaard that their son, John, who has completed his third year at the Annapolis Naval Academy, leaves today on the regular summer cruise to Europe where students of the academy will visit France, Spain, Holland, Belgium and other places of interest during the three months allotted to the trip. John is now a first classman and is very enthusiastic about the training received at the school. One of the features of the training period is the annual cruise. He will be home on a furlough in September. Friends of the local youth will be pleased to know that he is progressing splendidly in his course and is considered a student of much ability. He will complete his course next year.

Graduates From North Star

Carl Longren, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Longren residing north of the city, was among the graduates from the academy of North Star college at Warren this year, receiving his diploma at the commencement exercises May 29. A feature of the closing exercises was the rendition of the cantata, "The Holy City" by the consolidated chorus of the Red River district of the Swedish Lutheran church, including the chorus of the Augustana church of this city and a group from Hazel. Among the soloists were Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Nesse, also of this city.

CO-OP. DISTRIBUTORS GET SPUD CONTRACT

Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers to Serve New Potato Exchange.

A contract that assures members of the Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange of 100 per cent distribution of table stock this year and next, has been signed by directors of the association. Under the terms of the agreement, the Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers' nation-wide force will be at the disposal of the exchange.

Under the contract, "The Federated" will handle potatoes for no concern other than a co-operative and then, only with the explicit permission of the Minnesota Exchange.

The contract runs for two years, with a stipulation that it can be cancelled at the end of the first season if the distributor fails to get full market value for the crop, quality, grade and quantity considered.

The Federated is a non-stock, nonprofit organization, formed by the Farm Bureau's Committee of 21, which serve co-operative organizations in all parts of the United States. It handled the Maine crop last year.

Fred P. Fellows, former vice president of the Capital Trust & Savings Bank, of St. Paul, has been chosen as financial director of the Exchange and will have his office at 319 Commerce Building, St. Paul. He will have charge of all the financial transactions of the new concern, which is expected to market between fifteen and twenty million bushels of potatoes this year.

A warehousing program is now being worked out by officials of the organization. According to F. T. Satre, local trustee, this is a very difficult matter to settle.

Many Mexican Laborers in Pennington Co. Beet Fields

Three extra cars were attached to the northbound Great Northern train Saturday, May 24, carrying about 75 Mexican beet field workers and their families which have been distributed among growers in this locality. The group, which includes in the neighborhood of 125 persons, comes here largely from El Paso and San Antonio, Texas.

Some of the laborers are stationed on farms in the vicinity of St. Hilaire and Newfolden while the majority of them are located around Thief River Falls. The entire quota of foreign labor is now here and according to County Agent McCann, who is in charge of sugar beet culture in this community, the workers secured this year are exceptionally well adapted for taking care of beet fields, a fact which will mean much to the success of the crop. Properly treated, the Mexican is said to be an excellent worker. Growers pay them $25 per acre for taking care of the beets during the season.

The seeding of nearly 800 acres of sugar beets in this locality was completed last week. The ground so far is said to have been in favorable condition for giving the beets the proper start, the abundant moisture bringing forth germination in a very short time. With continued favorable weather the outlook for a bumper beet crop looks promising, declares Agent McCann.

"Open House" at Exchange

Manager Geo. A. Russell of the local telephone exchange has designated the month of June as "open house" month. During the entire month the exchange will be open to visitors between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. Mr. Russell has also made arrangements to have the exchange open for inspection between the hours of 7:30 and 9 p. m., should any of the local subscribers find it convenient to visit at that time.

Special invitations are being extended to Ladies' Aid societies, lodges and other organizations to come in bodies, as this kind of a trip is of a very interesting nature from the multitude of questions brought out by the visitors.

A large number of local subscribers have during the past year visited the exchange quarters but it is thought that this month many of them will again take the opportunity of seeing how their calls are handled.

Miss Gladys Kolden will not move to Iron Mountain as she is employed at the offices of the Gamble-Robinson company.

The Times is pleased to make this correction to eliminate any reflection which may have been cast on the aforementioned place.

ing term, according to Principal Morris Bye. The courses of these students are practically lined up at this time so that there will be no hitch at the opening of the school year. With a majority of this year's staff of teachers returning there is assurance that the educational machinery of the city's schools will function smoothly from the opening day.

The enrollment of all the schools in Thief River Falls—five in number—at the close of the school year is given as 1532, which is practically the same as last year. Besides the kindergarten department of 92 pupils, last year's enrollment exceeded this year's by only 26.

Twenty teachers, including the special instructors who also serve the other schools of the city, are employed in the high school. In the high school proper 34 different subjects are taught, with 77 distinct classes being conducted each day. The average percentage of attendance in the high school this year was 95.88.

The high school in this city ranks among the foremost in the state, the classes graduated from Lincoln High each year exceeding those in cities more than twice the size of Thief River Falls. With a two-teacher normal training department a splendid opportunity is offered for those who wish to teach. Supt. I. T. Simley and Principal Morris Bye are now busy completing the reports for the year. Mr. Bye expects to leave in the near future to take up a course at the university during the summer session.

Vollom Campaigning Thruout State In Nomination Race

Thomas Vollom of Erskine, one of the Farmer-Labor candidates for governor, returned last week to his home after a speaking tour of the sixth and eighth congressional districts. The business of the Garden Valley Telephone company of which he is manager, required Mr. Vollom's attention the first part of this week, after which he will give some attention to his campaign work.

Mr. Vollom addressed the ninth district convention of Women's Nonpartisan clubs at Detroit Saturday and Sunday he spoke at the Co-operative store picnic here. Yesterday he took part in the program of the "Tronder Lag" in session at Madison. From there he will tour the southern part of the state.

He was given an enthusiastic welcome upon his return to Erskine and the report is that the people of that section are united solidly behind his candidacy. It is conceded by many that he will be first man in the race in the ninth district.

Halvor Haugen

Halvor Haugen of River Falls township, a resident of this county since 1901, died at his farm home Tuesday of last week after a protracted illness of tuberculosis, according to the St. Hilaire Sepetator. Mr. Haugen became afflicted with the disease many years ago and some years ago he took up temporary residence in New Mexico in hopes of affecting a cure by a change in climate, but improved for but a brief period.

Mr. Haugen was born in Hallingdal, Norway, January 11, 1856, and came to this country with his parents at the age of 13, living at Clayton, Iowa for a number of years. In 1870 he moved to Cummings, N. D., where he resided until coming to River Falls township, near St. Hilaire, 23 years ago.

He is survived by his widow and one son, Oscar, and a sister, Mrs. Ingeborg Larson of Elkador, Iowa.

Funeral services were held Thursday from the Norwegian Lutheran church at St. Hilaire, Rev. C. M. Grimsrud, officiating.

The departed was a highly respected citizen of the community and a large circle of friends join in extending their sympathy to the family in their bereavement.

Farmers May Get Straw Gas

Science now can take a ton of straw and turn it into 10,000 cubic feet of gas for lighting the home and cooking meals. In addition, the straw yields such by-products as 10 gallons of tar, 625 pounds of carbon, amonia, etc.

This is announced by the Department of Agriculture. However, it cautions, the straw-converting machine is not yet practical enough for farm use. But there is hope. The farmer of the future will be a laboratory chemist. This tendency is realized from comparing modern farming with that of the past.

City Refunded $404 for '23 Cigarette Licenses

City Clerk P. G. Pederson has received a check from the state treasurer in the amount of $404 as refund to the city of moneys paid to the state treasury during 1923 for cigarette licenses here. Each person selling cigarettes must secure through the state dairy and food department, the license costing $12 a year. At the end of the year the entire amount paid in from each city is refunded to that city by the state. Cigarette licenses were formerly paid under the provisions of a city ordinance until handled through the state department.

Regarding the appearance of the chorus at Greenbush recently the Greenbush Tribune makes the following comment: "This was one of the best male chorus concerts we have ever had the pleasure of listening to. We hope this excellent chorus will pay us another visit soon."

Mail Car Overturns

Ole Ose, carrier on rural route no. two, met with a minor accident yesterday when the car he was driving overturned at the bridge just north of the golf links, near the Knute Jordo farm. The bridge has no railing and is set in toward the center of the road slightly. In approaching the bridge, Ose diverted his attention for a minute and the front wheel missed the edge of the planking and the car overturned. However, he was driving slowly and only the windshield was broken and a bow in the top bent. He continued the route with the same car and is apparently none the worse for his experience.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

VOLUME 14 — Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, Thursday, June 19, 1924 — Number [illegible]

CHOICE CATTLE IN DEMAND AT GUERNSEY SALE

Many Buyers Attend Annual Event Here To Purchase 92 Purebreds and Grades

NINE PUREBRED COWS NET AVERAGE OF $182

Top Price of $300 Paid for Cow Consigned by Woolson. Sires Average $108

Ninety-two head of purebred and high grade Guernseys were sold at the annual consignment sale held here by the Red River Valley Guernsey Breeders' association last Thursday, for which thier owners received a total of nearly $8,000. It was the largest and in every way the most successful of the five sales conducted by the association.

The sale was held at the fair grounds and was well attended by local people and buyers from all parts of the valley and quite a number from North Dakota. The weather turned out to be ideal and buyers showed a great deal of spirit. Altho the prices paid were not phenomenal, the consignors are well pleased with results, which are said to be well up to standard.

The top price of $300 was paid for H. C. Woolson's cow, Geneva of Silverton, purchased by M. L. Lindfors of Fosston. Nine purebred cows sold for $1,642, an average of $182.

A purebred bull owned by L. Jensen of Clearbrook brought the top price in its class when sold to Perry Johnson of this city for $150. Eight purebred sires from four to seven months totaled $867, an average of $108.

The top price for a grade cow was $165, paid by G. L. Short of Angus for a cow consigned by M. L. Lindfors of Fosston. Thirty-five grade cows brought $3,300, an average of $95. Twenty-six grade heifers totaled $1,391, an average of $53. Fourteen grade calves totalled $488, an average of $35 with top price of $63.

Altho a large number of animals were bought by dairymen in Pennington county and adjacent counties in the valley, quite a few went to buyers from distant points in Minnesota and many were purchased by North Dakota men. A representative of the Agricultural Credit corporation attended the sale in the interest of North Dakota farmers who bought 24 head financed by the corporation. Two local buyers were aided in this manner.

Visiting dairymen were loud in their praise of the cattle consigned at the sale, about half which came from Pennington county herds. They declared it one of the finest groups of animals ever seen at any sale.

A fact which speaks well for the stock sold is that of all the animals given the tuberculin test prior to the sale not one reactor developed in the whole herd. Every one was declared perfectly healthy by the committee. This indicates the care taken by Guernsey breeders of the valley.

Dinner and lunch was served at the grounds by the Ladies Guild of St. Bernard's church. Full account of an address by C. G. Selvig is given elsewhere in this issue.

Rockstad is Awarded $1,574 for T. H. No. 32 Right-of-way

Appraisors on Monday, June 9, awarded Martin Rockstad, farmer south of the city, $1,574 for the right-of-way of trunk highway No. 32, between Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire, now under construction. Unable to reach a satisfactory agreement, the department entered condemnation proceedings and ordered the selection of three appraisers to ascertain the value of the land cut by the new routing of the Jefferson Highway. The appraisers were Daniel Shaw, F. F. Haynes and Phil Zeh.

This was the only instance of litigation regarding right-of-way for this road, except in some cases where there was an estate and the titles were scattered.

"Passion Play" To Be At Lyceum June 26-27

"The Passion Play," a picture portraying the life of Christ will be presented at the Lyceum theatre, June 26 and 27, under the auspices of the ladies of St. Bernard's Catholic church.

"The Passion Play" was originated in Obermammergau, Bavaria, where every ten years the chosen inhabitants of the village perform as a religious rite, the life of Christ. The result has been one of the most artistic, impressive, and uplifting plays ever created and it is the intention of the motion picture to give as near an exact reproduction of the original as possible.

As an added attraction, Herman Bischoff, the well-known blind musician, will sing several appropriate songs and a quartet composed of Misses Margaret Thill, Rose Sheedy, Elizabeth Baker and Lenora Joranson will also sing.

GENERAL OUTLOOK FOR CROPS GOOD—HEAVY RAINS AID

Sugar Beet Crop Looks Best Ever, Says Agent McCann; Small Grains Promising

"The sugar beet crop looks very encouraging this year, in fact the best it has ever looked here", County Agent J. J. McCann declared to a Times representative the other day. Fields in this vicinity are progressing very favorably and the Mexican workers are now busy thinning out the plants. This part of the planting program was started about June 5 and will continue thru the month, about one third of the acreage having been completed.

Small grains in this section are looking fine according to reports from farmers in various parts and indications point towards a good crop, in spite of the cool weather prevailing during late spring. The belated spring however, has retarded the corn crop but it is expected that the recent warm weather and rains will bring it forward.

Hay crops have also been retarded this spring but are showing encouraging signs of picking up lately.

Rye fields are looking well and give promise of a pretty good yield barring unfavorable weather the rest of the season.

Heavy rains the past week in many sections have proved very beneficial to crops generally.

Miss Annie Gunderson, aged 18, was killed instantly and her brother, Gunder, aged 24, suffered a fractured skull, collar bone and arm and internal injuries Tuesday night when the car in which they were driving three miles east of Oklee overturned about 9 o'clock.

The two young people, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gunderson, Deer Park, were on their way to this city to meet a sister who was coming home from Bemidji on the night flyer. Whether the accident was the result of the breaking of a part or the car just overturned from bad roads is not known. A passerby discovered the dead body of the girl and the young man, shortly after the accident, in an uncouscious state and brought them to their home. Swedenburg hospital, about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, where he is at present.

The attending physicians anticipate a recovery but he is in a very precarious condition.

Elks Conduct Impressive Exercises on June 14th; Inspiring Address Given

Flag Day was appropriately observed in this city by the Elk lodge, exercises being conducted at the lodge rooms Saturday evening. It is only to be regretted that there was not a larger attendance, the program being open to the public.

The main part of the program was an inspiring address by Attorney W. L. Peterson of Lancaster, who stressed upon the significance of the commemoration and the meaning of the flag in a very forceful manner. The history of the flag was given by A. Anderson and the pledge to the flag by a group of boy scouts. Selections by the Ladies' Chorus of the Woman's club added a great deal to the effectiveness of the exercises.

Flag Day exercises are conducted each year by the Elks lodge.

AGITATION FOR M'NARY-HAGEN WILL CONTINUE

Selvig in Address Here Blames Grain and Packer Interests For Its Defeat

ANALYZES VOTE ON MEASURE IN HOUSE

Favors Co-operative Marketing as Means for Farmer To Get Fair Deal

Supt. C. G. Selvig, of the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, who recently returned from Washington where he has represented the Minnesota Export League in behalf of farm relief legislation, spoke to a large audience at the sales pavilion on the fair grounds last Thursday during the Guernsey consignment sale. He appeared here under the auspices of the Commercial club, members of which went out to the sale instead of holding the regular noon luncheon at the club rooms.

Mr. Selvig complimented very highly the work done in the movement for better livestock by the valley Guernsey breeders' association and predicted that it will have inestimable effect upon the future of dairying. He urged the farmers who are engaged in dairying to secure good animals.

Describing the work done in the interest of the McNary-Haugen bill, Mr. Selvig declared that the fight will be continued with prospects of passing a favorable measure at the next session of congress.

Bill Has General Support

Both the senate and the house agricultural committee agreed, he said, upon the export corporation plan and reported out by overwhelming majorities the McNary-Haugen bill, which was supported in committee by both Republicans and Democrats. The bill lost in the house by a vote of 154 to 224. Administration leaders in the east failed to rally to its support. It also failed to get the president's support, Mr. Selvig added.

The campaign for the bill was carried on by national and state farm groups, more than 40 in number, representing two and one half millions of farmers, Mr. Selvig said, adding that it was admitted by all that no other piece of agricultural legislation had secured so strong support in so short a time before in the history of the nation.

"The same forces expect to continue their education work in acquainting the country with farmers' present economic position and to urge remedies that will terminate the present inequality in which the farmers find themselves," he asserted.

Opposed by Big Interests

Mr. Selvig stated that the strongly organized grain and grain-exporting and packer interests with their bank and business connections in the large city centers opposed the bill. The east and consuming sections feared higher cost of food products. The south, he said, argued against the protective tariff policy in general. Many feared the government would become too highly involved in business thru setting up this export corporation.

"The labor groups failed to exert the strength in favor of the measure that the supporters of the bill expected, although house members with

GIRL KILLED WHEN BARN IS SMASHED BY TERRIFIC WIND

Large Barn on Bendickson Farm North of Oklee Completely Destroyed Saturday

Mandelia, 17, daughter of Ole Bendickson, farmer north of Oklee in Equality township, Red Lake county, was instantly killed last Saturday when the large barn on the Bendickson farm was lifted from the foundation and crushed by a terrific wind while she was in the building. Indications are that she was hit in the back of the head by a piece of lumber. A number of horses and a flock of sheep escaped injury.

The victim of the storm, which was followed by a deluge of rain and hail, was helping her brother, putting the horses into the barn when the structure was smashed at about 4 p. m. The boy ran out of the building when it began to move and escaped injury. The barn was 80 by 36 feet in size.

No other reports of anyone being killed or loss of buildings as result of the storm in this section have been received here. Altho a great deal of damage was done by unusually heavy showers in the southern part of the state, South Dakota and other points. In Minneapolis regular cloudbursts delayed traffic and caused damage to a considerable extent. Crops were benefited by the rain, however.

Thief River Falls was visited by small local showers but no hail or extraordinary wind. Heavy rains are reported north and east of the city and also at points south of here.

PRICE STABILIZATION MEETING HERE MON

Gathering at Court House Will Discuss Plans for Future Activities

A meeting has been called in Thief River Falls of the Price Stabilization association of Pennington county to be held at the court house on Monday afternoon, June 23, at 2:30 o'clock.

The purpose of the meeting is to form or lay plans for the future in the interest of prices on farm products. The late congress failed to enact laws to that end, but the farmers who are interested do not propose to lay down. This question of price stabilization has become a national issue and the county organizations are planning to adopt systematic methods whereby their demands will be understood by those who seek office, declare those heading the movement.

While a call has been sent out to all township delegates who are members of this organization, the meeting is open to all who are interested and everyone who comes there will be offered an opportunity to take part. "This is not a political organization, but it is organized for the general welfare of agriculture and we should all be interested in this issue," leaders assert.

A full house is expected at the meeting.

CHRISTIANSON AND TOM DAVIS ARE NOMINEES

Davis Holds 2,000 Lead Over Olson in Primaries—Dawson Editor Leading Jacobson

JOHNSON UNANIMOUSLY GIVEN ENDORSEMENT

Gilbert Haavi and J. S. Roy Will Be Commissioner Candidates In Fourth District

With only 673 precints in the state missing it appears a certainty that Tom Davis will be the Farmer-Labor nominee for governor, leading Floyd B. Olson by about 2,000 according to reports this morning. Theodore Christianson of Dawson, with a lead of about 8,000 over his nearest opponent, O. P. B. Jacobson, is assured the gubernatorial nomination on the Republican ballot.

The Farmer-Labor vote for governor from 2,857 out of 3,530 precincts follows: Davis, 48,671; Olson, 46,480; Fritsche, 35,075; Lawson, 18,495; Royster, 8,065; Vollom, 5,078.

The Republican: Christianson, 48,391; Jacobson, 40,884; Leach, 38,988; Johnson, 37,457; Schmahl, 23,581, and Ellsworth 19,267.

Judge Oscar Hallam will without a doubt be the Republican candidate for senator, following being the vote from about 3,000 precincts: Hallam, 73,437; Schall, 71,764; Sageng, 60,979. Magnus Johnson was overwhelmingly nominated for re-election to the U. S. senate on the Farmer-Labor ballot, receiving 147,390 votes. With only 731 precincts missing Ferch had 12,387 and Dantes 5,812 votes.

Other nominees on the Farmer-Labor ticket whose participation in the fall election is practically assured, are: Lieutenant governor, Juls Anderson, Crookston; secretary of state, Mrs. Susie Stageberg; state treasurer, Carl Berg, Erskine; attorney general, Sullivan; railroad and warehouse commissioner, Smith.

Republican: Lieutenant governor, W. I. Nolan; railroad and warehouse commissioner, Matson. No contest for the other offices.

Judge Samuel Wilson is leading in the nomination for chief justice of supreme court and Holt, Stone, Anderson and Fraser for associate justice. Latest reports give O. A. Naplin of this city 17,110 votes in the latter race, while Stone and Holt received more than 80,000.

The vote cast in Pennington county at the primaries Monday was comparatively light, the total vote cast for governor on the Farmer-Labor ticket being 1,549 and on the Republican 453 for the same office. The only local contest was in the Fourth commissioner district, where Gilbert Haavi was high man with 127 votes. His running mate this fall will be the present incumbent, J. S. Roy, who got 95 votes, while Waldie Christensen, the third contender received 52 and was eliminated.

A complete tabulation of the vote in each precinct in Pennington county, will be found elsewhere in this issue. The figures given are not official but will correspond very closely to the results found by the canvassing board.

Offers $25 Cash Reward For Vandalism on Roads

Following the report of a car owner that the tires on his machine picked up seven large roofing nails on a certain stretch of road, and similar complaints from scattered districts, the Minnesota State Automobile association last week took steps to stop any maliciousness or carelessness contributing to highway accidents.

G. Roy Hill, Minneapolis, secretary of the state organization, announced that $25 cash reward will be paid for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons depositing tacks, nails, broken glass or other materials injurious to auto tires on any local road in the state. He pointed out that such carelessness threatens even the lives of highway users, by making for greater accident hazard on the roads.

Secretary Hill's announcement recalls the request of Minnesota highway officials for reports of malicious destruction of yellow and black markers and direction signs on the trunk routes. Several prosecutions have been brought for that offense and in one case a youth was fined $71 and costs. Public co-operation is sought to stop these experiences which tend to lessen the safety of the highway.

At this time when stockholders of the local creamery association are to build a new and modern plant it is interesting to note the progress made at Fergus Falls where a $110,000 structure was erected after the old building had been destroyed in the cyclone about four years ago. A small part of the investment was financed by the sale of stock and today the whole plant can be paid for in full from the profits of the plant made in the last four years. The creamery at Fergus Falls has the hearty support of all the business men and the farmers, and is regarded as one of the biggest assets of the city.

The new plant to be established here, which it is estimated will cost approximately $35,000 including equipment, will be one of the finest in the state and will be sufficiently large to meet the demands of the rapidly growing dairy industry in this community.

It is quite safe to predict that the new creamery will pay for itself in a short time, and it goes without saying that progressive friends of the association are glad to see this step to improve the facilities of the leading manufacturing plant in the community. The time has come when the present plant is inadequate and another building is an absolute necessity.

This action on the part of the farmers in the community also affirms a spirit of optimism and confidence in the future of dairying. They are not down-hearted and they are not lying down on the job.

It is the duty of every citizen to go to the polls and vote at every election. But many are lax in the performance of that duty, as was indicated in the vote cast at the primary election Monday. Many are either careless or indifferent.

It has been estimated by persons thoroly familiar with the situation that approximately ten per cent of the voters did not even know that Monday was election day.

The result is in no way beneficial to the community, state or nation. And if any complaint is made concerning the result of the election, the stay-at-homes are the first to raise their voices in dissent. If a citizen neglects to vote he has no just cause to criticise the choice of the voters.

Most people will be quick to point to the moral in the slaying of young Robert Franks of Chicago by the sons of two Chicago millionaires, who did not offer any real motive for the crime in their confessions.

And none will be wrong in pointing to the moral—for its lesson is one that is needed in every household where there are children.

In this instance, two young men not yet of age, both college graduates and one of them unusually brilliant, with everything that money could buy, brutally murdered a defenseless boy.

Whatever their motive may have been, the fact stands out that they were pampered sons of the rich and they committed a deed that is very likely the logical development of their environment, their mode of thinking and their superficial ideas of life.

Doubtless they have been reared in surroundings that have led them to believe that anything was theirs for the asking.

They had lived the life that they knew to the fullest and have found it empty. Then they sought new thrills, which ended so disastrously.

Pampered boys and girls are the incorrigible boys and girls. Children whose every whim is satisfied and passing fancy gratified, with few exceptions, are the children who come to grief sooner or later.

No matter to what estate they may be born, children have to be restrained and directed by persons wiser in experience and older in years.

Those who have a free rein are on the road to the same destiny that now holds these two Chicago boys, in its death grip—perhaps not a destiny so fatal, but one that will bring pain and sorrow.

Thoughtful parents will regard this terrible tragedy as a possibility for any boy or girl who are permitted to do as they please and will be guided accordingly.

$36,100 FIRE LOSS IN COUNTY IN 1923; INCREASE OVER '22

Premiums Totaling Nearly $40,000 Paid For Fire Protection In Thief River Falls

Fire loss in Pennington county for 1923 shows a slight increase over 1922 according to the report of Hon. B. L. Kingsley, State Fire Marshal.

The total loss for the year was $36,100 as against $21,000 for 1922.

Fire loss in the city of Thief River Falls during 1923 totalled $27,781; premiums paid, $29,468.68; apportionment, $742.07. The total loss for the 25 years in which records have been kept in this city is given as $342,487, during which time $590,824 was paid in premiums.

Goodridge reports no fire loss for 1923 but paid premiums of $2,508.61 and received an apportionment of $27.96. Losses during the past five years total only $597.41, a remarkable record for that village. Premiums for that period aggregate $21,401.58.

Losses in St. Hilaire the past year totalled $142.50, with premiums of $2,304.26 and $26.56 as the state apportionment to the village. For the past 20-year period losses by fire total $9,017.42 and premiums $66,894.

Minnesota's fire loss in 1923 was $8,237,551, or an increase of almost $2,000,000 compared with the year previous.

The report shows that in a classification of the 61 listed causes of the 3,025 fires during 1923, more resulted from chimney sparks than any other one cause—315 fires entailing a loss of $244,694, while defective wires and defective flues each caused 142 fires—the former causing a loss of $1,550,527 and the latter, $220,961. Smokers' carelessness was responsible for 105 fires, destroying property to the value of $401,375.

While an increase in loss by fire is always to be deplored still Mr. Kingsley does not regard the showing as calling for undue criticism. Reports from this county as filed with the department show a most gratifying increase in the removal of fire hazards, together with the construction of better fire resisting buildings. This is due in a large part to the fire prevention campaign inaugurated by the department and to which local and county fire prevention officials, Mr. Kingsley says, have given every possible aid. Out of it all will come a much lower future fire loss.

AGITATION FOR McNARY-HAGEN WILL CONTINUE

leanings toward labor voted for the bill," he said.

Must Help Themselves

"It is evident," he continued, "that the farmers cannot expect to receive consideration for their just demands either from the down-east Republicans or the far-south Democrats. Something must be done to save agriculture. The wisest thought of the nation should engage in this work."

The speaker analyzed the vote on the bill as was shown by the roll call.

The McNary-Haugen bill received a unanimous vote in 17 states including Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, West Virginia, and Wyoming. The total vote was 58, with four absent.

22 States Favor Bill

A majority from five states favored the bill as follows: In Illinois, 16 for, 9 against; Indiana, 11 for, 2 against; Michigan 7 to 6; Minnesota, 7 to 2; Missouri, 12 to 24. These five states increased the total by 53 votes.

The delegations tied in Arkansas 3 to 3; in Kentucky 5 to 5; and Ohio 10 to 10. The total vote for the bill was increased by 18 in these states, making 129 votes out of the 154 counted in its favor from these 25 states. These same states had 43 votes for the opposition.

The vote in the remaining 23 states was 25 for, 181 against as follows: Alabama, 1 for, 7 against; California, 3 for, 5 against; Connecticut, 0 to 5; Delaware 0 to 1; Florida 0 to 2; Georgia, 1 to 8; Louisiana 1 to 6; Maine 0 to 3; Maryland 0 to 6; Massachusetts 1 to 13; Mississippi 0 to 6; New Hampshire 0 to 1; New Jersey 0 to 10; New York 0 to 33; North Carolina 1 to 7; Pennsylvania 9 to 20; Rhode Island 0 to 3; South Carolina 0 to 5; Tennessee 2 to 8; Texas 1 to 16; Vermont 0 to 2; Virginia 0 to 10; and Wisconsin 5 to 6.

Three eastern states in this opposition group cast 66 votes against the bill, New York, 33; Pennsylvania 20 and Massachusetts 13. This is 6 more votes than the total in 17 states in central and northwest sections that voted unanimously for the bill.

Party Vote Poll

Of the 154 votes in favor, there were one hundred Republicans, fifty-two Democrats, one Farmer-Labor and one Independent member. Against it were 101 Republicans, 122 Democrats and one Socialist, making a total of 224.

Mr. Selvig also urged a higher protective tariff on dairy products to safeguard the producer who is forced to compete in world market with the peasant in other coutries. The price level of farm products must be made to correspond with that of labor and the manufacturer.

Urges Co-op. Marketing

Three things must be done by the American farmer today, the speaker declared, namely, to enter into lines of farming which prove profitable and improve farming methods as much as possible, seek legislation which protects agricultural interests in the same manner as industry, and enlarge and perfect the activities of co-operative marketing, thus giving the producer a say in the market.

The sweet girl graduate is just as sweet as she ever was, even though she may bob her hair.

TOWN BOARD HEADS TALK ABOUT WEEDS

Local Inspectors Addressed By State Representative. Much Interest Shown

All but Star and Cloverleaf townships were represented at a meeting of town board chairmen held at the court house here Tuesday for the purpose of discussing weed control.

The conference was addressed by Samuel Hammerbeck, special field agent of the Department of Agriculture. The department has in its charge the regulation and enforcement of the weed laws and town chairmen are the local inspectors charged by the law to prevent and destroy noxious weeds. The danger from the weed pest is becoming so alarming that unless drastic action is taken without delay these weeds will prove a disaster to agriculture in the state. A most vigorous action will be taken this season to abate the weed nuisance.

Surveys made by the department have disclosed that an astonishing amount of weed seeds are being seeded with grains and grasses. In one individual case a farmer seeded in 1923, 62 per cent weed seeds with 38 per cent flax. Fourteen thousand two hundred cars of dockage were shipped in 1921 to the markets with spring wheat. It took nearly one million dollars of the farmers' money to ship this tremendous waste.

Mr. Hammerbeck discussed the weed laws of the state and their enforcement, pointing out that the laws are mandatory, in that they require the township officials to enforce them against owners of lands on which noxious weeds are growing. It makes no difference whether the lands are wild or cultivated, the owners are held responsible for the control of the outlaw weeds.

"The worst weeds in Northern Minnesota", said Mr. Hammerbeck, are the sow thistle, the Canada thistle, and the common quack grass. The last two mentioned are far more easily controlled than the sow thistle, which is rapidly becoming a serious menace in many sections of the state."

DISABLED VETERANS RECEIVE TRAINING TO BECOME FARMERS

Veterans' Bureau Assisting Men in This Community in Agricultural Projects.

A. H. Olesberg of Bemidji, supervising officer in charge of all agricultural trainees of district call No. 8 of the U. S. Veterans Bureau, was in Thief River Falls last week while on a trip visiting a number of veterans placed on farms in this locality.

In speaking of the bureau's work Mr. Olesberg stated to a Times representative that a great deal is being accomplished by vocational training. Any soldier with not less than 10 per cent disability is given a choice of vocations for which he may receive government training. If agriculture is chosen the following is a brief outline of the procedure leading towards rehabilitation:

The veteran first proceeds to locate a farm he wishes to buy; this being done by his own initiative. Upon selection of a desirable piece of land the Veterans Bureau is notified and one of its agricultural specialists, so rated by civil service, inspects this land and makes a complete survey of it, having in mind the kind of soil, employment objective, markets, distance from markets, veteran's disability, prices, etc. If the land meets with the approval of the agricultural specialist the veteran may be inducted into training. In order to do this the bureau man makes a careful study of the farm and this particular veteran's proposition, and prepares what is called a budget and training program. The budget directs the veteran as to how he is to spend his money during the coming 24 or 30 months of his training. The training program is a brief outline of exactly what is to be done each year during his training period. It is so complete that at the end of the period he is supposed to be in such a condition that he is able to make a good living for himself and family.

At the end of such a period he is successfully rehabilitated and transferred to his former compensation status.

Any veteran in agricultural training project training receives pay per month as follows: Single, $80; married, $115; married and one child, $125; married and two children, $132.50; and extra for additional children. Due to the high cost of living, however, practically all veterans training in this district get $20 extra each month; thus a married man without any children gets $135 per month, payable by check twice each month. He is also given $300 worth of necessary farm equipment.

During the course of training he receives free agricultural instruction. In the case of this district the Bemidji board of education has contracted with the government to supply the necessary instruction so as to complete each item as outlined in the training program. These instructors visit the trainee personally on his farm twice a month and help him with his problems. The trainee is expected to keep a project book, which is a record of his work, expenditure of money, farm receipts, net profits, etc. The instructors assist the veterans in preparing outlines for buildings, direct them as to the best means of land clearing and cultivation, buying and testing of cows, culling poultry, marketing or any problem that may arise. In brief, it is intended that the school is brought to each trainee's farm to provide training necessary to make him a successful farmer.

There are 56 agricultural men in training in this district, which consists of the territory from International Falls south to Walker and west to the Red river. Most of these men are showing exceptionally good progress, according to Mr. Olesberg. Some 12 per cent of them have earned as high as $100 each month from their poultry and dairy projects during the winter. One trainee specializing in poultry received about 250 eggs a day from his flock, and for some time was paid 53 cents per dozen.

Among those training in the vicinity is Theo. C. Holbach who has purchased an 80-acre farm eight miles west of Thief River Falls, where he was inducted into training about four weeks ago. He gives promise of becoming a successful farmer and an asset to the community, states the district supervisor.

Earl Jenson, another veteran, is located three miles north of St. Hilaire and is particularly interested in dairying. He has been training the past year and is doing well.

Bergman Folden just entered training on a 40-acre farm five miles north of Holt; Soren Nygaard and Christ Farmen are located near Grygla and Lewis Roseland five miles south of Newfolden. They are all getting along satisfactorily, and those interested in the project work are urged to visit their farms to be convinced as to what the veterans bureau is doing for its men.

Mr. Olesberg is himself a disabled veteran and was rehabilitated under the veterans bureau. He is a graduate of the agricultural college of Minnesota university and also from the college of education.

Ben Franklin believed in the "pay-as-you-go" policy, but he didn't live in a time like this when paying as you go gets you both coming and going.

Widsten Suggests Restoring Thief Lake to Protect Game

In commenting upon various topics Martin Widsten in the Crookston Times makes the following statement regarding restoration of lakes in Minnesota:

"The state drainage commissioner is busy taking an inventory of lakes that have been drained, or partly drained, probably with a view to getting information as to what may be done toward restoring some of them. It would be entirely feasible to restore some of these lakes, without doing any damage to the land drained, except what is on the bottoms—which usually isn't of much value. It would simply mean the erection of dams at the outlets of these lakes, with sufficient gateways in them to let thru a flood when necessary. Thief Lake, in eastern Marshall county, could be easily restored that way, and would yield good returns in wild fowls, fur animals and fish. The old basin could be filled up with water and no damage would be done to the drained lands further back, provided there is always ample outlet in times of emergency.

P. O. Thorsen, Grand Forks Normanden Publisher, Dies

P. O. Thorson, aged 57, former state senator and publisher of the Normanden at Grand Forks, died Thursday at a hospital there following an operation June 1. Mr. Thorson had suffered yellow jaundice and was operated upon for gall stones. Since 1896 Mr. Thorson owned the controlling stock of what is known as the Normanden company, a corporation started by citizens chiefly of Norwegian birth, which is publishing Normanden, one of the leading Norwegian weeklies in the country. In the fall of 1923 he perfected plans for the publishing of Scandinavia, which in the English language tells of enterprises and institutions among Americans of Scandinavian birth or descent.

NO OBJECTORS TO PAVING OF ALLEY AT COUNCIL MEET

Entire City Council Attends Municipality Meeting at Detroit This Week

Despite the fact that 15 out of 21 lots in the block between Second and Third streets and Main and Knight avenues were represented on the petition to pave the alley therein, there were no objectors present either at the meeting of the council last week or this week. However, the aldermen did not deem it advisable to go ahead with this improvement of the business section without giving the owners of the remaining lots one more chance to object and the matter was laid over until next Tuesday.

Another matter to be laid over until then is that of the purchase of an oil engine. However, with a thoro overhauling of the present engines it begins to look as tho the city might not have to buy one at this time, as the engineer in charge, Chas. Krause, stated to the council that the machines would be nearly as good as new. None of the engine men were present this week at the meeting altho one had returned to the city a week ago for the meeting.

Four building permits were granted by the council Tuesday night, calling for estimated expenditures of $4,400 altogether, two being for garages, one for remodeling of a house and the other for remodeling of the county court house, the petitioners being F. S. Patten, Carl E. Johnson, M. V. Evenson and the county respectively, and for individual amounts of $200, $100, $600 and $3,500.

Following approval of the dairy inspector two milk licenses were granted to John Moline and John Hanson; while Phil J. Zeh was granted permission to hold eight dances a month for the next three months, on payment of the usual dance license of $1 each dance.

The entire council, together with the mayor and city attorney, were named as delegates to the annual meeting of the League of Minnesota Municipalities to be held in Detroit today and tomorrow, and to which most of the aldermen expected to go. An effort will be made to bring this convention to this city two years from now. Over 300 city officials and employees from various cities in the state attend these annual meetings and much benefit is derived therefrom. This city has generally sent two or three delegates, but with the proximity of the meeting this year and its accessability it was deemed wise for as many as possible to get away.

After allowing the customary monthly bills the council adjourned for one week, next Tuesday being a regular meeting night.

Former Local Teacher Is Given Seminary Position

Rev. George Larson of the Zion Lutheran church is expected to return tomorrow from Northfield where he attended the annual Lutheran Free Church convention held June 11 to 17.

The appointment of Miss Gerda Mortenson of Fosston, formerly instructor in the grades of the city schools, as dean of women at the Augsburg seminary was confirmed by the convention.

Premium lists for the 23rd annual exhibition of the Pennington County Agricultural society—the county fair—have been printed and the distribution of copies began this week. It is a very complete list and a copy should be secured by every prospective exhibitor. The printing was done by The Times.

The total amount of premiums to be paid out this year will be about $2,000, approximately $1,700 of which is received as state aid.

LECTURES FEATURE M. E. CHURCH MEET

Local People Take Part in Epworth League Convention in Crookston Last Week

Young people of Methodism have been having very helpful times together, under the auspices of the Epworth League at different centers throughout the northern area of this state, declares Rev. J. T. Dixon, pastor of the local Methodist church.

On Thursday, June 12, a convention opened in the Methodist Episcopal church, Crookston, and continued until Friday evening. The chapters within this group were well represented, particularly from Thief River Falls, the deputation being: Mr. and Mrs. Orme, Mrs. Oscar Melby, Miss Myrtle Krause and the Rev. J. T. Dixon.

The reports of the work were very inspiring and although membership in some of the chapters made no increase, even a decrease, yet the work was carried out with deepening interest. Of special note in the convention program were: A lecture by Rev. R. R. Hedtke, a sermon by Dr. W. E. J. Gratz, and a lecture by Dr. J. C. Craig.

Dr. Craig impressed upon the convention the duty of Methodists to the worldly tendencies of today, by explaining the alteration made by the General Conference in its discipline on dancing and other amusements. He showed that the conference adopted "the only true position and safeguard of a Protestant Evangelical Church," by placing responsibility upon the conscience. He went on to show that the General Conference had not altered its attitude toward the things which were demoralizing the youth of today, but that as the law of discipline is now worded, it is more binding upon the individual observance, since it is not a code of laws which make for holiness, but a Christian principal which commands the assent of the conscience.

On Friday evening, a Bible story telling contest was held under the direction of Miss Polly Burley resulting in the highest and equal marks for Thief River Falls and Crookston, Mrs. Oscar Melby representing the former.

The local chapter prepared a banquet which was a great source of enjoyment and fellowship.

Marshall County To Build Road North of Goodridge

A contract for the grading of 8½ miles of highway north of Goodridge at a cost of $13,000 was let last week by the Marshall County Board of commissioners to Schenke, Moen and Anderson of Middle River, this bid being about $1,200 lower than the next lowest bid, according to the Warren Sheaf. The road extends from the Pennington county line directly north of Goodridge to connect with the Holt-Grygla road. The contract for the culverts on the new road was secured by L. R. Johnson, representing the Lyle Culvert company.

Hilson Injured

Ed. Hilson received painful injuries to his left hand while working in the Soo Line round house. He received a fracture to one finger and two were cut in a saw. He was taken to the Swedenburg hospital for treatment and left that place yesterday in a good condition but will not be able to use the hand for two months.

Bye to Attend University

Morris Bye, principal of the local high school the past year, left Tuesday evening for Brandon where he will spend a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Bye. He continues Saturday to Minneapolis to attend the summer course in education at the state university. Mr. Bye will return next fall to resume duties as instructor and principal, making his third year on the high school staff.

Swanson Seriously Injured

Erick Swanson, married, aged 26, residing near St. Hilaire, suffered severe and almost fatal injuries Saturday afternoon at six o'clock when the seat on the harrow he was cultivating with in the fields broke and he fell in the teeth of the implement.

He did not realize his condition at first and while he was bleeding internally insisted he was not critically hurt. However, a few hours later his wife summoned Dr. A. W. Swedenburg of this city, who arrived at the farm home about midnight. He was taken to the hospital here and operated on immediately. Internal hemorrhages were severe and at first the attending physician did not anticipate recovery. He is still in a critical condition but recovery seems possible.

Many Take Carrier Exams.

Twenty men took the civil service examination at the local post office for the position of mail carrier on rural route No. 3, until recently served by the late Earl DeVeling. Following Mr. DeVeling's death Edwin Swanson has been acting carrier. It appears that many are seeking a job at this time, there being considerable unemployment.

Graduates from St. Olaf

Miss Agnes Tandberg returned to her home in this city Thursday evening from St. Olaf college, from which school she graduated this spring. She was accompanied on her return by her mother, Mrs. Julia Tandberg, and brother, Elmer, who motored to Northfield to attend the commencement exercises. Miss Tandberg majored in English and biology. She has accepted a position as instructor in the high school in St. Hilaire for next fall, and expects to spend the summer vacation at her home in this city.

Road to Narrows Bad

The new road to the Red Lake narrows is still in an almost impassable condition according to reports from a few that motored to the lake Sunday. Alex Welch attempted to reach the narrows and when within a mile of the lake had to turn about and give it up. However, he went to the outlet where a number of other local people were spending the day, including, Junie Olson and family, Theodore Bundy and family, Harold Olson, Ole Ness, Jorgen Eide, Christ Steen, Carl Green and Sig Myron.

North Star Chorus Here

The North Star college chorus will appear at the Augustana Lutheran church tomorrow evening in concert. This chorus has made appearances almost daily since a week ago Monday and has been very well received. The program will consist mainly of chorus numbers. Rev. Albin A. Larson, pastor of the Augustana church here and acting president of the North Star college, accompanies the chorus as manager and will give a brief talk. Miss Esther Longren and Harold Peterson of this city are members of the chorus.

Misses Grace Mostue and Ansof Dahlen were awarded first and second place, respectively, in the local bread baking contest held recently at the high school under the direction of A. J. Dairy Supply of City Very Good According to Report; Three Arrests During May

The monthly reports submitted to the city council Tuesday night were carefully scanned by the aldermen, who ordered them filed.

The report of the dairy inspector, Dr. L. R. Twete, showed that he was having all barns of dairies supplying milk to the city to be thoroly whitewashed, in addition to other improvements, thus insuring a healthful supply of milk. During the past month 36 tests of milk were made for butterfat, with only three found to be illegal, while only one such case out of ten for cream was reported. The sediment tests showed 29 to be clear, six fair, one poor and none dirty. Two herds had been tuberculin tested and found all right. The butterfat tests for May showed them ranging from 3.49 up to 4.60 with a required standard of 3.25.

The report of the chief of police showed three arrests during May, these being for drunkeness, insanity and disorderly conduct.

Judge N. W. Tarrant's report showed fees collected in the municipal court amounting to $22.60.

City Clerk P. G. Pederson in his report showed cash on hand May 1, of $44,501.99, with receipts during that month of $5,706.60 and disbursements of $7,706.25, leaving $42,502.34 on hand June 1. The earnings of the water department last month were $18.83, this being only for meters which had to be specially read as the general reading is only made quarterly. The electric light fund showed earnings of $4,654.70 for May.

To Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ryan Tuesday afternoon at home, a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Olson yesterday forenoon at home, a boy.

Breaks Collar Bone

Norman Newland, aged 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Newland resident at 419 Crocker avenue north, broke his collar bone yesterday afternoon when he fell out of a tree in the yard at home. Dr. Froehlich attended him and reports an early recovery.

Child Drowns in Rain Barrel

Oswald Hanson, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Severt Hanson, Silverton township, drowned in a rain barrel yesterday. Dr. A. W. Swedenburg was summoned but all effort to revive the boy was of no avail. Interment will be made in Silverton cemetery tomorrow.

SHORT TERM OF DISTRICT COURT HERE THIS WEEK

Sigurd Vik Must Pay $150 Fine On Liquor Charge—Farr Case Dismissed

TWO OTHER LIQUOR CASES TO BE TRIED

$5,000 Damage Suit Against S. R. Kirby Continued—Many Civil Actions Cleared

With a short calendar and unusually rapid progress in the disposal of cases, district court which covened Tuesday is expected to come to a close tomorrow, according to Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren, who is presiding.

Sigurd Vik of St. Hilaire, who pleaded guilty to a liquor charge at the last term of court here, appeared Tuesday to receive his sentence of a $150 fine and a 30-day suspended jail sentence. Sheriff O. L. Ihle was named probation officer.

The liquor case against James F. Farr, who recently served a jail term for violation of the prohibition laws, was dismissed on motion of the county attorney. A similar case against Fred Brendecke, tried and convicted once before, and an appeal to the supreme court for a new trial granted, is expected to come up today or tomorrow. The third liquor case on the calendar, that against Alfred Bakke and John Johnson, charged with having liquor in their possession, is also scheduled for trial today.

Herbert Haugen, who was to be tried on an illigitimacy charge, failed to appear and the court declared his bond forfeited. The court also issued a bench warrant for his arrest. William Poirier, facing a similar charge, has been arraigned and may be tried today.

A civil case which attracted considerable interest was that in which a Mrs. Carrie Olson of Cass Lake claimed damages in the sum of $5,000 against Sam R. Kirby, local healer, for alleged injuries to her health as a result of treatment by Kirby. The case was presented before the judge yesterday but the defendant objected to the complaint, and upon motion the court granted plaintiff a stay of 20 days for filing an amended complaint, the case being continued until next term. F. W. Murphy of Wheaton represented Mr. Kirby and Mrs. Olson was represented by Jesse A. Schunk of New York Mills.

Divorce was granted Axel T. Johnson, near St. Hilaire, on his suit against Astrid Johnson, desertion being given as the grounds for action.

In the case of Rust-Parker company vs. Singer Brothers, the plaintiff failed to appear and the court ordered judgment in the sum of $43.78 for defendants. A case in which H. O. Halvorson of Gully wanted to recover on a note given by John Mostrom of Neptune, was tried before a jury yesterday, a verdict of $122.60 being returned for plaintiff. Judgment was ordered against W. J. Janda for motor vehicle tax.

The following cases were dismissed: Casper Iverson vs. J. B. Howe and Goodridge State Bank; Glenn R. Murray & Company vs. Andrew Ness. The case of R. C. Whisett Coal and Mining Company against the Thief River Falls Iron Works was settled by stipulation for dismissal, while the cases of F. A. Grady vs. John Mostrom, Hoag Security Company vs. Willie H. Parnow and J. P. Jensen and W. R. Hoag vs. Lester E. Gesell are continued.

Settlement out of court was made in the case of G. Halvorson against the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway company, as was also that of Citizens State bank of Hazel vs. Alfred Helgerson, Ole Helgeson and N. A. Nelson. A settlement is also reported between Edward Singer and the Flax-li-num Insulating company.

REV. DIXON NEW M. E. PASTOR FROM DUBLIN

Successor of Rev. J. B. Smith Chosen at Quarterly Conference Last Week

The term "pep" has been greatly in use nowadays in connection with business or social functions which have signs of life and activity. It has now come to be used in the above derivation of a men's and boys' club, the Peptomist club, in the Methodist Episcopal church in Thief River Falls.

This Peptomist club held its first fortnightly meeting as an outdoor entertainment on Wednesday, June 19, at Squaw Point. The wives and families were invited to join in the event, as also prospective members. Favorable weather conditions added to the pleasure of the hour, and recreative games were enjoyed. At supper a goodly number partook of an appetizing repast.

Following the social hour at the Point, members of the Quarterly conference adjourned to the church to consider local church business under the presiding elder, Rev. J. C. Craig, D. D. of St. Paul. The Rev. J. B. Smith, who has been pastor of the M. E. church here for many years, has found it necessary to retire from active work owing to failing health. The supply is the Rev. J. G. Dixon, late of Dublin, Ireland, who is an able speaker and a very likeable person. Rev. Dixon states that he is very well impressed with Thief River Falls.

Rev. Dixon addressed the Commercial club at its regular luncheon last Thursday, stressing the fact that selfishness is the root of most trouble in the world, causing wars and other struggles between nations, factions and individuals. Understanding, brotherly love and a life in Christ is necessary.

PENNINGTON GETS BOOST

The record of Lady Bruce of Clovercrest, champion Guernsey cow owned by F. B. Conklin near this city, is attracting attention beyond the boundary of Pennington county, as is evidenced by the following from the Duluth Herald:

"Lady Bruce, a Pennington county cow, produced 15,000 pounds of milk this last year which netted her owner, F. B. Conklin of Thief River Falls, $750. The Thief River Falls Times asserts that Lady Bruce has established one of the greatest records for a Guernsey in the world, and properly gives her a detailed first-page story with a three-column head, to show that old Pennington is a real dairy country.

CREAM PRODUCTION KEEPS UP WELL IN VICINITY FOR MAY

Nearly $20,000 Paid to Creamery Patrons in May—22,000 lbs. Butter Last Week

Altho the price of butterfat during May was below that of previous months, the Thief River Falls Co-operative creamery nevertheless paid out to its patrons during that period a total of $19,051.22, according to a report submitted by Secretary Thos. H. Bjerke. Of this amount nearly $14,000 was paid to monthly patrons and the remainder in cash at the creamery here and at stations maintained at other points.

In spite of unfavorable weather conditions for pasture growth the month of May held its own in volume of cream produced, this year's production exceeding that of last year during every month so far.

This month cream production in the community has picked up a great deal, recent rains and warmer weather having improved the pastures greatly. Last week 22,000 pounds of butter was manufactured at the local plant, says Harold Olson, operator, adding that this week's output will perhaps even exceed that.

The price paid for butterfat during the month average nearly 40 cents a pound, as more than two-thirds of the cream brought to the creamery here was sweet.

Every dairyman in the community should read carefully the advertisement inserted by the local creamery association in this issue of The Times. It gives many good pointers as to the proper care of cows and cream on the farm.

Begin Laying Brick

Workmen on Tuesday started laying bricks for the new 40 by 80 foot warehouse being built near the Soo depot by the Peterson-Biddick Produce company. A large crew has been employed by Contractor C. M. SIMLEY TO ATTEND NATIONAL MEETING

Delegate to National Educational Association Convention in Washington, D. C.

I. T. Simley, superintendent of the Thief River Falls schools, left last night for Minneapolis from where he leaves today for Washington, D. C., to attend the annual convention of the National Educational association which is held June 28 to July 4. This will be the sixty-second convention of the association and is the first one to be held in Washington since 1898. Supt. Simley is a delegate from the northwestern division of the Minnesota association.

It is the most important meeting of educators in the entire country and will be attended by school men and women from all parts of the United States as officials and representatives of the association. There will be quite a large delegation from Minnesota.

Following the convention Mr. Simley will take a course in education at Columbia university, where he studied last year also.

Mr. Simley is among the progressive educators who believes in broadening his education from time to time in order to become even more efficient in the execution of his duties as head of this city's educational system. The training given at the Columbia university is the best that can be obtained in the country and affords the best possible opportunity for educators to extend their training. Mr. Simley is regarded as one of the leading schoolmen in this section, which is evidenced by his selection as a delegate to the national convention.

Auto License Inspector Makes Official Call Here

H. J. Cater of St. Cloud, representing the Minnesota State Highway department, was a visitor in Thief River Falls and surrounding community last week for the purpose of checking up automobile owners violating the state regulations as to payment of motor vehicle tax.

Mr. Carter called attention to the fact that a number of Pennington county auto owners are driving their cars with but one license plate displayed. Should the car owner lose one plate or both, he can obtain a new set of duplicate plates by sending $2.00 to the secretary of state. If but one plate is lost the law requires that the remaining plate be returned.

The Minnesota laws with regards to license plates and highway regulations will be found stringent by those who become subject to action by the department. Sheriff O. L. Ihle and County Engineer B. F. Umland are also active in checking up motorists.

DAM PROPERTY WILL BE SOLD OWNERS ASSERT

City Council Advised That Immediate Action is Necessary To Secure Dam

MEETING OF TAXPAYERS FOR DISCUSSION TONIGHT

Paving of Alley Will Also be Considered at Mass Meeting Of Citizens

Efforts are being made by the members of the city council to secure a large attendance of tax payers at a meeting this evening to discuss the purchase of the power dam, an additional unit at the electric light plant, the paving of the alley between the Larson Furniture company and the McFarland Auto company, and other public improvements in connection with the city's affairs that might arise.

This step was determined upon at the regular meeting of the council on Tuesday night when they came before the aldermen in the regular course of business, but who did not feel they should go ahead with these improvements which would entail large expenditures.

W. A. Schreiter of Red Lake Falls appeared before the council to advise them that he had three parties who wished to consider purchase of the local dam and that to one of them he had given an option, subject to a prior option to this city, which would expire Saturday of this week.

Chairman Martin Evenson stated that the matter would have to be put to a vote of the people as it would necessitate, he believed, a bond issue, the case not being like that of the paving. City Attorney H. O. Chommie, when asked by Alderman Oscar Paulson, whether the city coulcil could not buy the dam, issuing city warrants payable out of the electric light fund, which is credited with a surplus of nearly $200,000, stated that the council could do so if there was cash available. The interests owning the dam are willing to take about $15,000 in cash and $25,000 in warrants which they would hold till they could be cashed.

However, the council believed it best to let the taxpayers have a chance to express their opinions and the meeting is called for tonight.

The paving of the alley mentioned above came before the council when Francis Burns, representing the McFarland Auto company said it would be an imposition to pave the alley; that his company was a heavy tax payer and would have 150 feet frontage on the alley to pay for, or one quarter of the entire project.

Chairman Martin Evenson fearing that the city might have to bear the expense of the paving if some property owners permitted taxes to go unpaid and the property was sold for taxes, suggested leaving the matter open for discussion tonight.

To Attend Elks Convention

The Thief River Falls lodge of the B. P. O. Elks will be represented at Boston at the Elks convention July 7th by G. W. Connell. Mr. Connell and family leave Friday for Luverne where Mrs. Connell and the children will visit with relatives. Kelly in New York with whom he will also visit. They expect to return about the 20th of July.

Takes River Guage

Prof. E. F. Channer of the University of North Dakota, representative of the United States Drainage Commission in Northwestern Minnesota, was in the city from Grand Forks last week to take water records of the Red Lake river. Records were also taken at Crookston and of the Roseau river at Roseau. Prof. Channer declared that there is considerably more water flowing in the Red Lake river here at present than normally on account of the recent rains within the territory of its basin.

Miss Gorder As Superintendent

Miss Alma Gorder of Enderlin, N. D., has assumed duties at the Physician's hospital as superintendent, Miss Esther Stebbins having tendered her resignation. Miss Gorder graduated from the Deaconess Hospital at Fargo a few years ago and has been engaged as a nurse in the general hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, for some time. She comes well recommended and very capable of caring for the duties as superintendent. Miss Stebbins will spend the summer at her parental home in this city.

Local Men Attend Meeting of Wheat Assn. Directors

Red Lake Road Expected To Be Finished This Week

The work on the road to Red Lake by way of Thorhult will be completed this week, according to reports, and the route which has heretofore been almost impassable will soon be in pretty good shape, say those who are familiar with the progress made so far. Trips to the lakes are now the order of the day and with a good road to the narrows of Red Lake it goes without saying that many will visit that place in the course of the summer months.

With the organization of a resort corporation to develop the location one of the most popular playgrounds of Minnesota is assured. Organization work has been practically completed and lots on the leased tract will soon be sold by the corporation, which is non-profit and merely for the purpose of securing the lease on 163 acres of land along the beach and for making the necessary improvements.

DEATH CLAIMS E. ZEH, PIONEER T. R. F. CITIZEN

Local Business Man Passes at Home Yesterday As Result of Relapse after Stroke

RESIDENT OF CITY FOR PAST 32 YEARS

First Board President of School District No. 18—Head of Park Board

Emil Ernest Zeh, prominent Thief River Falls business man and one of the city's earliest residents, died at his home at 208 Emil street, yesterday afternoon at 3:30, following a relapse from a stroke of paralysis which he suffered five weeks ago. He was confined to the Physicians hospital for a week and a half and seemed to be improving but a week or more ago he began to sink rapidly, and his sudden death came as a severe shock to his many friends.

Mr. Zeh was born in Minneapolis Oct. 31, 1866. For a number of years he lived there and received his early schooling in that city. His father died when he was a boy and for some time he made his home with his mother. He also lived at Faribault for a few years and later at Duluth. About 32 years ago he came to this city and was employed in several of the grocery stores here at that time.

December 1898 he married Miss Della Forder, who survives him. While working for a number of stores in this city, Mr. Zeh came in contact with George Curran and for a number of years were close associates. Seventeen years ago they organized as a firm. They operated a store at 207 on Third street for many years and later opened the store they were still operating, at 314 Third street.

Mr. Zeh was the first president of the school board in this city when the district was organized as an independent district. He has served the city as alderman and for some time was chief of the fire department. He has been known as an energetic, progressive and honest man of the finest moral principles. In his business ventures he has always enjoyed a friendly and large patronage.

He was a member of the local orders of the B. P. O. Elks, Masons, Odd Fellows, Modern Woodmen and U. C. T.

To survive his passing he leaves his wife, a son, Ernest, four sisters, Mrs. Charles Boughton, Sr., of Red Lake Falls, Mrs. Joseph Jerome of Battle River, Mrs. Riechel of California and Mrs. J. D. Scott of Stark, Mont, and three brothers, Philip Zeh of this city, and Fred and Adam Zeh of Missoula, Mont. His mother died 12 years ago, a daughter, Zella Zeh, died in 1920, and a brother, George, employed at the Pioneer Press in St. Paul, died last winter.

Funeral services will be held from the home this evening, with Rev. Charles Gerlinger reading the Episcopal burial rites and at seven o'clock the remains will be taken to Greenwood cemetery for interment.

MAYFIELD MAN TIRED OF LIFE KILLS HIMSELF

H. C. Jarr, 61, Farmer, Puts Everything in Order Before Shooting Self

BODY FOUND ON BED SEVERAL DAYS LATER

Makes Out Will and Leaves Letter to Neighbor Indicating Despondency

H. C. Jarr, aged 61, single, prominent Mayfield farmer and member of the town board, ended his life Sunday evening, June 15, by shooting himself in the head with a single shot 22 calibre rifle, after carefully closing all accounts and writing letters of farewell and last will and testament.

The body was not discovered until Friday morning when Gunder Asbjornson, a neighbor, came to his home to cash an order on the town of Mayfield, of which Mr. Jarr was treasurer. On receiving no answer to his knock on the door, he went to the stable where he found the four horses in a half starved condition. Returning to the house he found the door unlocked and entering he called to Mr. Jarr. He received no answer and on going to the only other room in the small shack, he found the man neatly dressed, lying at full length on the bed, lifeless, with the rifle still clutched in his hands.

Neighbors were immediately notified and Coroner Dr. H. W. Froehlich was summoned. On examination of the premises a neatly tied bundle containing the township records and two letters, one addressed to Michael O'Leary, a neighbor, and another to the town board were found. All his accounts were balanced in the methodical manner peculiar to the man. His personal property, horses and machinery, were to be sold and the money, above funeral expenses and a note on a Plummer bank for $100, dated May 24th, was to be given to the poor fund of the township. In another parcel, found a few days later, was the deed to the unencumbered farm, legally transferred to his sister, Mrs. Jud Townsend, East 1920 5th avenue, Spokane, Wash., and bearing the transferral date of May 24th, 1924.

Both letters contained a request that one of the four horses, an old mare, should be shot and not sold with the others, as he did not want her to work any more.

With both letters dated at Wednesday, June 11th, it was first thought that he had committed the act that evening but a number of the neighbors had visited his place Sunday and found him well then. On looking into his mail box it was noticed that all mail postmarked later than Saturday was still there, which indicated that he had not called for the mail Monday and which seemed to be evidence that he had killed himself Sunday evening or early Monday morning.

The only reason for the act given in the letters was that he "was tired of living." He was not in financial difficulty as far as is known. The town books were in perfect condition and he had even made out a check from his personal account to the town board for the funds in his custody as treasurer. All entries were made on the stubs of the check books found in a steel box, at the foot of the bed on which he lay, and which contained $29.55 in cash. The letter to the town board empowered that body to conduct all legal matters that might come up, but everything was so well attended to that little is left to be done. He also asked that body to bury his remains.

The deceased came to Mayfield about the year 1905, when he homesteaded the farm he has lived on since. As far as is known he came from Norman county but no more of his past was ever revealed to any of his friends. He was an unusually well informed man and was the chief counsel of the neighborhood. He had a broad knowledge of law and it is thought that at one time he was admitted to the bar as a practising attorney.

He did very little work with his farm and spent a great deal of time reading. Shelves in his shack contained volumes of books that would be expected to be found on the shelves of a college professor. The letters were written in a clear, concise, and free manner and would not lead one to believe the man was a mediocre mentality. Ever since the organization of the township he has been an officer of the board and his advice was always accepted as being dependable.

Neighbors state that the only reason that they can believe he had for the act, is despondency over ill health, as he had complained on a few occasions of stomach trouble, or brooding over some past event.

Burial took place from the Mayfield church Saturday afternoon, Rev. Cleveland officiating at the obsequies.

Brage Members Leave to Take Part in Sangerfest

Eight members of the Brage Male chorus, popular musical organization of this city under the direction of Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, will be in attendance at the great "sangerfest" to be held by the Norwegian Singers association of America in St. Paul Friday, Saturday and Sunday. They will take part in concerts at the St. Paul auditorium Friday and Saturday nights, the Red River Valley association, of which Brage is a member, being on the program in a special number in the first concert. About 1000 singers will participate in the joint concerts and approximately 5000 delegates and visitors are expected.

NO CELEBRATION HERE

There will be no formal celebration of the Fourth of July in Thief River Falls this year, it being apparantly decided to allow smaller communities in the neighborhood to stage their celebrations without doing anything to to attract people to this city.

At Middle River the American Legion post is sponsoring a celebration with the usual sports and speaking program. Arrangements for appropriate celebrations are also being made at Newfolden under Legion auspices.

The Telemarken Ladies Aid will sponsor a celebration at the R. M. Johnson farm at Kratka, 15½ miles east of the city. A program of speeches and music is being arranged in addition to the usual sports.

MAGNUS JOHNSON TO HEAD SPEAKING PROGRAM AT FAIR HERE

Minnesota Senator Will Appear at Pennington Exhibition On August 9

Magnus Johnson, Minnesota's dirt-farmer senator who was re-nominated for that office in the primary June 16 on the Farmer-Labor ticket, has been secured as the principal speaker on the closing day of the Pennington county fair on Saturday afternoon, August 9. The 23rd annual exhibition here will be held August 7, 8 and 9, and judging by scheduled attractions, will be the best ever staged by the local agricultural society.

Johnson's appearance here will be of particular interest as it will be at a time shortly before the final fall election, and it is expected that thousands will be at the fair grounds to hear him.

Yesterday Senator Johnson spoke at the annual picnic of the federated Farmers' clubs of Marshall county at Menzell's grove, three miles east of Argyle.

Distribution of the premium lists was started by Secretary J. J. McCann last week, copies being sent to interested persons in various parts of the county and valley.

The book contains a complete description of all prizes to be offered, and describes the various free attractions that will be shown at the fair The management has been fortunate in booking one of the best free act expositions on the road, which includes horse races, auto polo, auto push ball, steeple chase races, chariot races, pony push ball and running races.

Officers of the fair association are: Herbert Fuller, president; S. E. Hunt, first vice president; John Cronkhite, second vice president; J. J. McCann, secretary; and Albert Lonson, treasurer. Following are the superintendents: Fred Beerbower, livestock; V. C. Noper, grounds; Dr. H. W. Froehlich, schools; Emil Griebstein, poultry; S. E. Hunt, agriculture and club work; Roy Lambert, programs; Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, woman's department.

LONSON SECRETARY OF LOAN COMMITTEE

Few Applications For Livestock Loans From Credit Corporation Received

Albert Lonson, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants State bank, has accepted the job as secretary of the recently organized Pennington county committee to assist farmers in this community in securing livestock loans from the Agricultural Credit corporation. The local committee is composed of County Agent J. J. McCann, appointed by the corporation, Math Barzen, Sr., Waldie Christensen, Hans Anton and Morgan Vaughan.

But few applications for loans have been received so far and farmers who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity to get money for 6 per cent interest to buy livestock should apply to the committee at once. After being approved by the committee here the applications are sent to the corporation, the granting of loans resting entirely with its officials.

According to the corporation's plan of payment the borrower pays only 10 per cent of the loan the first year, 20 per cent the second year, 30 per cent the third year and 40 per cent the fourth year, with only 6 per cent interest rate. Security is taken on the cattle purchased. Each individual is limited to a loan of $1,000, in order to give a large number of farmers thruout the northwest opportunity to share in the million dollars to be used for livestock loans.

Complete information regarding making the application may be secured from Secretary Lonson, who urges that this be done soon.

Efforts are now being put forth to perfect the organization of a unit in the Thief River Valley with headquarters in Thief River Falls, Mr. McPheeter's duties will consist principally of executive supervision of the organization and the direction of marketing eggs.

High school graduates never understand what commencement means until they commence to look for a job.

STABILIZATION OF GRAIN PRICE ASKED AT MEET

Gathering in This City Monday Calls For Continuance in Fight for Legislation

TO SEND DELEGATES TO ST. PAUL MEETING

Organization Of County and State Units for Concerted Demands Favored

The Price Stabilization meeting held in the court house here on Monday afternoon was well attended. Practically every township in Pennington county had representatives as did also some of the Marshall county townships located near Thief River Falls. J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, who has been active in the fight for the McNary-Haugen bill, was scheduled to address the meeting but was unable to be here.

The meeting seemed to be one upon the proposition of keeping up the fight on the matter of price stabilizing and arrangements were made to send delegates to the general convention which will be held in St. Paul the latter part of July. Many of the farmers expressed their opinion that this was a fight to the finish between the producers and the grain exchanges and the market exchanges of the world and that the only practical remedy was through political action. It was a general belief that the idea of the government intervening on behalf of the farmers in the matter of prices should be spread to every agricultural district asking that only those be returned to Congress who would be favorable to laws of this kind. It is very evident that the farmers are practically unanimous upon this question and it is only a matter of organizing and spreading the propaganda that now confronts them and by so doing Congress will be compelled to provide relief in the near future.

The meeting adopted an appropriate resolution which is as follows:

"We do hereby assert our faith in the necessity of congressional action in order that the agriculture of America may be protected in the matter of prices on farm products, and be relieved from the impossible handicap of being ruled by the powerful grain exchanges of the world.

That we approve of the action of those members of Congress who worked for and supported legislation along the line of the Norris-Sinclair and McNary-Haugen bills and assert, that the farmers of the United States should return to Congress only such men as will pledge themselves to support like measures.

That the question of Price Stabilization on Farm Products has become a national issue, therefore we shoud so organize as to make all people understand the necessity of Agricultural relief, and insist that the farmer shall no longer be compelled to accept for his products prices dependent upon the fight between the bulls and bears in the market.

We believe that we should create both State and National Organizations to carry out our program, and assist with all our influence and power to see that the next Congress does not fail in the important matter of the protection on prices of agricultural commodities.

We urge that every county in the State of Minnesota organize to the end that our demands may become known and influence so spread that the next Congress will give us the relief we so much need and which is absolutely necessary in order that agriculture may survive."

The crops in Pennington county and surrounding territory are looking exceptionally promising this year, a fact which is impressed upon anyone taking a drive thru the country and viewing the fields. They look particularly healthy at this time with indications of a bumper crop, barring unfavorable weather the rest of the season.

Rye fields are looking very good, with that crop heading out very nicely. Other small grains are also in excellent condition, but corn has been somewhat retarded by the cool weather. Weather conditions seem to have been ideal so far for the sugar beet crop, County Agent McCann stating that it looks the best ever.

Hay meadows and pastures were delayed for a time by the cool weather but recent rains and more heat has brought them forward astonishingly fast. Present indications are that there will be plenty of hay for Pennington's many dairy cows during the coming year.

With a bright outlook for a good crop this year a more optimistic spirit among the farmers and community in general is evidenced.

It is often felt that there is reason to grumble and complain, but as for that—it doesn't help. The person who is down-hearted and thinks that everything is all wrong never gets anywhere, while he who goes ahead with the idea of getting the best out of life and is satisfied with that, usually gets his share.

The booster is an asset to the community; the knocker a liability.

The Minneapolis Journal makes the following statement regarding sugar beet culture in Minnesota:

The expansion of the beet sugar industry that now impends in Minnesota is all to the good. It means a new and profitable crop for many of our farmers. It means the improvement of the soil wherever beets are raised. It means a notable addition to the industrial resources of the state. It means the increased production of another great food staple in a state already at the fore in the production of bread and butter.

Beet culture, however, requires a more intensive sort of farming than grain or other root crops. Those who go in for it must be prepared to give their growing beets careful attention. On the other hand, they will be assured of large crops and high prices for their product. And for the "over-wheated" land, infested with weeds, beets is a great cleaner.

Minnesota offers the best of soils and climates for beet raising, as has been thoroly demonstrated by the success of the Chaska mill with its contributory territory. The fact that more mills are to be built in other convenient centers shows this. The ground, we may be sure, has been carefully surveyed for the new centures.

Popularity of the "gas tax" in 36 states is bringing predictions that within a few years it will be effected in practically every state in the union, says a Minnesota highway bulletin this week. The tax is popular, it is explained, because it is "painless," being collected in small sums on exactly the quantities of gasoline put into the car tank at the filling stations.

Minnesota is expected to join the ranks of the gas tax states because of the extra revenue the levy will take from the thousands of tourists using the roads in the state of ten thousand lakes. Accordingly, car and truck owners are expected to support the gas tax amendment at the November election to make sure that gas tax money is used on the roads instead of state general expenses.

The average rate of gas taxes in the 36 states collecting it is slightly over two cents a gallon, ranging from one to four cents.

It is apparent that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction with the present system of securing revenue for the building of roads.

Again Thief River Falls and Pennington county escaped ravaging storms. While the southern part of the state and other parts of the country were visited by tornadoes and excessive rains the past week, this community has enjoyed a decidedly favorable weather, with moderate temperature, no windstorms and moderate rains.

Altho it has been somewhat cooler than usual the residents of this locality surely have no reason to kick about the weather. Nevertheless, some people do.

The Duluth Herald says that in that city "they complain from force of habit. They complain because they are hypnotized by an obsession. And sometimes, it is to be feared, they complain from lack of any more interesting topic to talk about."

This section of the state has a wonderful climate and we ought to brag about it instead of complaining and finding fault.

Montgomery Ward, the great mail order house, finds its selling cost to be approximately eight per cent. Local merchants who complain of the invasion of the mail order man and want the publisher to fight their battles should bear these figures in mind. If the local stores would spend five per cent of their income on advertising in their local newspapers the mail order man would soon be put to rout, but there are too many shopkeepers and too few merchants in the small towns. Even today many of the local storekeepers have not realized that advertising is a recognized part of overhead, like rent, light and help.—Bemidji Sentinel.

"If business would only get as dull as the pessimists expect it to be, everybody could then give more attention to politics," says the Little Falls Daily Transcript. "The late primaries indicated that many were too busy to vote."

Republicans in the sixth congressional district showed their confidence in Harold Knutson by nominating him for re-election to a seat in congress by a two-to-one vote.

HEALTH TEACHING

Health teaching must begin in the public schools, a speaker told the National Tuberculosis convention, but it has to be carried on in the home and parents have to be entirely in sympathy with the program before the schools can accomplish much, influential as they are.

Children's habits are formed at home before they become of school age. If they are not required by their parents to take baths as frequently as they should, to cleanse their teeth and take care of their body properly, no amount of teaching will accomplish that which is desired.

Once upon a time a school teacher sent the parents of a particularly unclean child a note asking that he be sent to school clean. The teacher received the following reply:

"Willie ain't no rose. Learn him, don't smell him."

Teachers can accomplish little in the modern health crusade in the public schools when parents take this attitude.

Though the campaign for the McNary-Haugen bill did not result in the passage of the measure, it has been well worth while, says the Crookston Times in commenting upon its defeat in Congress recently.

For one thing it has brought a more intense study and better general knowledge of the problems of marketing and of the facts connected with the making of prices.

Another thing accomplished is to bring the farmers in all parts of the country together for once in support of a definite proposition. This may be followed by other unified efforts that in time will destroy some of the special privileges that have been built up by law for the benefit of certain groups, and the cost of which falls mainly on the farmer.

This is but the first battle for a square deal for agriculture, and we came surprisingly near to winning it.

We can expect nothing from the industrial East or the Democratic South, in the way of legislation in behalf of agriculture in the Northwest, according to C. G. Selvig who spoke here last Thursday. He declared that the fight for a measure protecting the agricultural interests as well as other industries will be continued with renewed spirit and that prospects for the enactment of something worth while are fairly good.

Mr. Selvig pointed out that the farmer must diagnose his own case and then demand resonable and fair legislation when possible, as well as follow the lines of farming which are the most profitable. His strong endorsement of the co-operative marketing movement should encourage persons interested in the various units organized in this locality the most important of which are the creamery, poultry, potato and wheat associations. The farm school superintendent stated that co-operative marketing is one means by which the farmer will get a fair return for his products by a certain control of the market. Under the present system the farmer is absolutely helpless when it comes to marketing, Mr. Selvig said.

It would seem that the Minnesota representatives from the Duluth and Minneapolis districts will have a hard time to explain to the people of this state why they helped defeat the McNary-Haugen measure, backed solidly by the farmers of the entire Northwest.

Minnesota citizens did the right thing when a group of interested persons erected a memorial to Wendelin Grimm, once an obscure German immigrant, who, locating in Carver county in 1857, there developed from a small quantity of seed brought by him from Baden, Germany, that hardy variety of alfalfa which now bears his name. The monument stands near the farm where Grimm first planted his alfalfa.

The people of this state can well be grateful for what this man did to establish alfalfa as one of the leading forage crops. It is to be remembered that a carload of pure Grimm seed was distributed in this county last winter, besides smaller quantities purchased by individuals from local growers, dealers and seed houses.

Between 85,000 and 100,000 additional acres will be planted to alfalfa this year, according to county agents and other representatives of the university extension service. In 1920 there were but 47,300 acres of alfalfa in the state, while last year there were 111,000 acres.

Many states now have a gasoline tax and Minnesota motorists passing through those states contribute to their good roads. It is time that tourists from other climes were helping Minnesota pay for the highways these travelers use. The state now has power to impose a gasoline tax and and no doubt will do so, but the funds so collected will go into the general state fund instead of the road fund unless the constitutional amendment to be voted on this fall is carried.—Little Falls Daily Transcript.

Says the Northfield News anent the Minnesota primary law: "With half a dozen candidates for the same office splitting up the vote, a primary election is a pure lottery. Why should the state encourage the gambling instinct in this way? Drawing lots would be as fair, cost less money, save the apathetic voter considerable worry, and perhaps produce as good results."

President Coolidge says we as a people have lost our ideals, which is something that can't be found by inserting an ad. in the classified columns of the newspaper.

Drivers who try to get as much speed out of an automobile as the dealer claims for it are the kind that make the roads unsafe.

"Minnesota might as well get reconciled to six more years of Magnus Johnson," says the Northfield News in looking over the election returns.

The pioneers may have had their troubles, but they never had to mow grass with a dull lawnmower.

THE LOGICAL MEDIUM

Live merchants advertise because they want the people to know about the goods they have for sale, especially when bargains are offered.

People read the advertisements because they want to know what they can buy to best advantage, and this can be determined only by knowing what the merchants have to offer.

The local paper is the logical medium between buyer and seller. It is the means whereby the merchant talks to his customers. He can't call on them individually, so he speaks to them collectively.

The one should use it and the other should read it.

The election of one or more members of each of the district school boards in Minnesota will take place July 19. So much of the success especially of the small rural school depends on the board that the people of the district need to be very careful in selecting it. One unworthy member may so interfere with the school that it will be almost worthless for a number of years. A great deal has been written and said about just what kind of person makes a good board member. Certainly the usual characteristics of a good citizen such as honesty, fairness, kindness, and public spirit are necessary. There is the teacher to be selected. The board needs to know where to go or to whom to write in order to find teachers, what personal qualities make for successful class-room work, and what salary must be offered to secure a competent teacher. The board ought to know how to attend to the affairs of the district in a business-like way. This means that it will be able to make up a budget, know how much money there is for the year, where the money comes from, how it should be spent, and will keep careful accounts. Moreover, school trustees should be men and women wise enough to leave professional teaching matters to the teacher. Finally they must be the kind of folk that the children of the community can respect.

Indifference of the American voter presents a problem of unusual magnitude at present because figures from non-partisan sources show approximately one half of the voters fail to perform this very important civic duty. It has been estimated from reliable sources that for every 100 votes cast for president in 1920, there were 96 stay-at-homes, or absentees. These figures are astounding and almost unbelievable but returns from the election districts prove this condition to be true. It is said that it is not a characteristic of any particular section. Campaign managers will insist upon energetic missionary tactics this year.

This is a condition which causes grave concern to all friends of good government. Those who consistently refuse to exercise their right of franchise should be debarred from citizenship.

DAVIS WANTS RECOUNT

Tom Davis, candidate for governor in the Farmer-Labor primary, last week, who in the face of unofficial returns, was defeated by Floyd B. Olson, by 248 votes, took preliminary steps to obtain a court order granting a re-count of votes.

"I am confident I am nominated and am going to have a look at those ballots," Mr. Davis declared.

He said his plans provide for filing an application for the recount immediately after the official state canvass of votes was completed yesterday.

Minnesota Leads In The Number of Co-operatives

More than 45 per cent of the 10,160 farmers' business organizations reporting to the United States Department of Agriculture up to April 1 are in the seven West North Central states including Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, and more than 8 per cent are in the three Pacific Coast states.

Minnesota leads in number of associations, 1,330 organizations being reported from this state. Other states with numerous farmers' business organizations are Iowa, with 1,039; Wisconsin 879; Illinois 640; and Nebraska 477. Seven hundred and seventeen co-operatives are engaged in retailing. These are mostly stores and a large percentage of them are located in the following states: Minnesota 86; Nebraska 86; Iowa 84; Kansas 68; Wisconsin 49.

Thief River Falls has a co-operative store, a co-operative elevator, co-operative creamery and is the headquarters for a district poultry marketing association and the state wheat grower's organization.

Ten Good Commandments

1. Drive on the right side of the road; it's just as good as the left.
2. Slow down when approaching a cross road; it is nearly as dangerous as a railroad crossing.
3. Look out for children. You can never tell what they will do, and you are always in the wrong if you hit one.
4. Try to help instead of hindering the traffic officer; he is there for your good and he's got a tough job.
5. Be sure that your lights are not defective or glaring; it's no joke driving into a blinding glare, as you yourself know.
6. Read and obey the warning signs; they are not put up as ornaments.
7. If you've got to speed—do it where it won't kill anybody but yourself.
8. When making minor repairs get all wheels off the pavement and stop where your car may be seen from both directions; otherwise you may stop longer than you anticipate.
9. Speeding around corners is a straight route to the hospital. Don't race past a stopped car. Some day the jury will call it manslaughter.
10. Use discretion. The fact that you had the right of way won't bring anybody back to life, least of all yourself.—New Hampshire Highways.

A Willing Victim

The wife of a certain fiery army officer, during her husband's frequent absence from home with his regiment, was in the habit of spending much of her time with friends, being invariably accompanied on such visits by her only son, a small boy of five.

One day at tea, during one of these visits, the little fellow, having already partaken of a huge meal, asked for "just one more cake," a request which was peremptorily refused by his mother, who at the same time reproved him for his gluttony.

After a short silence, he repeated his plea for something more to eat, whereupon his mother leaned over and assured him in a whisper that he would most certainly burst if he dared consume another morsel!

"All right, mother," replied the little fellow, "please pass me another jam tart and stand clear."

Gas Tax Amendment Will Only Assure Levy To Be Put Into Good Roads Use

Times readers wishing all automobile tax revenue used for road improvements will vote 'yes' on the gas tax amendment next November.

Under a ruling by Attorney General C. L. Hilton, the legislature now can impose a tax on gasoline but the receipts must go into the general state expense fund. The only effect of the gas tax amendment, it is explained, will be put into the state road fund the income from any gas tax that may be levied.

All other details are for the legislature to determine, says a paragraph in the current highway bulletin following many inquiries about the gas tax proposal. The legislature has full authority to levy taxes on motor vehicles and on gasoline sales as well and to fix all rates, it continues. It has power to revise present rates either upward or downward. About the only power it lacks in this instance is that to place any gas tax collections in the highway fund.

That deficiency will be supplied by the votes of nearly 500,000 car and truck owners at the November election, their representatives assert, because auto owners will insist that auto and like taxes be used only to improve roads. They hold they are entitled to have their taxes expended for better highways which afford them tangible and direct results.

Automobile club officials forsee a strong probability that a gas tax will be voted in the legislature regardless of the outcome of the referendum. This is because 36 states report it popular and because it will take from auto tourists from other states upwards of half a million dollars annually to swell Minnesota road funds. It is generally agreed also that the rate will be 2 cents a gallon, the average in other states being slightly higher.

The question of making the gas tax an additional highway levy or offsetting it with a reduction in the auto taxes may occasion a fight between the faction clamoring for lower taxes all down the line and those who contend that average trunk highway users can profit every year by paying more taxes on their cars and trucks. However, the bulletin states, that also will be for the legislature to decide.

One thing a girl can't understand is how the stranger driving the big car can be wicked when he is so handsome.

Birds' Eye View of Thief River Falls Community Impresses Many

Quite a number of Thief River Falls citizens viewed the city and surrounding country "from above" last Saturday evening and Sunday, when C. R. Rhodes, W. C. Long and O. Ringnel of the Dispatch Flying Circus, St. Paul, took up passengers for so much per in a large four-passenger airplane. Those who went up are very enthusiastic about the sensation of riding in the air, many of them experiencing this mode of travel for the first time. No one has been reported having been subject to any ill effects as a result of the flights, and some even complain that the trip didn't give them as much of a thrill as they expected.

However, all who had this opportunity to "look down" upon Thief River Falls are unanimous in their high praise of the appearance of the city as a hole. It is perfectly laid out and has an ideal location in every respect, a fact with which one is more impressed by getting a bird's-eye view than merely traveling on its surface.

The well arranged streets, lined with beautiful rows of trees, shining river winding its way thru the city surrounded by natural groves and thickets, and a community dotted with well built up farm homes and fields presents an imposing picture to the eye of the airplane passenger.

Coming down there were those who declared that the Thief River Falls community must be the most conveniently arranged and beautiful part of the whole country—they simply could not imagine anything better. "It surely looks like an ideal spot," one citizen exclaimed.

Landings were made on Noper's farm west of the city.

Service to Society

FUNDAMENTALLY, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a service organization. Directors, employes, and shareholders are moved by one ambition—to make this Company great in its ability to serve the community.

It was the furtherance of this ambition which caused the Management to take steps to secure a wide distribution of shares in this Company. To do this it was necessary to get the price per share down to a point where investors of moderate means would find the stock attractive. This was accomplished by distributing the working surplus among the shareholders, as a stock dividend, and reducing the par value from $100 to $25.

Today the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is owned by 46,016 shareholders—12,135 of whom are employes; and 13,253 are women—no single shareholder owns as much as 6% of the total stock and the price per share at this writing is $57.00.

Among the larger shareholders are many educational and philanthropic institutions who depend upon the dividends derived from their holding in this Company to carry on certain phases of their work.

For example, we cite the Rockefeller Foundation and the General Educational Board whose activities extend to all parts of the world, bettering the living conditions for millions, lessening the burdens of the afflicted, enlightening the youth, and expanding the educational facilities of the world.

The service rendered to society by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is of a broad and varied nature. Not only does it supply the thirty million people of ten Middle Western states with petroleum products of superior quality in such a way as to have gained their confidence, respect and esteem, but the profits accruing to the shareholders from the operations of this Company are used in large part for the welfare of all the people and to make the world a better place in which to live.

FARMER-LABOR VOTE LEADS IN PRIMARY 3 TO 1 OVER G. O. P.

Light Vote of 2,035 Cast in Pennington County—F.-L. Leads in Every Precinct

Farmer-Labor votes cast in Pennington county in the recent primary election number more than three times the Republican votes, according to the official returns submitted to the secretary of state by Auditor T. P. Anderson after the count had been made by the canvassing board, consisting of the chairman of the county board, clerk of court, auditor and two justices of peace, the last named being Tobias Stene and P. Engelstad.

The total number of ballots cast in the county was 2,035, of which 1,578 were Farmer-Labor and only 457 Republican. This is a very light vote compared to the general election in 1922 when Magnus Johnson Farmer-Labor candidate for the U. S. senate, alone received 2,814 votes, while Gov. J. A. O. Preus, Republican candidate got 1,163. Johnson's vote that year exceeded the total vote in the county this year by 779. The number of ballots without party designation in the election last week is given as 2,016.

In the city of Thief River Falls 477 voted the Farmer-Labor ballot while 283 voted Republican, the former leading in every precinct in the entire county.

Three townships, Highlanding, Reiner and Numedal did not record a single Republican vote, while Hickory, Polk Centre and Star each report one.

Following are the official figures for the three candidates in the Fourth commissioner district:

More Babies Born in Hospitals Now

Seeking out the birthplace of Americans is a practice destined to disappear, according to the present trend of birth statistics. Figures gathered by physicians and health agencies show that the percentage of babies born at home is steadily falling off, with a corresponding increase in birth at maternity hospitals. In many communities throughout the United States, it was said at the recent convention of the American College of Surgeons, more than a quarter of the children are hospital-born. In certain localities the figure is as high as 75 per cent.

The New York Nursery and Child's hospital, 161 West Sixty-first street, has completed a survey of facilities for maternity service on the upper West side, in which it was found that an increasing number of women are having their babies at the hospital. John R. Howard, Jr., superintendent, pointed out that while only 31 ward cases of every 100 attended by the hospital's physicians in 1916 were handled at the hospital, the number today is 57 out of every 100.

Eyes Are Really Windows of Brain

We see with our brains as much as with our eyes, and the fundamental problem of how to see is as much psychological as physical, Dr. Leonard T. Troland of Harvard university told members of the Optical Society of America in his presidential address at the annual meeting of the society held in Cleveland.

"Vision may be separated into a series of events," Doctor Troland said, "the first of which lies outside the observer and consists in the emission and reflection of light by objects. Next is the stimulation of the retina by the light which has passed through the pupil of the eye. This is physiological and the process continues in the currents which pass up the optic nerves to the brain. The final phase is psychological, the appearance of the object as a perception in the observer's consciousness."

The essential thing in seeing is the brain, Doctor Troland emphasized, but of how it sees we know little.

His Nagging Wife

"There's no satisfyin' wimmen," bitterly complained Hank Smith to a fellow commuter. "Here's Marie—wife—naggin' me for months to let her have a maid. I gets her one and thinks everything'll be hunky for a bit. But is it?"

Smith snorted. "Now she wants new china, glass and furniture. Says she's ashamed before Olga, the maid, of all our old stuff. It's up to me to keep peace so I'm goin' to—"

"Fire the maid?"

Hank looked pityingly at his friend. "It's easy to see, Bill, you ain't a married man."—New York Sun.

English Queen Noted for Her Crocheting

As the First Lady in the Land in the United States is famed for her knitting, so England's queen is known for her crochet work. She recently completed six cot-covers for her Needlework guild, which has assembled 43,000 articles this year. The queen recently spent a couple of days at the galleries of the Imperial Institute, South Kensington, unpacking articles of clothing sent in. Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles, and the ladies of the executive committee assisted in the task of sorting and repacking the articles for distribution to the various charities.

Prominent on the queen's tables were many hand-knitted garments and also a large number of youths' boots marked "from the Canadian group." Three of the queen's cot-covers were pink and three blue. Royal gifts to her tables included money from the king and the prince of Wales, expended for shirts and underclothing for boys, a parcel of Shetland wool garments from the duke of York, knitted jumpers from the Princess Mary, socks from Prince George, gloves from Prince Henry, and blankets from Princess Victoria. Many women knit throughout the year, one sending annually no fewer than one hundred hand-knitted vests to the charity in which the queen is so interested.

Warns Against Using Galvanized Utensils

Galvanized iron utensils sometimes cause poisoning of those who drink liquids that have been stored in them, according to a warning issued by the bureau of chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture. In a recent instance of poisoning resulting, apparently, from the presence of zinc, 12 men at the Guam naval station had each drank a bottle of root beer and immediately began vomiting. Chemical examination of the contents of three of the bottles disclosed the presence of substantial quantities of zinc salts in each bottle. Experiments carried on by federal chemists with quantities of lemonade, orangeade, milk, carbonated water, Washington city tap water and distilled water held overnight in galvanized iron buckets proved that zinc contamination occurred in each case.—Scientific American.

Coal in Argentina

Newspaper dispatches from Cordoba, Argentine, assert that important discoveries of coal, petroleum and gold have been made in that province.

The coal is said to be equal to, if not better than, the best Cardiff product in burning qualities. If the deposits prove to be economically workable they will be a great boon to Argentine manufacturing industry which is at present handicapped by the high cost of imported fuel, resort often being had to wood brought down from the upper Parana valley.

The existence of petroleum deposits in Cordoba province has long been suspected, though most of the exploration of the Argentine field has so far been confined to regions farther south. The gold discovered was in alluvial deposits, nuggets weighing as much as thirty-one grams having been found.—Detroit News.

Accommodating

Two ladies got inside an omnibus. Owing to the fact that it was raining very hard the vehicle was rather crowded and they were unable to get seats.

Miss Mumps was a spinster and rather crochety on her legs, and so, when the bus gave several lurches, she thought it would be safer to hold on to something. Accordingly she grasped what she supposed to be her friend's hand.

After standing thus for a few minutes she looked down and, to her embarrassment, discovered that she was holding a strange man's hand.

"Oh," she gasped, blushing to think of her unmaidenly action, "I've got the wrong hand."

With a smile the man withdrew his hand and held out the other.

"All right, miss," he said, reassuringly, "here's the other one."

In Boston

"Why didn't you turn in a fire alarm?"

"I didn't know there was a fire," said the green cop.

"This lady claims she went out to notify you."

"She did say something about a conflagration."

"Marry 'Em Young; Treat 'Em Rough"—Johnson

When Boswell, at twenty-six, first met Johnson, the great man was in his fifty-fourth year and at the height of his fame, with the celebrated dictionary published eight years before and his pension recently conferred upon him. Therefore, about four-fifths of the "Life" are taken up with the last 21 years of Doctor Johnson's life. Archibald Marshall, the English author, has summed up the previous years swiftly and compactly in an introductory chapter.

It was in 1736 that Johnson married. There is in circulation today an admonition to the effect that the wise way in which to deal with women is to "marry 'em young; treat 'em rough; tell 'em nothing." Johnson did not marry his wife young, but he saw the wisdom of treating her rough at the beginning with the idea of curbing coquettish tendencies. She was a Mrs. Porter, a widow double the age of Johnson, yet despite her maturity, or possibly because of it, inclined to be skittish. Long after the wedding Johnson gave Boswell the following account of their journey to the church upon the nuptial morn:

"Sir, she had read the old romances and had got into her head the fantastical notion that a woman of fine spirit should use her lover like a dog. So, sir, at first she told me that I rode too fast and she could not keep up with me, and when I rode a little slower she passed me and complained that I lagged behind. I was not made to be the slave of caprice and I resolved to begin as I meant to end. I therefore pushed on briskly till I was fairly out of her sight. The road lay between two hedges, so I was sure she could not miss it, and I contrived that she soon should come up with me. When she did I observed her to be in tears."

Salmon Eggs Are Used To Lure Mountain Trout

Salmon eggs are another delicacy that the mountain, cutthroat, dolly varden and rainbow trouts of the western ranges are very partial toward.

This bait is fished in the swift and tumbling waters of the little mountain rivers of Idaho, Washington and Oregon to a large extent, as they are obtained in the vicinity of the great salmon canneries.

Used in connection with a small spinner or double spoon spinner these eggs are a deadly killer on the western trout. They are also great lures for the gray trout of the northern lakes.—Sportsmen's Digest.

Experimental Fur Farm

An experimental fur farm is being established in the northwestern part of New York state by the bureau of biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, in order that observations and studies may be made of the habits of fur-bearing animals and of the possibilities of growing them in captivity and producing fur of good quality. A similar farm, which has been operated by the bureau at Keesville, N. Y., will be discontinued as soon as the new one is ready. The new farm is located three and one-half miles from Saratoga Springs, N. Y., on the state highway to Corinth, and is more easily accessible than the old, both by automobile and by bus line. The tract comprises 20 acres, of which approximately 15 are covered by an excellent growth of timber, and will furnish an ideal situation for the desired purpose.

That Was Different

Little Jimmy was suffering from a childish ailment, and the doctor ordered some medicine in the form of powder. "Now then, Jimmy," said his fond mother, preparing to administer one of the powders in a teaspoon, "take this at once and you will soon be better."

But Jimmy was not so easily won over.

"No. I don't want to take it," he whined. "I don't like medicine, and I won't take it."

"Why, Jimmy," pleaded his mother gently, "you never heard me complain about a little powder, did you?"

"No, and nor would I," was the bright child's startling response, "if I could just put it on my face like you do, but I have to swallow it."

Roads Employ Many Men

There are 77,000 trolley car motormen employed in this country every day on the electric railways. It requires 63,000 conductors for their cars. Approximately 150,000 other men are employed on the tracks and in the shops and car houses of these electric railways.

The wages of this large group of men are derived from the receipts of the electric railways from fares paid by their passengers.

Recovered

Grand opera being under discussion, a Plunkville citizen was asked if he had even seen much of it. By way of reply he had this to say:

"Last year I saw an opera called 'La Boheme.' There was a girl in it named Mimi. She was the heroine, in fact. Along about the third act, when I had to leave, she was pretty sick. But she must be better now, because I see the opera will be back here next week."

PENNINGTON GETS $20,000 AID FROM STATE FOR ROADS

Less Wealthy Counties Benefit by Distribution of $2,000,000 State Road Aid

Pennington county is given $20,000 of state aid for use this year on its important county roads. It paid the state $5,186 in state road aid taxes.

Seventy-two counties will receive more than they paid in taxes under the state one mill general property levy and twelve about the amounts they paid in while St. Louis, Hennepin and Ramsey counties' allotments are only a fraction of their tax payments.

Collection under the state tax levy this year were placed at $1,980,000, and with $16,000 of internal improvement lands interest, $3,400 of Babcock cream testing license fees and $600 of U. S. government lands receipts, constitute the state aid total of $2,000,000 just allotted.

St. Louis, Hennepin and Ramsey counties pay under the law nearly $700,000 more than is refunded to them. The division of that average makes possible the payments to other counties of aid greatly in excess of their tax levies at the one-mill state rate.

The state road aid plan rests on the principle that the richer counties should contribute toward the improvement of public roads by counties with smaller assessed valuations. It is another way in which Minnesota highway laws favor and encourage road improvements in rural sections—promote "a good road to every farm gate."

Outsiders To Be Eliminated From Marshall County Fair

The Marshall county fair is going to be strictly a proposition for breeders of Marshall and adjoining counties, says the Warren Sheaf.

To give local breeders a chance to compete on a fair basis, officers of the fair board have ruled that no livestock outside of the counties can be shown. This ruling was made in the face of requests from many points in Iowa and Wisconsin to allow entries of stock from outstanding breeders.

"This section is new in the livestock breeding game and it would not be fair competition for the local breeders to allow the outsiders to come in and take all the prizes so we are closing them out all together," John Grindeland, secretary of the fair said. "Local breeders will take more interest in the fair when they know that they alone will be eligible to compete."

Professional show men are also being eliminated from other departments of the fair in an effort to give the amateur a chance to compete, Mr. Grindeland said.

Reasons For Variation In Cream Tests—

1—The temperature of milk when it is separated is one reason for variation. Cold milk will produce a richer cream than warm milk of the same percentage of butterfat. Separators do not separate cold milk as efficiently as warm milk therefore cold milk should not as a rule be separated.

2—Variation in the speed of cream separators is another reason for varying cream tests. The faster one speeds a separator the richer the cream. But it is always advisable to run separator at the speed indicated on the crank of the machine.

3—Another cause for cream test variation is the rate of inflow into the separator. This rate of inflow is regulated by keeping separator tank full.

4—The percentage of fat in the whole milk also will affect the cream test. The richer the milk the richer the cream. As the percentage of fat in night and morning milkings varies, the percentage of fat in cream from the night and morning milkings will vary. The cows may get too much salt on some days and on that account drink more water and produce more milk, but less butterfat.

5—Varying amounts of skimmed milk and water used for flushing the bowl also affects the percentage of fat in the cream. The more water or skimmilk used for flushing separator bowls the lower the test.

6—When a great quantity of milk is run thru a separator, often there is such a large slime deposit that it clogs or partly clogs the bowl; this causes the cream test to vary. When a separator gets in this condition the bowl should be taken down and washed.

7—A separator bowl that is not well balanced will produce a cream that does not test uniformly. A separator bowl should always be well balanced and run smoothly.

In order that a farmer may get a good price for his cream, it is necessary that he produce and deliver a "Number one grade" product. A great many factors must be considered in order to produce and deliver "Number one grade" cream. The following are the most important ones:

Caring For Cream on the Farm

1—Keep clean, healthy cows.
2—Milk in clean, sanitary quarters.
3—Use a covered milk pail.
4—Milk with clean, dry hands.
5—Remove milk from barn to milk house immediately after milking.
6—Separate milk as soon after it is drawn as possible.
7—Cool cream immediately after it is separated.
8—Never mix warm and cold cream.
9—Stir the cream with a metal ladle at least three times a day.
10—Keep cream can covered at all times.
11—Keep cream cool, but do not allow it to freeze.
12—Keep cream in a clean, sanitary place.
13—Wash, scald, and dry the separator and all utensils immediately after using them.
14—Keep all utensils and separator parts dry when not in use.
15—Keep cows away from potatoes, potato vines, wild onion weed, French weed, stink weed, etc.

Community Club of Holt Visits N. W. Aggie School

Crookston Times gives the following account of the Holt Community club's visit to the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, on June 18:

"With banners stating 'The Largest Co-operative Creamery in Marshall County' and other slogans, the Holt Community Club drove 62 miles Wednesday for their visit to the Northwest School. The Holt Community club is composed of the business men and farmers of the adjoining territory. According to the president, P. L. Anderson, the community boasts several achievements. During the past year, said Mr. Anderson, the local creamery increased the financial earnings 40 per cent and increased its volume 25 per cent. This, he said, is an indication of the growth of dairying and diversified farming thruout that section.

"New settlers are being attracted to Holt and every indication is at hand for a prosperous community. Another activity of the club has been the encouragement of the raising of alfalfa, which is showing a large increase this year. According to the secretary, Robert Lund of the Marshall County State bank, that bank advanced loans so that six new silos have recently been built. Other members of the group mentioned that at the Dairymen's convention in Crookston last fall Holt won third prize in point of attendance.

"The club spent the afternoon visiting the various experiments, being naturally interested in the feeding experiments, forage crops and the general work of the school and station."

Farmers clubs and other civic organizations thruout the valley are sponsoring visits to the agricultural experiment station, a great deal of interest being created and much benefit derived from the demonstrations and visiting the many experiment plots.

Seeding of Buckwheat Has Been Started; Outlook Good

The first of July is the proper time to sow buckwheat, says A. C. Arny of the farm crops division at University Farm. From one-half bushel to three pecks of seed per acre should be drilled on a well prepared seedbed.

Mr. Arny says the variety known as Japanese buckwheat is usually the best for Minnesota conditions; Silver Hull has also been grown successfully in the state.

Buckwheat makes a good feed for poultry and yields from small acreages can be used to good advantage in this way. When farmers of a given community can market and ship their buckwheat together in car lots it is often a fairly good paying cash crop.

The buckwheat acreage in Pennington county this year will be slightly over last year's according to County Agent J. J. McCann. Soil conditions are now very favorable for seeding this crop, a number of farmers in the vicinity having started. Many use it as a rotation crop in the eradication of sow thistles and other noxious weeds.

Peat Fuel Plant To Be Erected Near Bemidji

Construction of a peat drying plant, to be used for manufacturing peat into fuel, the plant to be located near Bemidji, will begin at once, it was announced at a meeting of stockholders last week, according to the Bemidji Sentinel. It was declared that sufficient money has been raised to guarantee the starting of work immediately.

The plant to be erected will use what is known as the dehydration process for drying the peat. This process has been patented by F. A. Plummer of Minneapolis, originator of the process used for drying milk.

The first equipment to be constructed will be dehydration unit which will be used for drying the peat. This unit will be built on the same plan as the drying plants used for the dehydration of milk. The drying unit comprises a large kiln into which the peat is sent after being macerated and there heated to a temperature of 300 degrees. The heat explodes the water cells of the peat and the steam is absorbed by hot air which is forced through the kiln. The result is that the peat is dried in a few minutes and is ready for the briquetting machine.

It is claimed by those promoting the proposition that the plant to be erected at Bemidji will have a capacity to manufacture at least 100 tons of peat fuel a day and that the cost of manufacture will not exceed $2.50 a ton. Several offers had been received from contractors to dig the peat for 10 cents a ton.

At the meeting it was pointed out that the success of the peat fuel manufacturing plant will mean the redemption of thousands of acres of land in Beltrami and other northern Minnesota counties, which at present are not listed as tax paying property.

Considerable interest in the development of peat fuel manufacturing has been manifested by local citizens but so far no one has taken any definite step to try the venture.

Atmospheric Conditions Warn of Foul Weather

Sometimes when the air is extraordinarily clear and distant objects are visible with unusual sharpness and sounds come from afar with startling distinctness, it is a warning of foul weather. Then it is

When the peacock loudly bawls
Soon we'll have both rain and squalls.

Under these atmospheric conditions the songs and cries of birds sound loud to the ear. The barking of dogs, the lowing of cattle, the whistles of locomotives, the honking of motor horns, come from far away, whence sounds are not commonly heard. To the eye the difference of visibility from the ordinary may be likened to the contrast between a view through a pane of ordinary window glass and that through one of plate glass. The reason is that during the occurrence of a warm southerly wind at a moderate height, a condition usually preceding a storm, a stratus cloud is likely to cut off the sun's heating from the ground and so prevent irregularities in heating and also to permit the surface air to remain cool. The result is a homogeneous lower atmosphere through which light and sound waves travel without local disturbance. The sound waves are further intensified at a distance from their source by a phenomenon very common on a quiet morning after a clear night when the air close to the surface is cooler than that a few hundred feet aloft. There is a concentration of the waves. In the warmer air at a moderate height the sound waves travel faster than in the lower colder air, so those that ascend are bent back to earth and combine with those that travel the normal straight course, thus intensifying the sound in the listener's ears.

Star Was Once Called Center of Universe

Alcyone, the brightest star of the Pleiades, equals in brightness the star Zeta. It was at one time fancifully pictured as the center of the universe by the astronomer Madler, but this was merely a speculation for which there is absolutely no foundation. The Pleiades form, in fact, a moving cluster of stars of 200 or more members, and its principal stars are associated with a nebula of vast size. There is no reason to believe that our sun with his family of planets is moving around this or any other center in the universe. It has been estimated that the distance of the Pleiades from the solar system is over 300 light years, or, in other words, that the light from this cluster takes over 300 years to travel to the earth. We see these stars today as they were before the Pilgrim fathers landed in America.—Nature Magazine.

No Smokeless Explosive

The geological survey says that there are no absolutely smokeless explosives. There is always a little vapor present even in compressed air. Smokeless powder is simply smokeweak powder giving very much less smoke than black gunpowder. Though smokelessness is the characteristic that has attracted attention to such powders, their superior power is important. While black gunpowder imparted to the projectile an initial velocity of 1,700 feet per second, initial velocities of over 3,000 foot-seconds have been attained with smokeless powders. This has compelled fighting modern battles in open order and at long range and has made necessary an increase in thickness and resistance in the armor of battleships.

Big Job

A clergyman, seeking to introduce some new hymn books, gave the clerk a notice after the sermon. The clerk had a notice of his own to give with reference to baptism of infants. At the close he announced: "All those who have children they wish baptized, please send in their names at once."

The clergyman, who was deaf, assuming that the clerk was giving his notice, arose and said: "And I want to say for the benefit of those who haven't any, that they may be obtained from me any day, between two and four o'clock, the ones with the red backs at 25 cents and the ordinary little ones at 15 cents."

Had Seen It Before

He took her hand in his and gazed proudly at the engagement ring he had placed on her finger only three days before.

"Did your friends admire it?" he inquired tenderly.

"They did more than that," she replied, coldly, "two of them recognized it."

Many War Vets Complete Courses At Minnesota U

Fifty-seven veterans, disabled in the World War, graduated from the University of Minnesota in June, having taken their courses at that institution under the guidance and supervision of the United States Veterans Bureau.

To show the diversity of training given by the Bureau one need only mention that these men completed courses in the following colleges of the university: Law, medicine, dentistry, education, business, chemistry, agriculture, forestry, structual, mechanical and electrical engineering.

Many of these graduates have been elected to membership in both regular and honorary fraternities, and have received their full share of prizes and honors.

Two Thief Riverites are receiving training at the university under bureau guidance, namely Glenn Anderson and Fred Scanlan, the former in the commerce department and the latter in the law department. Mr. Anderson, who completes his course next March, will spend a brief vacation at his parental home here the first part of August, as will also Mr. Scanlan, who will be graduated next June. James Prichard, also an ex-service man from this city, graduated from the college of agriculture last year.

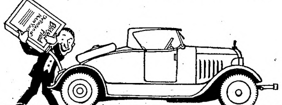
Treat Your Gasoline With:

Blitzen Fluid

"The Fountain of Motor Youth"



Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas-

Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor troubles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carbon is gone grinding of valves becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and perform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and you will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well preserved motor.

Blitzen Fluid is used by men in the Auto Motive industry who know that it will not injure the most sensitive motor. It is produced by chemists to put and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely reduce the cost.

ADD 2 OUNCES OF Blitzen Fluid TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS and give Blitzen Fluid a fair test in accordance with the condition of your motor. Notice the difference.

In your community Blitzen Fluid "The Fountain of Motor Youth" is sold at Pyramid pumps and service stations.

Willing to Try

Jones had a terrible toothache and, happening to run across an old friend who just had returned from his honeymoon with a young and charming wife, asked him if he knew of a cure for it.

"Look here, old chap," said his friend, "I had toothache last week. When I went home my wife cured it completely. Why don't you try it?"

"That's a splendid idea," said Jones. "Is your wife at home now?"

THIRD PARTY CONVENTION ATTENDED BY LOCAL F-L. MEN

McDonald of Illinois Nominated For President If LaFollette Refuses To Run

W. H. Quist, Andrew Trovaton, Rev. A. K. Lockrem and Jack Nelson of this city and Herman Aakre of Goodridge represented Pennington county Farmer-Laborites at the Third Party convention held in St. Paul on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Quist, Trovaton, Lockrem and Aakre, accompanied by Leo Knott of Red Lake county, made the trip by car, returning Sunday. The delegates had secured the necessary credentials by getting 25 farmer signers on a petition.

The convention was a spirited one and resulted in the nomination of a provisional ticket headed by Duncan McDonald of Illinois for president and William Bouck of Washington state for vice president. McDonald is former president of the United Mine Workers of Illinois and his home is at Springfield. Bouck owns a fruit ranch in the Puget Sound country. He was presented to the convention as a representative progressive farmer. Both were nominated by acclamation, but with the provision that should Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin decide to enter the race for the presidency, the support of the convention delegates would go to him.

The convention was attended by more than 500 delegates from 25 states of the Union, according to local delegates, who state that only about 150 of these belonged to the so-called Communist faction. However, they were very well organized and made strenuous efforts to put thru their program but were curbed by the less radical groups.

Alexander Howatt of Kansas was elected chairman of the national committee of the new Farmer-Labor party. William Mahoney, St. Paul attorney, and Louis Enstrom of Roseau county were named as committee men from Minnesota, local delegates being instrumental in securing Enstrom's selection.

The outstanding planks in the final draft included:

Nationalization of "monopolized industries."

Repeal of the federal reserve and national banking acts and government ownership of all banking institutions.

Protection of labor's right to organize and elimination of the right of courts to issue injunctions in labor disputes, together with use of military forces "to protect the workers in place of the use of these instruments to suppress the struggles of the workers and farmers."

Abolition of child labor.

Federal minimum wage laws and for a maximum eight hour day.

Social insurance and old age pensions.

National maternity insurance for all mothers.

Abolition of residential restrictions upon the right to vote.

Participation of farmers in the management of government owned transportation facilities.

Government loans to distressed farmers.

A system of land tenure to eliminate landlordism and tenantry, "and secure the land to the users thereof."

Recognition of the Russian Soviet government, independence for the Philippines and non-interference in the affairs of Latin-America.

The local delegates state that the convention was not dominated by the Communistic group to the extent that some reports appearing in the twin city press would have it.

State Fisheries At Redby Will Open To Public July 7

Opening of the Minnesota State Fisheries at Redby on Red Lake on July 7 is announced this week by S. A. Selvog, superintendent. Following is a communication received this week by The Times from Mr. Selvog:

"It would be most difficult to acquaint the public with our opening date without the assistance of the press, owing to the fact that we do not generally open up according to date authorized by law, the same as private interests. We have withheld the opening of the season until July 7th this year for the reason that our production is limited under an agreement with the United States Indian Bureau, and when that limit has been reached the production would cease for the season, and therefore, we feel that we can be of better service to the public by supplying fish throughout the months of July and August when there is most always a scarcity, and prices go up beyond that which the ordinary folks can afford to pay.

"It is our desire to dispose of a fair quantity of our production to the private home and we also solicit the patronage of the wholesale and retail dealers. Shipments can be made in twenty or thirty pound lots to private homes.

"It may also be of interest to the public to know that we have just about completed a freezing and refrigerating plant in connection with the State Fisheries institution which we are sure will enable us to not only furnish perfect quality fish, but also be in a position to supply at all times."

The plant has a capacity of 250,000 pounds of fish. Last year the Red Lake hatchery scored an 87 per cent hatch out of 90,000,000 whitefish eggs, the surplus being used in other Minnesota lakes in addition to restocking Red Lake. Indians were paid $60,000 in wages for fishing exclusive of tribal royalties.

Quite a number of local Isaac Waltons who have visited Red Lake this season report good catches.

COMMUNITY GROUP WILL VISIT A. C.

Tour to Northwest Aggie School July 24 to be Sponsored by Commercial Club

July 24 has been set as the date for a visit by Thief River Falls citizens and residents of the community to the Northwest School of Agriculture, near Crookston. An invitation to visit the school some time this summer was extended by Supt. C. G. Selvig and when the matter was taken up by the Commercial club at the luncheon Thursday it was decided that the club head a community group in such an event.

Arrangements for the trip will be made by the executive committee of the club, the details to be announced in these columns as soon as they are completed. It is planned to assemble at a certain place in this city and start out quite early in the morning. Those in attendance will bring their own lunch baskets for dinner, but coffee and cream and milk for the children will be served at the school.

So many questions of interest both to farmers and business men are observed at the Northwest school and experiment station that it is becoming recognized that a visit is worth while in every way. With Miss Lippett, head of the domestic science department, A. M. Pilkey, poultry man, and E. W. Avery, florist, discussing questions of interest for the women the visits may really be called short courses to which a certain amount of recreation is combined. The school grounds have available facilities for picnic gatherings and every effort is put forth at the school to make the visits by community groups as pleasant and interesting as possible.

It is expected that a large delegation from the Thief River Falls community will set aside July 24 for the tour.

Gunderson Improving

Gunder Gunderson, of Mayfield township who was almost fatally injured in an automobile accident Tuesday night of last week when the car he was driving overturned on a loose gravel road three miles north of Oklee and brought to the Swedenburg hospital here, is now conscious most of the time. The concussion of the brain which resulted from the accident is gradually clearing away, and his general condition is good. The fractures in the arm and collar bone are healing rapidly. However, it will be two or three weeks before he will be able to leave the hospital and perhaps two months before he will have regained a normal nervous condition.

SEEK MAIL SERVICE ON NEW SOO TRAIN

Duluth Business Men Urge Service To Points Between Duluth and T. R. F.

The new night train on the Soo Line between Duluth and Thief River Falls, put into operation on June 1 and which gives Duluth a thru daily service to Winnipeg and greatly benefits Thief River Falls and other points along the line especially during the summer season, has no mail car and Duluth business men, according to the Duluth Herald, have entered protests with the Duluth postal officials.

Several of the larger Duluth houses that are doing big mail business declare that one of the reasons advanced for the additional night train was the better mail service that would be afforded persons living along the line. At present there is only one day train on the Soo carrying mail, which is considerably delayed particularly along the western end of the road.

One of the suggestions made to the postal authorities is that mail be sent direct to Thief River Falls and that the clerks on the day train could carry it back east to the halfway point at Federal Dam, Leech Lake. This would give the residents from Federal Dam to Thief River Falls mail delivery the following morning instead of late in the afternoon and very often the second day. Residents along the line from Duluth to Federal Dam now receive their mail the morning after it leaves Duluth.

Postmaster Considine of Duluth said that one of the business houses suggested that sealed pouches be carried right through to Thief River Falls, not making it necessary for any extra clerks to sort the mail en route. This would reduce the expense, it is pointed out.

Postmaster Considine said that the matter will be referred to the railway mail service.

Whether or not mail service will be added to the new train will depend to a large extent upon whether or not the train will be permanently established, according to local Soo officials. The present arrangement is only temporary to find out what demand there is for such a train by the traveling public. So far the amount of traffic has been quite satisfactory, a large number of tourists coming thru here on their way to the fishing points between this city and Duluth.

Credit Corporation Aids 200 Banks of Northwest; Dairy Cattle Bought Here

Loans to more than 200 northwest banks with aggregate deposits of more than $30,000,000 have been made by the $10,000,000 agricultural credit corporation, according to statement this week. Officers of the corporation say that its activities have had the effect of increasing deposits throughout the northwest to a marked extent.

The corporation Saturday shipped two cars of selected dairy cattle from Barron, Wis., where they have been collected by its buyers, to Bisbee, N. D., for distribution to farmers of that vicinity, to whom the corporation has contracted to sell the cattle on long time payments.

Another carload was shipped from a second buying center of the company, Thief River Falls, to Mantador, N. D., 20 animals being purchased at the Guernsey sale here recently, to assist farmers of the Mantador community in their efforts to get away from one-crop agriculture and make a start toward more profitable dairying and mixed farming.

Two purchases of cattle thru the corporation were made by local farmers at the Guernsey sale. A number of applications received by the local committee have been sent to the corporation's purchasing agent for approval and it is expected that loans will be extended in the very near future.

Indian Skeleton Found By A. Cloutier in Excavation

While excavating at his home on Eighth street east Monday of last week, Alex Cloutier unearthed an adult Indian skeleton, wrapped in birch bark. The remains were turned over to the coroner, Dr. H. W. Froehlich, who had them properly interred in Greenwood cemetery.

This find recalls similar ones in that vicinity in years gone by, the regular burying ground of the Indians for years previous to the opening of the Indian reservation here 18 years ago having been on a piece of ground across the river known as Squaw Point. When the Indians withdrew to the contracted reservation most of the graves were opened and the bodies taken with them. It will be remembered that during the construction of the present iron bridge numerous ornaments and implements were found.

Several Attempts Made to Break Into Stores in City

Four places have been visited by thieves here the past week. O. H. Nelson's grocery, Sixth street, was entered Tuesday night last week and candy stolen. The Golden Rule was the next in order and cigarets was the main booty in that robbery, which took place Thursday evening. The Farmers Co-operative creamery was entered Saturday night and a few dollars was taken from the till. Someone, leaving the imprint of a size six shoe, tried to add to his material wealth from the stock of H. K. Strand's grocery Sunday but got no further than the rear room. Police believe they are on the trail of the would-be yeggs but no arrests have been made so far.

Free Church Outlaws War

Rev. Geo. Larson, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, returned on Thursday from Northfield where he attended the annual conference of the Lutheran Free church of America held last week. Members in attendance went on record as favoring the outlawing of war by condemning participation in any war except one in defense of foreign invasion. A budget of $50,000 was voted for foreign missions in China and Madagascar and $35,000 for home Missions. Willmar was selected for the 1925 convention.

Equalization Board Meets To Adjust Tax Assessments

Boards of review of the different townships and villages in the county met last Monday at the office of the clerk of each respective district. Taxpayers who had any grievance in regard to their assessment brought the matter before the board for correction at that time.

The city board of equalization opened its sessions Monday and received about the usual number of "kicks."

In the townships, the town board constitutes the board of review. The assessor, clerk and president of each village, and the aldermen of the city constitute the board in their precincts. The purpose of the meeting is to review the assessment of property in each district, and to see that all taxable property in the district has been placed upon the list and duly valued by the assessor. In case any property, either real or personal, has been omitted, the board may list it at its true value.

No assessment of the property of any person is raised, however, until he has been notified of the intention of the board to do so. On the application of any taxpayer feeling aggrieved, the members of the board carefully review the assessment and correct it as to them appears just. All complaints of individuals, residents of the township or district, in reference to the assessment of personal property, are heard and decided by the township, village or city boards. The complaints of non-residents, however, in reference to either real estate or personal property, and of others in regard to any assessment made after the meeting of the board of review, will be heard and determined by the county board of equalization.

The meeting of the county board of equalization will be held Monday, July 21, at the office of the county auditor, who together with the county commissioners, constitute the board. They will equalize the returns of the assessments of property in the various districts in Pennington county, so that all real and personal property is entered on the assessment list at its true and full value.

CITY OFFICIALS AT STATE CONVENTION

Municipality League Urges Retrenchment in Expenditures of Public Funds

Martin Evenson, president of the city council, Aldermen H. A. Brumund and Chris Potter and City Attorney H. O. Chommie represented Thief River Falls at the annual sessions of the Minnesota League of Municipalities at Detroit Thursday and Friday, returning Saturday. They report it one of the most interesting and instructive meetings ever held and largely attended, about 300 municipality officials being present. The entire council body here was named as delegates to the meeting.

Alexandria was chosen by the League as the host for next year's convention. R. J. Lindberg, mayor of Detroit, succeeds Carl H. Schuster of Biwabik as president of the organization. Richard B. Price, director of university extension division was reelected secretary-treasurer and Morris B. Lambie, secretary of the municipal reference bureau of the university, executive secretary. J. M. Clancey of St. Paul is vice president and G. A. Polley of Winona a trustee.

Problems of every nature relative to municipal government were taken up and much valuable information derived by the attending officials, including the proposed gasoline tax for Minnesota, which appears to be generally favored. In the discussion of municipal indebtedness a program of retrenchment was advocated, all cities and villages being urged to keep expenditures within the taxpayers' means.

Municipal ownership of public utilities was also taken up, there being considerable sentiment in favor of municipally owned light plants in preference to high line service.

Plough Sells Interest In Barber Shop to Joringdahl

Sam Plough, for the past three years associated with Gust Crown in operating the O. K. barber shop on LaBree avenue, has sold his interest to Richard Joringdahl, an employee of the shop. Mr. and Mrs. Plough expect to leave in a couple of weeks on a trip to the west, intending to locate in Washington if they find a suitable location. Mr. Plough lived in Washington for three years prior to his coming to this city. The many friends of the departing couple regret to see them leave.

POOR HOUSE MATRON NAMED. COUNCILMEN WANT CHEAPER GAS

High Cost of Gasoline Here Compared to Other Points Given Attention

In addition to hearing objections to alley paving, listening to reading of bids on street tractor, and getting an ultimatum from the present owners of the dam that the city's option would expire Saturday this week, the aldermen at their regular meeting Tuesday night transacted routine business, including the granting of a building permit to J. O. Sather, entailing an expenditure of about $200, allowance of the regular grist of city bills, and named Mrs. Peter Voldness as matron of the poor farm for the balance of the fiscal year, dating from May 29, at a monthly salary of $35.

Four companies had filed bids with the city clerk, each bid including prices on from one to four machines, and the prices varying from $250 to $1,975. There was only one local bid among them, that from C. Gustafson & Son. The bids were referred to the street committee for consideration and they will report on them at the meeting of the council tonight.

The charges for gasoline furnished the city for the street department and electric light department to be used in the city autos, street flusher and tractor, brought forth rather caustic remarks from all the aldermen, who believed that this city was entitled to a reduction in gasoline rates to correspond with other cities in the northwest. If necessary it might be wise, they concluded, to advertise for bids for a supply for a year in the hopes that an independent company might be induced to locate here and start a gasoline war. The city would back them up and the aldermen believe the public in general would do the same thing.

Gasoline is selling here at 22.8 cents while at Detroit it is down to about 18, at Fergus Falls down to 15, at St. Cloud at less than 13 and about 13 in the twin cities.

Prof. L. J. Pedersen of Minneapolis arrived here Tuesday to conduct a series of meetings in the Scandinavian Evangelical Free Church, the first meeting being held Tuesday evening. He will hold three services on Sunday, expecting to leave on Monday.

BERT NORBY GETS CONTRACT FOR NEW CREAMERY BUILDING TO BE ERECTED FOR $30,892

Local Contractor Awarded Job When Nine Bids are Opened Tuesday

EXCAVATION WILL BE STARTED NEXT MONDAY

Building to be Modern in Every Detail—Special Meeting July 19

Bert Norby, local contractor, was awarded the contract for the construction of the new 72x72 foot creamery building to be erected by the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association, his bid in the sum of $30,892 being the lowest of nine received by the directors who met Tuesday at 1 p. m. A tenth bid was submitted too late for consideration.

Excavation will be started Monday and the contract calls for completion by Dec. 1. The building which is square in type will be a two-story structure, modern in every respect and will afford the best possible facilities for the manufacture of butter and other dairy products. It will be built of number one shale brick with Bedford stone trimmings, all openings to be cased in steel. The floors will be concrete.

The new building will be erected north of the present creamery, on the site formerly occupied by the secretary's office, about 30 feet back from the sidewalk and will face Atlantic avenue.

Will Double Output

The full basement will contain the boiler, fuel room, buttermilk tanks and other machinery, as well as afford much storage room. Practically the only new machinery to be installed at the opening of new plant will be a large ice machine at a cost of $3,000 or $3,500, to be located in the basement. This new cooling facility will double the output of the creamery, as the speed of churning is determined by the rate at which the cream can be cooled. The present maximum output of about 700,000 pounds butter a year will be increased to approximately 2,000,000 pounds, if the three churns and seven vats for which there is room, are installed. Only the two churns now in use at the present plant, will be installed. Each has a capacity of 600 pounds and with the new cooling facilities 10 churnings a day can be made.

Space for future installation of an egg and poultry refrigerator is also provided in the basement.

Ladies' Rest Room

On the first floor will be the creamery proper, work room, supply room, milk and print rooms, and refrigerator. The offices will be in the southwest corner of the first floor next to the testing and sales rooms. A ladies rest room is also included for the

CANDIDATES ENTER RACE FOR SCHOOL BOARD POSITIONS

Rayson, Laird and Noper Seek Places in Election July 19—Froehlich Retires

At least two candidates have already entered the field for election as school board members—V. C. Noper and Scott Laird. The annual election of Independent School District No. 18 is scheduled for the third Saturday in July, the 19th, and next Monday is the last date on which filings may be made.

The terms of Dr. H. W. Froehlich and L. M. Rayson expire this year and in an interview yesterday Mr. Rayson stated that he will file for reelection.

Dr. Froehlich, however, stated to a Times representative yesterday that he will not be a candidate for reelection altho he has been urged by many friends to file. "I feel that I cannot give up any more of my time in serving on the school board, having been a member of that body for six years," says the retiring member.

It is likely that there will be more entries before filings close Monday.

The entrance of Mr. Noper into the field presents a new phase to the election of a school director, the only candidates for several years having been residents of this city, but with a considerable number of students from the rural section bordering the city there is a well taken ground for the election of a representative of the farmers. At present there are three directors from each side of the river —a total of six, the hold-over members being T. L. Melgaard, Math. Barzen, Mrs. L. G. Larsen and E. O. Mogensen.

German Lutherans To Hold Mission Festival at R. L. F.

Members of the St. John's Lutheran church here will motor to Red Lake Falls Sunday to partake in the annual Mission Festival of German Lutheran churches thruout the valley. Congregations at Holt, Warren, Radium, Euclid, Fisher, Crookston, Wylie and Plummer will be represented. It is expected that 10 or 12 cars will leave from this city and five-six from Holt.

Among out of town relatives who attended the funeral of Emil Zeh last Thursday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Boughton, Sr., of Red Lake Falls, the latter a sister of Mr. Zeh, Mrs. J. D. Scott of Stark, Mont., a sister and Joseph Jerome, Jr., of Battle River.

Large Deposit High Grade Mica Found Near Warroad

Mica is now being mined on Falcon Island, in Lake of the Woods, 40 miles northeast of Warroad, a good sized deposit of a fine grade of this mineral having been discovered, and is now being developed by a Canadian concern which is also taking in some American interest. About a dozen miners are being employed there at present, according to F. J. Hoyez of Warroad, who was a caller in the city Monday.

Mr. Hoyez, who visited the mine a short time ago, left quite a large sample of mica as it was found in the mine, at the Brumund hotel where anyone interested in seeing what it looks like may view it. Mica is quite an expensive mineral and is found in layers of rock in the pure state, it being peeled off in slices. It is used for automobile windows, coal stove fronts, electric irons and numerous other things.

JOHNSON, BAKKE HANDED 90-DAY JAIL SENTENCE

Judge Grindeland Also Assesses $210 Fine for Liquor Law Violation

SHORT DISTRICT COURT TERM CLOSED LAST FRI.

Poirier and Brendecke Cases Continued to Next Term. Special Court July 31

Ninety days in jail and the payment of a $210 fine each was the sentence meted out to John Johnson and Alfred Bakke of this city by Judge Andrew Grindeland in district court last Thursday, when a verdict of guilty to a charge of having liquor in their possession was returned by the jury after an hour's deliberation. Both the liquor law violators were on Saturday taken by Sheriff O. L. Ihle to Warren where they will spend the next three months within the confines of the Marshall county jail.

District court in Pennington county which opened Tuesday, June 24, closed Friday forenoon, the June term this year being one of the shortest in history. Only two cases went to a jury for decision, they being the liquor charges against Bakke and Johnson and the civil suit between H. O. Halvorson of Gully and John Mostrom of Neptune. A number of cases were continued over to the next term of court and several cases were heard by the judge and dismissed. A full account of the court's proceedings up to Thursday appeared in last week's issue of The Times.

Plenty of Evidence

Bakke and Johnson were tried Thursday, represented by G. Howard Smith, County Attorney Theo. Quale fighting the case for the state. Sufficient evidence had been secured by Sheriff Ihle and Patrolman Krogstad in a raid on March 31 to make conviction an easy matter, according to the court. A number of bottles containing so-called "moonshine" were found in their possession at the time. The assessment of $210 each by the judge includes costs.

Together with the $150 fine paid by Sigurd Vik of St. Hilaire, also for violation of the liquor laws, the fines in this term of court totalled $570.

The case against William Poirier, facing an illigitimacy charge, was to have come before the court Thursday but was continued on account of the absence of the girl who entered the complaint.

Brendecke Ill

Fred Brendecke, who was to appear Thursday to be tried on a liquor charge, was ill and the case was ordered continued to the next term of court. Brendecke was found guilty in a previous district court session and sentenced by Judge Grindeland but was granted another trial upon appeal to the state supreme court.

The case of S. M. Erickson vs. W. C. Nichols and William Nichols was dismissed on motion of the defendant. Hearing of the suit of Charley J. Safarik and Anna Safarik against the Empire Farms company and F. F. Haynes of this city regarding a land contract, was started before the judge but was ordered dismissed on motion of the defendant. Dissolution of Lieberman Brothers, Inc., was granted.

A number of cases were continued besides those named in last week's issue, namely: Joseph K. Fuchs vs. Nelson Investment company and C. F. Nelson; Northwestern Oil company vs. American Drainage company; First and Peoples State bank vs. Henry Hyland.

Judge Coming July 31

The following court cases will be tried before Judge Grindeland who will hold a special session here on July 31: Marie Johnson vs. Arthur G. Johnson, divorce suit; State of Minnesota vs. Tallack Froisness, motor vehicle tax; First National bank, Thief River Falls, vs. Bertha Giller and Annette Goodman.

Milan Farmer Succeeds Eide As Head of Wheat Growers

Jorgen Eide, farmer near the city, returned Saturday from Minneapolis where he attended a two-day session of the Minnesota Wheat Growers' association directors. Edward Hagen of Milan was named president of the board to succeed Mr. Eide who has served the past year and will continue to serve as a director. W. H. Frederick of this city was re-elected secretary. Much satisfaction with the past year's activities was expressed in reviewing the association's activities during the brief period of its existence. W. J. Brown, retiring president of the American Wheat Growers associated, expects to return to this city to resume law practice the first part of August, according to recent statement.

COMMUNITIES NEAR THIEF RIVER FALLS PLAN CELEBRATIONS

Thief Riverites Will Attend Neighboring Festivities On 4th of July

Although the eagle will not scream at an official Fourth of July celebration in Thief River Falls this year local citizens will visit various other community gatherings in the surrounding country and towns. A large celebration was held here last year and it was apparently thought best to give the smaller communities an opportunity this year.

Among the towns making a strong bid for large crowds tomorrow is Middle River which is advertising a very extensive program, given to a large extent by Thief River Falls talent. The address of the day will be given by Attorney H. O. Chommie of this city at 11 a. m., and music will be furnished all day by the Elmer J. Eklund post band. At 4 p m. the Middle River nine, defeated by Thief River Falls in a close game Sunday, will cross bats with Badger, while the winners of this contest will meet the representatives of this city. Many local fans plan to accompany the team. At the bowery dance during the afternoon and evening music will be furnished by Snyder's popular five-piece orchestra of this city. The Hans Lien post of the American Legion, sponsoring the event promises something doing every minute of the day, a number of races also having been arranged.

Another celebration which will draw a large representation from Thief River Falls is the gathering at the R. M. Johnson farm at Kratka, 15½ miles east of this city, under the auspices of the Telemarken Ladies aid. Local people will also take part in the program there, Mrs. R. Arnold having been secured to give a reading and Miss Dora Holmes to entertain with vocal solos. Patriotic speeches and the usual sports also make up the day's program.

Rev. M. B. Ordahl of Holt is scheduled as the speaker of the day at a celebration to be held at the Andrew Hanson farm, two miles north of Erie.

The Northwestern fair at Crookston which opened today and continues thru Saturday, is attracting people from all parts of the Red River valley, and a number of Thief Riverites plan to attend, particularly tomorrow's programs.

Other towns in this section which have arranged for appropriate celebrations are Newfolden, Warroad, Bemidji and Grand Forks.

SONS OF NORWAY TO ENJOY PICNIC HERE

Annual Summer Gathering of District Lodges at Squaw Point July 13

Sons of Norway lodges from Halstad, Crookston, Fertile, Gonvick, Gully, Oklee, Erskine and Shelley will be guests of the local Snorre lodge at the annual district picnic to be held at Squaw Point, near the city on Sunday, July 13, according to announcement this week by President Bernhard Knudsen. Several hundred members and their families are expected to gather here for the occasion, which is one of the big events of the season.

A fine program of speeches, music and song numbers is being prepared by a committee, details of which will be announced in The Times next week. The Snorre lodge will be assisted by the local unit of the Daughters of Norway.

The district gathering last year took place at Crookston.

Attend State Bar Meeting

Persons lacking in general and legal education and of unfit character are being admitted to the bar in this state, it was reported at the annual convention of the Minnesota State Bar association held in Bemidji Tuesday, Wednesday and today. Today lawyers of the state are entertained at Cass Lake. Thief River Falls attorneys in attendance are H. O. Chommie, Theo. Quale and P. W. Mabey.

Sorlie, Nonpartisan, Defeats Gov. Nestos in N. D. Primary

A. G. Sorlie of Grand Forks, Nonpartisan, defeated Governor R. A. Nestos for the gubernatorial nomination on the Republican ticket in the North Dakota primary Wednesday of last week, his plurality being about 2,500. On the Democratic ballot H. Halvorson of Grand Forks was named to oppose Sorlie in the fall election. Other nominations on the Republican ticket are divided among the Independents and the Nonpartisan Leaguers.

SETTLEMENT OF JUNE, 1924, TAX LARGEST EVER

Tax Collections This Year Total $207,222, Compared to $186,021 in 1923

TOTAL OF $35,840 IS PAID BY DELINQUENTS

State Received $17,131 and $46,473 is Distributed to Units of County

Taxes collected or received in Pennington county by Treasurer John Gullingsrud during the period from March 1 to June 1 totalling $207,222.91, nearly a quarter of a million, make the June tax settlement the largest in the history of the county, according to figures obtained in the office of the county auditor, T. P. Anderson. The heavy receipts are said to be largely as a result of the many state rural credits loans secured by Pennington county farmers, affording many an opportunity to pay up their taxes by this means. Some farmers were also aided in the payment of tax money by the Agricultural Credit corporation, which is buying tax certificates. Quite a number have been taken care of in this manner in the county, according to the auditor.

Delinquents Pay Up

Of the total amount of tax money collected for the June settlement, $171,381.91 is current tax and $35,840.96 delinquent. The latter amount is largely from the rural communities. The June settlement last year totalled $186,021.22, of which $163,439.87 was current and $22,581.35 was delinquent tax. Large apportionments of the delinquent tax collected this year are made to the following school districts: No. 18, Thief River Falls, $2,601.59; No. 8, Goodridge, $1,037.60; 102, St. Hilaire, $889; 65, Hickory township, $728.81.

Of the June settlement the state receives $17,18173, which includes $14,196.76 for state revenue; $2,820.31 for state schools; and $114.66 for

BRAGE SINGERS AT NATIONAL FESTIVAL

Members of Male Chorus Partake in Concerts by Norse Organizations

Members of the Brage male chorus, popular musical organization of this city, who took part in the 10th biennial song festival of the Norwegian Singers' association of America in St. Paul Friday, Saturday and Sunday are unanimous in declaring it one of the grandest events they have ever attended. More than 700 Norse singers from all parts of the country participated in the two concerts in the St. Paul auditorium and in Sunday's program in the State Fair Hippodrome. Several thousand delegates attended and all concerts were heard by packed houses. Erik Bye, the eminent Norwegian barytone, and Mme. Julia Claussen, the Swedish mezzo soprano, soloists at the concerts, are declared to be artists of the very best. The event as a whole was one which will never be forgotten by those who attended.

The next "sangerfest" will be held in Chicago in 1926. The association comprises 42 choruses with a total membership of 1,250, of which Minnesota has 10 societies with 425 members.

Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, able director of the Brage chorus, was awarded a medal for the distinction of having participated in five festivals conducted by the association. This city was well represented in the following group which took part in the concerts, besides Director Vistaunet: Dr. J. N. Nesse, Bernhard Knudsen, S. R. Dahlen, C. C. Gulrud, L. H. Larson, B. Dan Bjorkman, G. Halvorson and Lars Backe.

Rapacz At Yale

M. P. Rapacz, principal at the local high school during the 1922-23 term, is now studying law at Yale University, according to a communication to The Times. He has attended the University of Minnesota the past year.

CHEER UP! PENNINGTON CROPS LOOK BEST EVER

Present prospects indicate a bumper crop in this section, it is agreed by farmers who have been interviewed on the subject. Never before have the crops in general looked better, a fact which is emphatically impressed upon anyone taking a drive thru the territory surrounding Thief River Falls. Recent rains and ideal growing weather have added impetus to the growth of small grain, which is already starting to head out in some places. The stalks are well rooted due to the cool weather during the early season. Rye is heading out in fine shape with practically every field in the entire community in the very best condition.

Thinning of beets will be completed this week and reports are that fields here have an average stand of 94 per cent, altho many are 100 per cent, assuring an exceptionally large tonnage barring unfavorable conditions from now on.

Alfalfa and clover fields have a good stand at this time, and quite a number of farmers have already cut their first crop of alfalfa and sweet clover, splendid yields being reported.

Decoration of City For County Fair Considered

Proper decoration of the city during the county fair, August 7, 8 and 9, was discussed at last Thursday's meeting of the Commercial club and a committee, composed of A. J. Borry, chairman, F. J. Stebbins and Rasmus Oen, was appointed to consider the matter and report at the regular luncheon today. In the past decorations have been rented for the occasion at considerable expense and sentiment was expressed by several business men Thursday in favor of getting permanent decorations, in the form of flags on the buildings or other form of display. The committee is at present communicating with various concerns as to the cost of material to dress up the city for special occasions.

FIREWORKS BOMB TO BE TRIED OUT HERE AT FAIR AUG. 7-8-9

Unique Fireworks Device is Included in Pennington County Fair Program

Visitors to the 1924 Pennington county fair August 7, 8 and 9 will have the opportunity of witnessing the initial tryout of a new and revolutionary fireworks bombshell, according to word received by the directors, from the Thearle-Duffield fireworks division of the World Amusement service association, Inc., of Chicago.

This bombshell is a discovery of an Italian, who has been experimenting in the laboratories of the Thearle-Duffield company at Roby, Ind. Thearle-Duffield has written to the directors that they would ship several of those new devices here for a tryout and exhibition in connection with the gorgeous display listed for the 1924 fair.

The "Mystic Wheel Bombshell," which is 18 inches in circumference is fired several hundred feet in the sky and releases a cloud of Golden Star Dust, out of which floats a Golden Gyrator. For a moment all is dark. Then the mystifying whirler again appears. Again there is darkness and again it appears, and so on until it is lost in the distance.

Gov. Preus Asks Aid For Storm Sufferers

Governor J. A. O. Preus, after visiting the territory near Tracy and Balaton, in the southwestern part of the state, which was storm stricken a week ago Sunday, has issued a proclamation urging public offerings for the relief of the farmers who were made destitute by the tornado. It is estimated that the loss in the area which covered several counties, Lyon, Murray, Redwood, Cottonwood and Lincoln, will reach about $2,000,000. Only one life was lost.

Certain areas are entirely wiped out, 26 farm homes in Lyon county being completely destroyed. Farmers, many of them tenants are left without any means and immediate assistance is necessary, it is declared.

Other points in the southern part of the state have also been hit by severe wind and rain storms, accompanied by hail, which have done much damage. Among the places which suffered about two weeks ago was Dickenson, N. D., where many buildings were torn down.

About 300 persons were killed and several thousand injured when a tornado swept thru Lorain, Ohio. The death toll and property and crop loss was also heavy in parts of the state.

POULTRY PRODUCERS JOIN CO-OPERATIVE

Neset Reports Much Interest in Marketing Ass'n Around Oklee and Middle River

Olaf Neset, president of the recently organized Thief River Valley Co-operative Poultry Marketing association, addressed a meeting of poultry men at Oklee last Thursday and reports a great deal of interest among producers in that vicinity. Indications are that a membership of approximately 75 can be secured in the Oklee community.

A large gathering of Finlanders at Middle River was also addressed by Mr. Neset on June 25. He reports prospects there to be very promising, with indications of about 75 signers.

Merchants throughout the district are also joining in backing up the movement, although some have been opposed to the project until approached by promoters of the association.

It was planned to start operating by Aug. 1 but delays in organization work will likely retard it until Sept. 1. Contracts are now being sent in from various parts of the district at a very encouraging rate and the present outlook is good, officials of the association say.

A large production of turkeys will be handled by the co-operatives this fall, it is pointed out.

Many Visit Tourist Park

With the coming of warm weather, the annual influx of automobile tourists has started. Tourists from all over the U. S. visit the camping grounds here every day.

Diesel Engine Bids Are Rejected by City Council

All bids for Diesel engines submitted to the city council for installation in the auxiliary power plant here, were rejected and the certified checks ordered returned at the adjourned meeting of that body Tuesday night.

Besides taking the final steps in purchase of the dam the only other business transacted by the aldermen was to allow a building permit to M. V. Evenson for repairs of $500 to a house in Red Lake Rapids addition.

10 Miles of State Road Approved South of City

Another state road in Pennington county has been approved by the state highway department. Announcement was received Friday by Auditor T. P. Anderson that the road commencing at the corner of sections 3 and 4, township 153 and range 43, past the cemetery south of the city, between sections 33 and 34, township 154 and range 53, and continuing along said section lines for a total distance of 10 miles to the southern Pennington county line, south of Hazel, has been designated and approved as state road No. 11. The resolution for the designation of this state road by the county board was passed Aug. 28, 1923, on the petition of Rocksbury township residents.

The road will be maintained to the same extent as other state aid roads in the county. It is expected that some construction work may be started next year to improve this route.

RURAL CREDITS LOANS FOR 249 FARMERS HERE

Pennington County Farmers Borrow Nearly Million and a Quarter From State

TOTAL OF $40,000,000 LOANED OUT BY STATE

Farmers Benefited by Longer Payment Periods and Lower Interest Rate

State farm loans have been granted to 249 Pennington county farmers, in sums ranging from $900 to $15,000, and to an aggregate of nearly one and one-fourth million dollars. Up to Monday rural credit loans here totalled $1,245,600 according to figures obtained from Fred Lorentson, register of deeds. Of this sum $100,200 was loaned to 29 applicants since April 19. The average loan is for about $3,500.

An inspection of local loans was made a week ago by T. O. Ofsthun, secretary of the state rural credits bureau, who found affairs conducted very satisfactorily. He spoke encouragingly as to the outlook for the future.

Announcement has been made that the state will soon cease to make these loans, it having used up the $40,000,000 authorized by the legislature, but there are some loans in Pennington county yet to be completed, according to appraiser J. S. Arneson.

The loans are well scattered thruout the county and undoubtedly have been of great benefit, not only to the owners of the farms, but to the banks and all people in the county. The loans generally were made with the view to release the frozen credits represented by the mortgage loans which could not be met by the land owner and which had generally been made by banks or other loaning agencies in the county. The chief benefit to the farmer is that he is given a longer time in which to pay his mortgage and a considerably lower interest rate. The borrower pays 5¼ per cent interest and the payments are amortized, the farmer having 71 semi-annual payments to make, the last one always slightly less than the preceding. Rates paid formerly to banks and loaning agencies average a strong 7 per cent, according to a local banker.

In many cases the applicant for a loan has borrowed sufficient to take care of other bothersome indebtedness, usually in the form of chattel mortgages which carry a high rate of interest. In these cases the relief to the farmer is still greater.

Concert at Hazel July 7

A concert of sacred music will be given by the North Star college chorus of Warren at the Swedish Lutheran church at Hazel next Monday evening, according to announcement made this week by Rev. A. A. Larson, who is manager of the tour. The chorus, which has completed a successful two-week tour, appearing in 27 concerts thruout this section of the state, is directed by Miss Carolyn Carlstedt. Two Thief Riverites are members of the organization: Miss Esther Longren and Harold Peterson. Tuesday the chorus expects to leave for points in the Bemidji district to complete their tour. Rev. Larson, who is in temporary charge of the college, reports that present indications point towards a large enrollment at North Star next year, a number of prospects having been reached by this tour.

Will Not Pave Alley

A petition for the paving of the alley from Second to Third street, between Main and Knight avenues, was laid on the table by unanimous vote of the city council in session Thursday night. This action was taken after a number of affected property owners had appeared before the aldermen, speaking for and against the proposed paving.

DEMOCRATS STILL IN DOUBT

As The Times goes to press this morning it is reported from the Democratic convention still in session in New York that in the 42nd ballot William Gibbs McAdoo received 503 votes and Al Smith 318, a bitter fight being waged by both factions.

Council Unanimously Votes To Take Over Property at Special Meeting Thursday

COMMERCIAL CLUB URGES PURCHASE OF PROPERTY

Considerable Ground on Each Side of River Included—May Repair Dam

Several years of agitation for a municipally owned power dam resulted Thursday in the purchase of the dam on the Red Lake river in this city, owned by W. A. Schrieter of Red Lake Falls and Anna Kretchmar of this city, known as the Kretchmar Water Power, at a special session of the city council last Thursday night. The matter had been under consideration for some time and after thoroly sounding out the public sentiment and acting on the recommendation of the Commercial club the aldermen finally entered into agreement for the purchase of the property without a dissenting vote.

Judging from the expressions at various meetings this action meets with the approval of the majority of taxpayers and citizens, many of whom have been anxious that the city own this natural utility.

At a postponed meeting of the council Tuesday night a resolution was passed formally closing the deal and naming the purchase price of $37,500, of which sum $20,000 will be paid in cash, or with a warrant dated the same as the deed when it is filed, the remaining $17,500 to be paid in city warrants of $500 each payable at such future dates as the city has funds to meet them.

With the power rights, dam and power house, goes a strip of ground on each side of the river. In Porter's addition and Red Lake rapids all of Block 1, except lots 1, 2, 3 and 4; lots 4, 5, 6 and 7 of block 2 and all of mill race, are included in the purchase. A portion of the strip on the west side may be used for park purposes at some time, this part of the property including the land where the Hanson-Barzen mill and elevator are located. The Hanson-Barzen company for many years has had first rights to the flowage but the lease expires Sept. 1.

May Improve Dam

As yet no definite plan regarding improvement of the present dam property has been worked out by the council, which will make every effort to hold down expenditures as much as possible. Altho the present dam can undoubtedly serve the purpose for a while, it is believed by many that repairs should be made so as to provide the city with additional power.

The dam was established about 40 years ago.

ASSESSMENTS ARE BEING CONSIDERED BY CITY ALDERMEN

Equalization Board Making Tax Adjustments to Make Up Valuation Decrease

Members of the city council acting as equalization board to adjust tax assessments in the city and receive complaints from taxpayers, began their work last week and expect to be busy another week or ten days.

Only the usual number of "kicks" were made by taxpayers but it was found that the assessed real estate valuation has been considerably lowered and as a result the board has to equalize the difference among the property holders of the city. In cases where taxpayers feel aggrieved the board carefully review the assessments and correct it as to them appears just.

It is the belief of the board of equalization that some properties could stand a little raise from the values placed on the assessment list this year, and members are busy in making inspections and surveys to determine which properties have been assessed too low.

In Bemidji the records of the assessor show that the assessed valuation of the city has decreased $122,000 since the last real estate year, two years ago. This, the assessor declares is due to the general lowering of real estate values which have descended in the back-to-normal readjustment scheme.

Actual figures for the valuation in this city are not available at this time Assessor N. J. Anderson not having completed his work as yet, awaiting action by the equalization board in some instances.

The county board of equalization will meet July 21 at the office of the county auditor, who together with the county commissioners, make up the board.

Mrs. Bishop Named Member of State G. O. P. Committee

Mrs. J. M. Bishop yesterday was notified of her appointment as a member of the Republican state central committee to aid in directing the campaign preceding the November election. This is a signal honor to the Thief River Falls woman as there are only two other members from the Ninth district, they being Martin Widsten of Crookston and Mrs. McGrath from Barnesville. Mrs. Bishop who has been active in Republican party circles for a number of years, was selected alternate delegate to the national convention in Cleveland.

THIRD PARTY CONVENTION ATTENDED BY LOCAL F.-L. MEN

McDonald of Illinois Nominated For President If LaFollette Refuses To Run

W. H. Quist, Andrew Trovaton, Rev. A. K. Lockrem and Jack Nelson of this city and Herman Aakre of Goodridge represented Pennington county Farmer-Laborites at the Third Party convention held in St. Paul on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Quist, Trovaton, Lockrem and Aakre, accompanied by Leo Knott of Red Lake county, made the trip by car, returning Sunday. The delegates had secured the necessary credentials by getting 25 farmer signers on a petition.

The convention was a spirited one and resulted in the nomination of a provisional ticket headed by Duncan McDonald of Illinois for president and William Bouck of Washington state for vice president. McDonald is former president of the United Mine Workers of Illinois and [illegible] at Springfield. Bouck owns a fruit ranch in the Puget Sound country. Both were presented to the convention as representative progressive farmers. Both were nominated by acclamation, but with the provision that should Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin decide to enter the race for the presidency, the support of the convention delegates would go to him.

The convention was attended by more than 500 delegates from 25 states of the Union, according to local delegates, who state that only about 100 of these belonged to the so-called Communist faction. However, they were very well organized and [illegible] to put thru their program but were curbed by the less radical groups.

Alexander Howatt of Kansas was elected chairman of the national committee of the new Farmer-Labor party. William Mahoney, St. Paul attorney, and Louis Enstrom of Roseau county were named as committee men from Minnesota, local delegates being instrumental in securing Enstrom's selection.

The outstanding planks in the final draft included:

Nationalization of "monopolized industries."

Repeal of the federal reserve and national banking acts and government ownership of all banking institutions.

Protection of labor's right to organize and elimination of the right of courts to issue injunctions in labor disputes, together with use of military forces "to protect the workers in place of the use of these instruments to suppress the struggles of the workers and farmers."

Abolition of child labor.

Federal minimum wage laws and for a maximum eight hour day.

Social insurance and old age pension.

National maternity insurance for all mothers.

Abolition of residential restriction upon the right to vote.

Participation of farmers in the management of government owned transportation facilities.

Government [illegible] to [illegible] farmers.

A system of land tenure to eliminate landlordism and tenantry, "and secure the land to the user thereof."

Recognition of the Russian Soviet government, independence for the Philippines and non-interference in the affairs of Latin-America.

The local delegates state that the convention was not dominated by the Communist group to the extent that some reports appearing in the twin city press would have it.

State Fisheries At Redby Will Open To Public July 7

Opening of the Minnesota State Fisheries at Redby on Red Lake on July 7 is announced this week by S. A. Selvog, superintendent. Following is a communication received this week by The Times from Mr. Selvog:

"It would be most difficult to acquaint the public with our opening date without the assistance of the press, owing to the fact that we do not generally open up according to date authorized by law, the same as private interests. We have withheld the opening of the season until July 7th this year for the reason that our production is limited under an agreement with the United States Indian Bureau, and when that limit has been reached the production would cease for the season, and therefore, we feel that we can be of better service to the public by supplying fish throughout the months of July and August when there is most always a scarcity, and prices go up beyond that which the ordinary folks can afford to pay.

"It is our desire to dispose of a fair quantity of our production to the private home and we also solicit the patronage of the wholesale and retail dealers. Shipments can be made in twenty or thirty pound lots to private homes.

"It may also be of interest to the public to know that we have just about completed a freezing and refrigerating plant in connection with the State Fisheries institution which we are sure will enable us to not only furnish perfect quality fish, but also be in a position to supply at all times."

The plant has a capacity of 250,000 pounds of fish. Last year the Red Lake hatchery scored an 87 per cent hatch out of 90,000,000 whitefish eggs, the surplus being used in other Minnesota lakes in addition to re-stocking Red Lake. Indians were paid $60,000 in wages for fishing exclusive of tribal royalties.

Quite a number of local Isaac Waltons who have visited Red Lake this season report good catches.

SEEK MAIL SERVICE ON NEW SOO TRAIN

Duluth Business Men Urge Service To Points Between Duluth and T. R. F.

"The new night train on the Soo Line between Duluth and Thief River Falls, put into operation on June 1 and which gives Duluth a thru daily service to Winnipeg and greatly benefits Thief River Falls and other points along the line especially during the summer season, has no mail car and Duluth business men, according to the Duluth Herald, have entered protests with the Duluth postal officials.

Several of the larger Duluth houses that are doing big mail business declare that one of the reasons advanced for the additional night train was the better mail service that would be afforded persons living along the line. At present there is only one day train on the Soo carrying mail, which is considerably delayed particularly along the western end of the road.

One of the suggestions made to the postal authorities is that mail be sent direct to Thief River Falls and that the clerk on the day train could carry it back east to the halfway point at Federal Dam, Leech Lake. This would give the residents from Federal Dam to Thief River Falls mail delivery the following morning instead of late in the afternoon and very often the second day. Residents along the line from Duluth to Federal Dam now receive their mail the morning after it leaves Duluth.

Postmaster Considine of Duluth said that one of the business houses suggested that sealed pouches be carried right through to Thief River Falls, not making it necessary for any extra clerks to sort the mail en route. This would reduce the expense, it is pointed out.

Postmaster Considine said that the matter will be referred to the railway mail service.

Whether or not mail service will be added to the new train will depend to a large extent upon whether or not the train will be permanently established, according to local Soo officials. The present arrangement is only temporary to find out what demand there is for such a train by the traveling public. So far the amount of traffic has been quite satisfactory, a large number of tourists coming thru here on their way to the fishing points between this city and Duluth.

Credit Corporation Aids 200 Banks of Northwest; Dairy Cattle Bought Here

Loans to more than 200 northwest banks with aggregate deposits of more than $50,000,000 have been made by the $10,000,000 agricultural credit corporation, according to statement this week. Officers of the corporation say that its activities have had the effect of increasing deposits throughout the northwest to a marked extent.

The corporation Saturday shipped two cars of selected dairy cattle from Barron, Wis., where they have been collected by its buyers, to Bisbee, N. D., for distribution to farmers of that vicinity, to whom the corporation has contracted to sell the cattle on long time payments.

Another carload was shipped from a second buying center of the company, Thief River Falls, to Mantador, N. D., 20 animals being purchased at the Guernsey sale here recently, to assist farmers of the Mantador community in their efforts to get away from one-crop agriculture and make a start toward more profitable dairying and mixed farming.

Two purchases of cattle thru the corporation were made by local farmers at the Guernsey sale. A number of applications received by the local committee have been sent to the corporation's purchasing agent for approval and it is expected that loans will be extended in the very near future.

Equalization Board Meets To Adjust Tax Assessments

Boards of review of the different townships and villages in the county met last Monday at the office of the clerk of each respective district. Taxpayers who had any grievance in regard to their assessment brought the matter before the board for correction at that time.

The city board of equalization opened its sessions Monday and received about the usual number of "kicks."

In the townships, the town board constitutes the board of review. The assessor, clerk and president of each village, and the aldermen of the city constitute the board in their precincts. The purpose of the meeting is to review the assessment of property in each district, and to see that all taxable property in the district has been placed upon the list and duly valued by the assessor. In case any property, either real or personal, has been omitted, the board may list it at its true value.

No assessment of the property of any person is raised, however, until he has been notified of the intention of the board to do so. On the application of any taxpayer feeling aggrieved, the members of the board carefully review the assessment and correct it as to them appears just. All complaints of individuals, resident of the township or district, in reference to the assessment of personal property, are heard and decided by the township, village or city boards. The complaints of non-residents, however, in reference to either real estate or personal property, and of others in regard to any assessment made after the meeting of the board of review, will be heard and determined by the county board of equalization.

The meeting of the county board of equalization will be held Monday, July 21, at the office of the county auditor, who together with the county commissioners, constitute the board. They will equalize the returns of the assessments of property in the various districts in Pennington county, so that all real and personal property is entered on the assessment list at its true and full value.

CITY OFFICIALS AT STATE CONVENTION

Municipality League Urges Retrenchment in Expenditures of Public Funds

Martin Evenson, president of the city council, Aldermen H. A. Brumund and Chris Porter and City Attorney H. O. Chommie represented Thief River Falls at the annual sessions of the Minnesota League of Municipalities at Detroit Thursday and Friday, returning Saturday. They report it one of the most interesting and instructive meetings ever held and largely attended, about 300 municipality officials being present. The entire council body here was named as delegates to the meeting.

Alexandria was chosen by the League as the host for next year's convention. R. J. Lindberg, mayor of Detroit, succeeds Carl H. Schuster of Biwabik as president of the organization. Richard R. Price, director of university extension division was re-elected secretary-treasurer and Morris B. Lambie, secretary of the municipal reference bureau of the university, executive secretary. J. M. Clancy of St. Paul is vice president and G. A. Polley of Winona a trustee.

Problems of every nature relative to municipal government were taken up and much valuable information derived by the attending officials, including the proposed gasoline tax for Minnesota, which appears to be generally favored. In the discussion of municipal indebtedness a program of retrenchment was advocated, all cities and villages being urged to keep expenditures within the taxpayers' means.

Municipal ownership of public utilities was also taken up, there being considerable sentiment in favor of municipally owned light plants in preference to high line service.

Plough Sells Interest In

POOR HOUSE MATRON NAMED. COUNCILMEN WANT CHEAPER GAS

High Cost of Gasoline Here Compared to Other Points Given Attention

In addition to hearing objections to alley paving, listening to reading of bids on street tractor, and getting an ultimatum from the present owners of the dam that the city's option would expire Saturday this week, the aldermen at their regular meeting Tuesday night transacted routine business, including the granting of a building permit to J. O. Sather, entailing an expenditure of about $200, allowance of the regular grist of city bills, and named Mrs. Peter Voldness as matron of the poor farm for the balance of the fiscal year, dating from May 29, at a monthly salary of $35.

Four companies had filed bids with the city clerk, each bid including prices on from one to four machines, and the prices varying from $250 to $1,975. There was only one local bid among them, that from C. Gustafson & Son. The bids were referred to the street committee for consideration and they will report on them at the meeting of the council tonight.

The charges for gasoline furnished the city for the street department and electric light department to be used in the city autos, street flusher and tractor, brought forth rather caustic remarks from all the aldermen, who believed that this city was entitled to a reduction in gasoline rates to correspond with other cities in the northwest. If necessary it might be wise, they concluded, to advertise for bids for a supply for a year in the hopes that an independent company might be induced to locate here and start a gasoline war. The city would back them up and the aldermen believe the public in general would do the same thing.

Gasoline is selling here at 22.8 cents while at Detroit it is down to about 18, at Fergus Falls down to 15, at St. Cloud at less than 13 and about 13 in the twin cities.

Prof. L. J. Pedersen of Minneapolis arrived here Tuesday to conduct a series of meetings in the Scandinavian Evangelical Free Church, the first meeting being held Tuesday evening. He will hold three services on Sunday, expecting to leave on Monday.

BERT NORBY GETS CONTRACT FOR NEW CREAMERY BUILDING TO BE ERECTED FOR $30,892

Local Contractor Awarded Job When Nine Bids are Opened Tuesday

EXCAVATION WILL BE STARTED NEXT MONDAY

Building to be Modern in Every Detail—Special Meeting July 19

Bert Norby, local contractor, was awarded the contract for the construction of the new 72x72 foot creamery building to be erected by the Thief River Falls Co-operative Creamery association, his bid in the sum of $30,892 being the lowest of nine received by the directors who met Tuesday at 1 p. m. A tenth bid was submitted too late for consideration.

Excavation will be started Monday and the contract calls for completion by Dec. 1. The building which is square in type will be a two-story structure, modern in every respect and will afford the best possible facilities for the manufacture of butter and other dairy products. It will be built of number one shale brick with Bedford stone trimmings, all openings to be cased in steel. The floors will be concrete.

The new building will be erected north of the present creamery, on the site formerly occupied by the secretary's office, about 30 feet back from the sidewalk and will face Atlantic avenue.

Will Double Output

The full basement will contain the boiler, fuel room, buttermilk tanks and other machinery, as well as afford much storage room. Practically the only new machinery to be installed at the opening of new plant will be a large ice machine at a cost of $3,000 or $3,500, to be located in the basement. This new cooling facility will double the output of the creamery, as the speed of churning is determined by the rate at which the cream can be cooled. The present maximum output of about 700,000 pounds butter a year will be increased to approximately 2,000,000 pounds, if the three churns and seven vats for which there is room, are installed. Only the two churns now in use at the present plant, will be installed. Each has a capacity of 600 pounds and with the new cooling facilities 10 churnings a day can be made.

Space for future installation of an egg and poultry refrigerator is also provided in the basement.

Ladies' Rest Room

On the first floor will be the creamery proper, work room, supply room, milk and print rooms, and refrigerator. The offices will be in the southwest corner of the first floor next to the testing and sales rooms. A ladies rest room is also included for the

CANDIDATES ENTER RACE FOR SCHOOL BOARD POSITIONS

Rayson, Laird and Noper Seek Places in Election July 19—Froehlich Retires

At least two candidates have already entered the field for election as school board members—V. T. Noper and Scott Laird. The annual election of Independent School District No. 18 is scheduled for the third Saturday in July, the 19th, and next Monday is the last date on which filings may be made.

The terms of Dr. H. W. Froehlich and L. M. Rayson expire this year and in an interview yesterday Mr. Rayson stated that he will file for re-election.

Dr. Froehlich, however, stated to a Times representative yesterday that he will not be a candidate for re-election altho he has been urged by many friends to file. "I feel that I cannot give up any more of my time in serving on the school board, having been a member of that body for six years," says the retiring member.

It is likely that there will be more entries before filings close Monday.

The entrance of Mr. Noper into the field presents a new phase to the election of a school director, the only candidates for several years having been residents of this city, but with a considerable number of students from the rural section bordering the city there is a well taken ground for the election of a representative of the farmers. At present there are three directors from each side of the river—a total of six, the hold-over members being T. L. Melgaard, Math. Barzen, Mrs. L. G. Larsen and E. O. Mogensen.

Large Deposit High Grade Mica Found Near Warroad

Mica is now being mined on Falcon Island, in Lake of the Woods, 40 miles northeast of Warroad, a good sized deposit of a fine grade of this mineral having been discovered, and is now being developed by a Canadian concern which is also taking in some American interest. About a dozen miners are being employed there at present, according to F. J. Hoyez of Warroad, who was a caller in the city Monday.

Mr. Hoyez, who visited the mine a short time ago, left quite a large sample of mica as it was found in the mine, at the Brumund hotel where anyone interested in seeing what it looks like may view it. Mica is quite an expensive mineral and is found in layers of rock in the pure state, it being peeled off in slices. It is used for automobile windows, coal stove fronts, electric irons and numerous other things.

JOHNSON, BAKKE HANDED 90-DAY JAIL SENTENCE

Judge Grindeland Also Assesses $210 Fine for Liquor Law Violation

SHORT DISTRICT COURT TERM CLOSED LAST FRI.

Poirier and Brendecke Cases Continued to Next Term. Special Court July 31

Ninety days in jail and the payment of a $210 fine each was the sentence meted out to John Johnson and Alfred Bakke of this city by Judge Andrew Grindeland in district court last Thursday, when a verdict of guilty to a charge of having liquor in their possession was returned by the jury after an hour's deliberation. Both the liquor law violators were on Saturday taken by Sheriff O. L. Ihle to Warren, where they will spend the next three months within the confines of the Marshall county jail.

District court in Pennington county which opened Tuesday, June 24, closed Friday forenoon, the June term this year being one of the shortest in history. Only two cases went to a jury for decision, they being the liquor charges against Bakke and Johnson and the civil suit between H. O. Halvorson of Gully and John Mostrom of Neptune. A number of cases were continued over to the next term of court and several cases were heard by the judge and dismissed. A full account of the court's proceedings up to Thursday appeared in last week's issue of The Times.

Plenty of Evidence

Bakke and Johnson were tried Thursday, represented by G. Howard Smith, County Attorney Theo. Quale fighting the case for the state. Sufficient evidence had been secured by Sheriff Ihle and Patrolman Krogstad in a raid on March 31 to make conviction an easy matter, according to the court. A number of bottles containing so-called "moonshine" were found in their possession at the time. The assessment of $210 each by the judge includes costs.

Together with the $150 fine paid by Sigurd Vik of St. Hilaire, also for violation of the liquor laws, the fines in this term of court totalled $570.

The case against William Poirier, facing an illigitimacy charge, was to have come before the court Thursday but was continued on account of the absence of the girl who entered the complaint.

Brendecke Ill

Fred Brendecke, who was to appear Thursday to be tried on a liquor charge, was ill and the case was ordered continued to the next term of court. Brendecke was found guilty in a previous district court session and sentenced by Judge Grindeland but was granted another trial upon appeal to the state supreme court.

The case of S. M. Erickson vs. W. C. Nichols and William Nichols was dismissed on motion of the defendant. Hearing of the suit of Charley J. Safarik and Anna Safarik against the Empire Farms company and F. F. Haynes of this city regarding a land contract, was started before the judge but was ordered dismissed on motion of the defendant. Dissolution of Lieberman Brothers, Inc., was granted.

A number of cases were continued besides those named in last week's issue, namely: Joseph K. Fuchs vs. Nelson Investment company and C. F. Nelson; Northwestern Oil company vs. American Drainage company; First and Peoples State bank vs. Henry Hyland.

Judge Coming July 31

The following court cases will be tried before Judge Grindeland who will hold a special session here on July 31: Marie Johnson vs. Arthur G. Johnson, divorce suit; State of Minnesota vs. Tallack Froisness, motor vehicle tax; First National bank, Thief River Falls, vs. Bertha Giller and Annette Goodman.

Milan Farmer Succeeds Eide As Head of Wheat Growers

Jorgen Eide, farmer near the city, returned Saturday from Minneapolis where he attended a two-day session of the Minnesota Wheat Growers' association directors. Edward Hagen of Milan was named president of the board to succeed Mr. Eide who has served the past year and will continue to serve as a director. W. H. Frederick of this city was re-elected secretary. Much satisfaction with the past year's activities was expressed in reviewing the association's activities during the brief period of its existence. W. J. Brown, retiring president of the American Wheat Growers associated, expects to return to this city to resume law practice the first part of August, according to recent statement.

COMMUNITIES NEAR THIEF RIVER FALLS PLAN CELEBRATIONS

Thief Riverites Will Attend Neighboring Festivities On 4th of July

Although the eagle will not scream at an official Fourth of July celebration in Thief River Falls this year local citizens will visit various other community gatherings in the surrounding country and towns. A large celebration was held here last year and it was apparenty thought best to give the smaller communities an opportunity this year.

Among the towns making a strong bid for large crowds tomorrow is Middle River which is advertising a very extensive program, given to a large extent by Thief River Falls talent. The address of the day will be given by Attorney H. O. Chommie of this city at 11 a. m., and music will be furnished all day by the Elmer J. Eklund post band. At 4 p. m. the Middle River nine, defeated by Thief River Falls in a close game Sunday, will cross bats with Badger, while the winners of this contest will meet the representatives of this city. Many local fans plan to accompany the team. At the bowery dance during the afternoon and evening music will be furnished by Snyder's popular five-piece orchestra of this city. The Hans Lien post of the American Legion, sponsoring the event promises something doing every minute of the day, a number of races also having been arranged.

Another celebration which will draw a large representation from Thief River Falls is the gathering at the R. M. Johnson farm at Kratka, 16½ miles east of this city, under the auspices of the Telemarken Ladies aid. Local people will also take part in the program there, Mrs. R. Arnold having been secured to give a reading and Miss Dora Holmes to entertain with vocal solos. Patriotic speeches and the usual sports also make up the day's program.

Rev. M. B. Ordahl of Holt is scheduled as the speaker of the day at a celebration to be held at the Andrew Hanson farm, two miles north of Erie.

The Northwestern fair at Crookston which opened today and continues thru Saturday, is attracting people from all parts of the Red River valley, and a number of Thief Riverites plan to attend, particularly tomorrow's programs.

Other towns in this section which have arranged for appropriate celebrations are Newfolden, Warroad, Bemidji and Grand Forks.

Today lawyers of the state are entertained at Cass Lake. Thief River Falls attorneys in attendance are H. O. Chommie, Theo. Quale and P. W. Mabey.

Nestos for the gubernatorial nomination on the Republican ticket in the North Dakota primary Wednesday of last week, his plurality being about 2,500. On the Democratic ballot H. Halvorson of Grand Forks was named to oppose Sorlie in the fall election. Other nominations on the Republican ticket are divided among the independents and the Nonpartisan Leaguers.

Taxes collected or received in Pennington county by Treasurer John Gullingsrud during the period from March 1 to June 1 totalling $207,222.91, nearly a quarter of a million, make the June tax settlement the largest in the history of the county, according to figures obtained in the office of the county auditor, T. P. Anderson. The heavy receipts are said to be largely as a result of the many state rural credits loans secured by Pennington county farmers, affording many an opportunity to pay up their taxes by this means. Some farmers were also aided in the payment of tax money by the Agricultural Credit corporation, which is buying tax certificates. Quite a number have been taken care of in this manner in the county, according to the auditor.

Delinquents Pay Up

Of the total amount of tax money collected for the June settlement, $171,381.91 is current tax and $35,840.96 delinquent. The latter amount is largely from the rural communities. The June settlement last year totalled $186,021.22, of which $163,439.87 was current and $22,581.35 was delinquent tax. Large apportionments of the delinquent tax collected this year are made to the following school districts: No. 18, Thief River Falls, $2,601.59; No. 8, Goodridge, $1,057.60; 102, St. Hilaire, $889; 65, Hickory township, $728.81.

Of the June settlement the state receives $17,13173, which includes $14,196.76 for state revenue; $2,820.31 for state schools; and $114.66 for

BRAGE SINGERS AT NATIONAL FESTIVAL

Members of Male Chorus Partake in Concerts by Norse Organizations

Members of the Brage male chorus, popular musical organization of this city, who took part in the 16th biennial song festival of the Norwegian Singers' association of America in St. Paul Friday, Saturday and Sunday are unanimous in declaring it one of the grandest events they have ever attended. More than 700 Norse singers from all parts of the country participated in the two concerts in the St. Paul auditorium and in Sunday's program in the State Fair Hippodrome. Several thousand delegates attended and all concerts were heard by packed houses. Erik Bye, the eminent Norwegian barytone, and Mme. Julia Claussen, the Swedish mezzo soprano, soloists at the concerts, are declared to be artists of the very best. The event as a whole was one which will never be forgotten by those who attended.

The next "sangerfest" will be held in Chicago in 1926. The association comprises 42 choruses with a total membership of 1,250, of which Minnesota has 10 societies with 425 members.

Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, able director of the Brage chorus, was awarded a medal for the distinction of having participated in five festivals conducted by the association. This city was well represented in the following group which took part in the concerts, besides Director Vistaunet: Dr. J. N. Nesse, Bernhard Knudsen, S. R. Dahlen, C. C. Galrud, L. H. Larson, B. Dan Bjorkman, G. Halvorson and Lars Backe.

CHEER UP! PENNINGTON CROPS LOOK BEST EVER

Present prospects indicate a bumper crop in this section, it is agreed by farmers who have been interviewed on the subject. Never before have the crops in general looked better, a fact which is emphatically impressed upon anyone taking a drive thru the territory surrounding Thief River Falls. Recent rains and ideal growing weather have added impetus to the growth of small grain, which is already starting to head out in some places. The stalks are well rooted due to the cool weather during the early season. Rye is heading out in fine shape with practically every field in the entire community in the very best condition.

Thinning of beets will be completed this week and reports are that fields here have an average stand of 94 per cent, altho many are 100 per cent, assuring an exceptionally large tonnage barring unfavorable conditions from now on.

Alfalfa and clover fields have a good stand at this time, and quite a number of farmers have already cut their first crop of alfalfa and sweet clover, splendid yields being reported.

Decoration of City For County Fair Considered

Proper decoration of the city during the county fair, August 7, 8 and 9, was discussed at last Thursday's meeting of the Commercial club and a committee, composed of A. J. Berry, chairman, F. J. Stebbins and Rasmus Oen, was appointed to consider the matter and report at the regular luncheon today. In the past decorations have been rented for the occasion at considerable expense and sentiment was expressed by several business men Thursday in favor of getting permanent decorations, in the form of flags on the buildings or other form of display. The committee is at present communicating with various concerns as to the cost of material to dress up the city for special occasions.

FIREWORKS BOMB TO BE TRIED OUT HERE AT FAIR AUG. 7-8-9

Unique Fireworks Device is Included in Pennington County Fair Program

Visitors to the 1924 Pennington county fair August 7, 8 and 9 will have the opportunity of witnessing the initial tryout of a new and revolutionary fireworks bombshell, according to word received by the directors, from the Thearle-Duffield fireworks division of the World Amusement service association, Inc., of Chicago.

This bombshell is a discovery of an Italian, who has been experimenting in the laboratories of the Thearle-Duffield company at Roby, Ind. Thearle-Duffield has written to the directors that they would ship several of those new devices here for a tryout and exhibition in connection with the gorgeous display listed for the 1924 fair.

The "Mystic Wheel Bombshell," which is 18 inches in circumference is fired several hundred feet in the sky and releases a cloud of Golden Star Dust, out of which floats a Golden Gyrator. For a moment all is dark. Then the mystifying whirler again appears. Again there is darkness and again it appears, and so on until it is lost in the distance.

Gov. Preus Asks Aid For Storm Sufferers

Governor J. A. O. Preus, after visiting the territory near Tracy and Balaton, in the southwestern part of the state, which was storm stricken a week ago Sunday, has issued a proclamation urging public offerings for the relief of the farmers who were made destitute by the tornado. It is estimated that the loss in the area which covered several counties, Lyon, Murray, Redwood, Cottonwood and Lincoln, will reach about $2,000,000. Only one life was lost.

Certain areas are entirely wiped out, 26 farm homes in Lyon county being completely destroyed. Farmers, many of them tenants are left without any means and immediate assistance is necessary, it is declared.

Other points in the southern part of the state have also been hit by severe wind and rain storms, accompanied by hail, which have done much damage. Among the places which suffered about two weeks ago was Dickenson, N. D., where many buildings were torn down.

About 300 persons were killed and several thousand injured when a tornado swept thru Lorain, Ohio. The death toll and property and crop loss was also heavy in parts of the state.

POULTRY PRODUCERS JOIN CO-OPERATIVE

Neset Reports Much Interest in Marketing Ass'n Around Oklee and Middle River

Olaf Neset, president of the recently organized Thief River Valley Co-operative Poultry Marketing association, addressed a meeting of poultry men at Oklee last Thursday and reports a great deal of interest among producers in that vicinity. Indications are that a membership of approximately 75 can be secured in the Oklee community.

A large gathering of Finlanders at Middle River was also addressed by Mr. Neset on June 25. He reports prospects there to be very promising, with indications of about 75 signers.

Merchants throughout the district are also joining in backing up the movement, although some have been opposed to the project until approached by promoters of the association.

It was planned to start operating by Aug. 1 but delays in organization work will likely retard it until Sept. 1. Contracts are now being sent in from various parts of the district at a very encouraging rate and the present outlook is good, officials of the association say.

A large production of turkeys will be handled by the co-operatives this fall, it is pointed out.

Diesel Engine Bids Are Rejected by City Council

All bids for Diesel engines submitted to the city council for installation in the auxiliary power plant here, were rejected and the certified checks ordered returned at the adjourned meeting of that body Tuesday night.

POWER DAM IS PURCHASED BY CITY FOR $37,500—CITIZENS APPROVE ACTION AT MEETING

10 Miles of State Road Approved South of City

Another state road in Pennington county has been approved by the state highway department. Announcement was received Friday by Auditor T. P. Anderson that the road commencing at the corner of sections 3 and 4, township 153 and range 43, past the cemetery south of the city, between sections 33 and 34, township 154 and range 53, and continuing along said section lines for a total distance of 10 miles to the southern Pennington county line, south of Hazel, has been designated and approved as state road No. 11. The resolution for the designation of this state road by the county board was passed Aug. 28, 1923, on the petition of Rocksbury township residents.

The road will be maintained to the same extent as other state aid roads in the county. It is expected that some construction work may be started next year to improve this route.

RURAL CREDITS LOANS FOR 249 FARMERS HERE

Pennington County Farmers Borrow Nearly Million and a Quarter From State

TOTAL OF $40,000,000 LOANED OUT BY STATE

Farmers Benefited by Longer Payment Periods and Lower Interest Rate

State farm loans have been granted to 249 Pennington county farmers, in sums ranging from $900 to $15,000, and to an aggregate of nearly one and one-fourth million dollars. Up to Monday rural credit loans here totalled $1,245,600 according to figures obtained from Fred Lorentson, register of deeds. Of this sum $100,200 was loaned to 29 applicants since April 19. The average loan is for about $3,500.

An inspection of local loans was made a week ago by T. O. Ofsthun, secretary of the state rural credits bureau, who found affairs conducted very satisfactorily. He spoke encouragingly as to the outlook for the future.

Announcement has been made that the state will soon cease to make these loans, it having used up the $40,000,000 authorized by the legislature, but there are some loans in Pennington county yet to be completed, according to appraiser J. S. Arneson.

The loans are well scattered thruout the county and undoubtedly have been of great benefit, not only to the owners of the farms, but to the banks and all people in the county. The loans generally were made with the view to release the frozen credits represented by the mortgage loans which could not be met by the land owner and which had generally been made by banks or other loaning agencies in the county. The chief benefit to the farmer is that he is given a longer time in which to pay his mortgage and a considerably lower interest rate. The borrower pays 5¼ per cent interest and the payments are amortized, the farmer having 71 semi-annual payments to make, the last one always slightly less than the preceding. Rates paid formerly to banks and loaning agencies average a strong 7 per cent, according to a local banker.

In many cases the applicant for a loan has borrowed sufficient to take care of other bothersome indebtedness, usually in the form of chattel mortgages which carry a high rate of interest. In these cases the relief to the farmer is still greater.

Concert at Hazel July 7

A concert of sacred music will be given by the North Star college chorus of Warren at the Swedish Lutheran church at Hazel next Monday evening, according to announcement made this week by Rev. A. A. Larson, who is manager of the tour. The chorus, which has completed a successful two-week tour, appearing in 27 concerts thruout this section of the state, is directed by Miss Carolyn Carlstedt. Two Thief Riverites are members of the organization: Miss Esther Longren and Harold Peterson. Tuesday the chorus expects to leave for points in the Bemidji district to complete their tour. Rev. Larson, who is in temporary charge of the college, reports that present indications point towards a large enrollment at North Star next year, a number of prospects having been reached by this tour.

Will Not Pave Alley

A petition for the paving of the alley from Second to Third street, between Main and Knight avenues, was laid on the table by unanimous vote of the city council in session Thursday night. This action was taken after a number of affected property owners had appeared before the aldermen, speaking for and against the proposed paving.

DEMOCRATS STILL IN DOUBT

Council Unanimously Votes To Take Over Property at Special Meeting Thursday

COMMERCIAL CLUB URGES PURCHASE OF PROPERTY

Considerable Ground on Each Side of River Included—May Repair Dam

Several years of agitation for a municipally owned power dam resulted Thursday in the purchase of the dam on the Red Lake river in this city, owned by W. A. Schrieter of Red Lake Falls and Anna Kretchmar of this city, known as the Kretchmar Water Power, at a special session of the city council last Thursday night. The matter had been under consideration for some time and after thoroly sounding out the public sentiment and acting on the recommendation of the Commercial club the aldermen finally entered into agreement for the purchase of the property without a dissenting vote.

Judging from the expressions at various meetings this action meets with the approval of the majority of taxpayers and citizens, many of whom have been anxious that the city own this natural utility.

At a postponed meeting of the council Tuesday night a resolution was passed formally closing the deal and naming the purchase price of $37,500, of which sum $20,000 will be paid in cash, or with a warrant dated the same as the deed when it is filed, the remaining $17,500 to be paid in city warrants of $500 each payable at such future dates as the city has funds to meet them.

With the power rights, dam and power house, goes a strip of ground on each side of the river. In Porter's addition and Red Lake rapids all of Block 1, except lots 1, 2, 3 and 4; lots 4, 5, 6 and 7 of block 2 and all of mill race, are included in the purchase. A portion of the strip on the west side may be used for park purposes at some time, this part of the property including the land where the Hanson-Barzen mill and elevator are located. The Hanson-Barzen company for many years has had first rights to the flowage but the lease expires Sept. 1.

May Improve Dam

As yet no definite plan regarding improvement of the present dam property has been worked out by the council, which will make every effort to hold down expenditures as much as possible. Altho the present dam can undoubtedly serve the purpose for a while, it is believed by many that repairs should be made so as to provide the city with additional power.

The dam was established about 40 years ago.

ASSESSMENTS ARE BEING CONSIDERED BY CITY ALDERMEN

Equalization Board Making Tax Adjustments to Make Up Valuation Decrease

Members of the city council acting as equalization board to adjust tax assessments in the city and receive complaints from taxpayers, began their work last week and expect to be busy another week or ten days.

Only the usual number of "kicks" were made by taxpayers but it was found that the assessed real estate valuation has been considerably lowered and as a result the board has to equalize the difference among the property holders of the city. In cases where taxpayers feel aggrieved the board carefully review the assessments and correct it as to them appears just.

It is the belief of the board of equalization that some properties could stand a little raise from the values placed on the assessment list this year, and members are busy in making inspections and surveys to determine which properties have been assessed too low.

In Bemidji the records of the assessor show that the assessed valuation of the city has decreased $122,000 since the last real estate year, two years ago. This, the assessor declares is due to the general lowering of real estate values which have descended in the back-to-normal readjustment scheme.

Actual figures for the valuation in this city are not available at this time Assessor N. J. Anderson not having completed his work as yet, awaiting action by the equalization board in some instances.

The county board of equalization will meet July 21 at the office of the county auditor, who together with the county commissioners, make up the board.

Mrs. Bishop Named Member of State G. O. P. Committee

Mrs. J. M. Bishop yesterday was notified of her appointment as a member of the Republican state central committee to aid in directing the campaign preceding the November election. Mrs. Bishop who has been active in Republican party circles for a number of years, was selected alternate delegate to the national convention in Cleveland.

Tennis Courts Assured

Word was received yesterday by the Girls Community club from the owner of the lots at 602 to 608 Horace avenue north that the club may use the lots, gratis, for tennis courts for a period of two years. The equipment had been ordered and arrived yesterday and the work of erection will begin at once. A special meeting by the committee in charge was held last evening and all preliminaries disposed of.

A club, separate from the Girls Community club will be organized as a Tennis Club. As the equipment will amount to more than the receipts the first year and as the Girls Community club is financing it and bearing this difference, members of that club will be charged a fee of $2.50 per year. For non-members of that club a fee of $5 has been set. More members are wanted by the club and application should be made at once. Due to the dilatoriousness of the erection of the courts, this season's fee will entitle the member to use the courts next summer to this date. Application for membership should be made to members of the Community club.

City of Nantes Built on Number of Islands

Few of the many visitors to Touraine follow the Loire to the sea. Yet its lower reaches well repay a visit, for, in addition to the historical and commercial interests of Nantes, the capital of the west, the Loire estuary abounds in a variety of bathing resorts.

Nantes has a nautical aspect, apart from its wharves. Waterways, canals and rivers run everywhere in Nantes, for the city is built on a number of islands cut off by the several branches of the Loire and by her tributaries, the Sevre, Nantaise and Erdre. A few miles upstream the Erdre opens out into a series of pretty "broads" and forms the first section of a canal connecting Nantes and Brest, which was dug by British prisoners of war during the Napoleonic wars and was designed to tap the rich agricultural districts of lower Brittany and to provide a means of communication between Nantes and Brest, free from the attentions of the British blockading squadron.

Dropping down the river by the steamer which plies between Nantes and Saint Navaire, one meets a variety of craft, from the ocean-going tramp to tiny black punts working dip-nets. Bowling along over the tide are coasting ketches, mussel-luggers and strings of barges towed by fussy tugs and lashed two by two like floating haystacks. Thirty miles below Nantes the Loire meets the Atlantic, but the estuary is not imposing for a river 600 miles long; it is only six miles across in its widest part.

Accuracy of Weights Is Revealed by Test

An instance of sustained accuracy in the weights which are now being submitted to the bureau of standards for test was noted. In a shipment of nine sets, containing a total of 210 weights, all were within the required accuracy. Only once before has a larger number of sets been submitted without some of the weights having errors greater than the prescribed tolerances. The fact that such shipments are now received, even if only occasionally, is an encouraging indication of the good work done by some American makers. It need not be said that such sustained accuracy would have been entirely out of the question as recently as ten years ago.—Scientific American.

Intelligence of Sheep Dogs

The International Sheep Dog society's trials, at York, England, gave the best possible opportunity of seeing a pretty sport. For sheer variety of interest and character compressed into a few hours, not even hounds well hunted or pointers and retrievers at their steadiest come up to a trial of the best sheep dogs in the United Kingdom. The tasks imposed on the dogs involve driving the sheep between hurdles, penning them, "shedding" or separating them; but perhaps nothing strikes the observer as more remarkable than the way in which a dog will obey orders of which he cannot be expected to see the reason. There are few prettier sights for dog lovers than a young dog's hesitation, his glance back to his master to inquire whether he really means the order, then his implicit obedience to a command in which he cannot see any sense.—Detroit News.

Duke Has 12 Tons of Silver

The duke of Cumberland is selling his silver, they say, which weighs over twelve tons, and is judged to be priceless, the collection including, as it does, some of the rarest specimens of antique silver known.

Walburga, Lady Paget, in one of those books of memoirs of her, tells how on the way from London to Berlin as lady-in-waiting to the then princess royal, the seventeen-year old bride of the crown prince of Prussia, they stopped at Hanover, where a court banquet awaited them. The long table groaned under the famous dinner service, which for so many years, with other heirlooms, had been the object of a great lawsuit between the English queen and king of Hanover, and which the English crown lawyers gave in his favor.

The princess royal recognized the service at once and was much hurt.—Detroit News.

LONG DISTANCE TAX IS REMOVED TODAY

Federal Tax on Telegrams is Also Taken Off Effecting Saving to Public

As a result of the new tax law passed by Congress and signed by the President on June 2, the Federal tax on long distance telephone messages will be discontinued on and after July 3.

All long distance calls costing fifteen cents or more will be affected by the elimination of this tax. The tax has been five cents on calls costing fifteen to fifty cents, inclusive. On each long distance telephone message costing more than fifty cents, the tax has been ten cents. This tax has been collected by the telephone company for the Federal government.

Many petitions and resolutions from the Middle West asking that this tax be removed were received by senators and representatives during the last session of Congress. Business men contended that this tax was a burden on producers and consumers, and that it was a relic of war times.

About 1,700,000 long distance calls are made in the United States each day. Over 15,000,000 telephones in the nation are all interconnected, and enable persons in more than 70,000 cities, towns and communities in United States, Canada and Cuba to converse with each other any hour of the day or night. This has led to a steadily increasing use of the long distance service for social and business purposes. An average of 150 long distance calls a day are handled at the local N. W. Bell exchange.

Removal of the federal tax on long distance telephone calls does not mean that telephone companies will not continue to pay their proportion of taxes. The Federal message tax was assessed against the telephone user. The telephone companies will continue to pay their regular federal, state and other taxes.

Federal taxes on all telegraph messages were taken off at midnight, it was announced today by Miss Ruth Rustad of the Western Union office here. The dropping of the tax will mean a great saving to a number of local business houses which frequently use the wires in their transactions. Individuals, of course, will also be benefited, she said. Tax on all messages amounting to 50 cents or less has been five cents and on messages costing over that amount, a tax of 10 cents has been charged.

The Lesson of Economy

The principle of conservation, through efficient management and rigid economy, is so ingrained in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as to be fundamental to the operation of this business.

Years ago, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) learned that the only way to keep a big business on a thoroughly efficient plane is to plug up the small leaks. Accordingly, painstaking attention was given to ways and means of overcoming wasteful details, unimportant and inexpensive in themselves, but taken as a whole assuming enormous proportions.

The practice of economy is thoroughly grounded in the personnel of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and has profoundly influenced the activities of the Company.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is the unquestioned pioneer of conservation methods in the oil business.

Back of every important innovation made by this Company stand these questions: "Does this change improve the quality and service?—Does it effect a saving?"

For example, the famous Burton Cracking Process now in general use was originated to conserve the supply of petroleum—to produce a greater percentage of gasoline from crude oil, without in any way affecting the quality of lubricating oils and other primary products.

The Burton Cracking Process has increased largely the yield of gasoline from a barrel of crude, thereby exerting a marked influence in keeping the price of gasoline low.

Conservation led to the erection of farms of steel tanks—to insure a constant supply of crude petroleum—to enable the refiner to reduce his cost by continuous operations—to store the finished product without undue loss from evaporation.

Conservation again was back of the establishment of pipe lines, because they were the most economical method of transporting oil.

The conservation idea led finally to the vast distribution system which covers the ten Middle Western States and carries petroleum products from the refineries of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to farms, factories and individual users, everywhere.

The practice of economy and conservation has been a potent force in developing the splendid system which this Company offers to the thirty million people of the Middle West.

SIZING UP THINGS

In sizing up things, especially those having a bearing on local conditions, it is well to remember that there is more than one angle from which a question may be viewed.

Far too many people err in judgment purely from haste and overzealousness.

Impressions are often formed at first glance, and unless a person is willing to examine beneath the surface and consider all available facts, those first impressions will remain and become fixed convictions, irrespective of whether they are right or wrong.

Injustice to a good cause is often done by this method of sizing up things and immeasurable harm to an individual, a group of individuals or a whole community may result.

Then there is a class of citizens who, having formed a hasty conclusion, refuse to recede from their position, even when confronted with indisputable proof of their error of judgment. That is pure and unadulterated stubborness.

But here, as elsewhere, there are many people who are quick to form impressions, but are willing to, and do, analyze the arguments of the opposition, and are completely changed as the result of the additional information thus acquired.

Sizing up local conditions is an admirable trait, but undue haste in forming lasting conclusions is much to be regretted.

Best results are obtained by taking a calm survey of the situation from every conceivable viewpoint before taking a definite stand.

Communities prosper and grow when their citizens adopt this plan.

Volumes of New Laws

Americans are a unit in agreeing that the country is being burdened to death with useless laws. No one denies that all departments of government have hundreds of unnecessary employes. No one could possibly doubt that taxation is exorbitant and mounting higher every day.

Practically every candidate for public office denounces extravagance in government, demands early relief, and pledges his services to a policy of reduction. Every election is a paper victory for the forces of economy and retrenchment.

Yet, in spite of it all, the public sees each succeeding administration spend more money than its predecessor, create more offices and bureaus, enact more statutes (an average of 10,000 new laws annually), and lead the country deeper into the wilderness of confusion and profligacy.

Only those men holding public office who, when casting their votes, oppose extravagance, should be re-elected. Unless the people pick men whose record for honesty and sincerity is unimpeachable, unless they elect the best men to serve them, we shall have more and more extravagance and bureaucratic government.

Unless the people show sufficient interest and sufficient energy to select better congressional and legislative material, then the people will have no relief and will deserve none.

Reports from the various communities thruout the state indicate that it was not only in Pennington county where the vote in the recent primary election was light. Everywhere there are eligible voters, who do not show enough interest in the affairs of their community, state and nation to go to the polls and cast their ballot on election day.

Some excuse themselves by saying that they do not know enough about the candidates to vote intelligently. If they realize their duty as citizens they would make an effort to overcome that difficulty sufficiently to make a proper selection.

The primary with its numerous candidates, is also blamed for causing a great deal of confusion and uncertainty among the voters.

There are approximately 100 farm agents in Minnesota actively engaged in the promotion of better and more profitable farming methods. Did you ever stop to figure out what County Agent J. J. McCann's service mean to Pennington county and its farmers? We wouldn't make an attempt. His work here is of inestimable value, and farmers and business men of the community owe him their appreciation and support. "Mack" is a hard worker and a real booster.

The trait that influences a certain class of people to do their buying out of town is not because they imagine they can "do better" in the matter of price. They are actuated by a silly pride that prompts them to believe they can get something different and more exclusive. Even this excuse might have a small need of merit if it were true. These community slackers are the ones who do not trouble themselves to investigate the local stocks.—Grand Rapids Herald-Review.

Now that women have the right to vote, why is it that so few perform their duty as citizens by going to the polls on election day. The number of women who cast their ballot in the recent primary was very small in this community. The election this fall will be one of, perhaps, unusual importance and it is to be hoped that women interest themselves in the affairs of the state and nation so as to make an intelligent selection in November.

Our national holidays are too much given over to mere outward manifestations of observance and too little to recognition of the underlying ideas which give these festivals importance, says The National Republican. Independence Day should set the American people thinking of the real and permanent meaning of the Declaration of Independence, and the vital significance of the Fourth of July.

SAVING A NATURAL RESOURCE

The city council of Thief River Falls acted according to the wishes of a overwhelming majority of citizens when it bought the power dam located in this city. One principle involved in this deal is clearly pointed out in an editorial appearing in the Grand Forks Herald yesterday and follows:

"The people of Thief River Falls are to be congratulated on the action of their city government in purchasing from private interests the local river dam and the power rights that go with it. Not knowing the facts we have no opinion to express on the terms of the purchase, price agreed on, or other details. But it is a good thing for the city to repossess itself of a valuable natural resource which should never have passed into private hands.

"Not only are the people of Thief River Falls to be congratulated on the repossession of their property, but the private interests that have controlled it are to be commended on their public spirit in giving the city preference when it became desirable for them to dispose of the property.

THE FOURTH OF JULY

The real significance of Independence Day comes from an understanding of its meaning, a realization of what the Fourth of July stands for in American history.

No child should be permitted to grow up with the idea that the Fourth is the day we all take a vacation and try to see how much noise we can make.

Rather, every school child should be able to quote from memory the essential part of that immortal Declaration of Independence:

> We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Local violators of the liquor laws are again given time for reflection by serving time within the walls of the county jail. As a result of district court proceedings last week two Thief River Falls men were taken to Warren to serve a ninety-day sentence and in addition they will have to increase the treasury of the county by payment of a substantial fine.

Much credit for effective work in curbing the activities of individuals in this community who are prone to break laws, particularly the 18th amendment, is due Sheriff O. L. Ihle, who has persistently kept on their trail.

It is a significent fact that a number of offenders who have operated here have found this a "hot" place and have left the community for other parts, for which honorable citizens are duly thankful.

Co-operating with local officials the public can do much towards getting a clean town and a law-abiding community.

Trench Silo is Explained in Bulletin by Soo Line; A June Pasture in Winter

Farmers of the Northwest have needed silage and have wanted silage to feed their stock during the winter months but have been prevented from having this feed because of adverse financial conditions. The time has arrived, however, when a very satisfactory method of storing silage can be obtained on every farm with a little work and a few dollars cash outlay. The answer is a trench silo.

Nature has ordained that June pastures are best and most economical for the production of beef, milk and butterfat. Silage is a close rival for June pastures in the production of these products. It is an established fact that satisfactory silage crops of one kind or another can be grown in practically all parts of the Northwest. Sunflowers, sweet cover, corn and oats can all be stored in a trench silo. Such a type of silo brings this class of fodder within the reach of all stockmen. It means more than this to many farmers for many of them will now be enabled to engage in mixed farming, can have livestock and thus stay on the land and get on their feet, whereas prior to the advent of this crop they were facing defeat and despair.

It is not claimed that the trench silo is better than either the upright or the pit silo for the storage of fodder. It is used rather as a temporary, inexpensive means of providing a succulent food until financial conditions have become more balanced and farmers are financially able to build a more permanent means of storing food for their stock. The quality of the feed, however, stored in a trench silo appears to be quite equal to that stored in the ordinary type of silo.

The agricultural department of the Soo Line has investigated this type of silo thoroughly both in North Dakota and in Canada. They found it so satisfactory and so economical that a bulletin entitled "The Trench Silo" has been published by that company. Copies of this publication may be obtained free by writing to H. S. Funston, Land Commissioner, Soo Line Railway, Minneapolis, or R. L. Aney, Agricultural Agent, Soo Line Railway, Rolette, No. Dak.

Report Shows Good Gains

A recent report of the Central Co-operative Commission Association of So. St. Paul, shows that during the period from January 1 to June 1, 1924, the Association handled 8889 cars of livestock, as compared with 8005 cars for the same period last year. This is an increase of 884 cars. For the period above mentioned the net earnings of the Association over and above all operating expenses was $48,556.15, as compared with $40,170.60 for the corresponding period of 1923.

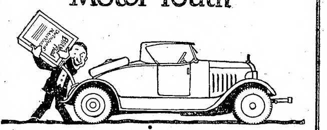
Treat Your Gasoline With:

Blitzen Fluid

"The Fountain of Motor Youth"



Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas-
Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor troubles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the flinty coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carbon is gone grinding of valves becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and perform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and you will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well preserved motor.

Blitzen Fluid is used by men in the Auto Motive Industry who know that it will not injure the most sensitive motor. It is produced by chemists to put and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely reduce the cost.

ADD 2 OUNCES OF Blitzen Fluid TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS and give Blitzen Fluid a fair test in accordance with the condition of your motor. Notice the difference.

In your community Blitzen Fluid "The Fountain of Motor Youth" is sold at Pyramid pumps and service stations.

VOTE CANVASS SHOWS SCHALL AND OLSON WON

Official Figures Reveal Margins of 1,210 and 293 Votes Respectively

TOM DAVIS CONTESTS OLSON'S NOMINATION

Magnus Polls Largest Vote—204,735 F.-L. and 238,469 Republican Votes Cast

Thomas D. Schall, blind congressman from Minneapolis, as the Republican nominee for United States Senator, and Floyd B. Olson, Hennepin county attorney, as the Farmer-Labor nominee for governor, were sustained Wednesday of last week in the official compilation of the June 16 primary election results by the state canvassing board. Olson was declared nominated by a margin of 293 votes over Tom Davis, and Schall won out over Oscar Hallam by 1,210 votes.

Final official figures on the two close contests which see-sawed for a week before it became definitely certain about who had won, follow:

Governor, Farmer-Labor — Olson, 56,825; Tom Davis, 55,532; L. A. Fritsche, 41,831; Victor E. Lawson, 20,784; W. W. Royster, 9,083; Dr. W. A. Schaper, 8,134; Thomas Vollom, 7,215.

Suit was filed in district court in Minneapolis Thursday by Davis, calling for a recount, alleging that ballots were illegally cast and that votes erroneously counted gave 2,000 votes to Olson instead of to Davis.

Senator Magnus Johnson polled more votes than anyone else in the primaries, winning the Farmer-Labor nomination for United States senator with 174,343 votes. Michael Ferch, his nearest opponent, received only 15,254 and Hjalmer Dantes, Communist, received only 7,548.

There were 204,735 votes cast in the Farmer-Labor and 238,469 in the Republican primaries. W. I. Nolan, speaker of the house of the legislature for several terms, received the high Republican vote. He was nominated for lieutenant governor with 136,258 votes. Sam Rask was his nearest opponent with 41,637 and Lloyd Ahlstrom drew 34,954.

On the Republican ticket there was no contest for secretary of state, treasurer and attorney general. Mike Holm, Henry Rines and C. L. Hilton are declared nominees.

There was no contest on the Democratic ticket and the following are declared nominated: John J. Farrell, United States senator; Carlos Avery, Lieut. governor; Ole C. Halverson, secretary of state; Henry H. Reindl, treasurer; Robert C. Bell, attorney general; J. J. Lanin, railroad and warehouse commissioner.

Recommendations have been made by the superintendent of the railway mail service at St. Paul and formal approval is expected by the department within a few days, according to W. H. Burroughs, acting chief clerk of the Duluth office, who notified Postmaster Considine of the additional mail service. A closed-pouch service has been recommended, the letter states.

The new night train to Thief River Falls was inaugurated June 1, giving a through service daily to Winnipeg, but a request for daily mail service was turned down by the railway mail department at the time. As a result the Chamber of Commerce, the Duluth Retail Merchants' association, local newspapers, the Marshall-Wells company and the Stone-Ordean-Wells company entered protests against the decision.

In his communication to Postmaster Considine, Mr. Burroughs states that "in view of the urgent demand for this additional service and the material improvement in the service it will afford, the superintendent at St. Paul is of the opinion that this service should be authorized on train 165 between Duluth and Thief River Falls daily, except Sunday."

The request for mail service on the night train from Thief River Falls to Duluth was rejected, Mr. Burroughs states.

FARM CONFERENCE IN ST. PAUL WILL DISCUSS MEASURES

Fight for McNary-Haugen Bill To Be Renewed at National Gathering

A great national conference of farm organizations to formulate a definite plan and map out a concerted campaign for the attainment of such legislative protection for agriculture as was embodied in the McNary-Haugen bill will be held on July 11 and 12 in St. Paul, beginning at 10 a. m., at the Garrick theatre.

While this bill failed of passage in the last session of Congress, its principles are still very much alive. The farm organizations which led in the promotion of that bill and the farvisioned business men who aid them are girding themselves for the second stage of the struggle which will come when Congress again convenes.

At the conference in St. Paul definite plans will be formulated for a continuous campaign during the summer months and for the preparation of legislative measures of relief to be presented to Congress in December. This is an open conference to which everyone is invited. It is expected that an executive committee will be appointed to carry out the plans adopted. The McNary-Haugen bill is the only practicable plan so far proposed that will lift agriculture to the level of other industries, and undoubtedly it will serve as the model for the conference.

Three hundred farm and commercial organizations of the United States, national, state and local, indorsed the McNary-Haugen bill.

Twenty special representatives of these organizations were on the ground in Washington and made up the legislative committee actively promoting the passage of the bill. When Congress adjourned without according the necessary relief the decision to call a national conference in St. Paul for the prosecution of a further campaign was made by this legislative committee.

George C. Jewett, general manager of the American Wheat Growers' associated, is chairman of the committee in charge of the promotion of the McNary-Haugen bill, by which the St. Paul meeting has been called.

It was decided at a meeting of farmers and others of this community last week to be represented at the conference by a good sized delegation.

Taxation Will Be Studied Through Local Committees

The Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation has under consideration a plan whereby local committees would be set up in each county in the state for the purpose of investigating all phases of rural tax problems.

Such committees would be known as tax committees and would be appointed through the local Farm Bureau organizations.

It would be the duty of these committees to ascertain the amount of taxes paid by their respective communities, and the manner in which these taxes are distributed, with a view to finding out how these taxes might be reduced with the least inconvenience.

Minnesota offers a fertile field for such studies, as disclosed by a recent study in Redwood county. One fact brought out, for instance, was that the average tax millage for Minnesota counties, as a whole, is over 59 mills, while the millage in Redwood county is something over 38 mills. What makes the difference? There must be some interesting studies behind these figures.

In a number of communities thruout the state tax leagues are being formed by interested citizens in an effort to obtain a reduction in local taxes and affect a reduction in state and federal taxes as well.

When Alfalfa May Be Cut Without Hurt To Stand; U Men Advise

Farm crops authorities of the university department of agriculture say that alfalfa may be cut for hay without injury to the stand any time it is from one-tenth in bloom to full bloom.

If the season's first cutting is left until the full bloom stage, the hay becomes coarse and is neither as palatable nor as nutritious as it would be if cut earlier. Leaving the first crop after it is at the proper stage to cut also delays and reduces the second crop, for the new shoots coming from the crown are cut off with the first crop.

The university farm agronomists agree, therefore, that the first cutting should be made when the field is about in one-tenth bloom or as near as possible. The second and third cuttings of the season may be left until the full bloom stage if desired, for the reason that the plant does not grow so coarse and rank after the first cutting. When alfalfa is to be fed to horses, it may be allowed to grow slightly longer than when it is to be fed to cattle, but it should never be left until the second crop is injured in cutting the first crop.

The important part of the alfalfa plant is the leaves. If the hay is permitted to get too dry many of the leaves will dry off and the best part of the hay lost. With good hayeuring weather, alfalfa cut in the morning after the dew is off should be ready to put in the stack or mow the next day—in fact, the university men say it should be put in, even though it looks a little green. While they do not advise the putting in stack or mow of very green alfalfa hay, they say it should not be allowed to get too dry. The leaves dry much more rapidly than the stems and, on account of their slender attachment drop off somewhat more easily than do clover leaves.

Alfalfa should not be cut later than September 10 to 15, or otherwise it will not have time to make a good growth for winter protection.

Legion Helps Community

Warren Legionnaires, always active in community projects, have worked out a new idea as regards participation in municipal affairs. Post Commander C. A. Gunnarson explains that it is the plan of the post to plan at least one member of the Legion on each civic committee appointed by any organization that may be launching a community project. This, says the commander, will broaden the scope of the Legion's service to the community and will help train Legionnaires for future service of a similar or more responsible nature. He believes that, successfully carried out, the plan will result in the community coming more and more to depend upon the aid of Legion members who through their experience with previous propects have become competent to give advice as to procedure and to direct actual operations.

"Blackhead" Kills Turkeys

The disease known as blackhead is killing many young turkeys in the Red river valley, says Dr. W. A. Billings, extension veterinarian of University Farm. Separation from other poultry on the farm, proper sanitary methods, right kind of feeds and good all-round care are factors of importance in fighting this dread disease. The feeding of ipecac will also help to save the flocks.

MANY CLUBS VISIT NORTHWEST SCHOOL

Thief River Falls Community Will Call At Experiment Station July 24

More than thirty farm and community clubs have already been scheduled for inspection trips to the Northwest Experiment Station and School of Agriculture, Crookston, during the present season. These visitations began two weeks ago and will continue almost daily from now until threshing season opens in August. The usual plan is for the members of the group to bring their own lunch baskets for dinner. Coffee and cream are served at the school.

Following this the visitors are taken in charge by the various members of the station staff while the women meet with Miss Fanny B. Lippitt, head of the Home Economics department. The fields, orchard, livestock and poultry departments are inspected in turn.

The Thief River Falls Commercial club will head a group of visitors from this community on July 24, plans for which are being made by the executive committee.

The following visitations have already been scheduled for the season: Big Woods farm club, Oslo; Community club, Eldred; Holt Community Club, Holt; Brandt-Helgeland farm club and Commercial and Community clubs, and Tabor Community club, Angus; Windsor farm club, Gonvick; Radium Community Club, Radium; North Star Creamery association, McIntosh; Mallory farm club, East Grand Forks; West Prairie and Donnelly clubs, Stephen; Bloomer farm club, Argyle; Crops and Soils association; Wanger Citizens club, Wanger; Boxville, McCrea, Roon and Warrenton farm clubs, Warren; Fairfax-Andover, Booster and Maple Leaf farm clubs, Crookston, and Commercial and Community clubs, Thief River Falls.

Clubs and community groups that are interested should correspond with Supt. C. G. Selvig regarding dates not already taken. Members of all the groups who have taken part in one of these trips have been very well pleased and have felt repaid for time and effort spent.

Alfalfa is Cheap Hay When Ton Costs are Considered

In addition to being better than other kinds of hay, alfalfa hay actually costs less per ton than other kinds as grown and handled by farmers of Steele and Cottonwood counties who are co-operating with Minnesota Experiment Station men in keeping accounts of their farm business.

On a recent tour of the statistical route in Cottonwood county, George A. Pond of the farm management section, University Farm, submitted the figures from cost accounts kept by the Cottonwood county farmers to show that for four years, 1920-1923, inclusive, alfalfa returned an average acre tonnage of nearly twice that of clover and timothy. The cost of alfalfa per acre was somewhat higher, but the increased yields made the cost per ton less than clover and timothy. Furthermore, alfalfa was shown to be more dependable in dry years. Similar results were reported on the Steele county route, although the advantage for alfalfa was not so striking there as in Cottonwood county.

Cost tour studies developed in addition, says W. L. Cavert, farm management specialist with the agricultural extension service of the university, that well handled dairy herds returned 40 to 50 cents per hour above feed costs and other expenses for the time expended on them, and that well handled flocks of farm poultry showed profits of $150 to $275 for the year. Farmers who had good alfalfa, clover or rape pastures and fed balanced rations were able to cut pork production costs to the low point.

Metals Are Transparent When Subjected to Heat

Very thin films of certain metals become transparent at heats not nearly sufficient to melt them. For instance, if we take a sheet of gold leaf somewhat thinner than the paper on which this is printed and heat it by an electrical current to temperature of about 2,400 degrees Fahrenheit, it will become as transparent as a pane of green-colored glass. If carefully kept from drafts very much finer sheets of gold leaf can thus be heated by clamping them on frames of marble or slate and applying the current through the metal strips which clamp each end of the sheet.

When this is done with gold leaf of about one-hundredth the thickness of ordinary paper and the current is gradually increased until the temperature reaches 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit, the leaf becomes not only translucent, but transparent, so that it is actually possible to see through it. For apparently the same reason silver foil, which requires only 2,250 degrees to make it clearly transparent, shows a bluish-violet tint. Copper foil has also been made transparent in this way, but remains so only for a short time, as it combines with the oxygen of air when thus heated, and the resulting compound is not transparent.

Arizona Copper Mine Has Steepest Incline

The Shannon incline, which is used to handle ore at copper mines in Arizona, is a notable piece of mechanical construction. It has a length of 1,500 feet and a vertical drop of 800 feet. It is said to be the steepest incline anywhere.

One of the difficult problems met with in mining in many places is the transportation of ores and supplies up and down mountain sides. Some of the most valuable mines are not infrequently situated far up the side of a mountain. It may be impracticable or impossible to bring the ore down by ordinary methods of transportation, such as wagons or trucks or upon the backs of burros. In such event the only solution of the problem is to build aerial tramways or inclines.

Now the Shannon incline is built of 35-pound steel rails. The track consists of five parallel rails. It has a 40-inch gauge, upon which the ore skips operate, and a 20-inch gauge for the small supply trucks. Special attention was given to providing a solid roadbed and in laying large, sound ties in the construction of the road. The ties are six by ten inches in size. The two ore skips are operated by gravity.

T. R. F. WINS OVER MIDDLE RIVER 2-1; PLAY OKLEE SUNDAY

Local Nine to Meet Winner of Middle River-Badger game tomorrow. Oklee Here Sun.

Thief River Falls was the victor in this season's first official baseball game Sunday when the local nine met the Middle River aggregation on the home field in a close game, ending with the score of 1-2.

The game was an interesting one from the outset. Grant Gulrud as pitcher and Derby Andersen as catcher made a good combination for the battery. Middle River was able to effect only two first base hits, both being single baggers. Howe made a two base hit for this city's team in the second inning but was put out on third. Few walks were given by either team and most players were put out at first. Olson started off the third inning with a two bagger. Parenteau as fourth man up made first in a low ball and played Olson to third. With McGinn at bat Olson sneaked home on a wild pitch and Parenteau followed while Middle River's pitcher held the ball. The score stood at 2-0 until the seventh inning when I. Gullickson, Middle River, made a one base hit and completed the run, sliding home under the hand of the local catcher.

The lineup for Sunday's game was Gulrud, Anderson, battery, LaBree, Olson, Pederson, bases, McGinn, shortstop, and Berg, Howe and Parenteau, outfield.

Sunday the local nine, with possibly a stronger lineup will cross bats with Oklee. It is predicted that if Oklee hopes to repeat the results effected in their last game with this city's team, they'll have to show some good brand of base ball. Tomorrow Thief River Falls plays the winner of the Middle River-Badger game at Middle River.

The local boys are in the game for clean home talent baseball and are showing up good. Practice has been consistent and if Thief River Falls fans are going to be on the baseball map this year, let them boost their team, not only with their voices but with their purses as well.

Peter Wold Honored By Many Friends at Farm Home Near Kratka Sun.

More than a hundred friends with well filled lunch baskets gathered at the farm home of Peter C. Wold in Kratka township last Sunday afternoon. The picnic was a complete surprise to Mr. Wold and was planned by friends and neighbors as an honor to one of Pennington county's pioneer farmers and most highly respected citizen.

Few men have lived in this county as long as Mr. Wold, who has resided in Kratka the past 20 years and west of the city about an equal number of years prior to that. He has worked faithfully in the interest of public welfare and has served in many positions of honor and trust, including the county board of commissioners and the child welfare board.

At five o'clock a bounteous lunch was served which had been prepared by the women, while the men engaged in outdoor sports. L. O. Kongelf acted as toastmaster and called upon some of Mr. Wold's friends for brief talks, all of whom responded by praising him as a neighbor, friend, citizen. Theo. Quale and Mrs. J. M. Bishop of this city were among the speakers. A large leather rocker was presented to the honored guest by Mrs. Bishop as a token of esteem from those present. Mr. Wold responded thanking his friends for this assurance of their high regard.

Members of the family from various points were home for the occasion.

Steal Road Sign

Someone with a peculiar appreciation of signs has stolen the large road sign erected at the junction of state highway Nos. 32 and 8, according to information received here last week. This sign directed tourists via Red Lake Falls and Thief River Falls to Winnipeg and was erected on private property at considerable expense by the automobile clubs of this city and Red Lake Falls. The object of such a theft is difficult to determine but it is likely that the matter will be investigated.

City Without Movies

A city has been discovered where the moving picture is unknown. It is Amoy, in southern China, with 120,000 inhabitants. No amusements prevail, except mah-jongg, and that is restricted to the homes of mandarins and wealthy merchants.

comfort of the patrons' wives. Sufficient space is allowed for adding additional churns and other machinery as production demands.

The second floor will contain a milk room, the milk being conveyed by an automatic elevator. It is planned to use the filtration method for cleaning the milk instead of the present clarifying machine, the filtration vats to be fed by gravity and the milk run down to the first floor. This is considered a big improvement over the present clarifier, which is said to cause a loss by reducing the cream line. The second floor will also have a large storage room which can be used for the making of cheese or other dairy by-products when the association decides to expand its activities.

Assembly Room Possibility

At an additional cost of $610 an assembly room 25 by 40 feet with a seating capacity of from 300-350 people, can be finished on the second floor, this matter to be decided by the stockholders at a special meeting July 19.

The creamery will have access to the Thief River Grocery company's spur for loading and unloading freight and the new structure will have two large double doors on the north side for taking in freight. A concrete driveway 18 or 20 feet in width will also be constructed on the north side, altho it will be possible to drive around the building. Cream will be taken in on the south side on a sloping conveyor, which will increase the efficiency of handling the cans.

The insulation of the refrigerators and coolers were bid for by the Armstrong Construction company at $1645 and Insulation Sales company at $1680, the contract being awarded the former. Both are twin city firms.

Contractors besides Mr. Norby bidding for the construction work were: Alex Nelson, Perham, $33,995; The Prichard Company, city, $37,990; C. M. Carlson, city, $36,150; L. D. McAdams, city, $36,990; Becker Construction company, Crookston, $39,471; L. W. Baumeister, St. Paul, $38,990; O. M. Syverson, Crookston, $40,220; E. Rydeen, St. Paul, $38,611.

Special Meeting

Notices have been sent out to the 160 stockholders announcing a special meeting at the Commercial club rooms Saturday, July 19, to amend the articles of incorporation to conform with Chapter 326, Laws of Minnesota 1923, passed for the benefit of co-operative institutions. The proposed change will eliminate the income tax, extend the charter to July 1, 1954, places maximum indebtedness or liability of association at $40,000 instead of $2,500 and allows expansion of business and broadening of activities.

Prichard Built Creamery

The present creamery was established and built in 1902 by The Prichard Company, then known as the Prichard-Stone company, by whom it was operated until in 1906 when it was sold to the then organized cooperative association, which has grown to enormous proportions during its 18 years of operation. Starting out with but a few cows in the entire community and a very small output, the plant last year manufactured 614,000 pounds of butter and in 1922 reached the high mark of 635,000 pounds. This year's production is approximately 50 per cent over 1923. Last Tuesday 5,000 pounds butter was made here.

The history of the dairy industry and creamery in this community is one of the most interesting phases of its progress and will be further developed in next week's issue of The Times.

To Show at Many Fairs

Albert Paradis of Poplar River, Red Lake county, who achieved signal success last year in taking prizes with his 11 head of Aberdeen-Angus cattle, will be among the exhibitors at the Pennington county fair here Aug. 7, 8 and 9. He left this week with a herd of 20 animals which he will show at fairs at Ada, Fertile, Crookston, Bemidji and Wahpeton, N. D., besides Thief River Falls. Mr. Paradis is in charge of the herd this year.

Rev. Lundell Returns

Rev. O. J. Lundell, local pastor, returned Thursday from Chicago where he attended the annual conference of Swedish Evangelical Mission Covenant of America. About 300 delegates from all parts of the country were in attendance. The covenant in a resolution reaffirmed loyalty to the historic principles of Christianity and allegiance to the Bible as the only infallible word of God and the only authority for life and doctrine. Members were also called upon to uphold the present prohibition laws and not permit the breaking down of the 18th amendment by allowing the sale of light wine and beer.

CONTRACTS AWARDED ON ROAD JOBS

State Highway Commissioner Announces Low Bidders on Biggest 1924 List

Tentative awards of contracts in the largest single list of state trunk highway improvements for 1924 were announced this week by Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner. The total is $1,000,000. Another lot of trunk route betterments is to be contracted in a month under the policy of giving motor vehicle taxpayers the earliest use of the improvements their money is buying.

Contracts now being made call for 140 miles of grading, requiring the moving of 1,600,000 cubic yards of earth; 90 miles of surfacing, taking 160,000 yards of gravel; 19 new bridges of 1,200 lineal feet and widening 7 old bridges, and about 5 miles of paving on T. H. No. 3 between Lake City and Red Wing. All the undertakings are to be pushed to earliest possible completion.

Among the projects in the last group of awards is one for the graveling of 11.4 miles from Erskine thru Winger, awarded to the Super Way company for $22,675. The Minneapolis Bridge company, with offices in this city, secured the contract for the construction of a 130-foot bridge across the Leaf River on T. H. No. 4, for $12,565.

The most important improvements on this as on preceding lists are to be financed with county reimbursement bonds, Commissioner Babcock said. But the bonds with interest are to be paid from automobile tax receipts through a sinking fund which already holds $2,000,000 drawing 4½ per cent interest. The sinking fund total is exclusive of necessary amounts set aside to meet current interest payments. This "pay-as-you-use" plan, the commissioner added, is speeding the highway improvement program with greatest economy and fairness.

Local Satesdals Attend "Stevne" in Grand Forks

Olaf Neset, Gunder Aakhus, Soren Bergland, Ole Dahl and Gunder Olson returned Friday evening from Grand Forks where they attended the annual convention of Satesdals-Laget Thursday and Friday. They declare it one of the most successful and entertaining "stevnes" ever held, and a large attendance. At the meeting it was decided that th Satesdals-Lag join with other "lags" of this country in the observance of the 100th anniversary of the landing of the first shipload of Norwegians in this country, which will be held in Minneapolis June 6-10, 1925. The president of the United States and the king and crown prince of Norway will be invited to attend the festival.

At the business session Bj. Bjornaraa of Wanke was re-elected president of the organization. Mr. Neset is succeeded by K. Rike, Thompson, N. D., as secretary. Other officers are: O. B. Olson, Buxton, N. D., vice president for North Dakota; M. A. Brattland, Ada, vice president for Minnesota; Arny Grundyson, Fisher, treasurer. Thor K. Rynestad of Thief River Falls, B. O. Sorbo of Grand Forks, John Johnson of Pekin, N. D., Knute Brokke of Buxton, N. D., and Gunder Nesland of Grygla were named on the board of directors.

Among the features of the programs were addresses by Congressman Knud Wefald of Hawley, A. G. Sorlie of Grand Forks, gubernatorial nominee in North Dakota, and Prof. Holvik of Moorhead, and Norwegian "nasjonal" music by Eivind Aakhus of Grand Forks and Dreng Ose, champion player on the Hardanger violin in Norway and winner of the first prize and several special honors at the annual contest of the Hardanger Violinist Forbund of America in Minneapolis June 22. Mr. Ose will visit in this city soon and may give a concert here. In the folk dancing contest Mr. Bjornaraa was awarded first place.

Others from this vicinity who attended were Mrs. S. Nomland and son Hal, Mrs. John Flom and son, Gunder Nesland and Torge Torgeson of Grygla and T. G. Helle of Erie.

William John Meyer of Sanders township died at his home Tuesday. He was born in Germany, Jan. 13, 1855, and came to this country 43 years ago. The past 11 years he has been a resident of this county. He is survived by his wife and several children. Funeral services will be held this afternoon from the German Lutheran church, Rev. E. H. Kriedt officiating, and interment made in Greenwood cemetery.

Running a Boarding Cave

Officer Stonehat—You got awfully beat up. Some enemy do it?

Widow Honechisel—No, suitors; I killed and dressed an aurochs and served my boarders with real porterhouse steaks. Then they all proposed to me at once.

All the Joys

At a South-end chauffeur's wedding, his comrades made an arch of petrol cans outside the church. Another pretty idea would be to strew soft pedestrians in the path of the happy couple as they drive away.—London Opinion.

Find Statue 5,000 Years Old

A royal statue 5,000 years old is one of the many rare relics unearthed by excavations recently made on the site of Ur in Mesopotamia, the home town of Abraham's ancestors. The statue was dug up in the ruins of a temple dedicated to the moon god, whose worship was observed there for probably 4,000 years. It is a figure of Entemena, king of Lagash, who lived about 2900 B. C. What he looked like is impossible to discover as the head of the statue is missing. Records show the temple to have been rebuilt in 2300 B. C., after many centuries of use. It was remodeled by Nebuchadnezzar and again by Cyrus the Great in the Fifth century B. C. This was probably the last alteration as less than a century later the Persian fire-worshipers destroyed all the temples and images of the ancient idolatrous religion.

Soo Line Will Continue Sleeper Service on Nos. 109-110 Says Newman

General Traffic Manager F. R. Newman of the Soo Line has informed the Commercial club of Thief River Falls that their request would be granted in setting off the sleeper in this city on train numbers 109 and 110.

Mr. Newman stated that the Soo Line appreciated the co-operation and friendly relations existing between their company and the city of Thief River Falls.

The sleeper accommodations for Thief River Falls which have been followed in the past were to be taken off on account of the small patronage given for this accommodation, but due to the above named action of the Soo Line the city will still be favored with the good service given in the past.

Among those of this city who motored to Warren Wednesday of last week to attend the annual Marshall county picnic are Mr. and Mrs. Karl Korstad and daughter, Charlotte, J. H. Hermanson and family, Harry Roberts and family, and the Misses Emma, Ruth and Hcen Satre and Ruby Ihle. A large attendance made the picnic a gratifying success. Senator Magnus Johnson was the speaker of the day and gave a fine inspirational address with his usual touches of wit and humor.

Telephone Users Relieved of Tax on Long Distant Calls

On and after July 3 the Federal tax on long distance telephone messages will be discontinued as a result of the new tax law passed by Congress and signed by the President on June 2.

The elimination of this tax affects all long distance calls of 15 cents or more. On calls for which the charges are from 15 to 50 cents, inclusive, the tax has been 5 cents and on each message for which the charges are more than 50 cents, the tax has been 10 cents. This tax has been collected by the telephone company for the Federal Government.

This reduction in the cost to users of long distance service increases its usefulness for business and social purposes. Ask our Business Office for assistance in further adapting long distance service to your requirements.

MANY EAGER TO JOIN RED LAKE RESORT ASS'N

Ideal Resort Tract at Narrows Attracting Valley Citizens —55 Cars July 4

MEMBERSHIPS FOR LOTS BEING SOLD THIS WEEK

Money Will Be Used for Making Improvements—Playground Of Northwest

A total of 55 cars filled with tourists were counted at the narrows of Red Lake on July 4, according to local citizens who visited the popular resort on Independence day. This clearly indicates the attractiveness of the place, even at this time with no improvements—only the natural resort facilities.

Many of the hundreds who have visited the lake this season report large catches of fish, which is proving to be a big drawing for tourists from the entire valley.

Those who have been outing at Red Lake, which is located only a little more than 50 miles east from Thief River Falls, are unanimous in declaring it an ideal summer resort with unequalled natural camping, swimming, fishing and general outing facilities.

The recently incorporated Red Lake Summer Resort association, formed under the auspices of the Commercial club of this city, has already received memberships for lots in the 163-acre tract leased at the narrows, without solicitation, which is evidence of the interest taken in the proposition. Blanks for membership have now been printed and officials of the association will this week start actively to secure members.

Memberships for inside lots are $10 each for the season and $20 for lake-shore lots. The leased tract which is the most ideal stretch of beach at the point, has been plotted out into some over 200 lots and it is expected with certainty that these will be taken within a short time.

The association is a non-profit organization and all the money derived from memberships will be used for the improvement of the grounds. It is the intention of those heading the organization to make it the playground of the entire Northwest. Those who head the association at present and who composed the incorporating body, are E. O. Mogensen, president; F. J. Stebbins and Math Barzen, vice presidents; Geo. M. Wilson, secretary; and F. H. Herrick, treasurer.

A number of parties have already announced that they are looking for an opportunity to start business places at the narrows to provide tourists with the necessities of life. The road to the narrows is now completed and motorists find it in fairly good shape, altho it is still being improved. The present route goes from Thief River Falls to Goodridge, from there north to ditch No. 20 which is followed to the sawmill, thence south 10 miles to a point where there is a marked tree, directing the tourists east on the ridge to the lake at the narrows. The distance by this route from this city to the lake is about 72 miles.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS TO DISCUSS ANNUAL SALE AT MEET SAT.

Preparations for Big Event Oct. 5 Will Be Considered by Association

An important meeting of the Pennington County Holstein Breeders' association will be held at the Commercial club rooms Saturday of this week at 8 p. m., according to announcement by Secretary M. T. McFarland, who urgently requests all members of the association and other Holstein breeders in this community to be present.

The main subject to be considered at this gathering is the annual Holstein dispersal sale scheduled to take place here on Oct. 5, in connection with which a number of matters have to be outlined. Committees will be selected to make the necessary arrangements for the event, which is one of the most important in the promotion of the dairy industry in the community. The number of animals to be entered in the sale will also be determined at the meeting Saturday night.

About 35 Holstein breeders in Pennington and adjacent counties belong to the local association which is one of the leading in the state.

The association has offered to award a purebred sire to the winner in the boys' and girls' dairy calf club, to give an impetus to club activities in Pennington county.

Hans Anton, prominent Holstein breeder near Thief River Falls is president of the association.

Excavation For Creamery Started by Norby Monday

Excavation for the basement of the new creamery to be erected by the local co-operative association was started Monday by Bert Norby, who was awarded the contract for construction. The bond has been furnished and work is being pushed with as much speed as possible, assuring completion by the time called for in the contract, December 1.

Construction of the basement under the court house, also by Mr. Norby, is progressing at a rapid rate, the foundation being completed.

The man who has a good opinion of himself often is not hard to satisfy.

LOCAL ALFALFA FIELD HARBORS FIVE EAGLES

While industry and agriculture in Pennington county tends to specialize and intensify, wild life apparently is variegating. Five young eagles were found Monday morning on the farm of S. L. Sorenson, four miles west of this city, when Mr. Sorenson was cutting alfalfa. The specimens of the national bird were taken to Laird's specialty shop on Third street for the benefit of those wary and skeptical, and probably rightly so, personages who are prone to place more faith in their eyes than ears. The largest bird has a wing spread of about two feet and is possibly two and a half weeks old. Eagles have been shot near this city years ago but The Times believes these the first young ones to be found here. No adult eagles have been seen, and while the birds are not feathered out, it is generally conceded that they are eagles.

B. O NORBY HEADING DRIVE FOR MEMBERS IN POULTRY CO-OP.

Intensive Campaign Opening Next Week to Secure Membership for Marketing Unit

An intensive drive to complete the membership campaign for the Thief River Valley Co-operative Egg and Poultry Marketing association will be carried out next week. Every poultry producer is urged to enroll immediately so as to enable the association to start operation in time to take care of the marketing of chickens and turkeys for the fall trade.

President Olaf Neset and County Agent J. J McCann, state that as soon as a thousand members are secured arrangements will be made to start operation at once.

This matter will be brought before the Commercial club at the weekly luncheon today and it is thought at this writing that everyone will put their shoulders to the wheel and put this drive across 100 per cent. Every community in the entire Thief River Valley is urged to put forth their best efforts in this campaign. B. O. Norby of Eyota, Minn., formerly head of the Goodridge schools, will have temporary charge of the campaign.

WANT DELEGATIONS TO ATTEND DAIRY EXPOSITION-FAIR

Twin City Representative Here Boosting Red River Valley Attendance

Increased farm profits promoted by scientific feeding of dairy cattle at low costs and diversification of standard crops is the message the second Northwest Dairy Exposition, to be held in conjunction with the Minnesota state fair, August 30 to September 6, will deliver to the farmers of the Northwest.

Plans for the 1924 exposition are already under way. Headed by Jule M. Hannaford, Jr., of St. Paul and D. D. Tenney of Minneapolis, a joint business men's committee of the St. Paul association and the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association has built a substantial framework about which the 1924 show will be molded.

"The committee is planning to round out the dairy development program begun in the Northwest by the National Dairy Exposition in 1921 and 1922, and continued by the Northwest Dairy Exposition in 1923," said Mr. Hannaford, who is chairman of the committee. "Our plan this year is a diversified farming show under the name of the Northwest Dairy Exposition, with special stress on low-cost feeding—in other words, feeding on the farm itself in such a way as to produce profits." Delmer H. LaVoi, representative of the twin city committee who is meeting with various civic organizations throout this section in the interest of the livestock show, is in the city today and meets with members of the Commercial club at the noon luncheon.

In writing to The Times Mr. LaVoi states in part: "My commission is mostly that of organization, that is, finding ways to swell the attendance at the state fair and dairy exposition. Also we wish to find out what your city's and Pennington county's part will be this year. As our committee wishes to co-operate in the matter and realizing how your county turned out last year, we have all the belief that it may be bigger and better this year.

"I am planning to visit the entire valley section and we are expecting large delegations from all valley counties this year. It will take some organization work to do it, but using the splendid work you people did in getting out a delegation last year as an example to work on, the other counties will at once sit up and take notice.

"No better advertisement could be given the Red River valley at the present time than by sending a large delegation to the state fair and dairy exposition."

A collection of ten varieties of peonies entered by Dr. C. A. Mellby of Northfield, brother of Dr. O. F. Mellby of this city, took first place in the amateur division of the annual exhibit of the Minnesota Horticultural Society in Minneapolis recently. Two hundred varieties of peonies grow in Dr. Mellby's gardens. Last year he won several national prizes.

PLANNING FOR BIGGEST FAIR HELD TO DATE

Attractions to be the Most Wonderful Ever Seen in This Entire Section

FAIR BOARD MEETS TO OUTLINE PROGRAM

Exhibits Promise to be More Extensive Than Ever—Boosters to Crookston

Pennington county has always had good fairs, particularly in recent years, the events attracting people from the entire Red River valley section. The amusement features have been specially entertaining and attractive.

This year the aim of the fair management is to eclipse all former efforts so far that when a county fair is mentioned anywhere in this neighborhood it will be taken for granted that the big show in Thief River Falls is referred to. Every detail connected with the arrangements is on a larger and more elaborate scale than ever before, and the only thing that can prevent its being the greatest of all successes is a freakish spell of weather. The dates for the fair this year are August 7, 8 and 9, only four weeks from today.

A meeting of the fair board was held Monday night at which time members went over plans for the event and lined up the program. Roy Lambert, in charge of the program, has appointed Dr. G. A. Penney and L. R. Johnston as his assistants. Among the features of the program will be an address by Senator Magnus Johnson on the last day of the fair.

It is realized that it takes something besides fine cattle, fat hogs, heavy grain and premium alfalfa to make up a county fair that will be satisfactory to the thousands who visit the events. They want amusement features of a high standard and it has been the effort of the fair management this year to get the best obtainable. They are unanimous in saying that this year's program in every detail is the heaviest and best in the history of the fair organization here. It is to be considered that attractions for a total of $3,000 are being secured, besides fireworks costing $600. Much entertainment will be provided by the Hoaglan Hippodrome, which includes auto polo, horse races, push ball and other features. There will be 17 free acts every afternoon and evening, all executed by first class entertainers.

Present indications are that the stock exhibits this year will be better and larger than ever, local exhibitors making plans to show a large number of fine animals. Outsiders will be entered providing there is sufficient space in the livestock barns, but local exhibits will be provided for first.

Secretary J. J. McCann has been busy the past couple of weeks sending out premium lists but those who do not receive a copy may get one by applying at his office in the auditorium.

Large posters advertising the fair will also be distributed thruout this section.

On July 24, the date set for the big community tour to the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, special boosters will carry banners and stickers calling attention to the fair here.

Chas. Lieberman Celebrates With 8th Anniversary Sale

A clothing sale of more than usual interest to the buying public will open tomorrow at the store of Charles Lieberman, announcement of his eighth anniversary sale appearing elsewhere in this issue. Mr. Lieberman, who has been in the clothing business in this city the past 12 years is offering numerous bargains in men's shoes, suits and furnishings to his large patronage in celebrating his eighth anniversary in the business which he is now conducting. The Lieberman store is one of the best to be found in this section, everything being new and up-to-date in every particular.

Customers from points many miles distant from this city come here to take advantage of the splendid offerings by Thief River Falls merchants from time to time. The careful buyer always reads the advertisements every week and is guided thereby in his buying.

Appropriation by Council As Aid to Pennington Fair

Following the usual custom the city council Tuesday night appropriated $400 to assist the county fair management in putting on the annual exhibit August 7, 8, and 9. Secretary J. J. McCann appeared before the councilmen, asking that the matter be not neglected as it is the intention to have the greatest fair in the history of the county and it is going to cost a considerable amount of money. The request was granted immediately without a dissenting vote.

New Road Nearing Completion

The first motor vehicle has crossed the new steel bridge spanning the Red Lake river at Red Lake Falls on Trunk Highway No. 32. The approach on the south side of the bridge is rapidly being completed and it will not be many weeks before the new road is opened up, according to reports. The new location of Trunk Highway No. 32 will save about two miles between Red Lake Falls and St. Hilaire, and will eliminate one grade and an overhead railroad crossing and the steep hill. The bridge was completed by the Minneapolis Bridge company last fall.

NORSEMEN TO PICNIC HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Sons of Norway Lodges From Red River Valley to Have Annual Gathering

CHRISTIANSON, SORLIE ON SPEAKING PROGRAM

Committee Making Arrangements for Gala Day—Public Invited to Participate

Assurances received from Sons of Norway lodges in nearby cities justify officers of the local organization in believing that the district picnic to be held at Squaw Point near this city next Sunday will be one of the most widely attended of any in its history. Invitations have been sent out by the Snorre lodge to Grand Forks, Crookston, Halstad, Shelly, Ada, Hendrum, Fertile, Erskine, Gonvick, Gully and Oklee and favorable answers have been received promising large delegations of Sons and their families from each unit. The Gonvick, Gully and Oklee lodges were recently organized and are taking part for the first time.

A splendid program of speeches, music and singing has been prepared by the committee, according to Bernhard Knudsen, president of the local lodge, who will preside at the festivities Sunday. Among the noted speakers to whom invitation has been extended to address the gathering here are Theodore Christianson of Dawson, Republican nominee for governor; A. G. Sorlie, of Grand Forks, recently nominated by the Nonpartisans of North Dakota for governor in that state; Bj. Bjornaraa of Wanke, Gully lodge; and Thomas Vollom of the Erskine lodge. All are fine speakers and it goes without saying that what they have to say will be of interest to everyone. Grand Lodge President T. O. Gilbert of Willmar was invited but is unable to attend.

In addition to the speaking program there will be chorus numbers by the Brage male chorus, an organization of this city which is holding its own among the best in the country. The Fertile chorus is also expected to take part in the musical part of the program.

The program is scheduled to begin at 1 p. m., this to be preceded by a picnic dinner. Those who do not bring their own lunch will be provided for at the grounds. Coffee and soft drinks will be served during the day. Snorre lodge is assisted by the local Daughters of Norway lodge. E. K. Aasen is chairman of committee in charge of arrangements.

It is planned to make this a gala day for all Norwegians and anyone who wishes to come, according to those in charge, and if the weather is favorable, it will undoubtedly be the largest picnic in this city this season.

Oens at Cass Lake Resort

Mr. and Mrs. Rasmus Oen and daughter, Myrthle, and son, Robert, left Sunday for Cass Lake where they will spend six weeks. They took a complete camping outfit along and will spend the greater share of the time in out-of-door camping.

RAIN PROVES BOON TO GROWING CROPS HERE

Pennington county crops were greatly benefitted by the rain of .33 inches last Tuesday, the moisture being badly needed for small grain crops in this section due to the past three weeks' dry weather coupled with several days of heat. Cool weather followed rain and should serve to hold the moisture in the ground.

Pioneer residents declare that crops look about as good as they have ever been in history. Winter rye is reported in splendid condition and with a few more days of the right kind of weather should soon be ready to cut. Rye stalks six feet in height have been reported. Other grain crops are rapidly advancing to the maturity stage, early wheat and barley already heading in many fields in the vicinity. The heads will be exceptionally long and well filled this year. Corn and potatoes are somewhat behind normal stage at this season but with favorable weather from now on good yields may be expected from both crops. The thinning of beets has now been completed and indications point to a record yield.

Haying is now going on in full force and a great deal of alfalfa and sweet clover has already been cut. Excellent yields are reported.

REV. TALLAKSON NEW PASTOR OF TRINITY CHURCH

Grand Forks Pastor Accepts Call of Trinity Lutheran Congregation Here

INSTALLATION TO BE FIRST PART OF SEPT.

Able Man Chooses This Field Because of Greater Opportunities Offered

Rev. S. L. Tallakson, for the past five years pastor of the First Lutheran church in Grand Forks, has accepted a call to serve the Trinity Lutheran congregation in this city, according to announcement made by officials of the church here this week. Official acceptance of the call was received here Monday.

Rev. Tallakson will occupy the pulpit at the Trinity church Sunday evening, July 20, and it is expected that he will be formally installed the first Sunday in September. It is likely that I. T. Anstad, president of the Northern Minnesota district and for 23 years pastor of the local church, will officiate. The Grand Forks pastor succeeds Rev. T. E. Sweger who served the congregation from 1920 until this spring when he resigned to take up duties as field superintendent of the budget for the Lutheran church in the western states.

The new pastor comes here very highly recommended, his work in Grand Forks having been eminently satisfactory and his numerous friends inside and outside of church circles regret his departure from that field. He is a man endowed with exceptional ability as a speaker and has proven himself an untiring worker in his chosen field. He is active in Sunday school work and his pleasing personality easily wins him a place in the hearts of the young people.

His preliminary training was received in Willmar, this state, and in 1906 he received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Luther college. He then entered Luther Seminary at Hamline and in 1909 completed his theological course in that institution. His first charge was at Roseau where he served as pastor for six years, until in 1915 when he went to Chicago and continued his work there for four years. In 1919 he accepted a call to Grand Forks where he has remained since. He has been active among University students of the Lutheran church.

Rev. Tallakson, who is 40 years of age, is married and has two adopted children. The decision of Rev. and Mrs. Tallakson to cast their lot with the people of Thief River Falls and Northwestern Minnesota will be welcome news to everyone connected with the Lutheran church. The new field is sufficiently large to give the new pastor an opportunity to do his best work, and The Times bespeaks for him pronounced success from the beginning.

The Trinity congregation now has about 250 contributing members, or a total membership of approximately 800. The trustees of the congregation are: J. J. Weeks, chairman; Lars Backe, secretary; C. B. Larson, treasurer; H. S. Dahlen, Dr. O. F. Mellby, Jorgen Eide, Oluf Tessum, C. M. Carlson and A. O. Buringrud. Board of deacons consists of Supt. I. T. Simley, J. J. Aga, E. A. Mostue, N. K. Anderson and A. G. Loftness.

Council Grants Six Milk Licenses at Meeting Tues.

Six licenses to sell milk and cream in the city were granted at a brief session of the city council Tuesday night. The requests for renewals were granted Ed. Timm and Anton Jenson and new licenses were issued to J. E. Erickson, Ole Eggerud, Andrew Hedlund and C. J. Langevin. Victor E. Bergstrom was granted a permit to erect a garage at a cost of $75 in Knox addition.

A representative of the Lung Motor manufacturing company appeared before the council in regard to the purchase of a new respiration machine for the city, but the aldermen decided to postpone the matter of buying until they have consulted the city health officer. The usual batch of bills was allowed but no monthly reports were received, these to be gone over at the next regular meeting July 22.

The fair board was allowed an appropriation of $400.

Larger Committee Named At Depositors' Meeting

The general meeting of depositors of the Citizens State bank held in the auditorium Tuesday night resulted in the addition of seven new members to the depositors' committee, which for some time has been working on a plan of re-organization. This committee had nothing definite to report Tuesday night and the new committee will continue its efforts to solve the dilemma.

The state banking department in the meantime will continue its plan of aiding depositors of the defunct bank until such time as a re-organization is accomplished, or until there is sufficient reason for liquidation of the bank's affairs.

The closed Crookston bank is now being reorganized as the Farmers and Merchants National Bank of Crookston and stock is being sold. It is hoped to have the new institution in operation before the start of fall business.

Drowns in Red Lake River

Red Lake river took its second victim this season last Friday afternoon when Gabriel Berneau, 37, Crookston taxi driver, was drowned at Louisville while swimming. A brother-in-law, Alex Cauette of Gentilly, was the only one to witness the drowning. The body was found in nine feet of water.

TIMES WINDOW FAILS TO ARREST FLIGHT OF ROCKET

Observances, if such they may be called, of two recent national holidays have left noticeable marks on The Times building. During the afternoon of Memorial day, a day of quiet and peace, a fracas between two local young men resulted in one being pushed thru one of the plate glass windows in the front of this building. Passers-by Saturday morning again perceived the results of patriotic celebration on the Fourth when they observed a neat hole thru the large window of The Times entrance, caused by the misdirected course of an erratic and high-powered sky-rocket.

With the approach of Armistice day The Times might appreciate a call from some responsible plate glass insurance company, altho the parties implicated so far have apparently gotten their money's worth in celebration, indicated by their willingness to foot the bill.

COUNTY BOARD TO FIX TAX LEVY AT MEETING JULY 14

Annual Summer Meeting of Commissioners Next Monday. Important Session

The annual summer meeting of the county commissioners will be held at the office of County Auditor T. P. Anderson Monday, July 14, a week prior to the scheduled session of the equalization board, which is composed of the commissioners and the auditor.

Among the important matters to come before the board next Monday is the making of the tax levy for the coming year, a matter of the utmost interest at this time when discussions of taxation are the order of the day.

Various routine matters will be considered and the regular business of the summer session transacted. This is one of the two regular sessions of the county board during the year.

VETERANS FILLING OUT APPLICATION BLANKS FOR BONUS

Auditor Anderson Has Supply of Blanks—Legion To Hold Session To Assist

Blanks for use in applying for insurance or a bonus under the adjusted compensation act recently passed by congress, are now available at the office of T. P. Anderson, county auditor. Up to date Mr. Anderson has filled out applications for about 30 Pennington county veterans. On Monday a total of nine were taken care of. It is estimated that there are approximately 500 ex-service men in the county. Besides at the auditor's office the blanks may also be obtained at the post office.

It is the plan of the Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion to conduct what might be called a "bonus day" in the near future, when all veterans in the community will be requested to attend a meeting at which they will be assisted in filling out the blanks in proper form for filing with the war department. The work will be done free of charge and is for the assistance of every veteran in the district. The American Legion is organized to be of assistance to all ex-service men, declares Commander Oscar Smith of the local post.

Applications for bonus are being handled by about 11,000 legion posts throut the country, 500 of which are in Minnesota. The Legion in Minnesota is likely to sign up many new members as the buddies rub shoulders with their Legion comrades in applying for the insurance which is given them largely thru Legion effort.

Veterans should bring their discharge papers when making their application to expediate the matter of getting all the necessary information.

Here is an outline of how the bonus act works:

Applies to all who served in World war up to and including captains in the army and marine corps, lieutenants in the navy, first lieutenants in the engineers and passed assistant surgeons in public health service.

The adjusted service credit is on the basis of $1 per day for home service and $1.25 for overseas service for the period of active service in excess of 60 days.

Adjusted service credit is limited to $500 in the case of home service and $625 for overseas service.

Those whose adjusted service credit is $50 or less will receive compensation in cash.

Cash payments provided for beneficiaries of veterans who have died.

All others receive a 20-year endowment insurance policy, the face value of which is the adjusted credit service increased by 25 per cent plus interest at 4 per cent compounded annually for 20 years.

The average certificate face value is estimated at $962.

The certificate is payable in full at the end of 20 years or prior to that time in case of death.

At the end of two years veterans may borrow on their certificates from banks which may obtain reimbursement from the government in case of default.

Beneficiaries of an adjusted compensation insurance policy need not be the nearest relative or the person named in an application for War Risk Insurance. Any person is entitled to receive the benefits of compensation in case of a veteran's death. If a friend is designated as beneficiary the word "friend" is inserted. The application is not sworn to before a notary public, except in case of dependents.

Dependents of veterans who have died may make application on the regular form.

FOUR SEEK TWO POSITIONS ON SCHOOL BOARD

Annual Meeting of School District No. 18 Will be Held Saturday, July 19

RAYSON, LAIRD, NOPER AND C. M. CARLSON FILE

Voters Urged to Turn Out to Select Directors and Discuss School Matters

Four candidates have entered the race for two positions on the board of education of school district No. 18, filings for which were made with Mrs. L. G. Larsen, clerk of the board. Monday was the last day for filing but others may run on a sticker ballot or have their name written on the ballot. The annual meeting of the patrons and voters of this district will be held at the auditorium Saturday evening, July 19.

The terms of Dr. H. W. Froehlich and L. M. Rayson expire at this time. Mr. Rayson, present treasurer of the board, who has been a strong and able member of that body the past three years has filed for re-election, while Dr. Froehlich feels that he is entitled to retire from public service after having served for six years, altho pressed by many friends to file.

The retirement of Dr. Froehlich from the board will be generally regretted as he has been a public official of unquestioned ability, possessing the vision and confidence to meet the many exacting demands of the position.

New entries in the field are C. M. Carlson, local contractor, Scott Laird and V. C. Noper, farmer near the city. A lively contest is assured with these candidates in the race. Mr. Noper is the first one outside the city limits to file for election on the school board.

In addition to electing two members to the school board the annual reports of the clerk and treasurer will be heard at the annual meeting. The tax levy is determined by the board.

Every voter in the district should attend the annual school meeting. It is one of the most important events of the year and should interest every taxpayer. The schools require the largest amount of taxes of any department of the city and the annual meeting is the proper place to discuss these matters and determine the amount to be expended for the coming year.

Last year only 30 voters turned out to take part in the meeting, most of the school patrons showing their satisfaction in the way affairs of the district are conducted by being absent.

YOUNG CANADIAN IS HELD IN JAIL HERE ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Fred Simpson, 24, of Brandon, Man., Breaks into Farmers Meat Market Fri. Night

"I was hungry" was the reason given by a young man, aged 24, giving his name as Fred Simpson of Brandon, Man., Canada, who Saturday admitted before Judge N. W. Tarrant in municipal court to having broken into the Farmers Meat market on LaBree avenue, for stealing two large hams and some canned meats. A charge of burglary was entered against the culprit who is now lodged in the city jail, County Attorney Theo. Quale awaiting information from Brandon regarding his past record before bringing him to Warren where he will plead guilty before Judge Andrew Grindeland, most likely some time this week.

The theft was discovered Saturday morning by Frank M. Shanahan, proprietor of the shop, the screen being torn off from a window on the south side in the rear part of the building, where Simpson had gained admittance. The hams had been pulled off the hooks and some cans taken off the shelves. Chief of Police Ralston was called and at eight o'clock in the morning the thief was traced to the Ray Chapman home south of the Great Northern tracks on Duluth avenue, where he was found with the stolen goods in his possession. The burglary had taken place Friday night or Saturday morning.

Simpson states that he beat his way to this city from points in North Dakota, arriving here July 1 and intending to continue to Kansas to work in the harvest fields. On his way to this city he had met Chapman and on Saturday morning had asked if he could get a breakfast prepared at his house.

The penalty for burglary is not less than one year in the penitentiary, but Mr. Quale states that the sentence will be determined to some extent by the information from his former place of residence as to his past record.

What's freezing in the bucket?

Chances are, you'd be curious, too, if you didn't know what a simple way this is to have as delicious fruit ices as ever made hot days cool.

There's a can of Del Monte Sliced Peaches in that bucket (or maybe it's Pears, Crushed Pineapple, Apricots, Strawberries, Loganberries, Fruits for Salad, etc.)

It has simply been packed in equal parts of ice and coarse or ice-cream salt and then allowed to stand and freeze slowly for about three hours. In a few minutes, now, this can will be opened, and then certain lucky people are going to enjoy as cool and refreshing a treat as ever was served on a hot day.

And remember—ice is just as helpful to you these hot summer days in many other uses. It not only adds to your enjoyment of food, but safeguards your health as well.

Let us see that you always have a regular supply on hand.

Official Paper, City Thief River Falls
Official Paper, School District No. 18

Few people ever come to Thief River Falls without commenting upon the beauty of the city, the cleanliness of its streets, the general atmosphere of contentment that pervades its homes, the air of prosperity that is reflected by its fine residences and well-kept lawns.

Visitors who make this outspoken comment do so not for the purpose of winning favor with local citizens, but because it is their honest view. And those of us who have observed other cities and towns in our class know that it is true. There are few on a par with Thief River Falls, when real beauty is taken into consideration.

The reputation which Thief River Falls has gained is due to the pride that local people take in their homes. That same sense of pride has made itself felt to such an extent that our public officials have been imbued with the ideal of making this city an attractive place in which to live.

We can make it even more beautiful by continuing to give expression to our pride in making our homes, our streets, our lawns, our public buildings more appealing to the eye. People who live in pleasant surroundings are more contented and contentment should be the ambition of everyone.

A community that makes beauty of its surroundings one of its principal goals will not go backwards, because such an aim means alertness and a desire to do better.

Let's ever keep before us that a city beautiful is an end much to be wished and is worthy the best thought and effort of its citizens.

In reading the columns of locals in The Times have you noticed the number of Thief River Falls citizens who have motored to Red Lake, the greatest of Minnesota's many lakes, on outings, the past few weeks? A glance thru these items will convince anyone that there must be something of unusual interest to attract so many from this and other communities as well in spite of the fact that there are as yet no artificial accommodations and the roads are not of the very best, although in an easily passable condition.

It is safe to predict that when the corporation, started by Thief River Falls citizens to take over a lease of 163 acres at the narrows, gets that point improved with the usual resort facilities and its members erect cottages along this fine beach, there will be a steady stream of tourists from the entire Red River valley and other parts of the country to the lake by way of Thief River Falls and the northern route.

Consistent boosting will bring hundreds, yes thousands, of tourists to this section and once they have visited this great lake they are sure to come again. With increased traffic it will soon be apparent that a highway is necessary making a direct route continuing straight east to the narrows from this city and Goodridge.

Competitive or Co-Operative

Really progressive advertisers are no longer held back by any fear that their advertising may have a beneficial influence upon the affairs of their competitors. They have not the least doubt along this line. They used to have a suspicion that when they made a forceful effort in behalf of their merchandise, their competitors would be helped also. They suspect no longer. They definitely know that their competitors are thus helped. But at the same time they realize the thing works both ways.

If there are ten large manufacturers putting out a similar line of goods and five advertise, the other five naturally are going to get a good part of the benefit. But if all ten advertise, the general effort in behalf of that class of goods is doubled. More people are reached and all ten sell more merchandise.

It is of course going too far to say there is no competition in advertising. Necessarily there must be. But it is pretty much of a co-operative affair after all, when you get right down to a real analysis.—Printers' Ink.

Many are inclined to attach considerable significance to Sydney Anderson's appointment as president of the Flour Millers National Federation, an organization comprising all manufacturers of wheat flour in the United States. It is to be remembered that the representative from the First Minnesota district opposed the McNary-Haugen bill and did his share to bring about its defeat, and it seems a striking coincident that he should now be awarded high honors by the very group that made war on the measure.

H. H. Bigelow, head of Brown and Bigelow, St. Paul specialty manufacturers, got what he had coming when he was sentenced to serve two years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth and to pay a fine of $10,000 for having tried to beat the government out of more than $100,000 in income tax money. The firm and two members of the company also paid $10,000 fines each. If more fellows of that type were put behind the bars and suffered to pay a heavy penalty, the tax burden would perhaps be somewhat lessened.

The gas tax amendment should be passed overwhelmingly—for it is a fair tax. Minnesota has more tourists each year than any other state in the middle west. Yet these visitors pay not a cent for our road construction or road maintenance. It's high time that they help pay for what they enjoy and help to wear out.

The big stores and the mail order houses used to have the advantage over the country merchants in prices, because of doing a large business at small cost. Now it is swinging the other way. The small merchant, if he is a good buyer, can do business at lower prices than the department store or the so-called chain stores or mail order house. That is, if he is on a cash basis.

MID. RIVER DRAWS CROWDS JULY 4

Thief Riverites Celebrate at Community Festivals in Neighborhood

Citizens of Thief River Falls visited nearby towns and cities, country picnics and summer resorts on the Fourth of July, there being no official celebration of Independence Day in this city.

The largest crowd participated in the festivities at Middle River where Thief River Falls talent predominated on the program. The address of the day was given by Rev. E. K. Calliway, Attorney H. O. Chommie being unable to speak on account of throat trouble. During the entire day music was ably furnished by the Legion band of this city and in the evening dance music was provided by Sayder's orchestra. An account of the baseball game in which the locals defeated Middle River, victors over Badger, in a game ending 6 to 2, is to be found elsewhere in this issue. The crowd at Middle River Friday was the largest that had ever attended any celebration in that village.

Quite a number of local residents went out to the celebration on the E. M. Johnson farm, near Ivratka, sponsored by the Telemarken Ladies Aid. A very enjoyable time was had, the program including various sports and a talk by Bernhard Knudsen and readings by Mrs. R. Arnold of this city. Rev. E. O. Sabo of Mavie also spoke.

The Northwestern fair and Fourth of July festivities in Crookston were also attended by a large delegation from this community. Much high class entertainment was provided the crowds thruout the day, a feature of which was the presentation of the Krookston Kolassal Kaleidoscope by home talent. It is estimated that 10,000 people visited the grounds during the day and evening.

Other places of celebration were visited by some, while others preferred a quiet observance by camping at some lake or resort.

Reforms in Procedure is Urged by District Judges

Several reforms in court procedure were advocated by district judges in session in Bemidji last week, and recommendations are to be made to the next legislature for a number of changes in the law. The gathering was attended by Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren and Judge William Watts of Crookston, judges of this district, the latter presiding.

A motion that the courts exclude the general public from the trial of all sex crimes was adopted. The judges also favored a rule which will authorize the trial judge to examine jurors as to their qualifications to sit in the trial of a case, and also to provide for limited examination by lawyers.

Passage of a statute providing for a thirteenth juror will be asked, the reason advanced by the judges being that in case of a long trial where a juror might become ill or even die, that there will still be 12 votes available. Only 12 jurors will be entitled to votes and the thirteenth will merely act as a substitute, voting in the place of another juror if necessary. The passage of a statute which would permit the consolidation of cases where the same state of facts exists was recommended. It was also suggested that the laws be amended so that in cases where defendants are jointly indicted the court might either grant or deny separate trials.

The judges also favored the right of the state to reply to argument of defendants counsil in criminal cases. Giving the state and accused an equal number of peremptory challenges in selecting a jury was recommended.

BOARD WILL HEAR ASSESSMENT KICKS STARTING JULY 21

This is the Time to Have Changes Made if You Don't Agree With Assessor

The county commissioners and the county auditor will sit as a board of equalization at Auditor T. P. Anderson's office in the court house on Monday, July 21, at which time any taxpayer is priviledged to have his assessment gone over and make application for any reduction to which he may consider himself entitled.

There is always a kick on assessments but it is seldom that any one shows up at the meeting of the board of equalization with a petition to have them reduced. The board cannot very well act in this matter unless all the facts are laid before the members and this can be done only by the taxpayer himself. After the assessment books have been closed and notice of the amount of taxes published it is a hard matter to have the subject reopened, whereas it is easy to have the board of equalization make a correction at this time if it is found that such change should be made.

Practically all the townships and municipalities in the county have turned in their assessment rolls. In the city of Thief River Falls, however, the board of equalization composed of the city council has not as yet completed its work of re-assessing a number of properties. It is necessary to equalize property values in order to make up a decrease in the city's valuation. The real estate valuation has been somewhat reduced by the exemption of church parsonages from taxation.

Creamery Shows Good Business

Nineteen patrons of the Plummer Co-operative creamery received checks of more than $100 for their butterfat during the month of May, according to the report of Secretary H. H. Fredrickson. The highest amount, $197.38, went to A. J. Waldal and the second highest, $172.46, to Jos. Hance.

IMPORTANT LEGION MEETING

What about the 1925 State Convention of the American Legion? Is Thief River Falls going to land this, the biggest and best convention in the State of Minnesota for 1925, or is some other town going to grab it away from us? This matter will be discussed in full at the meeting of Elmer J. Eklund Post No. 117, tonight. The The Legion is inviting all the business men of the city and all others interested to be present at this meeting. Be There and give your ideas on the subject. Other important matters are also up for discussion. We may be able to handle a few adjusted compensation applications that night so bring your dope along and be there early and stay late. Meeting called at eight p. m. Not nine p. m. We might even have a feed so in order not to miss anything BE THERE. We want a 100 per cent attendance.

By Order of the Commander,
Oscar R. Smith.

MANAGER OF WHEAT GROWERS RESIGNS

Jewett Takes Position in Land Bank. W. J. Brown in Charge of Affairs

George C. Jewett, general manager of the American Wheat Growers association since its organization in 1920, tendered his resignation Tuesday to the board of directors, effective as of July 1, last. He had accepted a position with the federal land bank of Spokane.

W. J. Brown, of this city, president of the organization, will have active charge of the association's affairs until the directors select a successor to Mr. Jewett.

Forty million bushels of wheat, or an increase of 100 per cent over the 20,000,000 bushels of the 1923 crop handled will be gathered for sale in the organization's pool of the 1924 crop, according to an estimate by Mr. Brown.

President Brown said the association had just finished distributing the last $50,000 of a $4,000,000 payment to Montana wheat farmers for their 1923 yield and that distribution of payments to Minnesota farmers is to be completed this month.

The current year has been marked by a phenomenal growth in membership, said Mr. Brown. States represented in the organization include Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana, Washington, Oregon, Colorado and Nebraska.

Red Lake Falls Auto Club Plans Winnipeg Trip Soon

The Red Lake Falls Automobile club, which holds the record for long distance touring, is planning a trip to Winnipeg this year. If plans being made by President C. J. Kroll and Secretary Gilbert Huot mature, the tour will leave Red Lake Falls on a Sunday morning the latter part of this month for the Manitoba metropolis and will return Tuesday evening, thus giving the tourists a day and a half in which to see some of the principal points of interest.

Last year the club drove to Warroad and there charted a boat which took them across Lake of the Woods to Kenora, Ont., where the tourists spent part of Labor day. The club will not endeavor to make the tour this year a strictly Red Lake Falls affair but will invite the towns along the route of the Jefferson highway in northern Minnesota to join in.

Gunderson to Leave Hospital

Gunder Gunderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gunderson of Deer Park township, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident recently, receiving fractures to his collar bone and arm and a severe concussion of the brain, and in which accident his sister was killed, leaves Swedenburg hospital for his parental home this week. He is slowly recovering and while he is apparently out of danger, it will be a year before he will have regained his health fully.

Twelve cars of butter were shipped last week from district No. 13 of the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries' association of which the Thief River Falls plant is a member, according to report from N. C. Lindberg, district manager. In addition to the butter there were also 400 cases of eggs shipped by creameries of the district, shipments of both products going to New York. All of the 54 creameries in the district are members of the co-operative organization, which is selling butter under the name, "Land O' Lakes."

Beginning July 14 the state association will have all butter received by it in St. Paul and Duluth officially inspected and certified under the federal and state agricultural departments.

THE true relationship which gasoline cost bears to the other expenses, incident to the operation of an automobile, is interesting and surprising.

It has been computed by Oil and Gas Journal that, on the average, the motorist of the United States pays $900.00 for a car. The same authority states that taking into account all the fixed items of annual expense incident to the operation of an automobile—including depreciation, interest on investment, insurance, licenses and taxes—gasoline costs only 15.6% of the total. Other authorities bring this expense down to as low as 10% of the total.

While gasoline is a major factor in the operation of a car, the expense, when compared to the whole, is of minor importance.

We believe that this is due in large measure to the advanced work of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) who, by increasing the yield of gasoline from the crude oil available, has kept the price of this product within the reach of all.

Without the processes originated and developed by this Company, the price of gasoline would be much higher than it is at present.

Without the distribution system maintained today by the petroleum industry, initiated and expanded by this Company, touring would be impractical.

It is due in large measure to the initiative, skill and resourcefulness of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), that motoring has been taken out of the sphere of the "rich-man's sport" and that it has been made possible for the man of modest means to take his family and get out into the fresh air and sunshine.

It is the inspiration of such achievements that spurs the 27,000 men and women of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) on to greater accomplishments, which will add to the pleasure of living for the thirty million people of the Middle West.

BALANCE

Bank statements are so arranged that resources and liabilities balance—that is—for everything the bank owes, it owns something with which to pay.

In the case of the First and Peoples State Bank attention should be called to the fact that in the assets which balance the deposits of its customers, there is a very large proportion of cash and readily negotiable securities.

We are therefore able at all times to give both the security and service which our customers have a right to expect from their bank.

Using Polarine
THE PERFECT MOTOR OIL

Made in Five Grades

is Sound Business Sense

Big companies, running a fleet of trucks and cars, naturally turn to Polarine, because they have proved that Polarine is a sound business proposition.

The manager of one such company writes: "I want you to know that, after a wide experience in the operation of motor trucks, I have come to the conclusion that your Polarine Motor Oils are right.

"They actually enable me to get greater mileage per gallon of gasoline, because they prevent the gasoline from leaking back into the crankcase, thinning out the oil and resulting in loss of fuel. I lay the long life of my motors to their use.

"I have used oils that cost more than Polarine, and some that are cheaper, but I am through experimenting. My experience has convinced me that it is foolish to expect to duplicate this product of yours."

Passenger car owners also can improve the efficiency of their machines and reduce their operating cost by using Polarine.

The grade recommended is especially designed to lubricate your car properly—to protect the bearing surfaces with an unbroken film of oil. Polarine will not break down.

Follow the chart at the left. Use the grade of Polarine recommended. Reduce carbon deposit. Reduce repair bills. Save time lost in lay-ups. Add mileage to your gasoline.

Drain your crankcase every 500 miles and refill with the right grade of Polarine. Polarine pays.

ROSEWOOD

How Rosewoodites Celebrated

The holiday of the nation, July 4th, with all its excitements, joy and celebrations is a thing of the past for this year, and only the memory of a happy day lingers in the mind of the celebrators. The Fourth proved to be an unusual nice day for outings, and even lacked the customary dampening rain, which has seemingly been a necessary evil during the last few years. We will try to mention a few of the day's celebrations and celebrators, but for lack of information and space, many things will be omitted, and people and doings so treated, will please bear the fact in mind that they are not intentionally left out.

The chief celebration at Rosewood was the outing of The Ladies Friday Afternoon Club together with their husbands and families to the Lilac Farm four miles west of town. A very interesting day was spent in the green and at various sports and pastimes and with an outing picnic dinner for all. About fifteen families partook. In the evening the participants gathered at the Rosewood hall, where dancing with home talent music proved very interesting. The celebration announced at the Ranum boys' farm west of town was for several reasons cancelled, and those intending to spend the day there turned to Middle River instead. Mr. and Mrs. John Hanson and two children motored to Bemidji where they spent the day celebrating and visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Hanson, a brother of John Hanson, and returned home on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson spent the day at Gully visiting with friends and relatives and returning the next day. Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Hellerud remained here over the day but left later for Twin Valley where Mrs. Hellerud will spend a week at a family re-union, and Mr. Hellerud returned Tuesday. G. S. Miss Clara Rebeau spent the Fourth with her home folks at Radium, returning to her work at the Peterson home on Saturday evening. John Sorenson and Joel Shoberg attended the Polk county fair at Crookston during the day and in the evening took in the celebration and fireworks at Grand Forks. Mrs. Emil Anderson and children spent the day at a picnic of their relatives at Squaw Point, having with them Emil Anderson who is still at the Physicians hospital securing treatment for his leg, but being well enough to be with them for a while at the picnic. Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Batten from Minneapolis, who are visiting with the former's father, John Batten, at this place, motored to Warroad and Lake of the Woods where they spent the day sight-seeing and celebrating. August Schultz arrived on Thursday by car from Lesters Prairie and spent a few days until Monday with his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Dols, and escorted home his family who have been visiting for some time previously at this place. Edwin Stengelsen from Minneapolis is spending the Fourth visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peder Stengelsen, making the trip in his car. Hans Hanson and Miss Olga Alby also from Minneapolis, arrived here by car on Thursday to spend the holiday with Miss Alby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Alby. Mr. and Mrs. Peder Alby and family from Max, N. D., motored up before the Fourth and are visitors over Sunday at the Ole Alby home. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stromberg and family, Carl Ranum, R. Hall and a large delegation of young folks spent the day at Middle River celebrating and most of them taking in the dance in the evening.

The probate court at Warren had a hearing last Wednesday afternoon on the matter of the mother's pension to Mrs. Julia Axelson at this place. Judge P. H. The opposition was led by Selmer Haugen and Martin Jarshaw both members of the New Solum town board, while the defendant had as witnesses, R. Hall, Emil Blomberg and Joel Shoberg. After a recommendation by the county attorney the court ruled that the county aid should neither be cancelled nor cut, and that the court ruling of last fall of $18 per month be continued in the future without interruptance.

A baseball game was played at the local diamond last Sunday afternoon, but owing to a misunderstanding very few of the local players were present. A delegation of Silverton players accompanied by a number of Thief River Falls enthusiasts arrived here in car in the afternoon understanding that a game was scheduled for the day, and finding only a few knowing of the game two sides were formed, Rosewood being assisted by more than half of outside volunteer players. The game was interesting and resulting in a score of 2 to 12 in favor of the Rosewood team and their assistants.

MIDDLE RIVER TAKES SECOND DEFEAT JULY 4

Best Game of Season Results in 6-2 Victory For T. R. Falls Aggregation

NEAT PITCHING AND FEW ERRORS FEATURE GAME

Oklee Defeats Local Team in Wild Game Ending 18-21 on Home Diamond Sunday

Thief River Falls gave Middle River its second trouncing of the season when the local nine played there the Fourth in a game ending 6-2. The battery showed up good and the field played a close and well played game. Howe made a two base hit in the 4th inning, two bases were stolen by Pederson and Tandberg and LaBree and Tandberg both made sacrifices. Both of Middle River's runs were made by first base on balls. Few Middle River men got past first while a few of the put outs of the local aggregation were on the second, third and home plates. Following is the complete box score:

YOUNG GOODRIDGE MINISTER PASSES

Rev. Henry Lutz Dies Unexpectedly During Removal of Tonsils Saturday

The community was shocked last Saturday when it was learned that Rev. Henry Lutz, the young pastor of the German Lutheran parish at Goodridge, died unexpectedly while undergoing an operation for the removal of his tonsils.

Rev. E. H. Kreidt of St. John's Lutheran church in this city has submitted the following obituary for publication in The Times:

The departed was born July 29, 1894, at Odebolt, Iowa. After confirmation he entered Concordia college, St. Paul, to prepare for service in the Holy Ministry. After a few years of study he transferred to Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Ill., from which institution he was graduated in 1920. During the time of his Seminary schooling he served as supply pastor and teacher in Chicago and Denison, Iowa. At graduation he was called to serve the Goodridge parish. Eager to serve His Master in the field assigned to him, he came to Goodridge and was ordained to the Holy Ministry in the Missouri Synod Lutheran church, and installed a pastor of the parish in and around Goodridge on August 8, 1920, by Rev. Kreidt. On June 11, 1922, he was united in the holy bond of matrimony to Miss Ida Franzman of Grygla, a graduate of the Thief River Falls high school in 1919.

In the large field assigned to him, the departed labored with untiring zeal and under the manifest blessing of the Lord. The work flourished and expanded from four to twelve preaching places and congregations, so that the Mission Board readily assented to giving him an assistant. The field was to be divided two years ago, but because another pastor was not available, students were called to assist in the work. Mr. Schoedel and Mr. Remer will be remembered as faithful co-workers of our departed brother. This year a call was assigned to one of the Seminary graduates, and we all were hopeful that the call would be accepted, so that the work of pastor Lutz might be lightened. But the Lord has seen fit to relieve him of all further labor and strife.

For several years he had been troubled with bad tonsils, often interfering seriously with the performance of his duties. Upon the advise of competent physicians it was decided to have them removed. Saturday morning he left with a smile for the hospital. When the operation was well under way, he was seized with convulsions, which, in spite of the heroic efforts of the physicians, and the prayers of his pastor, caused his instant death.

The Lord alone knows why it should be thus. We know before his supreme will and wisdom and say with sorrow, yet with faith: "His will be done."

The span of his earthly sojourn was comparatively brief, having reached the age of 29 years 11 months and 6 days. He leaves to mourn his early departure his stricken wife, one child, his father, four brothers and one sister, besides other relatives and a host of friends.

Since his father was not able to travel, the remains were sent to Denison, Iowa, his former home, to find their final resting place and to await the summons of the Lord of Hosts.

Memorial services were held at St. John's Lutheran church in this city Tuesday at twelve o'clock, Rev. E. H. Kreidt reading the Altar Service and obsequies, and Rev. E. Thoen of the Norwegian Lutheran Synod speaking a few words of earnest admonition and comfort on James, 4, 13-15. After the service at the church the procession formed and moved to Goodridge, the center of Rev. Lutz's parish. It had been arranged to use the Norwegian Lutheran church, but on account of the large number present it was decided to use the auditorium of the pubic school. About 400 people crowded the auditorium and halls. Rev. Herman Meyer of Lakefield, president of the Minnesota district, preached the German sermon, choosing as his text Jer. 29, 11-13. Rev. Kreidt preached the English sermon from II. Tim. 4.7.8.

The following pastors served as pall bearers: The Reverends H. A. Mayer of International Falls, C. Clock of Remer, Martin Hauser, of Warren, Louis Keinath of Greenbush, B. Schwanfelder of Fisher, and Erdman Frenk of Bemidji. Other pastors present were the Reverends E. Schuett of Crookston, M. Brammer of Euclid, E. Wiedenhoefer of Wylie, AmEnd of Cologne, O. Peterson of Fertile.

August Lutz of Webster, S. Dak., and Miss Viola Zampke of Storm Lake, Iowa, a brother and cousin, were present.

Mrs. Ida Lutz left Tuesday night with the remains for Denison, Iowa, where interment will take place Friday.

Farm Conference To Be Attended by Halvorson

Attorney G. Halvorson will represent the Pennington county price stabilization organization at the national conference of farm organizations and leaders to be held in St. Paul tomorrow and Saturday. Indications are that it will be one of the most important gatherings in the interest of agriculture ever held in this country. The McNary-Haugen bill having failed of passage in the last session of Congress, it is now proposed to formulate a definite plan and map out a concerted campaign to carry into effect in the next session of Congress the principles of agricultural equality such as the McNary-Haugen measure proposed.

The St Paul meeting is held under the auspices of the Minnesota Export League

Lectures by Norway Resident

Biblical lectures will be given by K. Bergersen of Norway at the I. O. O. F. hall Sunday, July 13, in the afternoon at three o'clock and in the evening at 8 o'clock. No admission will be charged and no collection taken up. Everbody is cordially welcomed to these lectures.

THOS. KEEFE TALKS ON MONEY QUESTION

Independent Candidate for U. S. Senator Explains Measure For Measure Plan

Thomas Keefe of Staples, lawyer and author and independent candidate for United States senator, spoke to a street gathering in this city Wednesday evening, last week. Mr. Keefe is making a rather unique campaign. Traveling in a car made for that purpose and bearing some of his campaign slogans embellished on the sides of the house built on a Ford chassis, he is afforded sleeping quarters on his tour thru the state. He has written a book entitled, "The Feast of the Wolves of Fall Street," which explains in detail his "Measure for Measure" plan.

"Our troubles since 1920 are due to the fact that the buying power of the dollar has been increased," declared Mr. Keefe.

"That has increased the amount of commodities required to pay debts, interest charges, and taxes levied to pay interest on our huge public debt. It is unfair that debts contracted in dollars of little buying power have to be paid in dollars of much buying power.

"It is absurd when it is understood that those who control money, can change the buying power of the dollar. They hold vast amounts of securities, and, by increasing the buying power of the dollar, they increase the amount of commodities their interest and their securities will buy. That they can do this is easily proven:

"If there were no such things as money, people would have to barter.

"If then, war should come, the government would have to borrow, not money, but the things it would need. And, after the war it would owe the things it had borrowed.

"But, with the use of money, it is very different. The government borrows money to buy the things it needs. Then, soon after the war, it finds it owes money enough to buy two or three times that amount of things. Without money that wouldn't happen. And with money it wouldn't happen, if the money was not manipulated.

"Money, like other things, becomes cheap when the supply of it is increased. That makes high prices. And it becomes dear when the supply is decreased. That makes low prices.

"Those, who control money, take advantage of the government's needs in time of war. They increase the supply of money and make it cheap. That compels the government to borrow much more of it to get the needed buying power.

"Then, after the war, they get hold of the bonds, decrease the supply of money, and make it dear. That enables them to collect from the government two or three times the amount of buying power it received. The huge war profits are due to that manipulation of money.

"The wage earner and salaried man suffer less when the money is cheapened. And, when the money is made dear again all who have contracted debts are caught. For this there is a remedy. The average of prices shows the buying power of the dollar. By keeping account of prices the Government Bureau of Labor Statistics now measures and reports the buying power of the dollar.

"Measure for Measure means a law providing for such reports at regular intervals, and that in making all payments changes in the buying power shall be taken into account.

"Then, payment would always be of the same amount of buying power that an obligation or agreement meant at the time it was made, no matter whether that took more or less money. If the dollar had twice as much buying power at the time of payment, then payment would be of half so many dollars. And so on. Measure for Measure will make all debts now owing as easy to pay as at the time when made.

"That is only justice and common sense. For, it is buying power that counts, and not dollars.

"With such a law no one could profit by manipulation of the dollar. So they would leave it alone, and it could be easily kept at the same buying power all the time by proper regulation of the supply of money. But the law must be there for protection.

"Unless the people demand Measure for Measure they must expect dearer money with falling prices for many years to come, and 'Hard Times' as after the Civil War so many years."

Unusual Display Window.

An unusual display window was this week arranged in the windows of the J. C. Penney store. A large map of the United States forms the center piece of the display and on each side are large panels on which appear the names of the cities in the different states in which are J. C. Penney stores. Strings from the name of the town on the panel to the exact location on the map give it a very unique appearance. It is proving of much interest to passers-by.

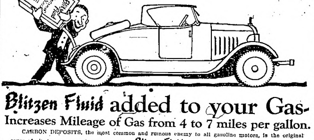
Treat Your Gasoline With-
Blitzen Fluid
"The Fountain of Motor Youth"



Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas-
Increases Mileage of Gas from 4 to 7 miles per gallon.
CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor troubles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.
When carbon is gone grinding of valves becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and perform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and you will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well preserved motor.
Blitzen Fluid is used by men in the Auto Motive industry who know that it will not injure the most sensitive motor. It is produced by chemists to put and keep your motor in the state of highest efficiency and saves in gasoline and repair bills sufficiently to entirely or largely reduce the cost.
ADD 2 OUNCES OF Blitzen Fluid TO EACH 5 GALLONS OF GAS and give Blitzen Fluid a fair test in accordance with the condition of your motor. Notice the difference.
In your community Blitzen Fluid "The Fountain of Motor Youth" is sold at Pyramid pumps and service stations.

Volume 14. Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, Thursday, July 17, 1924 Number 24

SENATOR C. L. HANSEN DISPOSES OF STOCK IN FIRST NATIONAL BANK TO MINNEAPOLIS COMPANY

Retires from Banking Business After 18 Years Activity—Will Remain in City

SUCCEEDED BY J. W. BLACK OF THE MARQUETTE CO.

Montana Banker Comes Here To Take Active Part as Vice President-Director

A deal of more than usual interest to citizens of this community was made known last Thursday when Senator C. L. Hansen, for many years owner of the controlling stock in the First National bank of this city, announced that he had disposed of his interest in the local institution and also in the Merchants' State bank of St. Hilaire, to The Marquette Company, prominent Minneapolis banking firm. John W. Black, president of The Marquette Company, becomes president of both of these important Pennington county institutions to succeed Mr. Hansen.

Ill health prompted Mr. Hansen to dispose of his holdings and after a much needed rest of two or three months he contemplates entering into a land, mortgage, insurance and bond business in this city.

Mr. Black, the newly elected president and director of the First National bank here and of the St. Hilaire institution, is a banker of many years experience and is prominent in business circles of the twin cities and the Northwest. His thorough knowledge of banking and his prominence as such is indicated by the fact that he was one of the original directors of the Federal Reserve bank of the ninth federal reserve district and served in that capacity for a period of six years. He is a man of sound business knowledge and will aid greatly in the success of the bank. As a level headed and capable director his advice and judgment in various matters will be a valuable asset to the institution. His associates in the company are some of the leading business men of the Northwest.

Mr. Black in a brief talk before the Commercial club Thursday declared himself greatly pleased in acquiring interest in Thief River Falls and Pennington County, expressing absolute faith in the future prosperity of this community. He will come to this city from time to time as the business demands, altho the bank yesterday announced the election of Paul J. Wedge as a director and active vice-president, who will take active part in the management of the bank's affairs.

Mr. Wedge for the past five years has been cashier of the First National

NORBY REPORTS BIG GAINS IN CAMPAIGN

Workers Expect to Reach Quota of 1,000 Members Within a Short Time

Between 500 and 600 members have already been signed up in the recently launched Thief River Valley Cooperative Poultry Marketing association and organization work is progressing rapidly, according to B. O. Norby, who has been secured to take charge of an intensive drive to complete the membership campaign. Mr. Norby declares that the required number of members will be reached in a few days. It is planned to enroll 1000 members before starting operations.

"It is a sure go", says Mr. Norby in reviewing the past week's activities of the drive, which is proving a decided success. Farmers in the Goodridge community are being solicited by Stuart McLeod and at Highlanding they are being signed up by Mrs. Wm. Vaughan. Elmer Tandberg of this city and George Gusa are active in the Middle River territory, Peter Horien around Holt and Strathcona, County Agent J. W. Taylor at Greenbush and Roseau and C. P. Johnson in the Lancaster locality.

The drive is also being carried into Red Lake county this week, Mr. Norby invading the Oklee and Plummer communities today. On Tuesday a number of Wylie farmers were signed up by T. P. Anderson, Mr. Norby and Olaf Nesot, president of the association, working in the vicinity of Viking that day.

Farmers join readily as soon as the proposition is explained to them, according to campaign workers, and present indications point to one of the largest organizations of its kind in the state. Thief River Falls will be the headquarters for this district.

LEGION POST NAMES COMMITTEE TO FILL OUT BONUS BLANKS

Offers to Help Service Men in Making Applications Next Monday-Tuesday

Monday and Tuesday evenings, July 21 and 22, have been designated by the Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion as "Bonus Days" for this county and community. At that time all ex-service men, whether members of the Legion or not, are invited to come to the Eklund post's club rooms in the basement of the First and Peoples State bank building, where they will be aided in filling out their applications for adjusted compensation or cash bonus under the terms of the act recently passed by congress.

At a meeting of the local post last Thursday night a committee was named to handle the bonus applicants on those two evenings and provide as many typewriters as possible and additional help if necessary. Quite a large number of applications have already been filled out by County Auditor T. P. Anderson, but is urged that all those who have not as yet filed theirs do so at the special days set aside by the local post, when veterans will be aided by men who are familiar with the details of the work.

The committee is composed of the following: Verner Nelson, L. A. Hermanson, F. E. McGinn, Derby Anderson, T. P. Anderson, V. E. Polman, Francis Burns, Theo. Tandberg, Oscar Paulson, G. Howard Smith and H. O. Chommie.

It is essential that every veteran who comes to have his papers made out on those two nights, bring his discharge papers, and all other information regarding his service. This service will be free and the Legion wants it to be distinctly understood that this service is being offered to all ex-service men, whether or not they belong to the Legion. They do not have to be residents of Pennington county to take advantage of this assistance. Banks will be provided right at the Legion quarters.

Holstein Display Will Be Seen at Pennington Fair

Holstein breeders of Pennington county will have a display booth at the county fair this year, according to a decision made at a meeting of the breeders' association held Saturday.

Plans were also considered for the annual consignment sale to be held in October, which promises to be the biggest event ever staged by the association. About 35 or 40 head of purebred Holsteins will be consigned, according to Secretary M. T. McFarland. One Pennington county breeder has already announced his intentions of listing ten head.

RED LAKE RESORT ENROLLS BOOSTERS

Members of Organization to Develop Narrows Will Select Lots Soon

Memberships in the recently incorporated Red Lake Summer Resort association are being signed up at an encouraging rate, according to E. O. Mogensen, president of the temporary organization. Rentals for lots at the narrows of Red Lake, one of the most ideal resort grounds in the country, are being paid at $20 for outside and $10 for inside lots.

Next week sometime it is expected that those who have signed up by that time will get together and select their lots, and it is therefore important that those who wish to enter do so at once. A meeting will be held by the members for the purpose of perfecting the by-laws and selecting a permanent set of officers.

A few days ago a delegation from Hallock viisted the narrows to ascertain its qualities as a resort and report that they are more than pleased. A number of residents of that village, as well as other communities in the Red River valley, have already signed up or are planning to do so. It is the plan of the organization to make this excellent portion of the lake shore the play ground of the entire valley territory. The money derived from the leasing of lots will be used by the corporation entirely for improvements of the tract.

It is pointed out that the development of this resort will mean a great deal to the business life of Thief River Falls, which is located on the road leading to the lake and would benefit greatly by the tourist traffic thru this point.

Young Burglar Sentenced to One Year at St. Cloud Reformatory by Wm. Watts

Fred Simpson, 24 year old Canadian youth, who inhabited the city jail last week, after having been apprehended as the person who burglarized the Farmers Meat Market on the night of July 4, was on Friday taken before Judge William Watts of Crookston to receive his sentence. The youth confessed to the burglary charge, saying that he stole the meat and groceries because he was hungry, and entered a plea of guilty. Judge Watts pronounced a sentence of at least one year in the state reformatory in St. Cloud. Simpson was accompanied to Crookston by County Attorney Theo. Quale, Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund and Chief A. Ralston.

An effort was made to get some information regarding the culprit's past record from his home town given as Brandon, Manitoba, but no response was received. He stated that he beat his way here, intending to go on to the harvest fields in Kansas.

He was taken to the reformatory to begin serving his sentence Monday, accompanied by Sheriff O. L. Ihle.

NORWEGIANS OF NORTHWEST AT PICNIC SUNDAY

Sons of Norway District Gathering is Greatest Ever Held. Two Thousand Attend

CHRISTIANSON GIVES WELL-RECEIVED TALK

Bjornaraa and Vollom Entertain Gathering With Lively Addresses in Norwegian

Taking advantage of the ideal weather conditions members of Sons and Daughters of Norway lodges thruout the Red River Valley attended the annual district picnic held at Squaw Point just north of the city Sunday afternoon. Crookston, Fertile, Gonvick, Oklee, Gully, Ada, Halstad, Erskine, Grand Forks and other nearby points at which there is a large population of Norwegians, were well represented. Local people of every nationality turned out swelling the crowd to more than 2,000, according to estimates.

A fine program had been arranged by a committee of the Snorre lodge of this city. The addresses were among the best ever delivered at similar occasions here.

Bernhard Knudsen, president of the local lodge, was general chairman and the visitors were bid welcome to the city by Mayor J. S. Arneson, who also emphasized the important part played by the Norwegians in the development of this section, also calling attention to the accomplishments of the Snorre lodge which now has a membership of 142 and a home of its own.

Theodore Christianson of Dawson, Republican nominee for governor, delivered an eloquent address in which he reviewed the ancient history of the Baltic race and showed the superiority of the Nordic people, declaring that Scandinavia is the mother of civilization. He asserted that the Norsemen have reason to feel proud of their forefathers and should cherish a feeling of appreciation and high regard for the land of one's nativity, and at the same time remembering the foremost duty of all—to prove a worthy American citizen. High tribute was paid to the sturdy pioneers of the Northwest.

Bj. Bjornaraa, president of the Gully lodge, and Thomas Vollom, head of the Erskine lodge and recent candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, spoke in glowing terms of the mission of the Sons of Norway and what the organization stands for, their splendid talks, given in the Norwegian language, being featured with numerous stories which caused much merriment in the audience. O. K. Berget of Crookston also spoke along the general trend of the preceding speakers' remarks.

The picnic was admitted by the visitors as being the most successful ever held by the society. Excellent singing by the Brage Male chorus, vocal solos by Mr. Vollom and readings by Miss Ellen Kolstoe of Oklee added much interest to the proceedings of the afternoon.

Lunch was served at the grounds and refreshments were plentiful.

Officers of the association besides Dr. Milan are: Dr. Leo. G. Guyer, St. Paul, first vice president; Dr. Henry Bendes, Minneapolis, second vice president; Miss Beatrice Lindberg, St. Paul, secretary.

PENNINGTON FAIR AMONG LARGEST IN STATE LAST YEAR

Attendance of 14,000 Exceeded by Only 15 County Fairs In Minnesota

The Pennington county fair is one of the most important in the state, both in point of attendance and the number and quaities of its exhibits. The annual report of the Minnesota State Agricultural Society issued recently shows that only 15 county fairs in the entire state report a larger attendance last year than Pennington, which is a remarkable record. The previous year the attendance here was exceeded at 18 Minnesota county fairs. Last year 98 county fairs were held in Minnesota.

Not a single county fair in the northwestern section of the state had as large an attendance last year as that held in Thief River Falls, as will be seen by the following table:

Pennington	14,000
Beltrami	10,000
Marshall	8,500
Norman	7,000
Polk (Crookston)	6,000
Polk (Fertile)	4,100
Kittson	3,500
Clearwater	8,000
Red Lake	3,000
Roseau	2,500
Mahnomen	1,425

The total receipts last year amounted to $8,811, compared to $9,095 the previous year. This included $1,377 state aid, $900 county and city aid, $3,773 gates and grand stand, $1,299 concessions, and $227 entry fees. The total disbursements were $8,453, including $1,685 for premiums, $2,018 for entertainments, $1,609 for race purses, and miscellaneous expenses.

The Pennington county agricultural society, which is composed of 200 active members, is capitalized for $7,525 and owns its own site, valued at $9,300 and buildings and personal property for $13,200, the total assets being nearly $23,000.

The total number of entries last year was 2,400, according to the report.

FARM COUNCIL AS RURAL AID IS ORGANIZED

G. Halvorson Attends National Farm Relief Conference Held in St. Paul

WILL CONTINUE FIGHT FOR LEGISLATIVE AID

94 Farm Organizations Represented—Told to Pull Together to Get Results

G. Halvorson, president of Pennington County Price Stabilization League, Supt. C. G. Selvig of the Northwest School of Agriculture and head of the Minnesota Export League, C. H. Zealand of Crookston, secretary of the Red River Valley Development association, and Marius Waldal, of Plummer, state representative from this district, represented the Red River valley at the Farm Relief conference held in St. Paul Friday and Saturday. Mr. Halvorson returned Tuesday morning and reports the conference to have been an exceptionally representative one, in so far as representation of farm interest organizations goes, and one which may have immense bearing on the future of agriculture.

A total of 94 farm organizations, or organizations created for the purpose of working for farm relief of the recent session of congress, were represented. Among these were six national organizations, including the American Farm Bureau, the American Wheat Growers Association, the Farmers Educational Co-operative Union of America, the National Livestock Producers Association, the National Producers Alliance and the National Grange. Most of these were represented by their presidents or vice presidents. Other organizations represented were the farm bureaus of a number of states and others of state wide scope. A number of organizations of more local scope were also represented by one or more members.

A total of 18 states were represented, according to the home addresses of representatives, but as some of these represented national organizations, the conference embraced even more than this number.

A two days' pre-conference gathering of a number who had been active in the campaign for the enactment of the McNary-Haugen farm relief measure was expected to outline the course of procedure for the big conference, but beyond the selection of a steering committee to give attention to the matter of governing rules, needed committees, etc., not very much was developed from it.

The main conference opened promptly on schedule Friday morning and lasted until late Saturday. Principal interest centered around the report of the resolutions committee. This required 20 hours of continuous work upon the part of 20 or 25 men representing various organizations and sections. At the outset it was determined that the one and sole aim of the conference should be to devise means for working effectively to secure equality for agriculture.

MEETING CALLED 7 P. M. POLLS TO BE OPEN 1 HR.

Voters Urged to Attend to Discuss Matters and Select Two Directors

Four names, L. M. Rayson, V. C. Noper, C. M. Carlson and Scott Laird, will appear on the ballot to be voted on at the annual election and meeting of school district No. 18, at the auditorium Saturday evening, this week, at which time two members of the board of education will be chosen for terms of three years each.

The present members whose terms expire this year are L. M. Rayson and Dr. H. W. Froehlich, the latter refusing to be considered for re-election. Mr. Rayson, however, who has served the district in the capacity of treasurer of the board the past three years in a most efficient and satisfactory manner, has filed for re-election.

Should anyone desire to vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the name will have to be written on the ballot or placed there by sticker as provided by law.

Notices have been posted in due time at the usual posting places calling attention to the meeting which is scheduled to open at 7 p. m. The annual reports of the clerk and treasurer will be heard at this time and any matters which may properly come before the meeting will be discussed. The polls will be open for at least one hour, as provided by law, following the business session.

It is urged that all voters in the district make it a point to attend the annual meeting as it is of the utmost importance that the positions on the school board be properly filled with competent persons who are the choice of the majority of the voters. It is pointed out that last year only 29 votes were cast but it is expected that greater interest will be manifested this year.

CITY TO SELL GASOLINE TO FORCE PRICE DROP--CARLOAD WILL ARRIVE IN A FEW DAYS

Oil Companies Fail to Respond to Messages Sent by Mayor Of This City

GAS MAY BE SOLD FOR 16-17 CENTS PER GAL.

High Price Level Here Compared to Other Towns of Section Brings Action

Gasoline will be sold in Thief River Falls by the city at 16 and 17 cents a gallon, beginning Saturday of this week or not later than Monday, following action by Mayor J. S. Arneson to bring down the price of motor fuel in this city. A car containing 8,000 gallons was ordered by the city officials yesterday afternoon, when the three leading oil companies now selling in Thief River Falls failed to respond to the following message:

Thief River Falls, Minn.,
July 15, 1924.
Standard Oil Company,
Fargo, N. D.

Unreasonable prices charged public for gasoline at local stations. Unless adequate reductions take place by noon tomorrow I will take steps immediately to sell such commodity from city filling stations.

Signed J. S. ARNESON, Mayor.

Telegrams were also sent to the White Eagle Oil company, Minneapolis, and the Pyramid Oil company, St. Paul.

Up to the hour of going to press no response has been received by the mayor.

Besides the carload ordered yesterday it is likely that officials will place an order for another shipment today or tomorrow, the mayor declaring that "the city is determined to stay in the oil business for an indefinite time until prices are cut by the companies operating here. The present price of 22.8 cents at the stations here is exhorbitant and the public is being fleeced for at least five cents per gallon."

Arrangements have been made for tanks, pumps and other necessary equipment, and as soon as the carload arrives gasoline will be sold from the track in tank and barrel lots at 16 cents a gallon and from pumps in the city at 17 cents. One pump has already been secured and another is being arranged for.

The city council, mayor and county attorney will meet in a special session at 2 o'clock this afternoon to consider plans of operation.

Many of the leading towns in this section report a considerably lower price level than that maintained so far in this city and this fact, it is declared, led the city officials to take the matter in hand and sell the commodity at a narrow margin of profit in an effort to bring down the price.

Ernest Zeh Assumes Charge Of Zeh and Curran Grocery

Ernest Zeh this week takes charge of the store formerly operated by his late father and George Curran, as is announced on another page of this issue of The Times.

The change is made necessary by the continued ill health of Mr. Curran who finds it advisable to take a vacation at this time. He has not announced any definite plans for a trip but expects to leave on an extended visit later on in the year. The business will be carried on in the same manner as formerly according to plans and the patronage which the store has enjoyed in the past will no doubt extend to Mr. Zeh the backing he deserves in his first business venture.

A. W. Lang, Former Chief of Police Here, Drops Dead

A. W. LANG SUMMER [illegible]

While walking toward a farm home to search it for possible fish nets A. W. Lang, 55, a volunteer game warden and a former resident and police chief of Thief River Falls, dropped dead Friday of last week near Union lake. Lang was in company with Game Warden W. F. Munch of Crookston, who attempted first aid methods but without avail.

The two men had driven from Lang's home in Garden township, near the lake, early in the morning to a farm house near Ringdal after securing a search warrant at Fertile. Lang had appeared in good health all the way. When the car stopped he declared he was going to get a drink of water. He had walked only 25 feet from the car, however, when he keeled over and three minutes later he was dead.

The body was taken to Fertile while Mr. Munch returned to the Lang home to notify the widow who together with seven children survives. Lang was a great lover of outdoor life and volunteered for the warden's job because of his desire to protect wild game in season.

After his leaving this city about 12 years ago Lang served as guard in the St. Cloud reformatory.

What's freezing in the bucket?

Chances are, you'd be curious, too, if you didn't know what a simple way this is to have as delicious fruit ices as ever made hot days cool.

There's a can of Del Monte Sliced Peaches in that bucket (or maybe it's Pears, Crushed Pineapple, Apricots, Strawberries, Loganberries, Fruits for Salad, etc.)

It has simply been packed in equal parts of ice and coarse or ice-cream salt and then allowed to stand and freeze slowly for about three hours. In a few minutes, now, this can will be opened, and then certain lucky people are going to enjoy as cool and refreshing a treat as ever was served on a hot day.

And remember—ice is just as helpful to you these hot summer days in many other uses. It not only adds to your enjoyment of food, but safeguards your health as well.

Let us see that you always have a regular supply on hand.

BOOST THE FAIR

In three weeks the Pennington county fair will have been held and its success or failure recorded. There is no likelihood for its being a failure, if each and every man and woman in the county is willing to do something to make it a winner rather than merely take its success for granted and let it go at that.

The Pennington county fair is the greatest in Northwestern Minnesota. This does not mean others are not worth attending, because such is not the case. It does mean, however, that the Pennington county Agricultural society makes a greater effort to make this one of outstanding importance. During the past several years the attendance has been the greatest and the features the most varied of any county in this section. This is admitted.

Every department is this year going to be bigger and better than ever before and it is up to our people to let the world know about it. There is something everyone of us can do to boost this great show. Talking about it under any and all circumstances will keep interest alive for one thing. Secure something in the nature of advertising matter for the fair and include it in your correspondence, particularly that part of it reaching nearby territory. The fair board has made arrangements to have advertising printed on envelopes used by business men of the city at The Times.

Make the fair your fair and its success a matter of personal concern. The undertaking is big enough to warrant your doing this without afterward being called to account.

Anotherthing you can do is to become a member of the boosting party which will visit the Northwest School of Agriculture near Crookston next Thursday, July 24. This will be a most enjoyable outing on its own account and will do much in advertising the fair along the line. The trip is under the auspices of the Commercial club of the city and farmers of the community are particularly invited to participate. Those who fail to join the party will have occasion to regret it long and sincerely.

THE LEGION CONVENTION

Does Thief River Falls want the state convention of the American Legion in 1925? Last week every business and professional man in the city and others interested were called upon to meet with the local post of the legion Thursday night to consider the mater and make plans for properly putting it before the convention in St. Cloud next month. Only a few responded and was the attendance at that meeting to indicate the interest taken in the matter there would be little hope for putting the proposition across.

However, the Legion boys at the meeting last week named a committee to confer with the business men of the city in an effort to arouse more enthusiasm and interest with a view of getting a good turnout at another meeting next Tuesday, July 24.

Business men, have you stopped to consider what it would mean to get this convention to Thief River Falls? Is it not worth an effort to get 4000 or 5000 persons to this city for two days? Local Legionaires are putting up a hard fight to put Thief River Falls to the front and it is up to the citizens to back them up.

It is the belief of The Times that this is an excellent opportunity to establish Thief River Falls as a convention city and that every effort should be put forth to land the 1925 Legion convention. Don't leave it to "George".

The Thief River Falls post office finished its fiscal year with receipts reaching the highest mark in the history of its existence. Altho hampered by inadequate quarters the employes of this department of public service are giving the public service unsurpassed anywhere, and patrons express great satisfaction with the efficient force.

Taking care of the growing business of the local office in the present quarters is quite a problem indeed and it is to be hoped a new home is provided in the near future. These faithful public servants are deserving of a better place in which to execute their duties than that which is at present being occupied. The force must be growing in efficiency, because the increased amount of business is being taken care of without additional help.

The next important event in the line of civic duty is the school election and annual meeting Saturday evening this week at the city auditorium. The educational machinery takes the greater portion of your tax money and therefore should demand the interest and attention of every tax payer and school patron. The proper time to discuss school matters is at the annual meeting, which should be more generally attended than has been the case in most years past. If you feel that you have any reason to kick on the way school affairs have been conducted do so at the meeting Saturday night. But anyway—be there.

B. O. Nurby who is canvassing the Thief River Valley in the interest of the recently organized co-operative poultry and egg marketing association, not only has ability as a membership solicitor but capacity for coffee as well. It is reported that while in the Goodridge neighborhood one afternoon last week he signed up 27 members and drank seven cups of coffee.

Co-operative creameries are gaining ground in Minnesota. Among the recently established organizations is one at Glenwood which last week purchased a privately owned plant. At Alexandria and Little Falls co-operative organizations are erecting new plants.

Radio fans heard everything that went on at the conventions, but those who attended had one advantage—they saw the fist fights.

People who talk all the time never have much chance to think.

QUITE A CHANGE

Martin Widsten in his column "On Various Topics" in the Crookston Daily Times recalls a brief history of newspapers in the Polk county city. Crookston at one time had seven newspapers—two dailies, two weeklies issued by the dailies and three regular weeklies. Now there are two papers, a daily and a weekly. He gives as the reason for the change the cheap labor at that time—just after the typesetting machines had come into use, completely deflating for several years those who had followed the ancient and most honorable occupation of setting types.

In 1899 the highest salary in one of the dailies was $12 a week, received by a reporter and sort of general manager. Mr. Widsten himself, foreman of the plant, was paid the stupendous sum of $10 each Saturday evening. The entire weekly payroll was hardly more than $46, which is less than many linotype operators now get. The entire equipment at that time could be bought for the price of a good typesetting machine today. Paper could be bought for two to two and one-half cents a pound while now it is more than double that price, and during the war mounted to more than 12 cents.

Operating a newspaper today is considerably more of an undertaking than it was 25 years ago, and probably accounts somewhat for the diminishing number in recent years.

The Times plant is one of the most up-to-date establishments of its kind in the state and its owners invite subscribers and others interested to visit the plant and become familiar with some of the things which make a newspaper possible. It is safe to say that a large majority of people, even tho readers of newspapers all their life, know comparatively little about the mysteries incidental to the making of a newspaper. Farmer friends, next time you are in Thief River Falls we would be pleased to have you call at our office and give us opportunity to show you around.

WHO IS TO BLAME

A short time ago several petty burglaries of Thief River Falls stores were reported. Investigation led officials to believe that they were committed by youngsters of the city, perhaps in the spirit of adventure.

Reflecting upon a similar case the Montevideo News makes the following comment anent the youth problem, which contains some mighty good advice to Thief River Falls parents as well:

"A group of Montevideo boys, from twelve to fourteen years old, are under probation following their admission to a series of petty thefts. The leniency of the court in such cases is commendable. With proper attention from their parents these boys will be brought to a realization of the fact that Jesse James was more popular in fiction than in actual life.

"But while it is an easy matter to forgive the vagaries of youth, it is difficult to condone the parents who allow their children to run wild. Any normal boy or girl of fourteen requires considerable restraint and the parents who allow their children to be on the streets until ten, eleven or twelve o'clock at night are courting disaster. It is a natural human impulse to feel that our children are 'different' but it is a wise parent who plays safe. The ideal place to check our crime wave is in the home."

Thief River Falls is enjoying a boom in building and improvement this year, two new large structures at present being erected, the court house enlarged and other smaller improvements made. Excavation has already been completed for the fine $35,000 creamery being built by the farmers of this community and within a couple of weeks the new produce and potato warehouse erected by the Peterson-Biddick company will be ready for use. Both will provide greater and better facilities for properly caring for the products of the community and indicate faith in the future of this section.

Let's boost Thief River Falls, Pennington county and the Red River valley. It looks fine!

The grade crossings continue to take their toll of both high and low grade people.

The thing to remember about the fellow who claims everything is that he is entitled to nothing.

The force of gravitation never seems to have any effect on taxes.

Bumper Crop Prospects for Pennington County

"In the twenty-five years I have traveled thru the Northwest I have never seen a better crop condition taking all crops into consideration," is the statement made by Daniel E. Willard, agricultural expert of the Great Northern railway, and is backed up by local oldtimers. Rains during the past week have greatly improved grain crops and have proved very beneficial to the hay fields. Farmers in this vicinity who have cut their first crop of alfalfa and sweet clover are reporting large yields.

Rye harvest here will begin in a couple of weeks, says County Agent McCann, who asserts that practically every field in the entire community is in first class condition. The cool weather has given opportunity for the proper filling out and has also prevented the attack of rust. Wheat, oats and barley is also heading out in fine shape now, giving every indication of a bumper crop this year, providing the rest of the season is favorable.

Market reports received here today are to the effect that wheat prices have made another jump of five cents, the market here today being $1.28 a bushel. Drought in other sections is given as the cause.

The sugar beets in this locality look exceptionally fine, the growing weather having been ideal. Thinning was completed a week ago.

Although corn has been backward, it is reported to have picked up somewhat the last few days.

ENFORCEMENT A PRINCIPLE

Both the republican and democratic platforms this year declare for law enforcement.

There is nothing unusual about that. Any political party that did not believe in law enforcement would not survive long.

Law enforcement is a principle not a policy. It is fundamental and neither party needs to refer to the matter in its declarations on the public questions of the day.

The president, when he takes office subscribes to an oath to "protect and defend the constitution of the United States."

The constitution declares that the president "shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed." This means no particular law, but all laws.

When a presidential candidate or any other candidate lays stress on one law, it may be assumed that he does not look upon the enforcement of others as of such pressing importance.

Even people who do not obey all the laws believe in law enforcement. It is a principle deeply imbedded in our theory of government.

LIVING OFF GOVERNMENT

An authority on the subject says there are 2,700,000 employes on the payrolls of the federal and local government and 700,000 former employes drawing pensions—3,400,000 persons who are being provided by government with their living.

There are 41 to 42 million persons in the United States "gainfully employed" so that every 12 citizens are supporting one in office.

The amount paid for services by government—federal, state and local—represented 6½ percent of the national income in 1922.

This sum was nearly one-half that paid out in wages by all manufacturing plants in this country in 1921.

This sum represents an average payment of $91 by each person over ten years old engaged in a gainful occupation.

For half a century Frank A. Day has been at the helm of the Fairmont Sentinel which recently celebrated its fiftieth birthday. During its time of existence the publication has prospered and its editorial column is one of the most widely read in the state. Day is a Democrat but he evidently became disgusted with the doings at the New York convention when he was reported having said that there won't be enough Democrats in Minnesota this fall to man a handcar as a result of the stand taken by Minnesota delegates.

"If General Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate, will make good his promise to war on 'political bunk' during the campaign, he may be able to inaugurate a much needed reform in modern American politics," says the Grand Rapids Herald-Review. "The general has a natural faculty for making himself understood. He uses plain unvarnished English."

The need of the times is economy, but the only brakes the majority of the people know how to apply are the automobile brakes.

The ethics of the golf course allow playing through, but some golfers never get through playing.

It's fortunate that people's tastes vary. Otherwise we might all be playing saxaphones.

A GOOD SHOWING

Thief River Falls and Pennington county have reason to be proud of the statements published by its banks last week. The showing made by the eight banking institutions of the county is such as to further establish confidence and create an optimistic outlook for the future.

More than a million and a half, $1,509,598, was the total sum deposited in the three Thief River Falls banks on June 30, when the call was sent out to all the banks of the state. The deposits in all of the eight banks in the county aggregate more than two million, $2,089,377. These figures should prove to the pessimist that this section is by no means broke. Coupled with a most excellent outlook for crops this year Pennington county has every reason to feel cheerful and optimistic.

Every bank in the city has a substantial reserve and gives every evidence of safe and sane methods used by local bankers in the discharge of their business. Banks in this section have been greatly strengthened by the state rural credit loans.

In its three months' existence, the Agricultural Credit Corporation, with headquarters at Minneapolis has loaned or has under commitment for loans $4,363,000, according to its first official statement. The loans to 215 banks total $3,156,000. About $100,000 is promised the Northwest Dairy Association. Some 200 farmers have been loaned $94,000, with 50 applications pending. About 165 local committees have been organized in the Northwest to purchase cattle, the corporation having set aside $1,000,000 for that purpose.

It seems as tho the city election boards are very poor counters judging by the many errors discovered in the recount of votes in Minneapolis in the contest between Olson and Davis. Not a precinct was found where the original count was perfect. So far Olson has benefited by the recount, his first majority of 193 votes having been considerably increased. Davis has conceded the election.

Time is one of the most precious things on earth, yet most people spend it lavishly.

GETS RESULTS

In requesting the insertion of a want ad in The Times, R. Weiss, proprietor of The Merchants hotel in Paynesville, writes as follows regarding a "help wanted" ad in a previous issue: "Had very good success with my last advertisement in your paper, in fact I was kept busy for some time answering inquiries after the positions had been filled." Which again goes to prove that Times Want Ads are result getters.

COMMERCIAL CLUB NOTES

The dues for the last half of the year were due July 1st. If every member will send his check directly to the secretary it will save a lot of work in his office.

There will be no regular luncheon of the club this coming Thursday, but instead there will be a banquet at 7 o'clock at the Brumund hotel, given to the members of the sanatorium commissions who have a meeting here today.

There will be no luncheon a week from today, July 24, which is the day for the visit of the citizens and farmers to the State Farm School at Crookston.

The agricultural committee of the Commercial club is devising plans for selecting the men who will go as guests of the commercial club to the state fair this fall. It will be recalled that last year ten men were sent as guests of the club.

Nels Christenson, of the Industrial committee, is corresponding with some parties from Montana who are looking for a location for a pea canning factory.

All citizens who are interested in securing the state convention of the American Legion for 1925 are requested to meet at the legion club rooms at 8 o'clock, July 24, to make definite plans for sending a committee with the committee of the Legion members to St. Cloud where the convention is held this year.

At last Thursday's meeting the Commercial club went on record as favoring the buying of flags by each business house, to be displayed on all occasions of festivity in the city. A committee will shortly call upon each merchant. The cost will be little less than $5.00 for each flag, including holder and staff.

EASY TO KNOCK

It's the easiest thing in the world to knock.

It's the easiest thing in the world to stay away from the primary election and then complain about the nominee of your party.

It's easy to take no part in the Parent-teacher association meetings and then knock on the schools.

It's easy to play golf or go picnicking all day Sunday and then criticize the church because it does not draw crowds.

It's just the easiest thing in the world to degenerate into a sour-faced, disagreeable, self-satisfied chronic grumbler.

Every city, every town, no matter how large or how small, has its chronic pessimists, who see nothing but the bad in everything and do nothing to correct it.

A certain number will always exist, no doubt, as a horrible example for the rest of us, and even though they do no good, they at least forever will stand out as a living manifestation of what forward-looking people should not be.

Men who have a garden to tend and a lawn to mow can't see where golf comes in.

The man who rocks the boat is the same fellow who never slows up for a grade crossing.

FARM COUNCIL AS RURAL AID IS ORGANIZED

The resolutions and the constitution as finally adopted provided that no additional organization or organizations should be created. The existing organizations should be availed of to co-relate efforts to secure for agriculture the same benefits that are enjoyed through legislative enactments by industry and labor. A council through which all agricultural organizations might combine to present a united and effective front in support of efforts to place agriculture on a sound basis was provided for and organized.

This council will make a special effort to secure legislation along the lines of the McNary-Haugen measure.

Two large maps which were before the conference at all times played a large part in carrying the work well forward through serving to keep before the delegates the need of united activity. One map showed the vote on the tariff measure some few years ago. By it, the east was shown to have been united with the west. The southern states, with but the exception of the sugar raising states, being against the protective tariff. The other map showed the entire west, with but the exception of California and parts of Wisconsin and Congressman Sydney Anderson's district of Minnesota, and a few small spots, such as Minneapolis, Duluth, Kansas City and Chicago, showed the congressmen and senators of the whole west and middle west to have been together behind the McNary-Haugen bill, but the New England states (with but a few congressional district exceptions) and the southern states with a slightly larger number of exceptions, as against the enactment of the McNary-Haugen bill or as against emergency legislative action for the relief of agriculture.

Although the McNary-Haugen support was shown to cover three-fourths of the United States, geographically, the bill could not be passed because of the larger measure of representation in the east and south, it was pointed out, and showed effectively the need for united action upon the part of the agricultural interest of the entire country.

Just what will be the outcome of the conference, according to those in attendance from this section, remains to be seen.

The men selected to direct the activities of the new council are of calibre to insure that its sole aim will be that of working to secure "equality for agriculture."

Mr. Halvorson addressed the conference regarding the influence the action of American farmers would have on the world market.

How Are You Paid?

A man may be worth all he is paid, no matter how much he is paid, or be worth less than he is paid no matter how little he is paid. Don't complain about big salaries if they are earned, or about small salaries if you can't speed up and earn more.—The Ambassador.

MUCH LIVESTOCK TO BE SHOWN AT FAIR

Indications Point Towards A Large Number of Entries by Local Breeders

Livestock breeders of Pennington county are not exhibiting at outside fairs this year, as far as is known to The Times, but are making preparations to make the exhibition in Thief River Falls next month one of the finest ever seen at any county fair in this section or perhaps anywhere in the state.

Those in charge of livestock exhibits for the fair which opens August 7, urge that those who wish to enter animals for exhibition do so as soon as possible, so that the management may be able to determine how much outside stock may be taken in. Local exhibits will be given the first chance. Farmers in Pennington county should bear this in mind and oblige those in charge by attending to the matter at once.

More entries will be made this year by local farmers than ever before, in the opinion expressed by Secretary J. J. McCann. People come from distant points to view the splendid animals exhibited by dairymen of this community, some of the finest in the state being found here.

Fred Beerbower, farmer near the city, is superintendent of the livestock department of the fair this year.

Meeting of Crops Assn.

A meeting of the Red River Valley Crops and Soils association will be held at the Northwest Experiment Station on Tuesday, July 29. Everyone is invited to bring a picnic lunch and spend the afternoon in becoming familiar with new varieties soon to be distributed and in enjoying a splendid program of crops and soils demonstrations. The features of the program have not been shown to any visiting club so that those who have made a visit this summer to the station are urged to come again for this day.

Much Livestock Brought Into Northwest by Credit Corporation Loans

S. L. Ingram of the Agricultural Credit corporation passed thru this city on his way to Greenbush and other points north in connection with cattle and sheep loans. Mr. Ingram reports that the corporation has been very successful in placing a large number of cattle with farmers in the northwest where they are needed.

It has been the general impression that the corporation does not finance farmers in buying cattle except when they are bought outside the locality in which the borrower resides. Such is not the case, however. Any worthy farmer who has barn room and sufficient feed can buy his own cattle in his territory, subject to the approval of the local committee and the executive of the corporation, according to Albert Lonson, secretary of the Pennington county committee.

"It seems that the farmers who are in need of cattle should make their applications as soon as possible so as to take advantage of the liberal terms the corporation offers," says Mr. Lonson, who urges farmers having more cattle than they care to keep to list them with him, so that the buyers and sellers can get together.

Many are not familiar with the terms of the corporation's loans which are in short: Six per cent interest with payment of 10 per cent of principal first year, 20 per cent second year, 30 per cent third year and the remaining 40 per cent the fourth year; security on cattle purchased.

Only a few applications for livestock loans have been received here so far, according to Secretary Lonson.

People who are stingy with thanks seldom ever have any opportunity to extend them.

POSTAL RECEIPTS LARGEST EVER AT OFFICE IN T. R. F.

Business for Fiscal Year Closing June 30 Shows Good Increase Over 1923

Thief River Falls' postal receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30 reached the highest mark in the history of the city, according to Postmaster Daniel Shaw. The receipts during the past twelve months totaled close to the $30,000 mark, and an increase of approximately 10 per cent is noted over the previous year, this being entirely for stamp sales. Other departments also report an increase in business.

This city's growth in business is reflected by the increase in postal receipts, says Postmaster Shaw, who states that every quarter during the past year exceeded any other corresponding period, even tho ordinary letters during the war required three cents in postage.

The service given the public at the local office is unusually good, in spite of the fact that the quarters are inadequate for the large volume of business. Twenty-four postal employees make their home in this city, including four railway mail clerks. The others are employed in the office and as carriers and specials. There are five regular clerks and two substitutes, three city carriers and five carriers on the rural routes served by this office. It is expected that additional rural routes will be established during the next two-three months, according to Postmaster Shaw.

Better accomodations will be given people of the city by the installation of six additional package boxes this month.

Thirteen mails are now being received every day, mail also being received on the new night train from Duluth, which is distributed early the following morning and affords several hours earlier service.

Following are the office hours according to regular schedule: General delivery and registry windows—8:00 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. Money order and postal savings windows—8:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. General delivery is open on legal holidays 11:00 to 12:00 m. It is closed on Sundays. The lobby is open on week days from 7:00 to 10:00 p. m. and on Sundays 8.00 a. m. to 9:30 p. m.

Mails close as follows:

Bergstrom is New Manager of Farmers Elevator Company; Officers are Named

H. Bergstrom, manager for the Sandberg Roe company's elevator in this city the past three years, has accepted the position of manager for the Farmers Exchange Elevator company. The Farmers elevator has been closed since March 1, but will reopen for business next Monday, July 21, according to announcement this week.

Mr. Bergstrom succeeds Hogan Hanson who has served the company the last three years and who expects to attend to his farming interests here. The former's place at the Sandberg Roe elevator is taken by O. N. J. Hagen of Crookston, who assumed duties July 1.

Carl Beiswenger, succeeding Reinold Johnson as treasurer, was the only new member of the board of directors elected at the annual meeting of the Exchange July 5. The following were re-elected: O. N. Olson, president; Christ Nelson, secretary; Gust Bergren and T. K. Rynestad.

Reports read before the meeting showed that a total of 24,000 bushels of grain were handled by the elevator during the fiscal year closing July 1.

"Judging from the present crop outlook we anticipate a heavy business the coming season," Mr. Bergstrom declared.

The Farmers Exchange has 130 stockholders.

Senator C.L. Hansen Disposes Of Stock in First National Bank to Minneapolis Co.

bank of Miles City, Montana, which is today one of the strong banks of Eastern Montana. He is attracted to Thief River Falls by the wonderful possibilities and promises of this section in an agricultural way, and of the city as a coming center of Northwestern Minnesota.

Mr. Wedge is a native of southern Minnesota, having spent his boyhood at Plainview in Wabasha county. He is a graduate of Carleton college and also studied law for a year at Harvard Law school. At the time of leaving Miles City he was president of the eastern group of the Montana Bankers' association and a member of the state executive committee. Mrs. Wedge is a Red River valley girl, Kathryn Buchanan of St. Thomas, N. D., so Mr. Wedge states they feel like coming home. He is very well and favorably known throughout Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana as a practical and conservative banker of twenty years' experience, with a reputation for safely protecting the depositors' funds and for constructive work in helping to build an economically sound business in the community. The family will move here in the near future and make this city their home.

With the above changes there will be the same directors and personnel in the bank management.

Senator Hansen retires from the banking business after having been actively engaged and interested in banks in Pennington county for the past nineteen years. During that period he has become closely connected with the advancement of this community and his long association and direct connection with its interests have made him familiar with the particular needs of this section. Progress has always been one of Mr. Hansen's characteristics, and since he has been identified with the bank here he has ever been a constant booster for Thief River Falls and the surrounding country. It was largely thru his efforts that the white way was secured and he was responsible for making possible the erection of the Evelyn hotel and the Union block, both of which buildings were a distinct improvement and credit to the city.

The retiring bank president was also instrumental in erecting the new First National bank building in 1917, one of the finest banking houses in the state north of the twin cities and which stands as a monument to his activities.

Coming to this country from Denmark in 1895 Mr. Hansen started out as a farm hand and came to the Red River Valley in 1900.

Realizing the possibilities of this section he was determined to settle here and first selected Red Lake Falls for his permanent home, securing a position in the First State bank. He remained there but a short time, however, and in 1905 purchased the Merchants State bank at St. Hilaire. Very soon after this purchase he also acquired the First State bank of that village and merged the two institutions. He built up the Merchants State bank to one of the most prosperous and solid banking institutions of the section.

Having an eye on this city and noting its rapid development as a center of Northwestern Minnesota Mr. Hansen decided to expand his interests and in 1908 he secured the Prichard interests in the First National bank, organized by W. W. Prichard, Sr., in 1901. Mr. Hansen served as cashier of the institution until in 1913 when he was elected president and has served in that capacity since.

In an effort to boost the farming interests of the community Mr. Hansen loaned money to farmers without interest charges for the purpose of erecting silos and several were added in the county thru this plan. Mr. Hansen was elected to the senate in 1922.

The Times is pleased to state that Senator Hansen will remain in the city and continue his business activities. This community also welcomes a man of Mr. Wedge's type as a citizen and bespeaks for the new interest unbounded success in this enterprising institution.

The Marquette Company two years ago organized the Marshall County State bank at Holt.

DELEGATES FROM VALLEY TO BOOST SECTION AT FAIR

Pennington Will Participate in Tour to State Fair and Dairy Exposition

D. H. LaVoi, representing the business men of the twin cities and the Northwest Dairy exposition of the Minnesota State fair board, was in the city last Thursday in an effort to renew interest on the part of the Red River Valley inhabitants in the Minnesota state fair to be held in the twin cities Aug. 30 to Sept. 6.

Mr. LaVoi spoke before the Commercial club urging this city and county to join other cities and counties of the entire Red River Valley in an automobile procession to the state fair in an effort to advertise the valley. Mr. LaVoi urged that the delegation of ten Pennington county farmers to be sent to the state fair by the Commercial club participate in the Red River Valley tour as arrangements have been made whereby certain privileges will be granted this procession by cities along the route and at the exposition. Communities thruout the entire valley are showing much interest in the undertaking, Mr. LaVoi stated, the commercial clubs, farmer clubs and creamery associations heading delegations from the various places. Representatives of each community or county will carry their own respective banners, but the tour will be supplied with booster equipment advertising the entire valley. The plan was endorsed by the club here, the matter being left with the agricultural committee.

According to tentative plans arranged so far the Red River Valley delegation will assemble Sunday night, August 31, at St. Cloud and proceed in a body Monday morning to the fair.

Mr. LaVoi came here from Warren, which expects to send a delegation, and went from here to Red Lake Falls. He has visited in Wisconsin and told how communities there are co-operating in boosting their section.

The showing made by this section of the state will give it much favorable publicity not only in Minnesota but in other states as well, Mr. LaVoi said, and the attendance of all the Red River Valleyites is solicited.

Many Farmers in County Have Certified Alfalfa

Certificates of genuiness are this week being distributed to more than 150 farmers of this community, largely in Pennington county, there being issued by A. B. Lyman of Excelsior to all purchasers of Grimm alfalfa seed thru the Pennington County Bankers association last winter. This enables growers to get their fields certified if properly cared for as each allotment is certified to be grown in Bingham county, Idaho, from Carver county seed traced directly to Grimm's original.

The largest quantity of seed purchased by any one farmer in Pennington county from the carload shipped here this spring was 300 pounds, sufficient to plant nearly 100 acres, which was bought by R. M. Johnson of Kratka. Many purchases were only in small quantities, altho quite a number secured up to 200 pounds.

Jens Letness and son, Lawrence, and Peter Engelstad, farmers near the city, will this year have certified potato seed of the Irish Cobbler and Early Ohio varieties this year. Altho somewhat retarded by the cool weather during the forepart of the season, the potato crop in Pennington county is now looking very promising, according to Agent J. J. McCann. Practically the entire commercial acreage of the county has been signed up in the new co-operative exchange.

The Human Element in Big Business

The human element is the biggest element in big business.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) was one of the first to give recognition to the welfare and rights of those who go to make up the personnel of its organization.

This Company frankly states that a large measure of its success in business is due to the fact that it has considered the human element first. This applies to its relations with consumers, competitors, stockholders and employes.

No organization in the oil industry, which is an industry of specialization, can efficiently serve the public without a trained and loyal body of workers.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) over a long period of years has built up a great organization of highly trained employes. These people are not regarded as cogs in a big machine. They are treated as human beings—co-workers with the Board of Directors in rendering an essential service to the thirty million people of the Middle West.

To relieve employes of worry, to enable them to give all their thought to their duties, and to stimulate their loyalty and interest, this Company has put into effect a number of plans.

The last of these to be made effective is known as the "Employes' Death Benefits Plan," under which this Company will pay to dependents of employes, upon the death of the latter, a sum of money ranging from $500.00, after one year of service, to $2,000.00, after ten years of service. This money will be paid wholly by the Company, irrespective of the position of the worker, and without expense to him.

In dealing with the public, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) keeps ever in the foreground the fact that in the last analysis it is dealing with men and women. Whether these men and women are inside or outside the organization makes no difference—they must be considered as the human, the only necessary part of industry.

You can't keep human nature out of business, and the bigger the business, the greater the need for proper consideration of that human element which is so important a part of it.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has converted this human element into an asset to the public, by giving the utmost stimulus to those qualities of the worker which make for loyal intelligent service.

Firestone Leads on Speedway with Five Record Breakers

When the race driver selects his tires he does so realizing that his life and chances for success depend upon them. It is significant that all of the ten money winners in the Indianapolis race were Firestone shod. Firestone, using gum-dipping and other special processes, has developed tires to such a high degree of efficiency that at Indianapolis, May 30th, the following drivers broke the world's record for 500 miles over this brick track, making many rounds at over 100 miles per hour.

Never before were tires put to such gruelling service, where it was necessary for every ounce of rubber and every fibre of fabric to work in perfect unison with every other part.

Leadership in Everyday Service

Millions of motorists are profiting by the lengthened service of Firestone tires. Scores of unsolicited testimonials emphasize the long mileage Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords deliver—which builds leadership in service, safety and economy.

Leadership on Cabs, Buses and Trucks

The largest taxicab companies in the five largest cities in the United States use Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords exclusively. One fleet alone, the Yellow Cab Co. of Chicago, uses over one-half million tire miles per day.

Firestone for years has been first to develop tires and rims complete which would meet the heavy trucking loads, great strains and demand for traction. By originating and carrying forward the Ship by Truck movement, and establishing Ship by Truck bureaus in all large cities, Firestone helped to speed up highway transportation and reduce costs.

Balloon Tire Leadership

Firestone's latest contribution to motoring is the low air pressure or Balloon Tire. This, the original full-size Balloon, was made practical by the special Firestone Gum-Dipping process, insulating every fibre of each cord, adding great strength and stamina. Firestone has also simplified the application of full-size Balloon tires to your present car by designing a special unit consisting of tires, tubes, rims and spokes applied by any dealer at a very low cost.

Leadership Against British Rubber Restriction Act

Attacking the unsound and uneconomic character of the British Rubber Restriction Act limiting the exportation of rubber from the Far East, Firestone was the one large tire manufacturer to take up the cause for the car owner. Soon after the agitation was started for America to produce rubber under its own control, the cost of crude rubber was reduced and tire prices brought back to normal.

Dealer Leadership Through Tire Quality and Service

Through Firestone dealers you can obtain organized service and the soundest values on the market, whether you need a Ford 30 x 3½ Fabric, a set of full-size Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords or a 10-inch truck tire.

MANY HUNTERS FAIL TO REPORT RESULTS

Lose Privilege to Hunt Next Fall. Only 139 Out of 515 Report in Pennington

Thousands of Minnesotans are looking forward to the next hunting season without giving thought to the possibility that they might not be privileged to hunt. Such a prospect, however, is not remote, for a majority of all those who hunted last season have, by their failure to comply with the law, courted disappointment when they apply for their licenses next fall.

Probably a majority of Minnesota hunters are good sportsmen who pay strict attention to regulations governing open and closed seasons and bag limits. But it is equally true that a majority have jeopardized their right to a 1924 hunting license by neglecting to report to the Game and Fish department as to the number of game birds and animals taken by them last season.

Of the 515 who secured hunting licenses in Pennington county during 1923 only 139 reported, leaving 376 who are liable to be refused a license this year.

Such a report is required by law, and refusal of another license is the penalty for neglect. Maybe the average sportsman assumes that his failure to comply with this provision of the law has been overlooked by the Game and Fish department, but he is only fooling himself. The department has compiled a complete list of 1923 licenses, a complete list of those who have reported their season's shoot, and a complete list of those who have failed to do so.

The law provides: "Every person to whom a license to take birds or quadrupeds in issued shall, on or before thirty days after the expiration of this license, make a written report to the commissioner on a form prepared and furnished by him, stating the kind and number of each bird or quadruped taken under such license. A licensee who willfully fails or neglects to make such report shall not be granted a license to take birds or quadrupeds for one year thereafter."

The foregoing provision has been flagrantly violated in every county in Minnesota, and the department is compiling for publication by the newspapers of the several counties a list of the names and addresses of all licensees in such counties who have failed to report as required by law.

As an illustration of the widespread neglect of this provision, Ramsey county issued 10,726 licenses in the fall of 1923; of these, only 1,447 reported and 9,279 failed to report. Hennepin county issued 15,228 licenses; 6,327 reported, and 8,901 failed to report. St. Louis county issued 12,183 licenses; 2,689 reported, and 9,494 failed to report. Although the ratio varies in the several counties, Becker, Sherburne and Traverse are the three only counties in which the returns outnumber those who failed to report.

In Beltrami county 381 out of 990 reported, Clearwater 135 out of 379, Kittson 110 out of 356, Mahnomen, 105 out of 400, Marshall 209 out of 540, Polk 1105 out of 2275, Red Lake 118 out of 289 and Roseau 152 out of 365.

Every license issued carried a report card on which the season's shoot might be tabulated, with instructions for making returns, so neglect must be charged to indifference. These reports are essential in the compilation of data relating to the increase or decrease of various species of wild life, and serve as a basis in fixing bag limits and determining other facts necessary to the protection and propagation of game.

If you failed to report within thirty days, you have waived your right to a license next fall. Probably the next best thing is to do it now.

Blitzen Fluid added to your Gas-

CARBON DEPOSITS, the most common and ruinous enemy to all gasoline motors, is the original cause of ninety per cent of motor troubles. Blitzen Fluid eliminates this serious handicap in motor engineering, as it softens the fiery coke-like carbon deposits and expels it through the exhaust. Once the motor is clean, Blitzen Fluid forms a film on the surface of the metal parts and makes it impossible for carbon to adhere to same.

When carbon is gone grinding of valves becomes the exception rather than the rule. Your motor valves and plugs will be kept clean and perform at their highest efficiency; carbon knocks and motor heating will disappear, starting will be easier and you will enjoy that extra power and smoothness of a clean well preserved motor.

Wool Shipments Show Increase, Says Huddleston

"Wool is coming in very freely—faster than we can handle and issue grading sheets for it," reports Alex Huddleston, president of the Minnesota Cooperative Wool Marketing association. Mr. Huddleston reports also that one-third of the association patrons this year are new members, most of whom are shipping on the recommendation of old patrons.

A good deal of wool has been disposed of by growers of this community, most of which has been sold to local dealers and some shipped to the co-operative association. Last year about $20,000 worth of wool was sold thru the association by Pennington farmers.

A recent letter from R. E. Jones, manager of the association, to the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, says: "We are advancing on the basis of 28 cents for the clear bright medium and fine wools. We are holding this class of wools at 40 cents Boston and the bright 3-8 at 42 cents Boston. We have been offered all the way from 36 to 38½ cents delivered Boston, for a line of clear bright ¼'s. We were offered 38½ cents, but we are holding at 40 cents.

"There are quite a number of inquiries from the East. It looks to us as though wool had touched bottom and that eastern buyers are anxious to get in at bottom prices.

"Buyers throughout the state are now paying 28½ to 32 cents. They have paid as high as 34 cents but have gone down to 32 cents from the top. In some wool sections they are buying for less money. Southern Minnesota buyers started this year at 30 cents and when they found our advance to be 28 cents, their prices went as high as 34 cents. They are now back to 32 cents.

"We are hoping soon to report sales on the basis of 40 cents Boston for our clear bright ¼'s. This will net the grower 36 cents Wabasha."

The state co-operative association asks that all ram fleeces shipped to them be tagged specially, and that a letter be written giving the breed, age and approximate weight of the head of the flock. Advice as to the sire, judged by the quality of the wool, will then be given in each instance where a change seems advisable.

ASKS CO-OPERATION IN DIVERSIFICATION AND SUGAR FACTORY

Moorhead Commercial Club Proposes Raising of Crops Which Rehabilitate Soil

Co-operation between business men and farmers of Minnesota for erection of a sugar beet factory, to enable farmers to produce "crops which rehabilitate wornout soils", is asked by the Commercial club of Moorhead, in a letter sent to chambers of commerce, Commercial, Rotary and Exchange clubs thruout Minnesota, by E. S. Peterson, secretary of the Moorhead club.

The resolution urges that conditions be maintained in which the farmers can work out for themselves the salvation they have already planned, through substitution for wheat and other crops that destroy the fertility of the soil, such crops as sugar and butter, whose principal elements come from sunshine and rain and hence contain very little fertilizing elements.

"Efforts have been made on all sides to devise some means whereby farmers may receive a larger sum for the crops they have been accustomed to produce," says the resolution which the Moorhead, Minn., club has already sent to President Coolidge, a copy of which was sent here with Secretary Peterson's appeal.

"Even if the assistance that has been proposed could be rendered to our northwestern farmers," the resolution continues, "it would be but temporary.

"The trouble is more deeply seated.

"From the time of settlement of these states until the present time the principal crop has been wheat.

"For years the land produced from forty to sixty bushels of wheat per acre, but year after year this production has been declining until at the present time the average is but seven bushels.

"We as residents of these states have been depleting our soil without realizing it.

"Our salvation lies in the complete change of our agricultural practices and not in political remedies.

"Realizing this the farmers and business men of Moorhead, and vicinity have been for years working towards a system of agriculture based upon a production of food crops which take for their principal element inexhaustible material instead of the mineral matters of the soil.

"Such a system has rehabilitated the worn-out soils of Europe and is largely the cause of the wonderful change during the last hundred years in the prosperity of the Central Powers of Europe. This system is based on the production and sale of such farm products as butter and sugar.

"We can grow the alfalfas and clovers and have proven by several years work that our soil and climate are exceptionally favorable to the production of sugar. Our next step is to build a factory to thrash the sugar from the beets.

"This the farmers, for lack of capital, are unable to do for themselves. We of the Northwest do not ask for government aid. We do, however, ask that the present laws which have allowed us to prove this system of agriculture is adaptable to our own country be not disturbed as capital cannot assist us if foreign grown products of the soil are allowed to compete with ours.

"It might be that we could buy these commodities cheaper but even if they were given to us nothing would be added to our prosperity, as it is only by production we obtain properity.

"This is just as much your fight as ours," local men are told in the letter from Secretary Peterson of Moorhead. "Minnesota alone uses annually between 200,000,000 and 230,000,000 pounds of sugar. The one factory in Minnesota now produces 12,000,000 pounds annually. There need be no competition between localities, there is room for all."

Improving Egg Grades in Co-operative Marketing

Regarding the advantages of a cooperative marketing of eggs J. W. Corwin, poultry editor of The Farmer, St. Paul writes as follows:

"The other day at Bemidji, I watched the candling of eggs in one of the commercial plants. The man in charge stated that 50 per cent of the eggs had to go into 'seconds.' From what I saw in front of the candle, I did not doubt his word. These eggs were packed in the usual way or shipped in from the stores of the neighboring towns.

"If all of the producers could see what I saw there, and then go to any one of the five cooperative associations now selling in Minnesota and see the wonderful improvement in quality, they would at once ask what makes the difference. The answer would be, as we have often stated before, in the cooperative system the eggs are moved quickly and directly from the nest to the creameries or local delivery points and then trucked right to the associations' grading and packing rooms, and then into refrigerator cars.

"Under the old system they are taken to town whenever it is handy, and lie around the local store or produce station a day or two. At this season of the year, evaporation, germination, and deterioration in quality are bound to take place under such conditions. Only six to ten percent went below firsts, and over 90 per cent were first or better during April and the first part of May in the Owatonna district. This is a big contrast to the 40 or 50 per cent which were classed below firsts at the Bemidji plant.

"The difference is largely due to the better and more direct method of handling in the cooperative system."

Men were not made to criticize women's clothes, but to pay for them.

POTATO CO-OP. BUYS HOUSE IN MOORHEAD

Winter Storage for 400 Cars of Red River Valley Potatoes Is Assured

The Wright Potato Warehouse at Moorhead, largest and best equipped storage plant in the northwest, has been purchased by the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange. This announcement was made at St. Paul last week by Frank Kiene, president of the organization.

At the same time, it was stated that Leo H. Wright had been appointed director of the association's department of warehousing, grading and inspection.

"In empoying Mr. Wright," said Mr. Kiene, "we feel that we have obtained the service of the most practical potato man in the section. He brings to the membership, a vast amount of practical experience, all of which has been acquired during 17 years of close association with the potato marketing problem in Minnesota."

Mr. Wright was employed, Mr. Kiene said, only after the board had considered scores of applicants. "We gave the first consideration to each candidate's knowledge of the potato problem in this state, and it was because of his special fitness in that field that Mr. Wright was given the position," Mr. Kiene said.

Purchase of the Wright storage house gives the association a handling plant which will be used as a reservoir in prompting its orderly marketing program. It has been used largely by speculators for storing potatoes, purchased during the glut season and held for higher prices in the late fall or spring.

It has a capacity of 400 cars and is so constructed as to assure stored potatoes being of the best possible quality at the time of delivery.

The Wright plant was the 66th house taken over by the Exchange. As June ended, storage space had been acquired at Fisher, Lengby, Lancaster, Middle River, Kennedy, Newfolden, Argyle, East Grand Forks, Georgetown, Baker, Callaway, Westbury, Waubun, Ogema, Detroit, Sauk Centre, Browerville, Clarissa, Menahga, Horton, Dorset, Farris, Hines, Parkers Prairie, Forada, Miltona, Braham, Shevlin, Quamba, Jenkins, Mora, Princeton, Stacy, Kerrick, Atkinson, Willow River, Taylors Falls, Beroun, Groningen, Rush City, Cambridge, Shafer, Askov, Isanti, Stanchfield, North Branch, Blackberry, Deer River, Solway, Blackduck, Winger, Red Lake Falls, Richdale, Laporte, Bronson and Hugo. At several points where the Exchange membership is unusually heavy, more than one house has been taken over.

The Exchange has divided the state into ten districts, with a chairman in charge of each. These superintendents will complete the warehousing program. In this district F. A. Green of Stephen is in charge.

Farm Wage Level for June Reported Slightly Lower

Slight decreases in average wages offered by farmers are indicated in the July 1 labor report compiled by F. L. French, secretary of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation.

For general work by the day farmers are offering an average of $2.04—a decrease of 16 cents from the figures given in the June 1 report. For haying by the day the average wage was $2.28 a day. Wages for general work by the month averaged $41.65, as against $42.90 shown by the June 1 report.

For the same period last year the demand was strong. This year the demand is weak. This report is based on the returns from 20 counties in different sections of the state.

Large numbers of workers will be needed this year in the harvest fields of the Dakotas, Kansas, Nebraska and other states, where the harvest season will soon be in full swing. Many laborers have been placed on farms in this community thru the office of the county agent, J. J. McCann, most of them being local men except the Mexicans employed in the beet fields. The wage level here is about the same as in other parts of the state.

LOSE ONE AND WIN ONE IS RECORD OF T. R. FALLS TEAM

Local Nine is Getting in Shape For a Busy Season and Some Real Baseball

Thief River Falls met Warren on the local diamond Sunday for the first time this season, the game ending with a score of 5 to 2 in favor of the visitors. The local ball tossers were hardly up to standard and feel confident that they will be able to turn the tables on Warren in the return game. Much enthusiasm is being shown and many fans are turning out for the games. Following is the box score for the game:

The game was a good one and each seemed to be in trim to do his stuff. Strandquist has by no means a weak team and will give them all a run for their money. Following is the box score:

While the playing so far this year has not been spectacular, it can be said that it has been consistent and good for the practice and preparation the team has had. The Thief River Falls nine is just getting lined up and finding their men and in the course of a few weeks will be in a position to put up a fine brand of baseball. The Times, in co-operating with the team, is making it a point to carry a complete box score of each game.

June this year was an exceptionally cool month, according to the records kept by the local observer, L. M. Rayson. The warmest day during the entire month was June 16, when the mercury registered 84 above zero. This is an unusually low record for during almost every June in the past several years temperatures of 90 and above have been reached.

June a year ago started in with temperatures of 91 degrees above zero on the first three days of the month and the mercury was over a maximum of 89. The thermometer registered 90 and above for 5 of the 30 days, and over 85 for 14 days.

Gymnasium of High School Being Entirely Overhauled

A contract for the repair of walls, ceiling and floor of the high school gymnasium was awarded Wednesday of last week by the school board to The Prichard company of this city, lowest bidders. This will be good news to students who use the quarters for all indoor physical training during the school year, as this part of the basement is in a very delapidated condition. A new floor will be put in, the walls plastered and a steel ceiling added, making a complete renovation. The work will be completed before the opening of school in September.

The physical training part of the educational program now is becoming more essential than ever in the schools and it is important that the quarters for carrying out the various exercises and athletic games be properly fixed up and equipped. It seems to be the sentiment of the district to encourage athletics as much as possible and thereby help the youth prepare himself physically and adopt clean habits of living. An extensive program of athletics, particularly in basketball, was inaugurated in the lower grades during the past year by Coach Leonard Thune, who will return in the fall to carry this out still further during the coming season.

Much Butter Handled by Co-op. Ass'n During June

Records of June shipments of butter and eggs as compiled by A. J. McGuire, manager of the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries association, shows a steady volume of business for the month.

The New York office of the association handled 203 cars, or 5,607,068 pounds of butter and 3721 cases of eggs; the Philadelphia office 23 carloads, or 683,098 pounds of butter; and the Chicago office 10 cars of butter.

The St. Paul office of the association received during the month 157 cars of butter, consisting of 30,000 pounds to the car. Of this number 111 cars were shipped to points outside New York and Philadelphia. It is significant that these shipments were distributed from Buffalo, N. Y., to Jacksonville, Florida.

"We cannot too strongly impress upon our membership," said Mr. McGuire, "the good results which we have secured by diverting as many cars of butter as possible from the New York market, thereby lightening the receipts in that market, increasing the price which we receive for the general market for Minnesota butter."

PENNINGTON YOUTHS COMPETE IN CLUBS—WILL SHOW AT FAIR

Dairy Calf Club Leads With Sixteen Members—Free Trips To State Fair

Five boys' and girls' clubs working under the direction of County Agent J. J. McCann will participate in the Pennington county fair next month. They are: The dairy calf, sheep, pig, poultry and potato clubs, the members of which will enter exhibits at the fair in competition for prizes. First awards will be in the form of free trips to the state fair.

The largest club is the dairy calf, with 16 members. They are: Perry Borgie, Kittel Rynestad, Randall Noper, Gordon Hunt, Thomas Ystesund, Vivian Olson, John and Lawrence Letnes, Ole Homme, Trygve Hetland and Christina Lerol, Thief River Falls; Linda Koop, Joe Dann, Lars Vik and Virginia Westphal, St. Hilaire; Goodwin Wilson, Plummer. All will enter Guernseys or Holsteins except Lawrence Letnes, who has an Ayrshire calf. A great deal of interest is being taken in this club. Last year Gordon Hunt not only won a free trip to the state fair but was also Pennington county's representative at the National Livestock show in Chicago, as one of the 40 club winners in the state given free trips by railroad companies and the Minneapolis Journal, Gordon being the winner of the Journal prize.

Twelve boys and girls of the county have enrolled in the pig club, some of them caring for pigs secured from the Fuller and Mayhew herds. Members of the pig club are: Meryl Johnson, Lena Best, Clarence Swanson, Ernest Swanson, Orvin Peterson, Gordon Hunt, Emma Letnes, Ole Homme and Estelle Hanson, Thief River Falls; George Wilson, Kenneth McKercher and Julia Malmquist, St. Hilaire.

The sheep club with eight members includes: Paul Mellby, Fay Best, Ole Homme and Estelle Hanson, Thief River Falls; Esther Geske, Helen Satre, Klemens Gigstad and George Wilson, St Hilaire.

Three girls and two boys will enter exhibits in the poultry club, namely Edna and Vera Almquist, St. Hilaire; Estelle Hanson, Clifford Froehlich and Clarence Sande, Thief River Falls. In Marshall county the poultry club has 21 members, but the other clubs are smaller than those in this county. Only one has entered the potato club, Lawrence Best being without competition in that line.

In the bread club Grace Mostue and Ansof Dahlen will be given free trips to the state fair while Byron Westphal and George Wilson of St. Hilaire will take part in the Farm Boys' camp during the fair as a reward for having done the best club work in the county during 1923.

One thousand boys and girls from every part of the state, enrolled in club work will compete for $22,652.50 in prizes at the coming Minnesota State Fair, August 30 to September 6, according to announcement of T. A. Erickson, state leader of boys' and girls' club work.

"Twenty thousand children will take an active part in the elimination contests held to select the boys and girls who are going to the state fair," says Mr. Erickson. "The state fair is a wonderful incentive for good work. The biggest prize we offer for excellence in club work is the week's visit to the state fair. The splendid prizes offered, larger than those offered by any other state fair or exposition in America, will enable one child out of every twenty enrolled in club work to get the trip. Consequently, it is the one big thing the boys and girls dream about."

St. Hilaire Resident Passes

Louis de Cathelineau, aged 61, for 23 years years a resident of St. Hilaire, died July 4 at the Warren hospital after having been ill the past year. He was a native of Paris, France. Deceased is survived by his widow, four sons, Louis, Jr., Henry, Hervey and Peter, and three daughters, Gabrielle, Blance and Mary. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. B. Smith of this city from the family home the following Sunday.

It Never Looked Better

B. Dahlquist, who last week returned from a trip to Alexandria by way of Crookston, and Fargo, declares that "in all the 25 years that I have lived in the Red River Valley I have never seen the crops look better than right now. It seems as tho providence is making a special effort to produce crops of every kind in abundance this year."

LEGION PLANS TO LAND CONVENTION

Meeting of Citizens at Legion Hall Next Thursday to Consider Matter

Oscar Smith, Francis Burns and Oscar C. Paulson have been named by the local post of the American Legion on a committee to confer with business men of the city regarding plans for securing the 1925 state convention for Thief River Falls. A meeting was held last Thursday to which everyone interested in the proposition was invited but it was so poorly attended that they will be given another opportunity to show their interest at a meeting called for Thursday, July 24, at 8 p. m. Every interested citizen is urgently requested to attend.

G. Howard Smith appeared before the Commercial club last Thursday calling attention to the fact that the club was already on record as strongly in favor of doing everything possible to get the convention here and urging upon its members to assist the local legion boys in sending a delegation to the St. Cloud convention August 4, 5 and 6. Proper assurance of support from the citizens generally in the matter of entertaining the large number of visitors in the city is essential in order to make an attractive bid at the convention.

It was pointed out by Mr. Smith that the state conventions so far have been attended by 5,000 to 8,000 delegates and other Legionaires and members of the auxiliary. Estimating that 3,000 would visit the city for two days, the third day to be an excursion to Winnipeg, a very conservative estimate places the sum spent in the city during that time at no less than $25,000.

Delegates to represent the Eklund post at the St. Cloud convention will be elected at the meeting. The local post is entitled to four delegates but others may also attend in the interest of getting the 1925 convention to this city.

To Liquidate Bank

The closed Rosewood branch bank of the Merchants National bank at Crookston, closed this spring by the Federal banking department because of depleted reserves, will not be reopened but will be liquidated according to word received here. Before the parent bank at Crookston can be reopened the branch banks must be liquidated, it is said.

The Crookston bank has been reorganized and stock is now being sold at a satisfactory rate, according to reports.

HIGH PRAISE GIVEN REV. S. L. TALLAKSON

Grand Forks Herald Speaks Highly of New Trinity Pastor's Work There

Rev. S. L. Tallakson of Grand Forks, who recently accepted a call from the Trinity Lutheran congregation in this city, will preach here next Sunday evening, July 20. He will come here every two weeks until he takes full charge October 1. It is expected that he will be officially installed the first Sunday in August.

The Grand Forks Herald makes the following comment regarding Mr. Tallakson upon his resignation from the First Lutheran church there:

"Mr. Tallakson came to Grand Forks from Reynolds, where he had charge of the Reynolds and St. Olaf congregations for two and one half years. Before coming to North Dakota Mr. Tallakson had charge of St. John's church in Chicago. The first six years of his ministry were spent in Northern Minnesota, after his graduation from the Lutheran Theological college in St. Paul, where he spent three years. He also graduated in the Willmar seminary and Luther college at Decorah, Iowa.

"Mr. Tallakson has been secretary of the Grand Forks Lutheran Ministers' association, secretary of the Old People's Home association, and is now pastor at Thompson as well as at the First Lutheran church; he has acted as student pastor at the University of North Dakota for the Lutheran churches of the city for some time.

"Mr. Tallakson has been interested in having all Lutheran churches use the English language in their church; this idea was advocated by him at the meeting of Lutheran ministers here last winter and at a national meeting held in Fargo recently.

"The congregation will miss Mr. Tallakson very much,' declared Rev. H. B. Thorgrimsen, who was pastor of the church when Mr. Tallakson took charge. 'He is leaving the church in a very fine condition, and has built it up materially in many ways since coming to us. The Men's club is one of the best in the city, and he has been very active in this, as well as among the young people, with whom he has accomplished very much. The young people like him and he has wielded a great influence over them. Many new departments have been added to the Sunday school, which has increased in both numbers and efficiency during his stay.

"The membership of the church increased between 75 and 80 persons last year, and the increase will reach more than a 100 this year; the budget system has been adopted in the church and we find that the finances are in good condition at the present time, and the church in general is in splendid shape," Mr. Thorgrimsen said in conclusion."

It is expected that Mr. Tallakson accompanied by his wife will be present at the meeting of the Ladies' Aid this afternoon.

The harder you work, the better you can enjoy a holiday.

TUBERCULOSIS EXPERTS NAME DR. GUYER HEAD

Nopeming Director Chosen President of State Sanatorium Ass'n at Meeting Here

SANATORIUMS REDUCE DEATH RATE ONE-HALF

Prominent Medical Men Speak at Banquet—Local Institutions is Commended

Medical directors, superintendents and others connected with tuberculosis institutions in the state were in attendance at the annual summer meeting of the Minnesota Sanatorium association held in Thief River Falls last Thursday. Representatives from all of the fourteen districts and one state institution were present, numbering about 50, some of them members of sanatorium commissions.

Scientific and technical discussions of tuberculosis work and the prevention of this dread disease took up the forenoon session at the Oakland Park sanatorium near the city. The gathering included the strongest public health and institutional experts in the state, the following appearing on the program in leading the discussions: Dr. L. G. Guyer, Nopeming sanatorium, near Duluth, "Heliotherapy and Alpine Lamp treatment in Pulmonary Tuberculosis"; Dr. A. J. Boquist, Glen Lake sanatorium, Oak Terrace, "The Mechanics of Adhesions in Pneumothorax"; Dr. R. L. Laney, Lake Julia sanatorium, Puposky, "Triple Typhoid Inoculation of Tuberculosis Patients."

Refreshments were served at noon on the sanatorium grounds by the Oakland Park staff.

Business Session

The program of the afternoon sessions was a series of discussions of medical administrative and sanatorium board problems, reports of committees and the election of officers. Representatives of the state departments and the commissions spoke. One of the chief subjects of discussion was that of money appropriations from the state, it being brought out that appropriations in recent years have been cut, in this way preventing the progress in the work otherwise possible. It was decided that all sanatorium districts send a delegate to compose a group which will meet with the state advisory commission, composed of six members who make out the budget, in an effort to induce the legislature to allow more funds for use in tuberculosis institutions. Last year there was a shortage of $45,000. The state pays $5.00 for each free patient.

Woman's Clubs Will Aid

A communication from the Federation of woman's clubs offering the assistance of clubs throughout the state in the fight against the white plague was received and accepted with much appreciation, it being realized that much can be accomplished by this co-operation.

Officers Elected

Dr. Leo. G. Guyer, director of the Nopeming sanatorium, St. Louis county, was elected president of the association for the ensuing year, to succeed Dr. M. G. Milan of Warren, former head of Oakland Park. Other officers chosen are: Dr. Harry Bendes, Glen Lake sanatorium, Hennepin county, first vice president; J. P. Murphy, Duluth, second vice president; Miss Beatrice E. Lindberg, Faribault, secretary-treasurer. Miss Lindberg is the advisory commission's director of occupational therapy and Dr. Guyer is Inspector of sanatoriums of the state.

Seventy persons attended the splendid banquet tendered the visitors by the Commercial club at the Hotel Brumund in the evening. Following the repast the retiring president of the association opened the program with a few remarks concerning the meetings after which Mayor J. S. Arneson took charge of proceedings as toastmaster in his usual manner, creating much mirth with his unique introductions.

Prominent Medics Speak

Dr. Guyers, the newly-elected president of the association, responded to a call from the toastmaster by urging local people to visit the sanatorium and furnish the patients with entertainment such as singing, music and the like. He told of the various organizations which visit Nopeming sanatorium, one of the largest in the state, from time to time.

"The death rate has been reduced 50 per cent since the inception of sanatoriums," said Dr. P. M. Hall of the state sanatorium at Walker, president of the state advisory commission and a veteran in tuberculosis work. He

Resort Lots at Red Lake To Be Distributed Soon

Officials of the Red Lake Summer Resort association report that memberships are coming in rapidly even without solicitation, local citizens being anxious to sign up so as to get first choice of lots when a meeting is held in the near future for that purpose. Those securing a membership now before the organization meeting will naturally be given a preference, and all interested are urged to see President E. O. Mogensen or Secretary Geo. M. Wilson as soon as possible.

Residents of Hallock, Strandquist and other towns of the valley are already indicating that they wish to join the organization, the plan being to make the resort available for the entire Red River Valley.

Knut Lindstrom, who built the Pinehurst resort near Mahnomen was in the city this week to confer with officials of the association regarding the establishing of various resort facilities, but it is their plan to consider very carefully the various propositions offered before taking any action.

GASOLINE ORDERED BY CITY FAILS TO ARRIVE

Statement by Mayor J. S. Arneson: "On July 16th I ordered a carload of gasoline from the Northern States Oil Company of Minneapolis, having in my possession such order countersigned by their representatives. I was assured by the representative of the company that efforts would be made to obtain a car in transit in order to get speedy delivery. I have asked the railroad company and the oil company to trace the car, but so far without result. Chances are the car is still in the oil fields. Gasoline has taken a small drop during the week. It is now down to 21 cents I am informed, but that price is still at least three cents too high.

"During the past week the city council placed themselves squarely behind me in the movement for lower gas prices, and the public is asked to exercise a little patience while the situation is being adjusted. It is barely possible that unloading facilities as specified by law will have to be arranged for before gasoline and kerosene can be delivered to the public. But such facilities will be in place as speedily as possible. The oil companies have levied a tribute upon this community which runs into hundreds of thousands of dollars, and they may continue the practice for a few more weeks, but the pledge is here made that this fight is to a finish."

REAL ESTATE OF MOST TOWNSHIPS RAISED BY BOARD

Equalization Board Makes Heavy Increases in Valuation Set By Assessors

Valuations of real estate in the various townships of the county made by the respective assessors this spring were in most instances found to be too low, when the county commissioners as the equalization board convened to look over the assessments. It was found that the assessed valuation was considerably below the necessary amount, which is practically the same as in 1922. In Reiner township the assessors' valuation was raised 90 per cent.

The following percentage increases in land values were made by the board this week: Bray, 10; Black River, 15; Clover Leaf, 30; Deer Park, 33 1-3; Goodridge, 30; Kratka, 10; Mayfield, 10; North 12½, Polk Centre, 5; Rocksbury, 25; River Falls, 20; Reiner, 90; Sanders, 5; Silverton, 10; Star, 50, and Wyandotte, 20.

Increases in the valuation of structures and improvements were made in the following townships: Kratka, 80; per cent; North, 25; Numedal, 10; Sanders, 90; Smiley, 20; Star, 20; and Wyandotte, 50. Valuations were decreased as follows: Highlanding 10 per cent, Norden, 35, and Polk Centre 15.

The board upon adjournment Tuesday night finished the real estate valuations in the townships, the work to be continued at another session to be held commencing August 6. The assessment rolls of the city have not as yet been turned in.

Meeting of Sanatorium Commission Here—Oakland Park Filled to Capacity

Members of the Oakland Park Sanatorium commission held their regular meeting here Wednesday evening last week, all of the nine members being present.

It was decided to call for bids for digging a new well at the sanatorium, it being difficult to get sufficient water from the present supply. The notice which appears in The Times this week calls for a well with six or eight inch pipe, which will supply at least a barrel a minute.

Four new patients were admitted, applications for entrance being passed on by the commission. Those who apply for free admission must give full account of their standing. Oakland Park now has 33 patients and is filled to capacity. At present there are five persons afflicted with tuberculosis on the waiting list and many more need attention and care. It is pointed out that the institution is too small to properly meet the demands of the four counties included in this district.

Members of the commission are: Pennington—Dr. O. F. Mellby, president, and P. O. Myhrum, secretary of the board, Thief River Falls; K. O. Gigstad, St. Hilaire; Red Lake—Dr. N. N. Watson, Red Lake Falls, O. Lee, Oklee; Marshall—Donald Robertson, Argyle and E. P. Modin, Middle River; Roseau—Louis Enstrom, Malung, and V. I. Brandt, Greenbush. They attended the meeting of the state sanatorium association Thursday.

The commission feels fortunate in having secured Dr. B. C. Bernard as the able successor of Dr. M. G. Milan at the beginning of the year.

Poultry Marketing Ass'n Selects Norby Permanent Manager; Many Signing Up

B. O. Norby of Eyota, former head of the Goodridge schools, has been secured by the Thief River Valley Co-operative Poultry Marketing association as permanent manager, as a result of action taken at a meeting of directors Thursday evening.

During the past few weeks during which Mr. Norby has been active in preliminary organization work he has displayed such ability in getting the association lined up that the directors deemed it best to retain his services permanently. Membership agreements are being signed up at a very encouraging rate and it is hoped by those in charge to start operating in the near future.

RAYSON, NOPER CHOSEN SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS

Treasurer Re-elected by Large Vote Saturday Evening—Noper 1st Farmer Member

ECONOMICAL OPERATION OF SCHOOLS PAST YEAR

Cost of Running Schools in '23-'24 Lower than for Previous Period, Report Shows

L. M. Rayson and V. C. Noper, the latter a farmer near the city, were on Saturday evening named by the voters of independent school district No. 18 as members of the board of education for a term of three years each, a total of 322 votes being cast. The election was a quiet affair but more persons turned out to vote this time than for some years past. Last year the total number of ballots cast was only 29, and the increased interest manifested this year is said to be due to the extensive publicity campaign carried on by the newspapers.

Rayson receiving 207 votes and Noper with 190 votes won out in the contest, the other candidates in the field being C. M. Carlson, local contractor, and Scott Laird, who received 145 and 75 votes, respectively. No issues were evident in the election. Mr. Rayson has been a member of the school board the past four years, having served efficiently and satisfactorily as treasurer during that time, which is evidenced by the large vote accorded him Saturday evening. With the election of Mr. Noper the board contains a farmer member for the first time. The re-elected member has proven his worth and the new director is also well qualified to fill the position to which he has been named. Mr. Noper is one of the leading farmers of the county and is well and favorably known to Thief River Falls citizens. His election gives representation to the rural portion of the district which is quite a large part. He succeeds Dr. H. W. Froehlich.

Reports Accepted

Previous to the balloting the annual reports of the clerk, Mrs. L. G. Larsen, and Treasurer Rayson were approved without criticism or correction. As no new matters came up for consideration the meeting was very brief. The budget for the coming year will be fixed by the school board at the organization meeting to be held on the first Saturday in August, the 2nd.

A total of $105,427.50 was disbursed by the treasurer of the district during the year closing in July, according to his report submitted at the meeting. This also includes the sum of $10,000 which amount was transferred to the sinking fund to take care of bonds as they come due. Comparing this with an expenditure of $115,128.48 the previous year, a rigid program of economy and a careful budget system is noted on the part of the school board and Supt. I. T. Simley.

They declare they have done everything in their power to cut down the operating expense of the schools without reducing the efficiency or standard of the system. The reduction of nearly $10,000 in expenditures and the setting aside of $10,000 as a sinking fund makes a substantial slash in the cost of maintaining district No. 18 and is in accordance with the clamor for reduction of the tax burden.

Balance Nearly $20,000.

The receipts or income for the year just ended amounted to $116,229.78, which together with a balance at the beginning of the year, July 21, 1923, amounting to $8,685.55 making a total of $124,915.33. This leaves a net balance of $19,487.83 in the treasury, the additional $231.17 representing 11 small warrants from former years as yet unpaid. No orders from the past two years are outstanding at the present time, and the treasury balance will enable the district to operate practically on a cash basis until the tax money is distributed in November.

The receipts include revenue as follows: State apportionment, $10,250.50; library aid, $166; gas-auto Smith Hughes department, $370; high school aid, $1000; Knox, Northrup and Washington, $900; teachers' training, $4,037; transportation, $568; commercial department, $600; industrial training, $600; home economics, $600; high school tuition, $7,406; supplemental aid (53 per cent of regular), $14,392.68; making a total of $30,639.68. The local one mill tax amounted to $1,629.32; special taxes, $69,882.73; moneys and credits tax, $503.56; and gross earnings tax, $353.91. Sale of texts totalled $1,578.66; materials, $107.90; refunds, $172.08; and other receipts, $1,111.44.

LOCAL COUPLE WED FOR HALF CENTURY

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Boe Surprised by Friends on Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boe, residing at 603 Red Lake Boulevard, were surprised by about one hundred of their friends Saturday afternoon who gathered at their home in the event of their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Boe have been residents of this city the past ten years, coming from Perley where they were engaged in farming. The afternoon was spent in a social way. Rev. George Larson gave a fine talk as did Rev. P. S. Anderson of Grygla, Nels Hoff of Perley, a brother of Mrs. Boe, and Mrs. Mary Brevik, a sister of Mrs. Boe.

Late in the afternoon a wedding dinner was served and immediate relatives joined in at the table with covers laid for twenty. A wedding cake formed the centerpiece. The menu included the Norwegian dishes, rome grot and lefse. Candles were placed at the places of Mr. and Mrs. Boe. Bouquets of peonies and baskets of roses made up the flower decorations. The honored couple were presented with a rocking chair as a token of the esteem in which they were held by their friends. Gifts were also presented by Mr. Hoff and Mrs. Brevik.

Among out of town relatives who attended were Nels Hoff of Perley, brother of Mrs. Boe; Mrs. Mary Brevik of Grygla, sister of Mrs. Boe; Mrs. Brevik's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Vik of Grygla; Mr. and Mrs. P. Leving of Grygla, the latter a niece of Mrs. Boe; Mr. and Mrs. S. Salveson of Grygla, the latter a niece of Mrs. Boe; Mr. and Mrs. George Hild of Duluth, the latter a niece of Mrs. Boe; Mr. and Mrs. P. Paulson of Grygla; Mrs. A. N. Lundgren of Duluth, who arrived a week at Grygla, and Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Anderson of Duluth.

Announces Nine Hole Course

Thief River Falls now boasts a nine hole golf course and one of the finest golf clubs in the state, embodying about 75 members. The golf course is by far the most frequented spot in the community when it comes to recreation and much interest and enthusiasm is being shown by members of the club. The 35 acre links is in good shape and is showing improvements as time goes on. Several tournaments are being planned for the near future and golfers eagerly await them.

Local Merchants Launch Trade at Home Campaign

This is an age of competition, an age where the things that survive in the business world are the things that must prove their merit. Anything that is useless or inefficient soon loses out in the strenuous race for supremacy. So when you view your successful business establishments in your home community you are viewing those who have proven their merit and a right to your patronage and consideration.

The business field in the small towns especially, is not exclusive to anybody. The game is open to anybody who desires to enter and cares to risk the necessary capital. Nobody faces fiercer competition on every hand than the country merchant. A dissatisfied customer does not have to trade with him and he knows it. There are the competing stores across the street or next door. Or if those do not suit there are usually towns within a very short distance that invite his patronage. So the country merchant must find a way to meet these conditions, and he can only meet them by giving the service, the goods and prices that do satisfy the customers.

Most people expect and receive accomodations from the home merchant which they would never receive in a thousand years from the mail order concern. Just this feature of accomodation should be a strong point in favor of the home merchant, but that is not all. There are the churches, the schools, the various public activities that are only possible because the home merchant and business man is doing a successful business. All of these things are inseparable and if everybody would trade out of town, the town would decay and public activities would soon cease. There is no way that a prosperous town can be maintained and at the same time have a large part of the business of the town sent elsewhere.

Many people do not realize what it means to send money out of the town. Of course a few would not matter, but when it begins to mount up to thousands of dollars per month then one can see the vast damage to the town caused by the loss of this liquid capital. The banks find their business curtailed, the merchants cannot carry the stock they should, money becomes "tight" and everybody finds it scarce, because it has been sent away to the everlasting benefit of some big, overgrown metropolis.

On another page of The Times will be found the advertisement of business institutions that are particularly interested in getting their side of this question before the public. They have selected The Times as their medium of expression. Take note of their advertising. They have their capital invested in their various enterprises and wish to show you by service rendered that they deserve your patronage.

GETTING READY FOR EXHIBITION AT GREAT FAIR

Every Detail Given Attention in Providing for All Departments of Big Exhibit

AMUSEMENT FEATURES OF HIGH ORDER EVERY DAY

Livestock and Agricultural Exhibits Promising—Sen. Johnson Will Speak

McMurray Brothers, farmers east of Holt, have the distinction of making the first entry in the livestock department of the Pennington county fair, four head of purebred Holsteins having been entered with Secretary J. J. McCann Thursday of last week. The McMurray brothers came here from eastern Ohio last spring and have already made a substantial start in the dairy business, being the owners of 14 registered Holsteins of the finest quality. They are also getting a start in alfalfa growing and expect to be right in line with some of the foremost dairymen in the community some time in the future.

As the time approaches for the opening of Pennington county's 23rd annual fair, August 7, 8 and 9, it is becoming more and more evident that it will far surpass anything of the kind ever attempted in this section of the state. Not only will the amusement features be in a class by themselves, but the exhibits also promise to excel those of previous fairs both in number and quality. Barring a season of extremely inclement weather—which the fair management neither hopes for nor expects—the attendance this year undoubtedly will be greater than last year, even tho the event last year continued for four days.

The success of previous fairs held here and the rapidly increasing interest of local people in such exhibits protend a record-breaking attendance at all three days of the 1924 Pennington county fair.

Amusement Features

Nothing has been left undone to make the amusement features of the fair everything to be desired. Besides the many special attractions which will be free to all those securing admission to the fair grounds, Secretary McCann announces that the fair management has secured Ziegler's Exposition shows to make this part of the program as interesting as desired. This company includes 12 cars and is composed of six tent shows, bands and other entertaining devices which go to make up a show of this kind. The Ziegler people are now filling engagements along the Wheat line in North Dakota and nothing but words of commendation have been heard concerning them.

Hoaglan's Hippodrome which will present free acts before the grand stand each afternoon and evening, is one of the leading of its kind and will furnish an untold amount of entertainment with its auto and horse races, chariot and steeple chase races, auto polo, pony push ball and various other features. Acrobatic acts will be performed by the Carlson Sisters, a troupe of much merit.

Magnus Johnson To Speak

One of the big drawing cards for the last day of the fair this year will be Magnus Johnson, Minnesota's farmer senator, who will address the crowds here on Saturday, July 9, at 2 p. m.

Primarily the fair is an agricultural proposition and its chief purpose is to set forth the agricultural possibilities of Pennington county. Some of the finest livestock in the state is owned by Pennington county farmers and a large number of the best animals will be placed in public view during the fair.

It is pointed out by Secretary McCann that entries in the livestock division should be made with him on or before July 26. Entries in other departments may be made until noon of the first day, Thursday. W. E. Morris of St. Paul, assistant county agent leader of the state, will judge all the livestock except the dairy cattle, which will be handled by R. L. Aney, agricultural agent of the Soo line. The poultry judging will be done by A. M. Pilkey of the Northwest Agricultural school.

Agriculture a Leader

Grain, grasses, vegetables and other products of the soil, also will hold a prominent place at the fair, and the management is receiving assurances that an exceptionally fine display of these will be brought in for exhibition. The exceptionally fine growing season now will make it possible to secure splendid specimens of each.

And then the thousand and one other samples of handiwork, art, school work, culinary dainties, fancy work, needle work and other things of particular interest to the ladies. These exhibits will be there in greater abundance than ever before, according to present indications. Miss Schenke of the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, will judge the entries in the home economics department.

Altho the attractions secured for this year's fair cost more than those seen here before, the management has decided to set the price of admission to the fair grounds at only 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, enabling everyone to attend.

A detailed story on the unusual fireworks secured for the fair this year will be found elsewhere in this issue.

$100 For Fair

The county commissioners in session Tuesday appropriated $400 to the Pennington County Agricultural society for the fair, Aug. 7, 8 and 9. Other matters disposed of will be found recorded in the minutes of the meeting appearing elsewhere in this issue.

DOES T. R. F. WANT THE '25 MINN. LEGION CONVENTION?

Every citizen of Thief River Falls who is interested in this city landing the 1925 state convention of the American Legion is subpoened to attend the meeting at legion rooms in the basement of the First and Peoples State bank building tonight at 8 o'clock according to officials of the Elmer J. Eklund post and the Commercial club.

Every effort possible for securing the convention is being put forth by live wires of the local post but it is essential that the united support of the entire city is assured before final steps are taken. It is a huge undertaking to properly care for the large number of delegates who will visit the city in the event that Thief River Falls is successful in its bidding for the convention. Hibbing is also making a strong bid according to reports, and Thief River Falls will have to show 100 per cent interest in competition with this live range town. Already the Commercial club has gone on record in backing the Eklund post in its efforts but an expression from the citizentry in general is desired at the meeting tonight.

Business men of Thief River Falls, meet at the Legion quarters tonight and discuss the matter. Members of the post are also asked to turn out en masse.

COUNCIL TAKES UP MANY MATTERS AT MEETING TUESDAY

City Water Declared Excellent—Petition for Sidewalk—Motorcycle Too Expensive

All members with the exception of Oscar Paulson were present when City Clerk P. G. Pederson called the roll Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the council. The meeting was not adjourned until about eleven o'clock, there being a large number of matters to come before the meeting.

Two letters from L. P. Wolff, the engineer in charge of the filtration plant, and one from the J. G. Robertson company who installed the machinery therein were read to the council, each one enclosing a report of the state bacteriologist who said the condition of the water in the plant was excellent. If there was anything the matter with the water after it left the plant and got into the mains the trouble was elsewhere and they should not longer be held up on their final payments. The council took no action, awaiting further repairs on the suction pipe.

Jas. F. Farr, who formerly operated the soft drink parlor at the corner of First street and LaBree avenue, and who was last winter found guilty of violating the liquor laws, applied for a new license, the place of business being immediately south of The Times in the rooms formerly used by the Ralston barber shop. The applicant had informed some of the aldermen that he would not permit any violation of the laws if granted another license and the matter was referred to the license committee, Oscar Rambeck, chairman, to investigate and report back at the next meeting of the council.

Alfred Bredeson applied for a building permit to remodel a house on the corner of Fifth street and Knight avenue at an estimated cost of $1,000 and this was duly granted. The bond of the Union Plumbing & Heating company after approval of the city attorney was accepted and filed, while the appointments of Mayor J. S. Arneson on the Park and Library boards were approved.

Two bids on tractor engines were submitted to the council, one by the McFarland Auto company for $540 and the other by the Emerson Brantingham company, Rambeck & Stone local agents, for a larger machine at $650. The council thought the larger one the better and accepted the bid.

A petition signed by M. V. Evenson and several others for a concrete sidewalk on the east side of Tindolph avenue between Mussey and Johnson streets was presented to the city council. The city attorney advised the aldermen that inasmuch as the petition did not carry a majority of all affected property owners it would be necessary to notify them and that this would require a forty day time limit in which they could lay the walk. The council then set Sept. 23 as the date on which further action will be taken in the case of those who fail to put in the walks. Several people in that block have walks laid and the intermittent places interfere with dry passage of pedestrians in wet weather.

While scanning the various bills before the council for allowance the aldermen found one for repairs on the motor cycle used by the police department and they believed that it was time a halt was put on the useless expenditure. The machine was ordered brought into the auditorium and placed there until the city clerk can find a purchaser therefor, acceptable to the council The machine has been in use for about two years and during that time it has cost the city nearly a thousand dollars, the council thot.

T. R. F. in Movies.

Scenes from Thief River Falls will be shown at the Princess theatre, beginning next Friday, according to announcement this week. The pictures are photographed by a representative of the Sly Fox Film company and were taken during the busy part of the day when many of the citizens were on the street. This will be the first appearance on the screen on the part of most Thief River Falls residents.

Special Court Session

A number of court cases will be heard in this city by District Judge Andrew Grindeland in a special session Thursday, July 31.

CANDIDATES OF FARMER-LABOR PARTY IN CITY

Olson, Wefald, Sullivan Urge Support of Ticket—Favor Forming Third Party

350 HEAR CAMPAIGNERS AT AUDITORIUM MONDAY

Special Privileges Flayed by Olson—Sullivan Attacks Grain Gamblers

Voters of this community last Monday afternoon heard three of the leading candidates on the Farmer-Labor ticket—Floyd B. Olson, Hennepin county attorney, candidate for governor, Thomas Sullivan, candidate for attorney general, and Knud Wefald of Hawley, seeking re-election as congressman from the Ninth district. The speakers were scheduled to appear at the court house but the court rooms proved to be too small for the large crowd making it necessary to secure the auditorium. About 350 persons heard issues of the campaign discussed.

Congressman Wefald, who recently returned from Washington, was the first speaker and opened his talk by declaring that he was more convinced than ever that the farmers and the common people in general need representation in the legislative bodies of the state and nation. He cited some of his experiences with members of the two leading parties in congress assuring the assemblage that there are progressives in both factions but little can be accomplished until a definite third group is organized.

Favors Third Party

"The time is favorable for a third party," said the congressman, "and people thruout this and other states are showing more interest than ever before." He urged Farmer-Laborites to unite in supporting the entire ticket put in the field by progressives, declaring that no relief can be obtained from the old parties.

The present administration was severely flayed for its corruption shown up in the Veteran's bureau disclosure, Tea Pot Dome oil scandal, Daughtorty case and the treasury mixup, pointing out that the time has come for the rank and file to unite in securing clean government.

Tax Exempt Securities

Mr. Wefald defended his vote against the tax exempt securities bill in the recent session of congress, declaring that the bill as presented would forever protect certain securities held by capitalists and would tend to kill off publicly owned enterprises and utilities by a system of taxation. "I justify my position so severely criticized by some newspapers of the district, by knowing that the amendment would be absolutely unjust and of no help to the common people," he said, "I have been gravely misrepresented."

The ninth district representative asserted that he had done all in his power to secure the passage of the McNary-Haugen bill, but declared that the industrial east refuses to understand the problems of the Northwest and that no aid can be expected from that section. "The farmer and laborer must obtain legislative aid and protection as well as the railways and other large interests," he concluded.

Olson Sees Victory

The gubernatorial candidate, Floyd Olson, was the next speaker. He is an able speaker and has a pleasing personality, and was accorded generous applause thruout his address. "After campaigning thru other parts of the state I am absolutely confident of victory this fall," he declared, continuing, "I have been sounding out the field and it never looked more promising for a Farmer-Labor victory in the state."

"Special interests have made a business out of politics to obtain privileges thru legislation. It is now high time that we get representation which gives expression to the wishes of the rank and file."

Christianson Critizised

The Republican candidate was rapped by Olson when he stated, "During the eight years of which he was chairman of the appropriation committee in the legislature, the one body which has power to regulate taxation, appropriations increased from $18,000,000 in 1915-1916 to $49,000,000 in 1923, a jump of 250 per cent. This is hardly consistent with the slogan "Less Taxes" upon which the opposing candidate makes his campaign, because a governor has less power over taxation than has the chairman of the appropriations committee, only about 9 per cent of the tax money being used in the maintenance of the state government, Olson asserted.

Olson maintained in his talk here that if elected he would at once elim-

Poultry Association Gets $344.40 Aid From State

Treasurer Harry Schuster of the Pennington County Poultry association has received a check in the amount of $344.40 from the state auditor, as state aid for 86.1 per cent of the premiums paid out by the organization at the annual poultry show held last winter. Premiums paid out here totaled $409.

Checks totaling $20,088.78 were sent to the various county poultry association officials by Auditor Chase. The money is to aid the work of these associations and is appropriated by the legislature each biennium. The annual appropriation is $20,000, and is to reimburse the associations in prize money offered at the annual poultry shows.

However, because of the large number of prizes, the state was compelled to reimburse the officials on an 86.1 per pro-rata basis.

The Pennington county association is the largest in the state in respect to membership.

Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Means Your Money's Worth of Mileage

TRUE gasoline economy lies in mileage—providing other good fuel qualities are not sacrificed.

Comparative road tests by users and by manufacturers of automobiles, prove that Red Crown yields more and better mileage than any other gasoline of its kind. In addition to extra mileage, Red Crown gives flexibility and efficient performance at all times.

To quote from a letter recently received —"Red Crown, used by us for the last four years, has given us smooth acceleration, more mileage and power, and does not thin out the oil in the crank-case because it burns up clean. Our carburetors do not have to be adjusted because Red Crown is always uniform in quality, everywhere."

Red Crown effects other economies. It keeps your engine running sweet and clean. It reduces overhauling and cleaning bills, and best of all it provides that dependability of performance which is so agreeable to all motorists.

Use Red Crown this summer. It will give you more for your money and more days of service from your car.

SOLITE (REG US PAT OFF.)

A Perfect Gasoline

is for the motorist who demands a little quicker action from his car and is willing to forego extreme economy.

GET READY FOR THE FAIR

The near future's most important event, as far as Thief River Falls and Pennington county are concerned, is the county fair, which will open on Thursday, Aug. 7, and continue for three days. The Pennington county fair is strictly a local enterprise and for this reason every resident of the county should be vitally interested in its success. The fair has grown from a very humble beginning twenty-two years ago, until of late years it has come to be recognized as the banner fair of Northwestern Minnesota.

Two things are necessary for the success of a county fair. In the first place, the fair must receive the loyal support of all concerned, and in the second—it must be staged in a community which has the agricultural and other products to make a reasonably good showing.

Pennington county has both of these—the resources and the booster spirit of the citizens backing the fair. All that remains to be done is for everyone to do his or her part in the furnishing of exhibits, and the forthcoming fair will have the finest display ever shown at a similar event. With crops in the best condition in years fine specimens are assured.

The matter of entertainment for visitors to the fair is largely in the hands of the fair management. The programs to be shown this year are far above anything that has ever been attempted here before, the officers of the association having spared no effort in securing the very best to be had in all lines.

But, entertainment features alone cannot make the fair a success. More than these are required. In order to properly serve the purpose for which it is intended, there must be on display generous exhibits showing the resources of the county and the handiwork of its citizens. This is the point which the general public must come to the aid of the fair management. In the matter of generous exhibits everything rests with the people of the villages, city and county, and each should appoint himself a committee of one to see to that he does his share.

Remember, it's only two weeks today until the Pennington county fair opens!

WEEDS IS WEEDS

"Pigs is pigs," is an old expressive phrase full of meaning. Pigs are just plain pigs, and nothing more can be made of them.

By the same token, "weeds is weeds". They are unsightly, injurious and useless.

They grow faster and are more hardy than useful vegetation and their only purpose on earth is to torment man.

Some people exterminate them as they should an enemy. Others permit them to grow unhindered and allow them to damage ornamental plants, garden truck and farm products, and offset the effect of beautiful shrubbery and neatly kept lawns.

If people who permit weeds to grow on their premises do not have enough pride to keep them out there is a law which compels the property owner to act. Refusing to, the authorities will cut the weeds and charge the expense up in taxes.

The law has long since recognized that weeds are a nuisance because they are unsightly and a breeder of disease, and people who persist in permitting them to flourish will have to abide by the consequences.

Although citizens of Thief River Falls generally are making an effort to destroy weeds on their premises, there are nevertheless a number of lots which would present a much better appearance if they were attacked with a mower or scythe.

Just take a glance at the rye, wheat, oat, alfalfa, clover, potato and sugar beet fields of Pennington county and be convinced that this section can produce crops equal to those grown in any other part of the country.

Minnesota can't be beat as an abiding for folk looking for a home and in all Minnesota there is no spot fairer than Pennington county.

One nice thing about flying around the world is that one doesn't have to pay any attention to passports or detours.

The Dearborn Independent, Henry Ford's weekly, in publishing a series of articles exposing the Northwest Wheat Growers Associated, an alleging two million dollars a year have been dropped by farmers of the Pacific coast states as a result of the marketing program carried on by this organization. It is claimed by the Independent that many of the farmers of the western associations have not paid for their 1921 wheat crop; more have not been paid for their 1922 crop and non-members of either the state or northwest associations have been paid for their 1923 crop.

If this condition be true it is high time that the farmers wake up and themselves take a hand in controlling their marketing affairs, and not leave the matter solely to so-called marketing specialists.

The same good things—again this week—the crops in this vicinity are looking the best in years, with every indication pointing to a splendid crop. Even corn which has been a bit backward on account of the cool weather is picking up and is showing signs becoming a pretty fair crop. No damage has been done to crops here by excessive rains or storms so far, although there are reports of heavy losses in some parts of the state. The people of this community can consider themselves exceptionally fortunate in this respect.

Now is the time to commence planning for your exhibit at the county fair next month. Only two weeks remain to the opening day, August 7.

Connells Return

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Connell and children returned to this city Tuesday night from points in the east where they spent the past few weeks. They left here last month for Laverne, by car, and spent a brief time there at the home of Mr. Connell's father, P. J. Connell, where they left the children and joined the Elks party at Chicago. They passed thru Detroit, Mich., where they were entertained by the Elks club at a dinner party, Niagara Falls, Hamilton, Toronto, Ont., Montreal and Boston, where the convention was held the 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th of July. On their return they visited a cousin of Mr. Connell, Dr. H. C. Kelly in New York City, visited at Lake Champlain, Harpers Ferry, Cumberland Valley, Wash., D. C., relatives at Geneseo, Ill., and at Laverne, where they joined their children and returned home. They report a very interesting trip, going by both boat and rail. Seventy-five Minnesota Elks were in the excursion and many North Dakota and Montana Elks, making a party of 120 men and the wives of many in addition.

CANDIDATES OF FARMER-LABOR PARTY IN CITY

inate all of the unnecessary office holders, many of whom he claims have secured their positions as political rewards.

Discourages Bond Issues

"I am a believer in good roads but I do not think it wise to engage in extravagant bond issues at this time when the tax burden is already so heavy," the speaker said. "Maintain the present system and do not build of the most expensive material now."

The story of the U. S. I. Realty company which defrauded Minnesota farmers for about $2,000,000 was cited by Mr. Olson, charging corruption in the security commission which investigates all companies selling stock in the state and issue licenses. He estimated that in the last ten years $25,000,000 had been lost by the sale of fake stocks in Minnesota. "In spite of the fact that the attorney general demanded that the U. S. I. company obtain a license from the commission, 6,000 contracts were sold in the state," according to the speaker, "in open violation of the law, but nothing was done by the commission or the attorney general." He laid this to political influence, attaching significance to the fact that former governor Burnquist was vice-president of the company. Proceedings against officers of the company were started by Olson as county attorney in Hennepin county.

Olson also urged for the support of a third party.

Sullivan Eloquent Speaker

Sullivan, the fiery Irishman, was the last on the list of speakers but kept his listeners at attention by a rapid flow of oratory, the keynote of which was an attack on the Chamber of Commerce and grain gamblers manipulating the price of grain, particularly wheat. He called attention to the importantance of law in the proper execution of governmental duties, and pointed out what can be done by the attorney general in the way of prosecuting violators of the act prohibiting interference with food materials.

Speculators Reap Profits

"When prices are rising, as at the present time, the farmer has no wheat to market," the speaker stated, calling attention to the gains realized by the grain gamblers during this period. It is said that $7,500,00 were taken by them in one day, causing a demoralizing effect upon the market, which is also effected by the fact that so much more grain is sold by the speculators than is bought. He claimed these practices can be curbed.

Mr. Sullivan also brought out cases in which farmers have been defrauded in the stock markets of South St. Paul, urging more action in bringing illegal practices before court.

The candidates are making an extensive campaign thruout the state.

The city of Thief River Falls had on hand July 1 a balance of $36,342.57 according to the report of the clerk presented to the council Tuesday night, there having been $42,502.34 a month previous. Receipts for the month totaled $4,273.61 with disbursements of $10,433.57. The light department showed earnings for the month of $3,659.13 and the water department $2.67 where there had been a reading of one meter, the readings having been made during the previous month for the quarter.

The report of the chief of police showed four arrests during June, two being fined $10 each, one a state case, and the other two cases being still pending.

Judge N. W. Tarrant submitted his report showing receipts in the municipal court of $21 for the month.

No report has been filed by the city health department since the first of the year.

Likes Red Lake Narrows

Rasmus Oen and H. Olson returned Sunday from a trip to Cass Lake, Bemidji, Red Lake agency and the narrows at Red Lake, returning by way of the north route. Mr. Oen is particularly enthusiastic about the narrows where a resort is being established by a local organization, and declares that it will undoubtedly be one of the finest resorts in Minnesota. Mr. Oen states that altho the road is not adapted for speeding, it is easily passable, the contractors being busy graveling a stretch near the lake. The Oen family is outing at Cass Lake.

Christians, Awake!

Editor The Times:

May I take the opportunity of pointing out to this Christian community, through the medium of your widely read paper, a fact which astonishes me greatly. There are 14 active churches in this city besides three auxiliary agencies. Yet, despite this fact every Sunday evening at the hour of worship the picture Theatres, or at least one of them, has been allowed to run a counter attraction. America need not ask the question "Who won the war." Germany can curse us in another way, by bringing to our young people its atheism and rationalism. So the war is not over yet.

Of course, I know that there is one of these so-called Christian churches whose influence is not along the lines of the Reformed view of the Sabbath. Apart from this there is surely enough weight with the remaining 13 to demand a change in this state of things.

Should this be allowed to continue what idea of Christian duty may we expect our young people to have?

I do not blame the commercialist but the patrons who want to please God and themselves forgetful that we "cannot serve God and mammon."

It is not a question of Right and Wrong but of Christian duty and citizenship.

In the hope that the Christian conscience may soon awake to its responsibility, I remain

101 Cents Worth of Gasoline in Your 1923 Dollar

As compared with the 1913 dollar, the dollar of 1923 bought 101 cents worth of gasoline, while it bought only 51.8 cents worth of clothing, 60 cents worth of shoes, 61.2 cents worth of rent, 68.5 cents worth of food, 45 cents worth of frame building, 53.4 cents worth of furniture and house furnishings, 46.3 cents worth of brick building, or 73.5 cents worth of farm crops. (National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.)

Gasoline is more than low in price. It is lower in price than almost any other essential commodity in general use.

This state of affairs has not "just happened." The fact that the 1923 dollar will buy more gasoline than the 1913 dollar could purchase is due largely to intelligent work and efficient organization by the leaders of the petroleum industry in general, and, so far as the Middle West is concerned, to the efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

In a recent interview, President Coolidge stated that "It was right for men to organize, and the ends of society were best served by organization, provided the organization was for service."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is emphatically an organization for service. From the very acquisition of the crude oil, to the last drop of gasoline run into your tank at a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) filling station, every thought, effort and act of this Company is bent toward giving the best service to the consumer.

This "best" service necessarily includes a low price. And the price of gasoline made by this Company has been perennially low, (both absolutely, and in comparison with other commodities) over a long period of time.

But price is only one angle of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service. It is the comprehensive facilities provided by this Company, embracing a complete cycle of service, which increases the purchasing power of your 1923 gasoline dollar over and above the 1913 gasoline dollar.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has anticipated automotive development. It has created great, modern refineries. It has trained a loyal and efficient body of employes. It has erected great storage depots to hold reserves of gasoline during the off-season against the period of rush demand. It has built an almost endless chain of service stations.

As a result, today you are able to fill up your gasoline tank at will, anywhere and everywhere, with uniformly dependable gasoline of high quality, at prices persistently and consistently low.

A Hot Day Causes Many More Telephone Calls

A very hot day will often cause as many as one-fourth more telephone calls. On such days, more people stay indoors and use the telephone.

Rainy days and very cold days also mean that more telephone calls will be made.

Snow storms, likewise, add to the problem of providing service by tying up transportation and causing people to transact their business by telephone. And frequently sleet storms tear down poles and wires, shutting off service.

Uniformly satisfactory telephone service is our constant aim, but occasionally conditions arise which are temporarily beyond all human control. At such a time we especially appreciate the patience of our patrons until the situation can be met.

Health is a Result of the Adaptation of the "Power Within" to the Stress of Environment

DEFINITION
The practice of Chiropractic consists of the adjustment with the hands, of the movable segments of the spinal column to normal position for the purpose of releasing the prisoned impulse

It is a question of relativity.

Disease is the result of supernormal stress or of subnormal resistance.

When the nerve, over which the "power within" sends its adaptative impulses to the cells of the body, becomes impinged by a subluxated vertebra, the "power within" cannot adapt the organism to the stress of environment and we become sick.

To regain health it is necessary to turn on the power of adaptation—resistance.

To turn on the power the impingement must be removed from the nerve, in order that it may function normally.

To remove the impingement the vertebra must be adjusted, and this adjustment of vertebrae is the work of the

GET READY FOR THE FAIR

The near future's most important event, as far as Thief River Falls and Pennington county are concerned, is the county fair, which will open on Thursday, Aug. 7, and continue for three days. The Pennington county fair is strictly a local enterprise and for this reason every resident of the county should be vitally interested in its success. The fair has grown from a very humble beginning twenty-two years ago, until of late years it has come to be recognized as the banner fair of Northwestern Minnesota.

Two things are necessary for the success of a county fair. In the first place, the fair must receive the loyal support of all concerned, and in the second—it must be staged in a community which has the agricultural and other products to make a reasonably good showing.

Pennington county has both of these—the resources and the booster spirit of the citizens backing the fair. All that remains to be done is for everyone to do his or her part in the furnishing of exhibits, and the forthcoming fair will have the finest display ever shown at a similar event. With crops in the best condition in years fine specimens are assured.

The matter of entertainment for visitors to the fair is largely in the hands of the fair management. The programs to be shown this year are far above anything that has ever been attempted here before, the officers of the association having spared no effort in securing the very best to be had in all lines.

But, entertainment features alone cannot make the fair a success. More than these are required. In order to properly serve the purpose for which it is intended, there must be on display generous exhibits showing the resources of the county and the handiwork of its citizens. This is the point at which the general public must come to the aid of the fair management. In the matter of generous exhibits everything rests with the people of the villages, city and county, and each should appoint himself a committee of one to see to that he does his share.

Remember, it's only two weeks today until the Pennington county fair opens!

WEEDS IS WEEDS

"Pigs is pigs," is an old expressive phrase full of meaning. Pigs are just plain pigs, and nothing more can be made of them.

By the same token, "weeds is weeds". They are unsightly, injurious and useless.

They grow faster and are more hardy than useful vegetation and their only purpose on earth is to torment man.

Some people exterminate them as they should an enemy. Others permit them to grow unhindered and allow them to damage ornamental plants, garden truck and farm products, and offset the effect of beautiful shrubbery and neatly kept lawns.

If people who permit weeds to grow on their premise do not have enough pride to keep them out there is a law which compels the property owner to act. Refusing to, the authorities will cut the weeds and charge the expense up in taxes.

The law has long since recognized that weeds are a nuisance because they are unsightly and a breeder of disease, and people who persist in permitting them to flourish will have to abide by the consequences.

Although citizens of Thief River Falls generally are making an effort to destroy weeds on their premises, there are nevertheless a number of lots which would present a much better appearance if they were attacked with a mower or scythe.

Just take a glance at the rye, wheat, oat, alfalfa, clover, potato and sugar beet fields of Pennington county and be convinced that this section can produce crops equal to those grown in any other part of the country.

Minnesota can't be beat as an abiding for folk looking for a home and in all Minnesota there is no spot fairer than Pennington county.

One nice thing about flying around the world is that one doesn't have to pay any attention to passports or detours.

The Dearborn Independent, Henry Ford's weekly, is publishing a series of articles exposing the Northwest Wheat Growers Associated, an alleging two million dollars a year have been dropped by farmers of the Pacific coast states as a result of the marketing program carried on by this organization. It is claimed by the Independent that many of the farmers of the western associations have not paid for their 1921 wheat crop; more have not been paid for their 1922 crop and no members of either the state or northwest associations have been paid for their 1923 crop.

If this condition be true it is high time that the farmers wake up and themselves take a hand in controlling their marketing affairs, and not leave the matter solely to so-called marketing specialists.

The same good things—again this week—the crops in this vicinity are looking the best in years, with every indication pointing to a splendid crop. Even corn which has been a bit backward on account of the cool weather is picking up and is showing signs becoming a pretty fair crop. No damage has been done to crops here by excessive rains or storms so far, although there are reports of heavy losses in some parts of the state. The people of this community can consider themselves exceptionally fortunate in this respect.

Now is the time to commence planning for your exhibit at the county fair next month. Only two weeks remain to the opening day, August 7.

Connells Return

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Connell and children returned to this city Tuesday night from points in the east where they spent the past few weeks. They left here last month for Laverne, by car, and spent a brief time there at the home of Mr. Connell's father, P. J. Connell, where they left the children and joined the Elks party at Chicago. They passed thru Detroit, Mich., where they were entertained by the Elks club at a dinner party, Niagara Falls, Hamilton, Toronto, Ont., Montreal and Boston, where the convention was held the 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th of July. On their return they visited a cousin of Mr. Connell, Dr. B. C. Kelly in New York City, visited at Lake Champlain, Harpers Ferry, Cumberland Valley, Wash., D. C., relatives at Geneseo, Ill., and at Laverne, where they joined their children and returned home. They report a very interesting trip, going by both boat and rail. Seventy-five Minnesota Elks were in the excursion and many North Dakota and Montana Elks, making a party of 120 men and the wives of many in addition.

Mrs. Bishop Attends Meet

Discourages Bond Issues

"I am a believer in good roads but I do not think it wise to engage in extravagant bond issues at this time when the tax burden is already so heavy," the speaker said. "Maintain the present system and do not build of the most expensive material now."

The story of the U. S. I. Realty company which defrauded Minnesota farmers for about $2,000,000 was cited by Mr. Olson, charging corruption in the security commission which investigates all companies selling stock in the state and issue licenses. He estimated that in the last ten years $25,000,000 had been lost by the sale of fake stocks in Minnesota. "In spite of the fact that the attorney general demanded that the U. S. I. company obtain a license from the commission, 6,000 contracts were sold in the state," according to the speaker, "in open violation of the law, but nothing was done by the commission or the attorney general." He laid this to political influence, attaching significance to the fact that former governor Burnquist was vice-president of the company. Proceedings against officers of the company were started by Olson as county attorney in Hennepin county.

Olson also urged for the support of a third party.

Sullivan Eloquent Speaker

Sullivan, the fiery Irishman, was the last on the list of speakers but kept his listeners at attention by a rapid flow of oratory, the keynote of which was an attack on the Chamber of Commerce and grain gamblers manipulating the price of grain, particularly wheat. He called attention to the importantance of law in the proper execution of governmental duties, and pointed out what can be done by the attorney general in the way of prosecuting violators of the act prohibiting interference with food materials.

Speculators Reap Profits

"When prices are rising, as at the present time, the farmer has no wheat to market," the speaker stated, calling attention to the gains realized by the grain gamblers during this period. It is said that $7,500,00 were taken by them in one day, causing a demoralizing effect upon the market, which is also effected by the fact that so much more grain is sold by the speculators than is bought. He claimed these practices can be curbed.

Mr. Sullivan also brought out cases in which farmers have been defrauded in the stock markets of South St. Paul, urging more action in bringing illegal practices before court.

The candidates are making an extensive campaign thruout the state.

101 Cents Worth of Gasoline in Your 1923 Dollar

As compared with the 1913 dollar, the dollar of 1923 bought 101 cents worth of gasoline, while it bought only 51.8 cents worth of clothing, 60 cents worth of shoes, 61.2 cents worth of rent, 68.5 cents worth of food, 45 cents worth of frame building, 53.4 cents worth of furniture and house furnishings, 46.3 cents worth of brick building, or 73.5 cents worth of farm crops. (National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.)

Gasoline is more than low in price. It is lower in price than almost any other essential commodity in general use.

This state of affairs has not "just happened." The fact that the 1923 dollar will buy more gasoline than the 1913 dollar could purchase is due largely to intelligent work and efficient organization by the leaders of the petroleum industry in general, and, so far as the Middle West is concerned, to the efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

In a recent interview, President Coolidge stated that "It was right for men to organize, and the ends of society were best served by organization, provided the organization was for service."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is emphatically an organization for service. From the very acquisition of the crude oil, to the last drop of gasoline run into your tank at a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) filling station, every thought, effort and act of this Company is bent toward giving the best service to the consumer.

This "best" service necessarily includes a low price. And the price of gasoline made by this Company has been perennially low, (both absolutely, and in comparison with other commodities) over a long period of time.

But price is only one angle of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service. It is the comprehensive facilities provided by this Company, embracing a complete cycle of service, which increases the purchasing power of your 1923 gasoline dollar over and above the 1913 gasoline dollar.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has anticipated automotive development. It has created great, modern refineries. It has trained a loyal and efficient body of employes. It has erected great storage depots to hold reserves of gasoline during the off-season against the period of rush demand. It has built an almost endless chain of service stations.

As a result, today you are able to fill up your gasoline tank at will, anywhere and everywhere, with uniformly dependable gasoline of high quality, at prices persistently and consistently low.

A Hot Day Causes Many More Telephone Calls

A very hot day will often cause as many as one-fourth more telephone calls. On such days, more people stay indoors and use the telephone.

Rainy days and very cold days also mean that more telephone calls will be made. Snowstorms, likewise, add to the problem of providing service by tying up transportation and causing people to transact their business by telephone. And frequently sleet storms tear down poles and wires, shutting off service.

Uniformly satisfactory telephone service is our constant aim, but occasionally conditions arise which are temporarily beyond all human control. At such a time we especially appreciate the patience of our patrons until the situation can be met.

T. R. F. Delegates Make Bid for S. of N. Convention—B. Knudsen at Grand Lodge

Bernhard Knudsen, president of the Snorre lodge of the Sons of Norway, L. H. Larson and John Linde represented the Thief River Falls lodge at the biennial convention of First district lodges in Albert Lea Thursday and Friday. Bj. Bjornaraa of Wanke, president of the Gully lodge, and Olav Redal, organizer in this section, also attended. More than 70 delegates from Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana took part in the gathering.

Duluth was chosen as the next convention city after a strong contest with Thief River Falls, the local delegates making every effort to bring the meeting to this city. It is likely however, that the following convention will be held here. Jens Backen of Minneapolis was chosen president for the next two years and Mr. Bjornaraa was named regent for the district. Other officers elected are: Gustav Schilbredt, Duluth, vice president; Soren Bakke, Minneapolis, judge; H. Askeland, Minneapolis, secretary; David Bodahl, St. Paul, treasurer. O. O. Solem of St. James was elected trustee for six years, the other members of the board being Bernhard Knudsen of this city and N. Leite of Albert Lea. A feature of the convention was a banquet held at the Norwegian Lutheran church attended by about 400 persons, which was addressed by Regent Bjornaraa, retiring district president Bakke, Secretary Askeland, Grand Lodge President T. O. Gilbert of Willmar and G. A. Sorlie of Grand Forks, candidate for governor in North Dakota.

The first district now has a membership of approximately 5,000, an increase of 1,100 since the last district meeting.

Mr. Knudsen went from Albert Lea to Racine, Wis., to attend the grand lodge convention and is expected to return today.

Exhibit at State Fair To Be Entered by Pennington

Pennington is among nine counties in the northern section of the state reported as having signified their intentions of entering county exhibits at the state fair Aug. 30 to Sept. 6. This county was entered last year also and received much favorable advertising on account of its display booth. Prizes will be awarded winners in each of the three sections into which the state is divided. So far 38 counties in the state have promised displays, the state fair's guarantee of $350 to every county exhibit scoring at least 800 points out of a possible 1,250 being responsible for much of the increased interest.

So far the following northern Minnesota counties have entered in competition with Pennington: Roseau, Norman, Becker, Koochiching, St. Louis, Lake, Crow and Aitkin. Marshall county also plans to enter an exhibit of the combined exhibits of the farmers' clubs at the county fair recently.

"Few counties are sufficiently advertised," declares R. F. Hall, superintendent of the agricultural department of the fair." In fact, most counties are much under-advertised. The result is many settlers are going through our state each year to other states and to the Canadian provinces to the north and west, not because of the lack of opportunity here in Minnesota, but because they do not know of the opportunities here. The best and most effective place for counties to show their resources is at the state fair.

"Many of our own men, more especially the younger men, are being lost to us because of the lack of believing in their own sections. Nothing will so aid in developing 'county pride' and 'community pride,' the kind that believes in one's county, in one's community, as the showing of the resources of the county at fairs and shows. People from every county in the state attend the state fair and they always want to know where their county exhibit is. The fact that their county is not represented does not tend to develop pride in their county. A well arranged, attractive county exhibit does much to further the belief of the people in their own county, and in this is one of the real values of an exhibit."

ROSEWOOD

Yes, We Remember

A writer in the Warren Sheaf in their last issue asks if we remember back in our piping days when our name was "Strip," and when the passenger brakeman announced the proverbial "Strip, don't forget your parcels," how the daughters of Eve would blush and look out of the window and feel embarrassed. Yes, Brother, we remember the good old pre-war days, when most of us wished we could have "Stripped" in the blazing July and August sun and taken a shower bath, instead of as in the year of 1924 when winter coats are worn during mid-summer. If those were the "Piping" days with a free corn-cob pipe with every quarter purchase of "True Smoke," these must be the Camel and Chesterfield days when the emblem of honor is a round cardboard with a cotton cord dingling down from the breast pocket of a khaki shirt. It is twelve years this month since we "Stripped off Strip" and went into "The woods of Roses," and the credit for this change of name we believe must rightfully be given to Herbert Carlson and Enoch Nelson, two of the "Strip Progressives." In those days, Dell, both these men have now left the good old burg. Herbert is now located somewhere on the Pacific Coast, busy saving up on his first million, and eventually eyeing the kind that blushed at the brakies, "Strip." Enoch, good old soul, peace to your

As chairman for the next three years was re-elected John Sagmoen, and on vote it was decided to hold an eight month term for the year of 1924-25. A total appropriation of $700 was voted on to defray school expenses for the next term. This is $100 less appropriation than last year, when was thought sufficient and recommended by the officers, as all outstanding orders had been paid up the previous year, and a cash balance of $512.91 was on hand. Total receipts of the last year including the cash on hand on July 19, 1923 was $1,603.07, and with total expenditures of $1088.95. The school building will undergo extensive repairs this fall, all wood work and plastering to be re-painted and kalsomined, several new seats ordered, out buildings painted and where necessary reconstructed, and considerabe new instruction equipment installed. J. E. Hellquist and Alex Hellquist motored to Newfolden on Sunday where they visited at the Albert Hellquist home.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Halvorson of Viking were Wednesday evening callers at the home of J. E. Hellquist.

Rev. C. W. Olson from Warren together with the local pastor, Rev. Werner Dratts, will conduct these meetings. The public is cordially invited.

Gust Opseth left on Saturday morning for Warren from where he will accompany a stock car for Martin Tunheim to South St. Paul and will be away until the middle of this week. Gust is at present employed building a new residence for Mr. Tunheim on his farm near Newfolden.

O. S. Hellerud has spent the last week in the vicinity of Drayton, N. D., in the interests of his agency.

Warrenton met the local baseball players in a very tight game last Sunday afternoon at the home grounds and carried away the victory at a score of 6 to 7. This is the first defeat the local players have encountered this season. Next Sunday, July 27, the Radium players will be here to clash with the locals.

Mrs. Julia Axelson and son, Victor, motored to Wannaska last Sunday to visit with the H. Jacobson people and with Mrs. Chas. Davis from California a sister to Mrs. Axelson, who is visiting at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hellquist and family from Newfolden stopped here briefly on Sunday morning enroute to Crookston where they will spend the day with the Oscar Blomberg folks.
